Soundtrack to our Lives

Class of 2011
Northern University
High School
Malcolm Price Laboratory School, Northern University High is an integral part of the University of Northern Iowa's teacher education program and serves three basic functions: it provides a direct-experience laboratory for all undergraduate and graduate teacher education students; it operates as a center for research, experimentation, and curriculum development; and it provides leadership to the elementary and secondary schools of Iowa and the nation through publication, consultation, and a variety of in-service programs and activities. A comprehensive instructional program is offered for students in prek/Kindergarten through twelfth grade, including programs for special education and talented and gifted students.
The best part of working in the innovative prek-12 learning environment focused on nurturing active global citizens is that we, as the Lab School, are a family. As a family, the younger students learn from the older students. Elementary students watch the older students, older students volunteer in elementary classrooms and we all grow and learn together.

I remember when many of the graduating class of 2011 were elementary students watching NU high schoolers, dreaming of when they would be able to participate in theatre, sports, speech, orchestra, band and chorus.

This year the senior class showed us all how to delight in experiencing the richness and texture of life. Their achievements in every aspect of NU stand as a testament to the talented individuals of the class of 2011. They will be missed, but one thing I know for sure is there were elementary students watching. I can't wait for the future, as it will be every bit as good as the past!

"Common Sense"
-Tad Klenske

This was the second year that ALL SENIORS at NU were required to take Physics. We had a record 50 students enrolled in Physics! There were times when they felt like they were taking a computer applications course, and other times when they thought they were back in the Math classroom but, all in all, I think most of them enjoyed the course and learned a lot. ~ Mrs. Couch

Our Memories...

Senior Lounge

"The diversity in the senior lounge always made me feel at home." - DC

Morgan remembers having fun in the senior lounge.

"It brought our grade closer." - Mary

After the senior lounge was repainted, Kieran said, "It's like hanging out in a big tube of toothpaste."

Dancing in the background of Wendell's famous 'dance video' was Joe's favorite memory.

"The senior lounge is the place to be. There's always something going on, and hanging out here all year has brought our class closer together." - Devon Shaver

The hard-working, dedicated seniors

Many of the students in the senior class have jobs in Cedar Falls and Waterloo working at restaurants and other businesses. The seniors are proud of the work they do outside of school. Whether it is making ice cream for customers, cooking food at a restaurant, or entertaining kids at a magic show, the senior class is hardworking and dedicated to what they do. They enjoy their work and 'Makin the Big Bucks.'

Savannah Campbell working at Pizza Ranch in Cedar Falls.

"I like working at Pizza Ranch because it is a fun environment and I have made a lot of new friends."

- Savannah Campbell

Taryn Moyer and Maddie Backstrom having fun at Coldstone while making ice cream for their customers.

"Working at Coldstone is a great job where you get to be outgoing and meet a lot of new people. We always have a great time singing and dancing around the store while getting work done."

- Maddie Backstrom

The Brown's Family-Operated Farm

Something which has not only followed me these past four years of high school, but has also been with me my entire life has been the living experience of being involved in a small family-operated farm.

There is no school that teaches you to become a farmer, no universities to teach you its craft; however, a farmer is both a time manager and an entrepreneur. There are no set hours for a farmer, and the day is not over just because the sun goes down.

Overall, just because it's a family run operation, being involved in farmers' market, a tight-knit community involved with ethics and leadership has taught me communication skills, business skills and ultimately given me a unique perspective on communities and the confidence for pursuing possible jobs in the future.

Being a farmer is one of the most stressful jobs in the world. It's never certain that you will make a profit, and your entire operation is competing with larger companies for the communities' business. Even though it is a stressful job, farming has its benefits that only few can understand, and it ultimately takes an individual with the absolute mindset of being an optimist. It's said that a farmer has to remember "The diligent farmer plants trees, of which he himself will never see the fruit." (Cicero) - Brandon Brown

Cassie Euchner

Cassie,
Two and a half years ago we moved back to my hometown. Although you were familiar with Cedar Falls, you had to walk into a school where you knew no one. I am happy to see how well you have done at NU and the friends you have made and the activities you became involved in. I am thrilled that you are walking the same halls I did for twelve years. I know you can achieve anything you put your mind to. How wonderful to see the funny, intelligent, interesting young woman you have become. I am so proud of you! And, I know your dad watches from above and smiles. He loved you so and I love you, too. Congratulations! Mom

Corbin Dayton

Corbin,
It has been a long and bumpy ride, but a journey that I feel blessed to have taken with you. I am so proud of you. Wherever life takes you, I know you will land on your feet.

I love you, Mom

Ana Fallakson

Ana,
When you were born, we knew right away that you were the one we were waiting for to complete our family. You loved life from the start and spent hours just watching quietly and smiling at all life had to offer. Then you started talking and we discovered what you had been thinking about all that time! You entertained us with your funny antics. showered us with love and amazed us with your drive to learn. You wanted to go to school like everyone else in the family, and once you got there we realized you could outsmart us all! We have loved watching you grow into the beautiful woman you are today, with your strong commitment to serving others. Your loving heart shines through in everything you do. We look so forward to seeing what the next chapter in your life will be and we'll be there beside you, learning and watching with amazement.

Love,
Dad, Mom, Andy, and Elisha

Pete,
You grew up way too fast. Now you are off to Simpson and beginning a new "Storm" in your life. God Bless you always!! Best Wishes to you. We love you!! Your family.
"Experimenting Ideas"

Whether it's through conducting experiments, taking notes, or watching slide shows in biology, you learn many things about cells and the many different types of systems in the body. "I find the class to be interesting and also a fun learning experience for everyone," said Amanda Smith. "Biology isn't just a class, it's also a place where you can have fun while you are learning something new."

"Problem Solving"

Math is not just about numbers and shapes. You also learn about many different theorems and ideas. "From algebra to precalculus, the students learn about the different proofs and the things you need to do to get through the different units in the book," said Mr. Maltas. "The students are learning a variety of the math classes all in one, and it makes the learning and teaching experience fun and interesting."

Our Senior Expectations

Alex Thompson- "I want to prepare for the future and visit many colleges to figure out which one I'm going to attend. Also, I want to make prom the best it's ever been."

Marshea Hill- "I want to enjoy my last year with my classmates and to prepare for the college experience."

Darrell Coleman- "I want to meet a lot of the upcoming freshmen and the new students coming into NU. I also want to become closer with classmates since it's our last year together."

Jordan Bankston- "I expect it to be a good culmination of my high school years."

Jesse Bankston- "I'm looking forward to choosing a college and being able to dual enroll at UNI."

Alex Stanley- "I expect it to be smooth without any big surprises. I want it to be a happy ending. I want to remember it for the rest of my life, good memories!"

Palden Choekyong- "I look forward to going on college visits and choosing the right college for me."

Jake Henry- "I look forward to having only one year of school left."

Tessa Michaelsen- "I want my senior year to be the most memorable of my four years in high school."

Tommy Amlie- "I'm looking forward to getting accepted to a college of my choice."
Mr. Maltas going over a math problem with Caroline Sell during Accelerated Integrated Math, one of two math offerings available for students to take their junior year.

James Krogh - "I like having smaller classes because with less students it’s easier to get help during class."
Judy Bleile - "I like the theatre department and enjoy the people who are in it."
Christine McKenna - "The nice people who go to our school."
Brandon Culmore - "I like being able to take the classes I want."
Eric Hines - "Hanging with Mrs. Weber in the library."
Sigrid Walter - "I enjoy the art program because it’s challenging."
Jaren Bergman - "Having individualized attention from teachers makes students stay on top of their grades."
Marshea Hill - "It is a very welcoming environment and easy to make friends. And when you have a friendly environment, it’s easier to learn."
Amanda Smith - "As my first year at NU I have really appreciated the smaller classes and how friendly everyone has been. I also like that I don’t have to wear a uniform."
Seth Trautmann - "I like how the teachers really care and will have a conversation with you."
Junior Year...A Year to Remember
by Megan Grey

Junior year was definitely a year to remember. There were many exciting changes from the point of being underclassmen to upperclassmen, and they all impacted everyone in many different ways. New opportunities became available to all of us, but with that came new responsibilities. One of the highlights of the junior year was a chance at dual enrolling and taking UNI courses “on the hill.” And even if a student didn’t dual enroll, they still had the opportunity for putting “open campus” into their schedule so that they could do whatever they wanted to do during that time!

As well as having many new and exciting things to look forward to, there were also the ones that we had to stay on top of -- Biology, Capstone, Creative Writing, HAL, French and Spanish III... you name it! There were difficulties all over the place, but they all benefited us in the end by preparing us for our future as adults that will surely leave their footprints somewhere in the world one way or another.

There are many unique members out of our small class of 30 people, which makes it kind of like a big family. There are those that are constantly involved in extracurricular activities, the athletes, the musicians, the drama people, and all the others that have their own unique identities. Most have grown up together during their education at PLS whereas others have filtered in over the years. I myself was one of those individuals, and must say that even after a few months of going to our school I felt as though I had been here for many, many years.

Class of 2012, I salute you. We only have one more year together before we go our separate ways, so let’s make the most of it!!

Integrated
Language Arts 2

How can we overcome stereotypes in order to be ourselves? How is the technology impacting the 21st century teenager? What is the future of the American Dream? Are we the people society perceives us to be? These are just a few questions examined throughout the year in 10th grade Integrated Language Arts. Through a variety of activities, texts, and discussions, students learn to deepen their perspectives on the questions literature provokes, instead of simply looking for the answers. By blending literature of the past with issues relevant today, students learn to make connections between Thoreau and text messaging, Death of a Salesman and Jay-Z, and Holden Caulfield and themselves.

Chemistry

It is not all explosions and fun in chemistry, but we had our occasional moments. We used numbers to solve seemingly impossible problems through the magic of dimensional analysis. Memories that stick with you? Gold pennies, baggies of cool yellow chemicals, and gases that explode in flames. Is flour flammable? I guess so. Does arm hair grow back? Only Ken knows for sure. Remember to “redefine hard work” and “take charge of your life”!
Integrated Math 2

Integrated Math 2 is a problem-based course including topics in algebra, geometry, statistics, probability, and discrete mathematics. Students work collaboratively and independently during class. In addition, students create Scratch programs and complete other projects using mathematics. There is an emphasis on how math is used as well as preparing students for higher level mathematics.

American History and Government

American History and Government is a one semester required course for 10th grade students. American Government is the study of the role of the citizen in the United States today. Its goal is to enhance the development of an informed citizen. To this end, it introduces the students to the basic principles of government philosophy and government structure. Specific attention is paid to the functions of government: the various types of government found in society; the principles of the American Democracy found in the U.S. Constitution; civil rights and responsibilities of citizens; the American political system and the three major branches of government.

NU High School Graduating class of 2014

I. Our class has very creative minds and everyone is always involved in an extracurricular activity. ~ Spenser Printy

Sami Dye
My highlight of freshman year was drawing wonderful pictures in Aja's notebook during Spanish class.

Alissa Ryckert
The highlight of freshman year was definitely Mr. Spurr's Earth Science class.

Lizzie Hansen
My favorite part of freshman year was being able to be in the same class as Dorian Hundley, and having the opportunity to cheer for high school boys basketball.

Jon Wood
I've been able to make more movies in Mr. Wilson's class and it's helping me learn more about filmmaking.

Allie Allspach
Being in basketball, because it was a new opportunity, and it was more serious than middle school.

Colt Dayton
Always saying Good Morning in Mr. Schonhoff's 1st hour U.S. History class.

Aja Baskerville
Being with friends at school.

Emily Trautmann
Being able to play varsity basketball, and Earth Science with Mr. Spurr.

The Freshman Class

Freshmen talk about their study habits

When and where do they study and why?

Eric Henderson
"During study hall in Mrs. Conny's room, because it is quiet."

Hanna Gibson
"I study best when I'm with my friends...when they are not distracting me. And, I like using my notes from class."

Allie Allspach
"At the kitchen counter, when it's dark out, with notes I took using Quizlet."

Cody Swinton
"In study hall or in my room, with music playing."

Kyle Webers
"I study best outside at the baseball field, or on the tennis or basketball courts. It stimulates my senses and helps me study."

Freshman Life

Here We Go...

Freshman year has been a year to remember. Although we were underclassmen, there were many exciting things that happened such as state basketball and, of course, missing school because of it. We also had many new electives such as Architecture, Video Production, Yearbook, Photography, Business in Action, and Craft media. These classes were fun and also gave us a good chance to meet the upperclassmen. We also had to stay on top of our main classes like Spanish I, Integrated Math I, U.S. History, Earth Science, and Language Arts I.

Although the freshmen class is small, we have many unique people in it. They have very creative minds and everyone is always involved in an extracurricular activity. Extracurricular activities are another highlight because we have more opportunities. We could join the Cyber Defense Team, Speech, the Fall and Spring plays, and many other sports. Class of 2014 I salute you, and let's make the next three years something to remember.

"Very dedicated, fast and very talented," said Co-Head Coach, Pat Mitchell about the NU players. The rest of the Tiger’s fan base agreed as well. The boys of NU High showed off their team spirit on and off the field. When the final decision was made at the Cedar Falls School Board, regarding the combining of football teams for the 2010 season between Northern University High School and Cedar Falls High School, both teams were ready to win. The agreement turned out to be the right one; the stats were convincing, with two new additions to the Cedar Falls offense. Kyle Denning, and Andrew Stone, the dynamic duo, were unstoppable on the field. Kyle Denning, a quarterback, threw for 475 yards and 6 touchdowns, with a rating of 238.5 for the season. Andrew Stone, wide receiver, had 11 touchdowns and a total of 21 receptions, and ran 458 yards for his senior season of football. Stone also made All-State and All-Conference, being one of two players that has received that title while attending a different school. When asked about the transition, Coach Mitchell stated, “The NU players have been terrific to have on the team. They are all hard-working, motivated, talented, team players, and have been a huge and important addition. They have blended into the team with ease.” Down on the field with the players, it was evident that they had no problem joking around, and giving their input and constructive criticism towards each other. And the defense surely contributed, with Alex Quinones as a linebacker, who had 50 solo tackles, and 44 assisted tackles in his 2010 season as a Tiger. He was also the second player to have made it into the All-State, All Conference title while attending a different school. “They have brought speed, talent, and a great desire to win,” said Coach Mitchell, about how the dynamics of the team has changed over the season. “It began in the weight room as soon as the official announcement was made...the NU boys never missed a workout, worked very hard, and blended right in with the group. I feel they were accepted immediately and still are accepted. We do not even think about it. They are part of the team.”
A Fresh Start

In late August, the NU High volleyball team stepped into the Nielsen Field House for the first practice of the year. "Going into the year we had no idea how things would turn out, but we were excited for a brand new year," said senior Morgan Granger.

This year, NU had excellent new coaches; head coach Adam Timmins and assistant coach Tiffany Everding, and a group of freshmen that made it hard to compare this team to any teams from previous years. "It was so weird to step into the gym and see all of these fresh new faces," said senior Maddie Backstrom.

The NU girls did not only have fresh new faces but also had some new wins. This year, NU won the North Tama tournament which is the first tournament they have won in years. The team also won 14 games which is almost more than the last few years put together. And to end the season, NU made it to the third round of districts and almost had a look at state. "This volleyball team has overcome a lot of barriers and given the future of NU volleyball a fresh new look," said Coach Timmins.
Terry Nielsen is the type of runner that any coach would want on their team. He has worked very hard over the years to become the runner he is today. Not many high school athletes have put in as much time and effort as he has. Terry has gone about his running career the right way. He does the little things to keep improving himself each day and he has been a great leader to the NU High Cross Country and Track programs - Coach Will Reingardt

Will Reingardt is in his 3rd year as the Head Coach of the Boys and Girls Cross Country team at Northern University High School. He led the team and motivated them with the words “Each Day in Every Way, Getting Better and Better,” as his coaching motto. Mr. Reingardt brought a lot of energy, excitement, knowledge of running and how to do things the right way to the team. His goals and expectations for the students this season were for everyone to keep improving each and every day, to work hard and have fun. He expected the runners to be reliable, healthy, and able to survive the season. They set a goal at the beginning of the season to win the NICL Conference, District, and State Meets. They wanted to do it together for each other. They ended the season winning the NICL Conference Meet and becoming State Champs. The team’s willingness to work hard and do the extra little things paid off in a big way. The group put it together in the last half of the season and took their running to the next level. They became great leaders for the school.

Spectators in the stands.
This was another exciting season of basketball for the NU Panthers. This team built a reputation on winning the fourth quarter and finding a way to come back, no matter how much they were down. They were able to put themselves back into the State Basketball Tournament for the fourth year in a row; unfortunately we were unable to get back to the championship game and settled for a fourth place finish. I would like to thank the seniors for all their hard work the past four years; they will be missed and remembered for all their great contributions to this team and past teams at NU. I wish them all the best in whatever they pursue; I know they will be successful.

The year started out with a great group of enthusiastic girls: some veterans, and some new to the group. But they all had the same purpose: being leaders in school spirit. The season started out on a quick foot, not leaving much time for practices or meetings at the beginning of the season. And, let's not even talk about the confusion with the shortage of uniforms! But the girls pushed through those first couple of busy weeks, staying loud, proud, and united. They spent much of their time teaching the cheers to the “newbies,” working together in squads, and traveling with the basketball teams. As the season started slowing down, a veteran cheerleading coach volunteered her time, and the girls were able to really enhance their stunting skills. They accomplished many stunts that seemed impossible at the beginning of the year, and were very versatile in their stunting positions. They got “bumps” on their biceps, and worked together seamlessly. To top it off, they were able to accompany the Boys Basketball team to State, cheer on their fellow classmates, and show off their skills all at the same time! What a great year! Junior Brandon Culmore and sophomore Margaret Creeden pose for a picture before performing in their Panther Olympic events.

In October, the NU High students in grades 9-12 participated in the 2nd Annual Panther Olympics, which was held in the Nielsen Field House.

The grade level teams competed for the right to win the Denny Kettner Traveling Trophy, which was awarded to the seniors after the final event. Competitive events included flag football, cross country, volleyball and cheerleading/dance.

"It was a great opportunity for everyone, not only the students who participate in sports, to have the opportunity to perform in front of a crowd," said Junior Darrell Coleman.

Many NU high parents, faculty and other fans attended and, in the end, the trophy went to the highly favored seniors.

"We got to play the freshmen and it was great because we were able to show our ability and that we weren't freshmen anymore."

"It was a great performance. I felt like everyone fed off the crowd. Also, that made everyone want to think outside the box, not just the juniors."

Twelfth Night

A hilarious comedy that goes miles beyond the confusion of a simple love triangle! An expertly blended concoction of wit, adventure, romance and practical jokes creates the perfect night of entertainment!

Traditionally seated "in the round," the audience was seated in risers on the state, and got to be just inches away from the action!
New Choir Director
Mr. Timothy Purdum

The 2010-11 school year proved to be a very interesting and successful year for the high school choir and honors choir with the addition of Timothy Purdum as the new K-12 choir director.

Mr. Purdum has an exceptional teaching background with a master's degree in music composition. He has had over ten years of experience teaching in public schools and has also directed numerous church choirs.

When asked how the atmosphere at PLS/NU compared to teaching in public schools, he said "I have definitely been struck by the difference in attitude and atmosphere at PLS/NU compared to my public school experiences. I find students at the same time more knowledgeable/skilled and more outspoken." And he added, "Most of the time that's a good thing!"

Mr. Purdum says he likes all types of music but his favorite is music he can participate in making. "The best music of any style (pop, classical, art, choral, instrumental, improvised, folk) is music that gets people actively engaged," he said. "That's why I am a music teacher, to inspire students to want to be music makers, not just music consumers."

We string it up in orchestra!

Orchestra was non-stop during the 2010-2011 school year. Our strings, under the direction of Mary Grey, played for several different events on campus, most significantly the Federal Naturalization Ceremony.

Orchestra members also earned individual awards: Jyothi & Raquel made it to All-State Orchestra; The Vivaldi Violin Quartet, (Jyothi, Raquel, Joni, Caroline, Anna, Hanna, & Megan) and solo players Jyothi, Joni, Raquel, & Megan all received Division I ratings in the State Solo & Ensemble Contest; additionally Raquel won “Best of Center” for her solo. The entire orchestra also received a Division One rating in the State Large Group Music Festival.

The range of music played was extensive from a Vivaldi Concerto Grosso to a Mozart Opera duet (remember the fire drill during rehearsal?) with our song birds Megan Grey & Joni Griffith. The orchestra’s final concert featured Balad & Horas, a piece in the Bulgarian folk/Klezmer style written specifically for the orchestra by local musician and composer Todd Munnik. This piece included soloists Todd Munnik - accordion, Srinu Dhanwada - piano, and Jyothi Dhanwada & Raquel Williams on violins, Megan Grey- cello, and Alyssa Kilbourn - bass.

As Mrs. Grey always says, “Orchestra, it’s not a place for wimps.”
Adapting to the Sound of NU High

With a new 6’7”, 5-12th grade Band/Jazz Band teacher, the possibilities were endless for the outcome of the 2010-11 PLS/NU program. Mr. Kreassig brought a lot more than height to the music program. He also brought experience and accomplishments from his past job where he received Division I ratings, and won contests in both marching and jazz band, and appeared at the Iowa Jazz Championships.

Mr. Kreassig came to NU with high expectations for his students. He expected them to be able to read rhythms, musical notation, and how to play as a balanced ensemble, and a varied selection of music. “So far the students’ progress has been impressive, with a successful band concert earlier in the year, and plans to continue their hard work,” Mr. Kreassig said. “I had made music very memorable for me when I was in school and I hope I can pass that love of music to my students.” ~ Dorian Hundley

Girls Track Season
The girls had a very successful season considering the size of our team and how young we were. Our team consisted of three seniors and five freshmen. The girls worked very hard in practice which resulted in them qualifying for the Drake Relays, winning three gold and one silver medal at the district finals and sending those same four events to the state meet in Des Moines. I am very proud of their accomplishments during the season and I look forward to working with the underclassmen in the future.

- Coach Granger

Sylvia Amlie, Freshman.
"It was a great experience going to state and competing in three events. And, it was fun socializing with people from other schools."

Maddie Backstrom, Senior.
"I ran in a race and didn't die!"

Kendall McDonald, Senior.
"We lost two great runners for this year, but the underclassmen really stepped up to fill their shoes. We had a great season."

Lizzie Hansen, Freshman.
"I enjoyed participating in new events this year, and it was great to get to know the upperclassmen."

Danielle Snowden, Freshman.
"Track was fun because I really hanging out with the girls and being part of the team."
Team Goals, Expectations, Accomplishments

Motivating the team to believe in themselves
Laying a foundation for how to play the game
Teaching the team to be disciplined in their approach to the game and in life
Developing character through hard work, accountability and success

This year the NU boys' soccer team did an outstanding job during the season. All of the players stepped up and truly showed passion and dedication to play soccer. We learned a lot from each other during the season, and we hope to take this learning and apply it to next year.

As far as team accomplishments, we have won games and learned what it takes to perform well on the field. As a team, we learned how to respect, motivate and work hard in order to produce good results.

On the Season...

We had a lot of fun this spring; the girls worked and played hard together and made strong friendships that will last much longer than our season! We have graduated a strong group of seniors who will all be missed! Our team will continue to develop leaders and I look forward to seeing this team excel in the near future!

NU Girls Soccer Team

2011 All-Metro:
Marin Verhulst
The 2010-2011 season was a bounce back year for the NU high boys tennis team. We finished the year with an overall meet record of 6-2 after going 2-8 in the 2010 season. The team also showed great improvement at the conference with a third place finish where we had placed 6th the previous year. And, due to a strong showing at the district meet, we qualified for team preliminary substate for the first time since 2006.

The team was led by senior DC Chowdhury. In singles, DC went undefeated in dual meet competition, placed 1st at the #1 singles position at the conference meet, and took 4th in singles play at districts. He finished his senior year with a combined singles and doubles record of 19-4. Our other two seniors finished their school careers in fine fashion. At the conference meet, Tad Klenske took 3rd place at #3 singles, and Tad and Doug Curran placed 3rd in doubles.

The outstanding contributions of four underclassmen elevated the performance of the 2011 squad: Sophomores Kory Miller and Drew Shepard and freshmen Kyle Wiebers and Srinu Dhanwada. Kory and Kyle both had 15 wins in their singles and doubles and Kory took home 2nd place honors in #2 singles at the conference meet. Srinu finished with an 8-6 overall record and, together with Kyle, placed 3rd at #3 doubles. Drew had a 5-3 record in dual meets and was the most improved player. With these four guys at the core of the NU boys team, the future certainly looks bright.

- Coach Brett Froyen
The NU High Girls' Tennis Team finished the 2011 year with an overall record of 5-5 and a 5-4 NICL conference mark. The girls finished 4th in conference and made it to the second round of team regionals. NU defeated Union 5-4 in the first round of team regionals before falling to Western Dubuque in the second.

Top performers this year in singles included a pair of seniors. Ana Tallakson (#2 singles) and Savannah Campbell (#3 singles) finished the year with a dual meet record of 7-3 while finishing 3rd and 2nd, respectively, at the NICL conference meet. The top two doubles teams of Christine McKenna & Ana Tallakson (#1 doubles) and Jyothi Dhanwada & Savannah Campbell (#2 doubles) both placed 4th at the conference meet. Nine girls earned varsity letters while seven collected NICL all-academic honors including Christine McKenna, Ana Tallakson, Jyothi Dhanwada, Brittney Culmore, Devon Shaver, Jordan Thomas, and Molly Andersen.

NU High Golf: Rebuilding in 2011

The NU High Golf Team had a rebuilding year in 2011. Six of the nine team members were new to High School Golf. Three had never played the game of golf before. Nevertheless they all made significant improvement throughout the season, and became competitive in late season tournaments, finishing second in the BCLUW tournament and shooting excellent team scores in the NICL Conference Tournament and the 1-A Sectional.

Junior Seth Trautmann led the newcomers with two medals at major tournaments, and All-Conference selection. Other letter winners throughout the season include senior Andrew Leonard, Junior Jesse Bankston, and freshmen Nick Crow, Srinu Dhanwada, and Spenser Printy. JV letters were awarded to sophomore Evan Rector and freshman Colt Dayton.

Senior Joe Weber, though, created the major highlights of the season. His remarkable year included medalist performances in three of four regular season tournaments, plus winning the medalist crown in the NICL Conference meet and the Sectional Meet. In the District meet, Joe finished third to advance to the state tournament for the 4th straight year. At state, Joe had a terrific conclusion to his high school career. He recorded a two day-total of 151, second best ever in school history. He finished as the medalist runner-up, and recorded a hole-in-one during tournament play.

At the conclusion of his high school career, Joe had his name all over the NU High Record Books. He now ranks first or second in nearly every career record, including stroke average, most medalist performances, most medalist/runner-up performances, and most top ten performances. He is the only golfer to ever qualify individually for the state tournament three times. Joe was a three-time All-State selection by the Iowa
Golf Coaches Association.

The golf season marked one other milestone for NU Golf. Lee Weber retired from coaching at the end of the year, after serving NU High as Golf Coach for 20 years. During that time, NU became a power in Northeast Iowa, winning three NICL Conference Titles, 8 Sectional
Tournament Titles, and one State
Championship in 2008. Seven of Coach
Weber's teams advanced to the State Tournament, a feat that had only been accomplished two times before in history. In addition, NUHS golfers were named all state 9 times, including an individual state champion and two state runners-up. Most importantly, NUHS golfers gained a reputation for knowing the rules and being able to apply them fairly in golf matches, as well as acting like gentlemen on the course at all times.

The Annual French Trip

All French classes at NUHS are taught with an immersion philosophy. Students are exposed to language for the entire class period, daily throughout their four-year study of French. Listening, speaking, reading, and writing are the skill sets we focus on in class. The culminating experience after four years of studying the language is the opportunity to travel to France as a class. - Dr. Elizabeth Zwanziger

French Awards

The following French students placed in the top 10 in Iowa on the 2011 French Exam: Alex Prinsen, Sarah Dietz, Devon Shaver, Caroline Sell, and Srinu Dhanwada. Alex Prinsen also placed nationally: 8th Place in French IV in the United States.

Love is in the air for Alice Sycamore (Sarah Dietz) and her uptight boss's son Tony Kirby (Atif Zaman). She's invited them over for dinner to impress Tony's parents, Anthony Kirby (Alec Calhoun) and his wife Miriam Kirby (Cassie Euchner). No problem right? It's just dinner.

Wrong. If you lived in a family like Alice's you'd be worried too. With her father Paul Sycamore (Kieran Cowden) and his friend Mr. De Pinna (Srinu Dhanwada) down in the basement making fireworks, there's never a quiet moment in the house. Her mother Penny Sycamore (Raquel Williams) writes all kinds of plays, but she never finishes them. Her sister Essie Carmichael (Joni Griffith) has been studying ballet for eight years, and her husband Ed Carmichael (Rowen Conry) plays xylophone along with his hobby of printing. Storming in and out of the house on a regular basis is Essie's loud, Russian dance teacher Ludmilla Kholenkov (Jyothi Dhanwada), and then there's the maid, Rheba (Maddie Backstrom), who has her own little romance with family friend and freeloader, Donald (Kale Clay) who's on relief. To top it all off is Grandpa, also known as Martin Vanderhoff (Kyle Basom), the most laid back relaxed person you'll ever meet who runs the household. Throw in an overzealous tax collector Wilhelmina C. Henderson (Alyssa Kilbourn), the grand duchess Olga Katrina (Rachel Hanson), who now works at a restaurant to pay the bills, and a whole squad of trigger happy government agents and the result is the chaotic harmony that can only come from comedy.

Directing this play was definitely a new experience for me. It had its ups and its downs, but in the end it all turned out well. I know it wouldn't have been possible to do this show without the great cast and crew that I had. The rule, "Everything that can go wrong, will go wrong," was perfectly demonstrated with this play. Four nights before the show, Grandpa got very sick and I had to take his role and act in the show. On top of that, the night of the show's debut, Essie was too sick to perform, so Rachel stepped up to the plate and took charge of Essie's role, while Shirley took the place of Rachel as Olga. Backstage was as chaotic as the action within the play, but we still pulled it off and the audience loved it. That is fantastic, and it couldn't have been done without the people on this cast and crew pulling together. I'm going to miss all of this and everyone a lot, but we went out like Paul's fireworks... with a bang! -Tad Klenske

NU takes 1st & 2nd place at the annual Cyber Defense Competition held at Iowa State University

Two teams of NU High students competed in Saturday's Cyber Defense Competition at Iowa State University. Both teams successfully defended their systems against attack and faced several anomalies to take 1st and 2nd place competing against 25 other teams from across the state. The NU teams were coached by Paul Gray from the UNI Computer Science Department.

Team "406 Unacceptable" took 1st place and included Brandon Brown, Cody Brown, Alec Calhoun, Doug Curran, and Wendell Tsai.

Team "F://discworld" took 2nd place and included Rowen Conry, Kieran Cowden, Hannah Dietz, Sarah Dietz, and Alyssa Kilbourn.
Grassroots Cafe

Our mission is to provide our children with nutritious, good tasting meals with mostly fresh, non-processed ingredients prepared right here at the school! We feature fruits & vegetables, and fiber, while serving less sugar and fat to help fight obesity. The Grassroots Cafe helps promote and educate about general wellness in our community.

Year two in the Grassroots Cafe, we welcomed our new school chef, Cara Ullrich. We continued to provide local foods such as milk from Hansen's Farm Fresh Dairy, ground Angus beef from C-V Farms, eggs from Daley's Shamrock Acres and chicken from Green's Organics and baked goods from Johnson's Bakery. We also served a choice of fresh fruits and veggies each day!

Grassroots Cafe hosted three field trips to four local farms, participated in classes, organized speakers, led student field experience, spoke at local events and hosted Kids in the Kitchen, a program that is part of Michelle Obama's "Let's Move!" initiative to name a few! We also were featured in several media outlets as a leader in our local community for promoting healthy school meals.

First and foremost, congratulations Class of 2011 — it has been such an honor being in presence of such a talented, intelligent and unique group of individuals for the past 10 years. While I've been waiting for this day for awhile — let's just say senioritis struck way earlier than expected. I can't believe that today is the day we walk across the stage and become NU Alumni. The truth of the matter is that high school has been full of wonderful memories, some of which will be forever engrained in our minds. But today marks the beginning of a new chapter, a phase we've been preparing and waiting for during our years at NU. As we embark on our journeys into the world, I am confident that our futures will be very bright because of our diverse experiences and accomplishments thus far...

I feel I must conclude with at least one quote from good ol' Dr. Seuss' parting words in "Oh, the Places You'll Go," with minor revisions. "And will you succeed? Yes! You will, indeed! (100 percent guaranteed.) Kids, you'll move mountains! Today is your day! Your mountain is waiting. So...get on your way! Congratulations Class of 2011 — We did it! — Jyothi Dhanwala
The Present

Every day we influence each other, in positive and negative ways, but we learn from each thing. It amazes me how much my life has been changed by some of you. I never thought that I could have so much love or respect for a friend. But looking back on the years I have known you all, it is truly amazing and hard to put into words.

It is like ripples in a pond. Once someone throws a pebble in, the ripples keep going out and touching other things in the pond which send out their own ripples. So just like we can influence each other, our teachers are influential. And even like my friends have changed my life, my teachers have a really amazing part, too. It is incredible to hear their stories and how they were inspired or who they were inspired by which in turn inspires us.

~ Sarah Dietz

The Past

Throughout the years we've learned all the things a mother would hope for a school to teach, like head knowledge, life skills, and diligence. But just as important, we've learned things that can't be taught through a curriculum. Things like how to relate with people, and how to actually grab life by the horns and shake it with all we've got. We've watched teachers delight in the things they teach us. Seeing that excitement in their eye teaches us twice as much as any video about plant reproduction ever could. Their care for sharing with us is real and right there in our faces. Through this we've each learned how to be passionate about whatever we do, because we've seen it in action. Our passion is what will benefit the world, because nothing is gained from half-hearted piddling.

As we bring these lessons with us, each individual year of high school is filled with its own wonderful memories that get stuck in our heads, just like a really great song...

~ Joni Griffith and Rachel Hanson

TRENDS

Plaid Shirt
The boy-style plaid flannel shirt is a popular look for both guys and girls. Just add a pair of perfectly worn jeans.

Top Siders
From popped collars to Top Siders, prep style endures. True Prep shows a new generation how it's done and what it means.

Sequins
Shiny, sparkly sequins become a major fashion trend when Zoe Kravitz and runway models are spotted wearing them on hats, dresses and tops.

Hats
Self-expression is always in fashion and the right hat makes it easy to add panache (and hide a bad hair day). All you need is a cute fedora or a jaunty newsboy cap.

Military Jacket
There's nothing olive drab about this trend. Military jackets are snappy, sleek and chic — a far cry from the oversized Army surplus look of yesteryear.

Pillow Pets
Now it's a stuffed animal. And now it's a pillow. Puffy, popular PillowPets™ may be the snuggliest, softest trend of the year.

Energy Drinks
Energy drinks are the beverage of choice among sleep-deprived students, despite concerns that they contain unhealthy levels of sugar and caffeine.

Mineral Makeup
Beauty mavens agree: mineral makeup rocks. These sheer, lightweight, powdery formulas are the smart alternative to gooey, pore-clogging foundations.

Flip Flops
Parents and foot doctors hate them but the flip-flop fad is a year-round phenomenon for guys and girls alike (except during snowstorms).

Dentists report that more and more teens are asking about teeth bleaching procedures, especially for photo-op occasions like proms or sweet sixteen parties.

Get the look with a classic polo, distressed skinny jeans and leather belt with your favorite treads.
Hippie style is hip once more. Tie-dyed effects on shirts and dresses appear on runways, beaches and boardwalks.

Vera Bradley Bags
Colorful, quilted Vera Bradley bags are the epitome of sorority sister style. Devotees mix and match Vera messenger bags, clutches, totes and wallets.

Girls Outfit
Go for an edgy, urban look in these American Rag Twill Skinny Cargos—perfectly paired with a belted Cowl neck sweater.

Big Scarves
Long, flowing scarves become a year-round trend. This must-have accessory is the easiest way to add color and interest to casual outfits.

Monkey Slippers
It's a toy. It's a slipper. It's a fun fashion trend. Sock monkey slippers are popular in college dorms and at slumber parties.

Silly Bandz
The bandz are banned! Some schools decide that Silly Bandz — the popular silicone rubber bracelets — are too distracting for the classroom.

Long Necklaces
Long, statement necklaces are trend-right. Gossip girls look luxe with Tiffany-style trinkets. Layered, chunky, vintage baubles create an alt-rock, art school vibe.

Over the Knee Boots
Boots go to great lengths. Over-the-knee styles are seen everywhere from runways to red carpets. Trendsetters wear them with short skirts or slim leggings.

Everybody needs an afternoon snack but nobody has time for milk and cookies. The newest granola bars deliver easy energy between lunch and practice.

The rugged, battle-tested G-Shock watch is the preferred timepiece of snowboarders, skateboarders, surfers and other extreme sports fans.

The mountaineer look comes to the metropolis, as high-performance outdoor apparel makes a comfortable, cold-weather fashion statement.
