PRESENTATION “WRITING SUPERHEROES” ROOM 373
Join Andrew Hope, as he discusses writing Superheroes, his philosophy of character-driven, cinematic action books, and why it can be a viable creative genre.

PRESENTATION “GAIN A SUPERPOWER WITH SCIENCE” ROOM 164
Using low budget tech we’ll temporarily give you the ability to hear light! Not just visible light, you’ll hear invisible light as well! Experience hearing light and then learn how NASA uses similar technology to learn about far away objects in space just by sensing light.

PRESENTATION “A BRIEF HISTORY OF COMICS, UNDERGROUND COMIX AND GRAPHIC NOVELS” ROOM 123
Paul Siddens’ presentation provides insights into the development of the comic book genre from its beginnings in the 1930’s to the underground comix of the 1960’s, and how they both influenced and led to today’s graphic novels.

TRIVIA COMPETITION (COMIC BOOKS) 1ST FLOOR
2:00 PM  Presentation: “Flame On!”, Nuclear Families, Unstable Molecules, and the Queer History of “The Fantastic Four”
Youth Department

Released to popular acclaim in 1961, The Fantastic Four (Marvel Comics) tells the story of anti-Communist space adventurers who gain extraordinary powers when cosmic rays alter their physiology. In this talk, Ramzi Fawaz explores the surprising evolution of the comic-book series, which used the mutated bodies of its heroes to depict the transformation of the bread-winning father, doting wife and bickering male siblings of the 1950s nuclear family into icons of 1960s radicalism: the left-wing intellectual, the liberal feminist, the political activist, and the potential queer.

2:30 PM  Presentation: “Spiderman Can’t Talk About Drugs”
Room 378

After the publication of Seduction of the Innocent by Frederic Wertham, the Comics Code Authority was established to regulate the content of comic books. Anna Hollingsworth will examine how the code was used to censor content as well as how comics continue to be censored in the present.

3:00 PM  Presentation: “Wig Styling 101”
Room 324

Join Erica Wery as she covers cosplay wig basics. How to purchase, style, and maintain to enhance your costume.

3:00 PM  Presentation: “Representing the Holocaust and Genocide Through Comics/Graphic Novels”
Room 123

Comics/graphic novels have been used in a variety of ways to represent, for a wide range of audiences and purposes, the Holocaust and other genocides as well as other atrocity crimes and human rights issues. Stephen Gaies’ presentation is a visual survey of comics/graphic novels on these subjects by some of the leading names in the field as well as by lesser-known artists.

4:00 PM  Costume Contest (Main Floor)

Thanks to our judges Annette Lynch, Dean Chris Cox, and President Ruud!
