GENERAL SUMMARY OF THE 1938 FOOTBALL SITUATION

Twenty-seven of the forty-one Iowa State Teachers College football candidates are playing their first year of college football, a situation which indicates the possibility of a lack of seasoned material. The remaining fourteen men include eight lettermen, two reserves who were in a few games, and four reserves who saw a combined total of less than 90 seconds of play. Truly not the sort of squad to give a coach many restful moments.

Coach Clyde L. Starbeck, and Art Dickinson and Oliver Nordly, his two assistant coaches, however, are fairly pleased with the squad—mainly because of the fine spirit of the players and the general good condition of all candidates. The team will not be big but it will be rugged, determined, and fairly fast.

Meeting eight strong teams, including four members of the North Central conference, the Panthers will face a really tough schedule, but that is nothing new to them. The tough part of the schedule comes in the news that every team seems to have gained sophomore strength since last season...that every team is better this year.

No prediction can be made as to the number of games that may be won, no forecast of the final position of the Panthers in the conference standings will be hazarded - only this promise comes out of the Panther's Den - the team will be troublesome.

The schedule opens with Grinnell on October 1 and on successive week ends the team will take on the seven remaining opponents - a season without a single breather from beginning to end.

RETURNING LETTERMEN

Louis Breitbach. Junior end. Never played high school football but gained freshman numeral in 1935 on sheer grit, playing at end. Last year was shifted to right halfback when weaknesses appeared there and blossomed into second best back on the squad. His fight and ability needed at end this year so Starbeck shifted him back again. Home is Masonville but attended Winthrop high school, graduating in 1935. Won three high school baseball letters and captained the team. Has won letters in football and baseball here. Will coach after graduation.

Gordon Bute. Senior back. A husky, football-wise quarterback. Had plenty of tough luck his first two years here battling injuries but now he's ready to step in and run the ball club. Graduated from Wahpeton, N.D., high school in 1934, winning three letters each in football and basketball and leading the football team one year. He also made the second all-state team. Attended Wahpeton Science for two years and made two more letters in football as well as the all-conference team twice. Will coach after graduation.

Carroll Cook. Senior tackle. Only squad member who has won two football letters at Teachers College. Also gained minor in wrestling. Home is Dexter but graduated from Redfield high school in 1934. Won four letters in football, two in basketball, and one in track in high school. Plans to coach.

George Dutcher. Junior back. Won his letter in football a year ago. Although slightly built, Dutcher has the actions of a fullback - a real crasher who has plenty of shiftiness when he cares to use it. Graduated from West Waterloo high in 1934. Won two football letters and was named on the second all-state team in 1933. Captain once. Will be a coach.

Marvin Jones. Junior guard or tackle. Won letter in football as a sophomore guard but may play tackle this year. Is another West Waterloo graduate of the year 1934. He won two letters in football and one in track in high school. Plans career as teacher and coach.

Leo Kagan. Junior center. Won letter in football last year. Is only 200-pounder on the squad. Nicknamed "Bull" by teammates. Graduated from John Adams high school, Ozone Park, N.Y., in 1934. Won one football letter there. Plans coaching career.

Allen Kane. Junior fullback. Another man who lettered a year ago. Is also a baseball letterman. Attended Elkader high school two years, won two letters in baseball, one in football, and one in wrestling. Moved to Farmersburg to add two baseball and two basketball letters to his collection. Took baseball team to state finals twice. Will teach and coach.

Howard Rabey. Junior guard. "Swede" brought a record of being a regular in every game in high school. Wasted no time in starting out the same way at Teachers College in winning his letter last year. Built like a mobile tank, Rabey played in the backfield in high school but shifted to guard in college. Won four football, one basketball, and one track letter in high school. Captain in football. Plans to be a coach.

RETURNING RESERVES

Howard Finn. Junior back. A high school teammate of Rabey. Last year did not play because of broken collar bone. Graduated from Belmond high school in 1935 with three letters each in football and track as well as one in basketball. An all-conference football choice, he captained the track team for two years. Plans to coach after he graduates.

Fred Nus. Junior End. Another West Waterloo product. Gained a bit more polish last year and may be getting plenty of action this fall. Graduated from high school in 1936 with a pair of basketball awards and one in football. Will be a coach.

Orra Rew. Senior halfback. Played last year but not enough to win a letter. Graduated from Lamoni high school in 1934 with two letters each football, basketball, and track. Captained basketball. Attended Graceland junior college, winning two letters in football and baseball and one in track. Was team leader in football. Plans to teach and coach after graduation.

Harry Schley. Junior tackle. Schley is the "Daddy" of the squad at 25. Graduated from Lisbon high school in 1929 and then proceeded to see his share of the world before continuing his educational pursuits. Played a lot last year and may see even more action this fall. Won two football letters and four in high school basketball, captained football. Will coach.

Clifford Shirk. Junior back. Got into one game last year to kick an extra point which saved game. Biggest back on the squad, Shirk CAN be one of the best if he makes up his mind to the job. Big, fast, rugged, a good passer, he can do a good job of carrying the mail. A 1936 Lake View high school graduate. Won four football and four baseball letters, and three in basketball, captain in football. Plans coaching career.

Gordon Stainbrook. Senior end. Stainbrook played tackle at West Waterloo high school but shifted to center as Panther frosh. As a sophomore he played guard, and now is at end. Won two high school football letters, graduating in 1934. Will coach.

DID YOU KNOW THAT-

There have been but three one point games in Panther grid history?

North Dakota State College. Sparked by Wheeler, rated in North Dakota as the best back in the business, a veteran Bison team may oust North Dakota. When the two tangle Oct. 29 more than state supremacy may hang in balance. Experience oozes at every position. C.C. Finnegan has builded well for 1938 and he's set to collect! John Smith handles publicity.

South Dakota State College. 20 lettermen will help in boosting State up the conference ladder as Jack Barnes opens first year in loop. The Jacks face five tough foes and probably wont make the top but the spirit is the best in years. The publicity is handled by Loren E. Donelson.

University of Omaha. A Mighty crew of sophs make the Cardinal picture brightest since 1934. No title in prospect but a lot of bumps are the prospects for Omaha foes. Sed Hartman does the coaching and Royce West the talking for him.

Grinnell College. A battle is always in prospect when Grinnell meets the Panthers and this year is no exception. Added fuel is fact that Pioneers will want glorious finale for Missouri Valley career. Guy Lookabaugh will have fine bunch of vets and sophomores for 1938 team. Edward L. Wilson is spokesman.

Western State Teachers College. A fancy group of veterans makes Mike Gary's 1938 eleven a tough number. Further strength will be added at homecoming game with Panthers - alums, dads, and celebrations expected to key Hilltoppers to avenge similar loss two years ago when Panthers won. Homer M. Dunham is the director of publicity.

Coe College. Moray Eby starts twenty-fifth year with the promise that the team will be considerably stronger than those of last two years - which spells trouble. Plenty of lettermen and a fine group of sophomores are on hand to furnish the veteran mentor with right ingredients for a topnotcher. The schedule is no bed of roses, but then the Kohawks aren't planning to be love birds. Publicity under Ernest Mickel.

Kansas State Teachers College. A big, powerful, high scoring team will be waiting for the Panthers when they invade Emporia, Kansas, November 5 for their first encounter with the Kansas State Teachers College of that city. William Allen White will want no "new deal" tactics in town so the host team will be all prepared to "see the strangers and take them in" according to the old style. Coach is F. G. Welch and the publicity is directed by George Phillips.

HOW THE OTHER FELLOWS SHAPE UP FOR 1938

University of North Dakota. Defending seventh North Central title in 10 years with exceedingly bright prospects of making it one more. There's a wealth of heavy-material, well-seasoned, at the Nodak home and crafty old Jack West is the man to know what to do with it. Return of Pollard has lifted worry from West's shoulders and dropped it in the laps of Coaches Jack Barnes, Jason Saunderson, C.C. Finnegan, and Sed Hartman. William E. Jilison is publicity director.

University of South Dakota. Chances are that the Coyotes are going to get at least a share of that championship they have been after since 1927. Does not play North Dakota and seems to be ready to mow down all other foes. An experienced line, a bit weak at center, and a big supply of veteran backs may cover the loss of Billy Ryan. G. Russell Bauer is publicity director for Harry Gamage's football team.

Morningside College. Optimism is the keynote on Morningside Heights as the Maroons settle down for 1938. Plenty of good men lost by graduation but Coach Jason Saunderson feels that there are plenty of strong replacements. Biggest loss is Fodness, all-conference guard. That title which has eluded the Maroons since 1923 may roost in Sioux City in 1938 - if present hopes are realized. Ira Gwinn handles public relations.

North Dakota State College. Sparked by Wheeler, rated in North Dakota as the best back in the business, a veteran Bison team may oust North Dakota. When the two tangle Oct. 29 more than state supremacy may hang in balance. Experience oozes at every position. C.C. Finnegan has builded well for 1938 and he's set to collect! John Smith handles publicity.

South Dakota State College. 20 lettermen will help in boosting State up the conference ladder as Jack Barnes opens first year in loop. The Jacks face five tough foes and probably wont make the top but the spirit is the best in years. The publicity is handled by Loren E. Donelson.

University of Omaha. A Mighty crew of sophs make the Cardinal picture brightest since 1934. No title in prospect but a lot of bumps are the prospects for Omaha foes. Sed Hartman does the coaching and Royce West the talking for him.

Grinnell College. A battle is always in prospect when Grinnell meets the Panthers and this year is no exception. Added fuel is fact that Pioneers will want glorious finale for Missouri Valley career. Guy Lookabaugh will have fine bunch of vets and sophomores for 1938 team. Edward L. Wilson is spokesman.

Western State Teachers College. A fancy group of veterans makes Mike Gary's 1938 eleven a tough number. Further strength will be added at homecoming game with Panthers - alums, dads, and celebrations expected to key Hilltoppers to avenge similar loss two years ago when Panthers won. Homer M. Dunham is the director of publicity.

Coe College. Moray Eby starts twenty-fifth year with the promise that the team will be considerably stronger than those of last two years - which spells trouble. Plenty of lettermen and a fine group of sophomores are on hand to furnish the veteran mentor with right ingredients for a topnotcher. The schedule is no bed of roses, but then the Kohawks aren't planning to be love birds. Publicity under Ernest Mickel.

Kansas State Teachers College. A big, powerful, high scoring team will be waiting for the Panthers when they invade Emporia, Kansas, November 5 for their first encounter with the Kansas State Teachers College of that city. William Allen White will want no "new deal" tactics in town so the host team will be all prepared to "see the strangers and take them in" according to the old style. Coach is F. G. Welch and the publicity is directed by George Phillips.
