Panel Discussion:

What Can I Do With a Degree in the Social Sciences?

Panel Moderator: Dr. Rowena Tan

Room 244-245

Laura Steiber, Service Coordinator, Exceptional Persons Inc.

Lanette Watson, SAVE Center Coordinator

Elizabeth Rich, school psychologist in Ottumwa, Iowa

Josh Troutman, Student Services, Kirkwood Community College

Tammy Riley, K-12 guidance counselor in Lenox, Iowa

Sonya Elzey, Heritage Residential Services, Inc.

Pat Crowe, NIACC instructor

Lynn Klobberdanz, Blackhawk County Engineer Office

Sequence of Events

(Approximately 90 minutes)

1. Panelists briefly introduce themselves and their work and/or educational background along with past experience.
2. The moderator will begin the discussion by asking each panelist to respond to a key question.
3. Questions from the audience to specific panel members or to the panel as a whole.
4. The audience will break into small groups. Panelists will circulate among groups for discussions (see sample questions opposite).
5. Panels will reconvene and give a general characterization of group discussions.

SAMPLE DISCUSSION QUESTIONS FOR JOBS PANEL

(Used to stimulate group discussions)

1. How long did the job search take?
2. What resources were used when looking for a job (i.e. classifieds, job placement, etc.)
3. Was any networking done? How was this done? Are there any suggestions as to who to contact?
4. How does your college major relate to your present job?
5. Were you willing to move or did you need/want to stay in the Cedar Falls/Waterloo area? Was your job search limited to the immediate area, to Iowa, the Midwest, or were you willing to relocate anywhere?
6. What jobs did you apply for aside from the one you received?
7. Would you change anything about your education knowing what you know now about the work force? i.e. different degree, additional degree, additional classes, additional volunteer work, etc. What was particularly helpful?
8. What did you learn from your courses that relates to your work?
9. Do you plan to go to graduate school in the future? In what area? Would employers pay for graduate training? or Why did you go back to school for graduate work?
10. If you had all the resources in the world, would you still have entered your chosen field given the job you presently have?
11. What do you like/dislike about your job? Are you doing what you wanted or planned? Do you have room for advancement, benefits, a salary you feel you deserve? (be honest)
12. When you were in college, what did you expect to do when you graduated?
13. What advice do you have for someone seeking the same path as you?
14. Are there similar opportunities like yours?
15. Do you have opportunities for advancement? (Do you see yourself someplace else in ten years? Where?)

Iowa Sociological Association

This year's conference is held in conjunction with the Iowa Sociological Association. Student presentations from this group are listed beginning on the next page.

About the Iowa Sociological Association

The Iowa Sociological Association (ISA) was founded in 1959 to meet the needs of undergraduate and graduate students and their instructors in Iowa not met by other organizations. Membership is open to all students with a major or minor in Sociology, and to faculty whose teaching, research or administrative duties are primarily in the field of Sociology. There are no dues. The association meets annually for a program of student papers, panel presentation and a research report by an eminent sociologist. There are three undergraduate student paper awards that may be presented annually. The Manford Kuhn Award is presented to the outstanding paper by a student in the junior/senior category. The Mary Alice Ericson Award is presented to the outstanding paper written by a first year or sophomore student. The W. Ward Reynoldson Award is presented for the best student paper written on a criminal justice topic.

This year's ISA meeting is taking place concurrently with the UNI Social and Behavioral Sciences Undergraduate Research Conference. On behalf of ISA, I would like to thank the URC organizers for co-hosting this event. And on behalf of UNI, I would like to extend a warm welcome to participants in the Iowa Sociological Association.

--Keith Crew, President-Elect, Iowa Sociological Association
