THE IOWAVE

VOLUME II No. 1

U. S. NAVAL TRAINING SCHOOL, CEDAR FALLS, IOWA

7 JANUARY 1944

World News

EUROPEAN FRONT

The mightiest daylight aerial armada of American and British warplanes ever dispatched—3,000 or more hammered Europe from Northwest Germany to the French invasion coast. The Swedish radio reported that targets included Copenhagen, Zealand, Fyn, and central and southern Jutland. Not an enemy fighter challenged the Allies.

Eighteen four-motored bombers and escorting American and R. A. F. fighters were missing from the attacks on Germany.

Jugoslav Partisans were mopping up the last defenses of German Army Headquarters at Banja Luka. The fall of this city is expected shortly.

RUSSIAN FRONT

The drive by which the Russians have pushed into pre-war Poland was continued with the capture of an important German supply base 50 miles below Kiev. The constantly expanding front fans out in five directions in a huge arc that threatens to trap more than 1,000,000 Germans in the Dnieper River bend.

On the southwestern front the Russians have made a 10-mile gain, which brings them within 18 miles of an important railroad center.

In one days fighting 81 German tanks were destroyed or disabled, and 36 planes were shot down, the Russians said.

PACIFIC FRONT

U. S. Army bombers of the 7th Air Force blasted three targets in the Marshall Islands shooting down or probably destroying 17 Zeros or swarms that rose to fight the attack.

Continued terrific fighter defense offered by the Japanese in the Marshalls indicates that the enemy is sending replacement planes as fast as possible.

ITALIAN FRONT

American Flying Fortresses scored more than 50 hits with heavy bombs on Villar Perosa, the great ballbearing production center in northern Italy. Land fighting was apparently stalled among a series of ridges along the Adriatic coast three miles northwest of Ortuna.

Graduates Present "The Ancient Mariner"

"The Ancient Mariner" will be presented by the graduating class on Friday, 7 January at 1930, in the auditorium. It is a musical comedy and love story all rolled into one.

The setting takes place in the year of 1943 at Cedar Falls, but actually the story itself takes place in the year 1970.

JOE was a Cadet, and JULIE was a WAVE. It is their anniversary and it brings back many pleasant memories.

Ensign Gail Baird is the officer in charge of the show.

WAVES Will Broadcast Over KXEL on 10 January

There will be a WAVE broadcast on Station KXEL Monday, 10 January, 1600. Many letters have been received from IOWAVES who have gone out and relieved men for sea duty. WAVES will participate in reading some of these letters over the air.

Auditions will be held Friday afternoon at 1630 in the studio on the third deck of the Auditorium Building for anyone who is interested in participating in the broadcast.

Lieut. Forsman Will Address Graduates On Monday at 1030

LT. NANCY V. FORSMAN

BACK ISSUES WANTED

The IOWAVE office is still looking for missing issues of the IOWAVE. Five copies of No. 9 and three copies of No. 13 are needed to complete the files.

Will Speak on Work Done By (WR) At Great Lakes

Lt. Nancy V. Forsman, Director of the Women's Reserve for the NINTH Naval District, will be the speaker at graduation exercises to be held in the auditorium building, Monday, 10 January, at 1030. Miss Forsman will speak on the work being done by members of the Women's Reserve stationed at Great Lakes.

Lt. Forsman was Liaison Officer for the NINTH Naval District attached to the staff of Admiral Downes prior to her appointment to her present position. She reported for duty on 29 December, 1942. Before joining the Navy, she was a New York City advertising and publicity writer. She holds B. A., B. F. A. and M. A. degrees from the University of Nebraska. She is a member of Phi Beta Kappa and Kappa Delta social sorority.

Ensign H. Conrad to Receive Training in Supply and Disbursing

Ensign Helen P. Conrad, the former Miss Helen Pederzoli, of the instruction department, has received orders to report to the Naval Supply Corps School for a three-month course in supply and disbursing.

This course is given at the graduate school for Business Administration (Radcliffe Branch) Harvard University at Boston, Massachusetts.

At the completion of this additional training Mrs. Conrad will report for duty as assistant to a supply and disbursing officer.

Six Brothers In the Service

Ruth Newan, Section 21, has five brothers in the Army and one in the Navy, and a sister seventeen years old who wishes she was old enough to join the WAVES.

EDITORIAL

Femininity vs. Militarism

Femininity can and should be retained in the ranks of the Women's Reserve. In keeping this femininity Seamen have the responsibility of acquiring a knowledge of the rules and regulations and strictly adhering to them. They should rigidly obey the ruling to "pipe down" and in obeying such a regulation the vocal cords must cease to function until such time as talking is in order.

Specialists have a responsibility in aiding enthusiastic WAVES to adjust to the life-militaire. They should be an example for the keeping of femininity by giving orders in a modulated voice that bespeaks firmness and respect yet shows kindness and dignity in its delivery.

An officer in the WR has a tremendous responsibility for she must inspire confidence and have a true understanding of the drastic change that must be made in American womanhood as the ways of war gradually take effect.

Whole-hearted cooperation on the part of Seamen, Specialists and Officers will add to the IOWAVE reputation of the most efficient, best-dressed and MOST FEMININE women in the service.

Hints on Captain's Inspection

There follows a list of some of the criticisms made by the inspecting officers at Captain's Inspection 1 January. Trainees should take note so that no inspecting officer at next Captain's Inspection can duplicate any criticism.

Dirty window sills.
Dusty windows.

Dust on top of medicine cabinet.

Dust in closet—especially shelves or mouldings.

Gear adrift under folded top blanket.

Hand mirror dirty.

Hat not facing with U. S. Navy front.

Shirts not buttoned completely in closets.

Necessity for moving small top button below white shirt collar so that collar meets.

Lt. (jg) John L. Hallenbeck will close his books and say "Adieu" to the Cedar Falls Naval Training School some time this month.

Ensign Edward J. Morrison, who is taking over Mr. Hallenbeck's duties as Supply and Disbursing Officer will arrive on this station within the next few days. He is coming direct from the Naval Supply Corps School, the School of Business Administration at Harvard University, Boston, Massachusetts.

Lt. (jg) Hallenbeck was one of the first officers to arrive on this station in December 1942.

Toast to the Girl of the USN

We'll sing our song to the finest girl,

Who wears the Navy blue.

She proudly holds the ensign high
She's Navy through and through.
She serves with those who firmly stand

Together—fight to win.

Here's luck to every Navy WAVE,
To the girl of the USN.

Volunteer Recruiting Will Earn Report In Service Record

Several letters have been received at this station from the Officers in charge of Naval Officer Procurement, commending trainees for recruiting friends for the Women's Reserve of the Navy while on inactive duty. These reports are put in the individual's service record. Those going on leave should remember that this is the usual custom when a member of the Women's Reserve recruits someone for the Navy.

UNIFORM TIPS

Girls who are leaving this station will find that uniform regulations will be set by the Commandant of the Naval district to which they are assigned. Those who are going south may find that they will wear white tops on their hats throughout the winter. Yeomen reporting to their new assignments should note carefully what is being worn on that particular station.

Yeomen should remember all that has been told them at Cedar Falls about wearing their uniforms correctly: keeping their hair short, clothes pressed, ties neat, and hats squared—all these things do much to improve their appearance wherever they go.

Above all, on her first day at a new station a Yeoman should report in G. I. shoes, regulation hose, and navy shirt. She should not make the mistake of appearing in white shirt and high-heeled pumps; this is the time to look as neat and business-like as possible.

Those who are going home on leave for a few days before reporting for further duties should remember they may wear their white gloves for dress occasions but white gloves in winter may never be worn to the movies or on shopping tours.

Basketball Tourney Concludes With Section 23 Winner

Last night a victorious team from Section 23 played the officers and ships' company in a challenging game to climax the Basketball Tournament. As the date for the game was changed, scores were not available at press time.

Section 23 vs Section 41

Section 23 earned the right to play this game by their brilliant teamwork and sportsmanship, which eliminated each of the opponents. In the last fray with Section 41 for the championship, Seaman Dowling of 23 and Seaman Biase of 41 both sank 11 baskets for 22 points each, but Section 23 edged ahead in the final quarter to claim the victory by the score of 32-28.

Ensign Goodenow, officer in charge of the tournament, wishes to thank all participants for the excellent cooperation, enthusiasm and sportsmanship displayed during the tournament. Her hope is that there will be the same response in the future.

Section 23 vs Officers & Ship's Co.

Participating in last night's game were:

BOWLING

The Officer's Bowling Team opposed the Apparel Art Team in Cedar Falls on Tuesday, 4 January 1944. It was the first contest in the New Year and the officers started out with new determination, winning two of the three games played. Miss Autio bowled high score with a total of 344 for the three games, Miss Foran rolled 312 and Miss Smith 307.

Mr. Michael Pettee, son of Commander and Mrs. E. E. Pettee returns this week to resume his studies at the Shattuck Military Academy, Fairbault, Minn.

A MANUAL FOR STENOGRAPHERS AND TYPISTS has been published by the Navy Department and should be an invaluable aid to outgoing Yeomen in their new assignments. Copies are now available for the use of officers in the instruction department. The new manual offers only few changes from the course of instruction now given at this station.

Doing Nicely, Thank You!

"Babies are fine,
Mother is, too,
And all the pharmacist's mates
Hope to pull through. . . ."

Yessiree. . . as fine a set of quintuplets as you ever hope to lay eyes on are over in Sick Bay, and are celebrating their first-week anniversary today with an extra big meal. Fine specimens of squirming babyhood!

Had it not been for the kindness of the WAVES, it might have been another story. When the mother wandered into USS BARTLETT, quickwitted seamen rushed her over to Sick Bay. All the pharmacist's mates assisted, and e'er long the world at large was overjoyed to hear of the chubby quint.

Names being what they are, it took all the pharmacist's mates again to compile five appropriate names, as they took a personal interest in what seemed to them private property. After a Gallup poll and final votes were taken, the names boiled down to Fore, Aft, Scuttlebutt, Bulthead and Topside. The only catch was that Topside had his bottom-side up as often as not.

The WAVES are proud of their newly acquired interests. It seems they've adopted five puppies.

(This story was written by Irene Holm of the 'College Eye' staff.)

ODDITIES

Lt. (jg) Brussel was drilling a platoon in the men's gym and asked a seaman to lower her left shoulder to make it even with the right shoulder. For days the seaman worried about her drooping shoulder. A few days later she went to Hughes for an alteration on her suit and was told that the right shoulder had a double padding in it.
