THE IOWAVE

VOLUME II, No. 9

U. S. NAVAL TRAINING SCHOOL, CEDAR FALLS, IOWA 25 FEBRUARY 1944

War Highlights

PACIFIC

Yanks have landed on the Admiralty Islands, 235 miles north of New Britain, a communique announced Wednesday.

The landing, directed by General Douglas MacArthur from the bridge of a warship, severed the enemies east-west chain of supply and offensive bases.

The Japs were so completely surprised that not a single plane or warship was sent out to interfere with operations.

ITALY

Allied troops received the heaviest artillery barrage in the Anzio campaign from the Germany 14th Army this week, but the enemy was stopped by return fire from the allied guns.

The Germans have been bringing up heavy artillery reinforcements under cover of bad weather in the last week, according to front line dispatches.

Meanwhile, on the Cassino front, American troops entrenched a few hundred yards from Monte Cassino abbey mopped up a number of German troops who had infiltrated during the night.

EUROPE

In Russia Soviet troops have driven through powerful German fortifications toward Pskov and captured more than 310 towns on the northern front. They were within six miles of Pskov from the

USS TERRIFIC Will be Launched 5 March at 1930

Those who read the newspapers—and even busy IOWAVES get a chance to do this occasionally—are aware that there is a great deal of talk in Washington of passing a bill permitting WAVES to serve Uncle Sam overseas.

In connection with this happy turn of Navy affairs, a new battleship is to be launched. As a special recognition of the varied accomplishments of the IOWAVES the Captain of the new ship—the USS TERRIFIC—will choose the crew from this station on Sunday, 5 March at 1930.

In order to prove their fitness to serve on the USS TERRIFIC, the candidate IOWAVES will demonstrate their naval skill and abilities in the auditorium at the time indicated.

If champagne can be obtained in Iowa, doubtless a bottle of it will be broken over the bow of the TERRIFIC on this historic occasion.

And that's "GOOD NEWS FOR 1944."

north and 12 miles from the east.

RUSSIA

Bulgaria is reported to be the latest German satellite seeking an exit from the war, as messages from the Middle East indicated that the U. S. and Britain were being asked for armistice terms.

Lt. Ragan, Naval Hero, to Address Graduates on Monday at 1030

LT. R. C. RAGAN, USNR

RECEIVE COMMENDATION

For having recruited one member of the WAVES each, Rita Rose, S2-c of Section 33, and Margaret Jane Chase, S2-c of Section 34 received special commendation.

Ensign Charlotte Yust of the Instruction Department left Tuesday for Texas where she will spend a six-day leave.

He Has Seen Action In Aleutian Islands And Santa Cruz

Graduation ceremonies for the outgoing class of Yeomen will be held in the Auditorium on Monday, 6 March at 1030.

Commander Pettee will offer his congratulations to the graduates and introduce the guest speaker of the day, who will be Lt. R. C. Ragan, Ordinance Officer in Recruit Training at the United States Naval Training Station, Great Lakes Illinois.

Lt. Ragan enlisted in the United States Naval Reserve in July, 1940. His first assignment after being commissioned as an officer was on the USS WILLIAMSON, a seaplane tender. He saw duty in Alaska and the Aleutian Islands, surveying advance bases and tending sea planes around Kiska and Attu. He has been ashore on most of the Aleutian Islands.

Soon after Pearl Harbor he was assigned to the USS SOUTH DAKOTA as assistant to the machine gun officer, and participated in the battle of the Santa Cruz Islands.

In December 1942 he returned to the United States to enter the United States Naval Hospital at San Diego where he remained for eight months recovering from the injuries he received in battle.

Lt. Ragan reported to the United States Naval Training Station Great Lakes, Illinois, in July 1943.

No doubt Lt. Ragan will be able to relate many interesting experiences regarding his travel in Alaska and his period of sea duty.

Lt. Elizabeth Hall, Officer-in-Charge of Seamen will announce the name of the highest ranking yeoman in each section of the graduating class. These yeomen in return will receive from her the graduation certificates for the yeomen in their sections.

Pont, Costa and Rose Score High in Tests

Last week the Fourth Company took two tests; one a comprehensive examination in indoctrination and war orientation, and the other in Articles for the Government of the Navy.

In the former test Seamen Pont and Costa, of Section 41, made a score of 3.75. Other high scores were Swisher of Section 44; Rose, 43; and Flynn, 42. In the latter test, Rose of 43, made a score of 3.83. Next highest in line were Gass of 44; Pont of 41, and Huggins, Oliver and Larson all of Section 42.

Out of the 188 seamen who took the test on the Articles, only two scored below 2.5.

Carry the IOWAVE Tradition

"Now I am a Yeoman, now I can relax," rings on the station as a new group of yeomen are about to depart for shore duties. But, do they really mean they'll relax in such a way as to wipe out all they've learned here? Will they forget that certain military bearing and good-grooming that marks an IOWAVE?

When you report to your next duty, you are just carrying over everything you learned here and in boot camp. Your appearance and actions will reflect on the type of training, and servicewomen in general.

As an IOWAVE, you have lived among girls as in a close community, and have learned how to get along with people. Use the same tact and methods in future Navy life, and even long after. You have really been 'indoctrinated' here in real Navy style with Navy officers as teachers, mustering, and Captain's Inspections on Saturday. Even being on the "tree" has taught its lessons. Maybe there won't be any tree on your next station, but you will think twice before doing something that would constitute a tree offense.

You must remember that you are in the public's eye either when on or off duty and the impression you create will not only reflect upon the Navy, but on all Yeomen from Cedar Falls. Those who have gone before you have set up standards of high military bearing, initiative, and good-grooming, and it is your duty and honor to uphold these traditions. Be proud to say that you are an IOWAVE, and set an example for future IOWAVES.

THE NAVAL UNIFORM AND ITS CARE

The following is quoted from the Naval Officers' Uniform Plan published by the Naval Uniform Service. This is printed for the information and guidance of officers and enlisted personnel:

TO REMOVE OIL OR GREASE FROM BLUE UNIFORMS—Soak a piece of cloth in chloroform, carbon tetrachloride, petroleum benzine, benzol, or acetone, and rub the spot briskly. The stain will be washed out. The solvent will be readily evaporated.

TO REMOVE KEROSENE—Wash in a solution of warm soapy water.

TO REMOVE STAINS FROM BLUE UNIFORMS—Paint stains, while still fresh, can be removed by use of the method above for removing grease or oil. Old and hard paint stains are difficult to remove and often times impossible. The best treatment for old paint stains is to rub them hard with a piece of blue cloth saturated in turpentine.

PARAFFIN WAX, ETC.—Place blotting paper over the spot and apply a hot iron to the blotting paper. Continue this, using clean blotting paper until the spot is removed.

IODINE STAINS—Iodine stains can be readily removed by applying a solution of "Hypo" (sometimes called "anticolor") used in photography, or sodium hyposulfate, and then rinsing thoroughly with water. It may also be removed by using starch as prepar-

The Red Cross Serves Everyone

SECTION 14 SETS ENVIABLE RECORD

Section 14 has made an excellent record in typewriting speed, according to Ensign Virginia Adams, instructor and Section Officer of the section. The high is 90 words a minute with 4 errors, and the low is 60 words a minute with 4 errors. However, the platoon as a whole has set a record in its median speed, which is 74 words a minute. No previous platoon has attained as high a median speed as this, and it is especially noteworthy since Section 14 is the largest platoon on the station.

SHIP'S CO. AND SEAMEN TRAVEL TO DUBUQUE

Recently returned from Loras College, Dubuque, Iowa, unit of the V-15 program, where they were guests of Lieut. Fischer, are PhM1-c Catherine Lawton; Y2-c Flora Lemay and Sp.2c Christine Tucker, all of Ship's Company, and S2-c Charlotte Ziemba; S2-c Janet Newsom, and S2-c Betty Green, all of Section 22.

While there they viewed the Municipal Airport and visited the V-12 Unit at the University of Dubuque.

They were honorary pallbearers at the funeral of PhM2-c Genevieve Gunz.

Why is it they call it the "Military Tree" when there are no "leaves" on it?

BuPers Claims Lt. (jg) Sehmman, Military Officer

Even with the thrill and excitement of graduation at high ebb, many a graduating yeoman has a secret and strictly acknowledged dread of her first day on her new assignment. How reassuring would be the knowledge that a familiar face might be glimpsed in the strange surroundings. Yeomen being sent to Washington have a very good chance of doing just that, since Lt. (jg) B. J. Sehmman, Military Officer, is soon to be transferred to Washington, where she will report to the Bureau of Naval Personnel.

Miss Sehmman assumed her duties as Military Officer at Cedar Falls on 30 November 1942, when this station was just starting out as a Boot School.

The personnel of Cedar Falls will greatly miss her fine leadership and her loyal and devoted spirit.

The officers and trainees and the staff of the IOWAVE join in wishing Miss Sehmman success and happiness in her new work.

Lt. B. J. Sehmman, Military Officer, returned this week from a ten-day leave spent at her home in Wichita Falls.

Ensign Helen Berlin, Instructor and Visual Aids Officer, returned and Visual Aids Officer, returned Thursday from temporary duty in Great Lakes, Ill., where she took a course in Visual Aids.

Texans Publish Citation on Texas Independence Day, 2 March

March 2 is a day revered by the largest state in the union as a date significant to its history. 'Twas on March 1 that Santa Anna began to bite the dust before the worthy Gen'l. Sam Houston. It is fitting and appropriate that the Texas personnel on this station on this day publish to the world the following citation:

"It is deemed a sad twist of fate that the commanding officer of the Naval Training School for Yeomen of the Women's Reserve was born without the bounds of the State of Texas. However, in keeping with the best tradition of the Naval Service both of the United States and Texas, he has meritoriously striven to overcome this unfortunate circumstance. He has closed his ears to relentless onslaughts against the independence of spirit, the courageous devotion to duty of his Texas compatriots. His extraordinary devotion to this task makes him eligible to recognition from the most valuable and effective ally of the United States in this war and it is the pleasure of the personnel signing below to inform the world that Commander E. E. Pettae is from this day forth an honorable honorary citizen of the State of Texas."

Eileen Marie O'Grady is Honored At Christening and Commissioning Party

A commission pennant flew over the front door at the home of Dr. and Mrs. O'Grady Sunday afternoon while their newly born daughter, Eileen Marie, was honored in true Navy style in the presence of 50 of this station's officers and families. Instead of the traditional champagne, a bottle of milk, more fitting to the occasion, was broken across her bow. Then as she proudly slid down all the way into her blanket, she floated away into dreamland, casting one last glance at the commission pennant.

The actual baptism was held at 12 o'clock at St. Patrick's Church in Cedar Falls with several officers present. And guess where her godfather was all during the service! Out on the briny blue of the Atlantic serving as a Medical Officer aboard a destroyer.

There's no doubt but that Eileen is an individualist. Did anyone ever before have a godfather by proxy?

The party Sunday turned out to be a howling success for Eileen. In spite of the fact that there was an abundance of food available, she was confined to a liquid diet. According to her father, he just hadn't the time to make plates for her.

The agreement between Dr. and Mrs. O'Grady is that he will take the day shift while Mrs. O'Grady takes the night shift. (One can see how that will work with his pulling and filling several dozen teeth every day at the Naval Training School.) Although it has been said that Dr. O'G. himself does walk the floor an occasional night with the young lady, it's all for keeping her "in commission."

Company IV Wins Swim Meet; Co. II, Second

Company Four was the triumphant winner of the Swimming Meet that was held Wednesday evening in the Women's Swimming Pool before a cheering section of Officers and Waves. Second and third place were taken by the Second and Third Companies respectively.

Seaman Coleman of Section 45 picked up 10 points for the Fourth Company by taking first in the front crawl, and diving. The prone glide heat was won by Stoflet, 32; the under water race of endurance by Pattison, 23; the side stroke by Steingrebe of 32, and Westlake, 43, took first place in the racing back crawl.

Company events gave the Second Company first place in the cork event, and Company Four pulled through again in the shuttle relay.

Ens. Florence Sheils received a big hand from the appreciative spectators for her graceful exhibition of fundamental swimming strokes, and fancy swimming. Cadet Orchid, Army Air student, thrilled the audience with his diving performance.

BOWLING

Last Tuesday night, 29 February 1944, the Navy Officers bowled against Frank's Grocery, and won one game and lost two.

Total pins for the Officer's team was 1681 against 1734 of the opposing team. High series for the Officer's team was made by Ensign Helen Fechter, who rolled 329.

Ship's Company will bowl their final league game tonight.

SPORTS CHATTER

Miss Brussel, Fourth Company commander, was beaming all over as her charges came through.

Seaman McQuire, Co. II really went to town in the cork event. Instead of retrieving one cork at a time, she gathered up a mouthful before carrying it to the sidelines. It gagged the spectators more than it did her.

The cheering at the meet resembled those closing-minute excited yells at a football game.

The cork event wasn't the only 'ducking event.' As Cadet Orchid dove into the water, he unconsciously drenched Ensigns Goodenow and Miller, and Spec. Watkins.
