THE MAN BEHIND THE PANTHER'S SUCCESS

COACH CLYDE L. (BUCK) STARBECK

Football knows no peer in Buck Starbeck's manner of thinking and acting. To him the game and his men of the gridiron constitute his entire life. Twelve months out of the year Starbeck devotes to mastering strategy, developing football players, and personally taking an interest in the all toward a common goal...winning football games.

With the expectation of a rugged season appearing on the 1954 pigskin horizon, Buck Starbeck's charges will be performing up to par. Entering his 18th year as head coach, Buck has piloted the Panthers to eight first, two seconds, and two thirds. Only three seasons have found them below third place; and all but two years have been played above the .500 mark.

Although Teachers College has known no other coach in North Central Conference competition, Buck's name was firmly embedded amongst schools before his arrival at Cedar Falls. For 28 years the football public of the Dakotas, Minnesota, and Iowa have followed his career. They knew him as an all-conference center for South Dakota State College from 1923-27. While Buck was over the ball, the Bunnies won two conference titles.

Our neighboring state of Wisconsin first tasted of his post-college coaching career. At Eau Claire his high school gridders ran up eight wins without a loss. His success brought him quick offers and by the fall of '23 Buck had accepted the position of line coach at North Dakota University. Once again football was played at its best with Buck on the job as the Nodaks won six conference championships in the eight years he coached.

It was now 1936 and Iowa Teachers needed a head coach. Buck answered the call and has been here ever since, much to the good fortune of ISTC.

The first four seasons were tough ones in Buck's admirable career; Panther teams finished fifth, third, seventh and fourth.

A string of four victories in 1939, unraveled into 31 consecutive conference games without a defeat, as the Panthers won seven consecutive conference titles. From 1940 through 1949 no other conference member gained the top position; the first time in national football history that a school had so completely dominated a league over such an extended period. While setting a national record, Panther teams rolled up 1002 points to their opponents 172.

In 1950 the Panthers ended-up second to South Dakota State, and the '51 squad dropped a place to third. Starbeck's eighth title team appeared in 1952 as the conference championship was brought back to O. R. Latham Stadium and Iowa State Teachers College. Last season the Panthers, beaten once in conference play, came in second to undefeated South Dakota State.

During his 15 seasons with the Panthers, Starbeck has piled up a North Central Conference record of 55 wins, 17 losses and three ties for a .769 percentage mark. His overall record at Teachers College reads 71 wins, 44 losses and nine ties for a .649 mark.

Starbeck was born in Montevideo, Minnesota, on January 7, 1901. He first broke into the starting line-up at Montevideo where he played as a prepper for five years. He enrolled the following year at Hamline University where he continued his football before moving on to his first coaching position at the Pipestone Minnesota Indian School. After two years and a record of 12 wins and two defeats, Starbeck enrolled at South Dakota State.

"They're all picking Iowa Teachers to finish among the leaders," said Coach Buck Starbeck, "and that's what makes this season so tough." Although the Panthers are fortified with 17 returning lettermen, many "ifs" lie within the veterans, especially defensively.

The Panthers last year were second in conference scoring but finished a lowly sixth defensively. "Here's where the boys will need to work this fall if we are to have a winner," added Starbeck.

Teachers can field a potent scoring machine with national yardage leader, Ralph Capitani tossing to 1954's top receiver Dick Beetsch, plus smooth running from dependable backs, Art Landau, and Larry Bitcon. Combined with steady defensive play, Teachers reckoned with before the 1954 conference championship is decided.

By position, the situation looks like this:

Ends--No worries here offensively. Dick Beetsch, nations leading receiver last season, is top man among four returning lettermen. His sure hands and dashing speed label him a number one scorer. Defensively, Beetsch needs priming. Weak at rushing end, he performed at defensive halfback in '53. James Rosien, who can pull them in anywhere on the field, gives the Panthers seasoned pass catchers. Two year letterman Tom Walker and James Herschberger, returnee from '52 squad who was out of school last year, round out fashionable crop of end men.

Tackles--LeRoy Dunn, 1953 All-Conference player is head man for one tackle spot. Opposition will find Dunn hitting even harder this season, for he's a solid 205 as compared to 196 in '53. Jerry Reynolds is the other letterman. A strong bid for a starting assignment is expected from Don Grove, 205 pound sophomore from New Hampton. Starbeck named him an excellent replacement for missing letterman Lyle Smith.

Guards--The loss of two all-conference men, Karl Rauch and Jim Jachenheim, leaves somewhat of a hole on both sides of center. Roy Voggeessor, a dependable performer both ways should hold down one position. Donald Fisher, letterman from Cedar Falls, will get a crack at the other side. Again, pressure from newcomers, Dick Fromanek and Dale Petersen, makes the guard spot currently unpredictable.

Center--With one returning veteran, Starbeck is forced to search elsewhere along the line for talent. Rodney Hoagland, letterman center of '53 squad, and Bert Field, guard on varsity last year, are expected to hustle for starting berth. Duane Polka is a goodlooking newcomer.

Halfbacks--Six returning lettermen plus a couple of promising sophomores should give the Panthers enough depth to present a varied and strong ground attack. Art Landau, '53 all-conference back and leading rusher last season, is favorite to repeat as starter. Jack Shearer, a newcomer who was a runner in spring camp may wind-up on the other side of backfield. Lawrence Bitcon, best defensive back on the squad last season, and sophomore Ron Brinkley, an excellent prospect, merits close watch, as does Bob Korver, Orange City's outstanding Junior college athlete.

Blocking back--A very essential part of Starbecks offensive style, this position has two vets in competition. Clearing a path to the starting eleven you'll find Vernon Rosene, a defensive end and line-backer last year, and David Tollefson. Both boys might be bothered by James Cose, a good prospect who was ineligible last season, as he'll be hitting along with sophomore Jim King, hard for first string rating.

Fullbacks--Gritty Ralph Capitani, '53's all-conference passer and most valuable player, is the backbone of Panther aspirations for a conference championship. The 150 pound mighty-mite set a national total yardage record in '53 with his accurate aeriels and timely runs. Though the number one position is sewed-up, replacements are few. Coach Starbeck has a fullback talent hunt in operation this fall.

1954 Central Michigan Prospects

Opening against a team which has won its conference title two years in a row is a tough assignment in itself, and to make things rougher the Chippewas are stronger than they were last year when they defeated Iowa Teachers. Twenty-one returning lettermen far outweigh the five men they lost from 1953's 7-1-1 squad. The Chippewas will sport an exceptionally fast and talented backfield, plus a number of veteran linemen. Big problem facing Coach Bill Kelly is finding capable replacements for five all-conference performers missing from last season's team. Several transfers, a fine crop from the J-V team, and excellent reserve players should ease this situation. In short, the Chippewas should be as strong as last fall, with a faster backfield and a heavier line than a year ago.

1954 North Dakota State Prospects

A new coach, Del Anderson, trying to instill fresh blood into the Bison's veins as he debuts with only six key players, sets the scene at Fargo. Big problem is finding a capable quarterback to replace all-conference Frank Esposito. Two candidates from the frosh squad, Dana Hill and Frank Wold, require closest attention. The new Bisons operate off the T and Split-T; a good quarterback to throw to Glenn Hill, all-conference end and team co-captain, could make the Bisons pesky. Other lettermen include co-captain Paul Werner; guard Pete Aamodt; Emil Zueger, guard; Richard Bielfeld, guard and middleman, Pat Vickers. Team confidence is high, spirit flashing, with good newcomers could be improved over last year.

1954 Drake Prospects

Freshman gridders may spell the success for the Bulldogs, as experience is thin, squad size deep and talent a big question mark. With frosh eligible on an emergency one-year basis, because of small squad, Coach Gaer will search the ranks of freshies thoroughly for replacements. Twelve lettermen are back from last year's .550 ball club. Tackles and guards are in dire need, with end and center capable manned. Lettermen Gary Newell, Bill Bertelson, and Marv Shearer, all-state performer, hold their own at end. Co-captains Lloyd Wasmer and Bob Retz return at center. Backfield talent hunt for passing-quarterback is another problem with nobody returning. Leading the runners is rugged 215-pound Gene Hendrix at fullback. Was 37th in rushing last season.

Three all-conference performers, Ron Kubesh, guard; Dick (Dynamite) Ryan, back and quarterback Cal (Needle) Hallada, spearhead the Sioux's attack. The 145-pound Hallada led the nation's small college passers with a completion mark of 59.2 (74 out of 125). "Needle" could provide the "shot" sending the Nodaks title bound. Coach Frank Zazula expects a great deal of help from an undefeated freshman squad, although the Nodaks only lost five men from last year's squad. Ten seniors are also listed among the returnees. The Nodaks may be the surprise entry in '54 conference football, as last year's team lost only one game, while winning six and tying the other. Tremendous squad spirit will make them tough on all.

A new head coach, crop of sophomores, task of overcoming two straight winless seasons and seven lettermen from last year's cellar dwellers all added up present Viking partisans with the 54 grid picture. Coach Lloyd "Pinky" Falgren will mold his team around three of the seven returning lettermen and two sophs. Mike Dahl, fullback; Jerry Crump, end and Jim Gednalske, guard are the monogram winners to watch. Sophs Al Benson at tackle and Chuck Howlin, a halfback, deserve special attention, too. Viking football hopes rest within a block of sophomores moving up from last year's freshman squad, as they will be playing a lot of ball this fall. Coach Falgren lists the season's prospects as fair.

A young team with only four seniors among the 13 returning lettermen could be a year or so away. Coach Clayton Drouillard, however, is able to field an all-veteran first team, but a strong group of sophomores will determine how far the Maroons rise in the '54 conference standings. Senior members include Buck Miller, quarterback, punter and passer; regular guard and co-captain "Ike" Isaacson and ends Bob Miller and co-captain Bill Holsch. Backfield play will be sparked by Darold Puff, second in conference rushing last year, and Buck Miller, fifth in conference offense, fourth in passing. Promising newcomers include tackle Ray Clark, transfer from Iowa, and halfback Dutch Bryan.

Lacking size and experience among the linemen, the Coyotes from Vermillion, S. D., could be a year away from title contention. Coach Harry Gamage has a wealth of backfield strength but depending on an untried line to spring the runners loose may not bring out their best efforts. At the helm Mickey McDowell and Bill Rawlings will run the Split-T offense. Seven halfbacks and three fullbacks with veteran experience form a dependable ground and air attack. Wayne Alits, a real comer in the punt department, will handle the kicking chores. Six veteran linemen struggle to maintain their first string posts against seven hustling sophomores as the Coyotes' front wall presents a problem.

1954 South Dakota State Prospects

Defending champions will have sixteen lettermen returning from the 1953 football team. Although losses are small in number, they leave large gaps to be filled, especially in the line as five regular frontiers are among the nine lettermen missing. Three all-conference selections returning for another year include Jerry Welch, half; Roger Darker, full, and Dick Klawitter, center. Dallas Hoff, all-league halfback in '51, is back after two years in service. Backfield strength and depth appears good but the line must be regarded as doubtful. Much depends upon reserves and newcomers in this department. With all this dismay up front, the Jackrabbits still remain the favorite to win the NCC crown.
