FILM SCREENING AND PANEL DISCUSSION

Monday, April 23, 2012
7:00 p.m.
Maucker Union Ballroom, UNI

Following the film screening, a panel discussion organized by the Cedar Valley Interfaith Council will take place. Panel members will be Rabbi Stanley Rosenbaum (Sons of Jacob Synagogue, Waterloo), Mohammed Fahmy (Masjid Al-Noor Islamic Center of Waterloo and Cedar Falls) and Reverend Elizabeth Popplewell (St. Luke’s Episcopal Church, Cedar Falls).

Based on the 2006 book of the same title by American writer Robert Satloff, this film documents Satloff’s search for the history of what happened to the Jewish people of North Africa during World War II. What he found in the cities and towns where this history took place was that not only did Jews in Arab lands suffer many of same elements of persecution as Jews in Europe—arrests, deportations, confiscations and forced labor—but there were many cases of "righteous" Arabs reaching out to protect their Jewish neighbors and acquaintances as well as strangers.

This film screening has been organized in conjunction with the traveling exhibit “BESA: Albanian Muslims Who Saved Jews During World War II,” on exhibit through July 7 at the Grout Museum of History & Science, 503 South Street, Waterloo.
