leaning over empty glasses, poking at the ash tray with ends of cigarettes, we spoke of chinese history books and the phonetic symbols, of kiddie lit. and sculpture class. of ferlinghetti (come on/lets go/empty our pockets and disappear)—

we would leave the pizza house and go from the hill and the things that take money, away from the walls and the things that take our time and minds. leave roommates staring at empty beds and wondering; directors filling out forms and shaking heads we would drift into the icy air of a black and silver night, run down endless empty streets—wake to reds and yellows and clouds, wander as strangers among small white houses, laughing children; then home again to old friends and streets and days because of mediocrity on sci's campus, heaven is gained by a teacher's certificate, silence reigns in the classroom and students head for the farm on friday.

Julius System--A Hamlet For Ducks

by ROY BEHRENS

(A tragedy in three acts, with apologies to William Shakespeare and various others.)

PROLOGUE:

(As the scene opens, a courier enters from the left, sounds a familiar theme song, and then exits. To the right we see a large black kettle, and gathered about it are four very fat and ugly women. They are the cooks of King System. They've straggling hair, few teeth and dirty uniforms — and they are stirring with their feet.)

First Cook: (sadistically)

Round and round the kettle kick, We shall make the students sick. Rats and lice are their reward For having paid their room and board.

Second Cook: (generously)

Triple rooms and triple bunks, Add the garbage in triple chunks. All: (stirringly)

Burn and bubble, stir the dinner, Watch the students growing thinner. (An intruder enters from the left and runs to the kettle.)

Intruder: (intrudingly)

Excuse me, I'm from the library. Could I hide a cook in there?

*Third Cook:

Throw it in with pages yellow They'll give binding to the jello.

*Fourth Cook:

And if it's Friday, you've your wish Of any meat — just make it fish!

All:

Add the bugs and bats and killer, We're the cooks that live in the cellar. Burn and bubble, stir the dinner, Watch the students growing thinner. (The cooks disappear and from the left enters a jester figure dressed as a jester.)

*Jester:

I hope that I shall never see A half-sized university, A teacher's college badly taught, But five times bigger

It's time to rise and greet your king. Rise! I say, or soon you've missed 'im. Your lovable king — your Julius System. (There are groans of dismay from the peasants, yet they rise and stand attentive.)

*Courier:

Tie your brains and clean your morals, Your king has come with hardy laurels. Don your sweater and golden buckle, And shine your shoes honeysuckle. Curl your hair and see your signs — Your king is here and he some lines!

(Sounds of regality, convocation processional, etc. Ex the one and only Julius System king of the peasants and all. He is accompanied by party — notably B. A., B (teaching), and their young brother B. S.)

*Julius System:

Good morning, students, wake and discerning. Your attitude is conducive learning. (At that very moment from left enters a very beautiful buxom young lady. Her name is Education. Upon seeing them and his party, she suddenly becomes unhinged and b for the door.)

*B. A.:

Hark! Look yonder!

*B. A. (Teaching):

Gee, golgy, goosh and yipe I see one of the female y B. S.:

I know her! Tis that maiden who won't resist us — Tis Education, that wild mistress!

*B. A.:

Grab her, Julius!

*B. A. (teaching):

Julius, catch her before she gets away!

*B. S.:

Julius, seize her! (Julius runs after Education and exits with his party.)

Peasants: (Woefully)

Woe to us who picket night Our king is looking more unawesomely. He's loosing weight and loosing lean, And we would rather have queen! We Want Education! To Want Education! We Want Education!

(They march off and exit. On again, the jester enters from the left and addresses the audience.)

While I slumbered weak and weary Before a quaint, retarded bore, While I slumbered, neatly numbered, Suddenly there came a mumbling As if someone was gently crumbling, Crumbling on the classroom floor. Tis some visitor, I muttered,
I know how you are alone
I have felt it early in the morning and late
I know what dropping asleep can help
I have walked the same street
I have tried to smile
I know you are alone

Dear President Maucker,

We read with interest your statement in last Thursday's Daily Collegian about the new Student Federation, especially the sentence: "We bespeak your patience as we make the necessary adjustments and welcome your support and cooperation on the inevitable larger changes." For those students who have waited four years for proper adjustments this seems merely to be another well-intentioned platitudes.

DON'T GET US WRONG, we realize the sincerity of your intentions, but if we had to eat the well intentioned platitudes that the local TIPS chapter could chisel, the question is: how long can we wait? The problems that have multiplied with patience are getting to the point that even the most patient request for patience is an exercise in absurdity.

Why haven't we another educational building ready this year? Is this a problem we put off into the onerous, world of never-never land of the "people of the state" or can we assume that administrative figures salaries ranging to some $27,500 should have solved this problem.

WHY IS THE SCIENCE BUILDING, an ugly, low windows affair, being jammed into by Secretly and Sablon halls creating a glassy glare? Also, why aren't we expecting like air-conditioning Sablon taken for so as not to render education highly difficult, if not impossible during Science construction?

Why must we remove natural beauty from campus to put in postage stamp parking lots and bargain basement unions that the predominate expressed student sentiment was against—despite the information to the contrary given the Board of Regents.

Would you explain why there are double rooms in Campbell with one girl while Bartlett has triple doubles and occasionally left and right professors reducing reading requirements because the living conditions are inhumane to study? And to add insult to injury, why do they stip a price no one can afford when the same prices as regular doubles and singles?

WHY ARE THERE FOOD lines in the union stretching for blocks after Bartlett store buying the new cooking equipment? And also why the cutting time isn't increased 15 minutes in Regents so the 2:30 who must trek to the Commons at 4:30 have more overload than could eat at their dorms? A student leader from Regents reports he made this request and was just asked, "How do you know you have a need? Why?"

MOST OF ALL, WHY do we have a Student Services net system that asks—whether in the face of such a small subsidy, that content which we know you are aware of Dr. Mag wretched little rule that "Sexual behavior which is contrary to the moral and religious teaching of the majority of the students is basis for disciplinary action." This is particularly hard to understand when one knows you received complaints last year from students who felt their private lives were being unfairly invaded. Why?

We hope you can give some answers to these at tomorrow's matriculation speech.

Sincerely,

[Signature]

AWS

See AWS

If there doesn't offer this please them down. If there are some who would like to hear them, we offer the AWS; we will have a full frontal attack over any impious implications, saying no, we can't have it.

The worst offender is AWS. Despite their protest to the council, we believe, from our communications and discussions with them, these protests stem from a nervous fear that they might lose power—especially in the Holy Reg Board.

AWS MAINTAINS THE BILL is a repetition of the federation's right to have maintenance and unification of the bill. This is false. These rights exist between the federal government and the people: we need an enumeration of rights between the students and students, not between students and the council. That's ambiguous, and taken out of context, these phrases are ambiguous. But within the context of the bill they are not.

In damning the council, AWS leaders pick the tempestuous anger of those whom it COULDN'T get, and ignoring apparently, that these arguments hold generally true for any court, federal or student. They then proceed to belittle the council in the court. We disagree with them, but must admit that if social reg boards are a typical example they may have a point.

THEN BLANDLY proceed to deny a "power struggle" with the SS which, in point of fact, have promoted. Offered as opposing, and support in that one has appealed a lower Reg board decision in seven years—and apparently they want no court around to make appeal with white.

But if the right to be able to be positive, they say, "we like the idea but not this form." Would any court with power to act satisfied?

IF THE BILL AND COURT fail we hope AWS and company will come up with a suitable alternate. Unfortunately this may be the best course.
School Hoists Black Flag
Of Economic Discrimination

There is an unfortunate policy at SCI that is intended for a good, practical purpose but has resulted in the unfortunate reality of economic discrimination.

WE SPEAK OF THE $30 pre-registration deposit. The intent of this seems to be make registration more orderly by cutting down on students not seriously planning to enroll but registering just in case.

However, the practical effect is this - the financially poor student is put at a disadvantage. This student might be forced to wait until the start of the semester to get financial aid to register. Frequently, the ill-financed student is paying room and board deferred, payments of $80 at the first of every month. An extra $30 between these is difficult. Perhaps some might also like to participate in some other functions - Dr. Miller's cultural trip to Chicago for a day or two - but find themselves unable to do so as a result of the registration fee.

It boils down to the fact that many students are unable to pre-register without great difficulty, perhaps not at all. We realize the positive results of registration for groups. This 'requirement' of pre-registration has in effect...

Must Solve Sexuality Problem

Friday's speeches on homosexuality were tremendously effective in interesting and enlightening SCI students and faculty (possibly even student personnel). The large turnout reflected the strong undercurrents on this subject at SCI that have, until now, been publicly repudiated by some elements.

We hope the discussion continues. Hopefully, the issue of sexuality and SCI will end the discrimination present in this area. In other words, private, consenting adults engaging in sexual acts, either hetero or homosexual, ought to be tolerated. Those engaging in sexual acts other than those consensual, consenting adult - either homo or hetero-sexual - ought not to be tolerated.

The American society ought to gravitate to this view for two reasons. First, it is the only fair, honest position. Second, if we do not set up a witch hunting situation for those in our society who are ever sexual in their behavior, we are setting out their own hate and fear.

The specific issue of teacher certificates is a controversial point. We firmly advocate that homosexuals in private, engaging adult sexuality, ought to be granted teaching certificates. Heterosexuals of this brand are granted certificates - so ought homosexuals.

Engaging in sexuality other than private, consenting adult sexuality, is a grosser form of both heterosexuality and homosexuality. Just as we must tolerate scientists teaching students of the opposite sex, we cannot tolerate them molesting the opposite sex.

This situation in our society of persecuting people because they are or are said to be homosexuals must be tolerated. We believe our society has reached its limit and has dined scandalously. The college must, if it ever is to head high, correct this situation, repair as much damage as possible, and restore confidence in the Office of Personnel. The college must arrive at a position of homosexuality that is open, fair, and enlightened.

We do not solve this problem intelligently and easily the college will have failed in its responsibility to student, society, and to itself.

Davis prevent the Courier and hysterical people from "looking, that %&@ program convinced all those ought to change if there was a letter from the college later arrived at last spring in an article that was..."

"We don't have to be good — we're the only set in town..." - D. B. Kowalsky

OLD GOLD Enticing

At Monday's Board of Control of Student Publications meeting a group of students from honor organizations and other organizations contested the make up of this year's OLD GOLD yearbook.

The group had good reasons in representing their groups. The wanted the tradition of individual group pictures to continue. John Tucker, yearbook editor, explained that the budget made it impossible.

Governor Hughes Suckered Us

Governor Hughes has cut the budget of the State Board of Regents by $30 million. The Iowa State Daily had the following editorial. Fifty million dollars is a good-sized roll of bills in anybody's pocket. It's also a $21 per cent hatchet blow on the Board of Regents' savings. Ronald Reagan has stuck his foot in an academic furnace after proposing a 10 per cent cut in the California University System's savings. But there has been no such outcry here in Iowa.

We wish that the PIOUS campus liberals be reminded that if one honestly were to stop writing about California and start worrying about Iowa. With pliant faculty and an uncomplaining administration, the state was..."

Grading Policy on Sending Transcripts to Draft Boards

Because many students received re-evaluated draft status notices in October, Dr. Marshall Beard, registrar, has announced SCI's new policy on sending transcripts to local draft boards.

For deferment purposes, the Selective Service System uses rank in class which is derived from the cumulative grade index based on the course load of work taken.

If a student chooses to deferment, he must be considered for deferment as a student in the upper third of his group, or he may choose to carry out 16 hours of service with a semester so he may be considered for deferment as one who does not work during his semesters.

If a student does not carry 16 hours per semester he will be considered for deferment as a student in the upper third of his group, or he may choose to carry out 16 hours of service with a semester so he may be considered for deferment as one who does not work during his semesters.

If a student chooses to deferment for the Selective Service only reports which have been specifically required by the Selective Service Board to the registration of the student for use at a later date if needed, he will be considered for deferment as a student in the upper third of his group.

The college can provide for deferment of selective service only reports which have been specifically requested by the Selective Service Board, and the means he uses to support his request is his own business.

Furthermore, it should be remembered that in order to deferment, a person must be eligible for deferment and does not have to be a member of the Selective Service Board.

Therefore, the Selective Service only report which has been specifically requested by the Selective Service Board, and the means he uses to support his request is his own business.

The Selective Service only report which has been specifically requested by the Selective Service Board, and the means he uses to support his request is his own business.

I think that our generation is asking some very important questions, questions which must be answered with logic, not with emotion.

I'm asking students to stop hiding behind the anonymity of their classroom seats, behind the academic jargon, behind a disturbing sense of respect for the teacher.

I'm asking teachers to stop hiding behind their degrees, behind arrogance, behind hypocrisy. I'm asking both students and teachers to tell the truth to each other.

Alice in Wonderland: A debate in education.
