Alma Mater

All loyal sons and daughters
Come let your voices rise,
As we pledge allegiance
to NU High.
Foundations firm,
Convictions strong,
We proudly stand erect and sing
Our Alma Mater Song.

In all things, success depends upon previous preparation, and without such preparation there is sure to be failure.
The Homecoming activities began with the Junior sponsored Homecoming Breakfast held Wednesday morning, October 1, from 6:00 to 7:30. The Lettermen's Club organized a pep rally Thursday night. Jody Pulkrabek was named the Homecoming queen at the rally. The members of her court were Beth Strub, Susie Hancock, Margaret Green, and Kim Albrecht. Honorary queens were Carol Vine, Anne Moilanen, and Lilian Kongshavn. The football team and coaching staff presented a skit at the pep assembly Friday during the noon hour. The amount of spirit generated at the pep assembly got the team in motion. Friday night the panther machine turned in the winning score as they defeated Wellsburg 27 to 13. The Homecoming Dance held Saturday night capped the week's events.

A. The ultimate indicator of our Panthers' power over the Wellsburg Warriors. B. John Burbridge and Jeff Hutcheon rush to help a teammate. C. Mr. Wiederanders looks on as Mr. Keeter, Mr. Riechmann, and Linda Wehner gorge themselves on the delicious cuisine prepared by the class of '77. D. Boogieing to the sound of Sleeper at the Homecoming Victory Dance which was sponsored by our Student Council. E. John Healy, Larry Wessels, John Burbridge, and Walt Wilkinson can-canning to the school spirit. F. First row: Carol Vine, Anne Moilanen, Beth Strub, Susie Hancock, Jody Pulkrabek, Margaret Green, Kim Albrecht, Lilian Kongshavn. Second row: Jeff Webster, Jeff Reekers, Bob Helman, John Baranauskas, Stu Butzier, Steve Tarr, Bill Green, Peter Eble.
SADIE HAWKINS
This year's Sadie Hawkins was a real success with everyone getting involved. The King candidates were:
King Tom Henry escorted by Jodi Pulkrabek
Stu Butzier escorted by Holly Beach
Alex Gardener escorted by Kim Albrecht
Phil Delafield escorted by Margaret Green
Jim Hansen escorted by Sandy Mehmen

Some highlights of the week were Dress-up Day, the Greased Pig Contest, won by Phil Delafield, the Pie-eating Contest, also won by Phil, and the Sadie Hawkins Dance featuring Sidewinder.

Best Dressed Person Award went to Diane Gadbois, Best Dressed Guy was John Hayes, and Best Dressed Couple was Beth Strub and Bob Hellman.

A. The King, Tom Henry, and Jodi Pulkrabek. B. Want a tough stain out? SHOUT it out!!! C. M-m-m Lemon Meringue! D. The King Candidates ready to pork. E. The dance was a great success. F. Everyone doin' the Bunny Hop. G. Beth and Bob in their street clothes.
Holding On To Yesterday

I keep holding on to yesterday
I keep holding on enough to say that I’m lost.

I keep thinkin’ that I’m lonely
But, it’s only missin’ you inside

Days of when we were once together
Seem will never come alive.

I keep holding on to yesterday
I keep holding on enough to say that it’s wrong.

Lord, I don’t know when I’ll see you
I can’t meet you anymore

But if I’d only known I’d need you
Then I’d treat you like before.

I keep holding on to yesterday, yesterday
I keep holding on enough to say, that it’s wrong
Wrong, wrong, to keep holding on,
My yesterday have all gone now.
This year’s prom was sponsored by the loaded class of ’77. This hard-working class had been making plans for prom since they were freshmen. The result was a lavish production complete with evergreen trees, bird baths, and a laden refreshment table with its own fountain.

A. The irresistible sound of “Footloose” kept the dance floor crowded. B. Mr. Albrecht keeps a watchful eye on Ray Bunkofsky and his date. C. Terry Wilkinson and Rae Marie Finsand help Terry Hancock and Tami Bahr as they visit the refreshment table. D. Seated on the throne is the 1976 Junior-Senior Prom Queen, Margaret Green, escorted by Tom Henry. Her court is from left to right Kim Albrecht, escorted by Alex Gardner; Susie Hancock, escorted by Scott Spray; Beth Strub, escorted by Bob Hellman; Sandy Mehmen, escorted by Jim Hansen. E. David Hills and Debbie Alberts, Mr. & Mrs. Kelly, Jim Healy and Joan Aanensen dance away the night.
Nothing great was ever achieved without enthusiasm.
—Emerson
A. Audrey and Touchstone have a friendly chat. B. Three ladies-in-waiting spread a little juicy gossip about the hot love affairs of the court. C. Celia and Rosalind gleefully discuss their young men. D. Orlando shows Charles how much he loves him! E. The banished duke generously hams it up with other courtiers in the woods. F. Rosalind explains her plight to Silvius. G. Whew! Rosalind and Orlando finally get it together! H. Jacques gapes in amazement as he tries to fit the missing pieces together.

ABOUT THE PLAY

Miss Hellman’s story of the greedy Hubbard family—Regina, Ben, and Oscar—is a bitter indictment of those whose sole aim in life is personal gain, no matter what the expense to others. As Addie, a servant in the play put it: “Yeah, they got mighty well off cheating Negroes. Well, there are people who eat the earth and eat all the people on it like in the Bible with the locusts. Then, there are people who stand around and watch them eat it. Sometimes I think it ain’t right to stand and watch them do it.”

The origin of the title of the play is found in the second chapter of the Song of Solomon, verse 15: “Take us the foxes, the little foxes, that spoil the vines: for our vines have tender grapes.”

K.B.

A. Benjamin and Oscar scheme a way to make their fortune. B. Horace hobbes upstairs to escape Regina’s harsh words. C. “Flattery will get you everywhere,” William thinks to himself. D. Birdie bemoans her condition as Regina listens intently. E. “Why, how n-i-c-e it is to see ya’, you poor thing,” exclaims Birdie.

The student council sponsored many activities this year. Homecoming, Y.F.U. carnival and art fair, and the Christmas Dance were some of its largest projects. Other projects included: Christmas present wrapping, which earned enough money to pay for a band for the Christmas Dance, a skating party, school picnic, film-showing exchange with North Tama; the council also sponsored a boy in Mexico.

EXTRAMURALS

"The extramurals soccer team did a great job again this year with six wins and no losses. They stuck with the tradition making it the eighth consecutive year with no losses.

There is a lot of interest! Many students get to play, and their enthusiasm, fine skills and teamwork bring about fine results. Next year should be another banner year."

--Marshall Schools

After many years of coaching and devotion to our school, the soccer team, cheerleaders and the entire student body would like to say thank-you to Miss Schools for helping us bring spirit to our school. Miss Schools retired in the spring of 1976.
