The 1968-69 school year was unique to each of us as we recall experiences in the classroom and school activities, personal relationships with one another, and our own individual achievements.

At the same time, however, we can recognize the leadership and esprit de corps which were present in the unity which was instrumental to the accomplishments of school groups and to the success of our new Waterloo pupil project.

Looking back on such a year should enable each of us to perceive more clearly the ingredients which will allow us as individuals to contribute successfully to building a better world for all.

May I congratulate the graduating seniors. Their strong leadership was an inspiration to all of us throughout the school year. Best wishes.

Dr. Nielsen

In responding to a request from the Annual Staff that I comment upon the 1968-69 school year, I want to say first that it was an unusually fine year. We received outstanding leadership from an outstanding Senior Class; we achieved remarkable success in academic areas and in dramatics, athletics, and music; we initiated some new programs which were successful largely because of the dependability and maturity of the great majority of our student body.

I think all of us felt pride at being a part of this school last year and, most important, I think that feeling of pride was justified by the accomplishments of our students. I hope we can look back on future years with a similar feeling of satisfaction at our students' accomplishments—but for now the 1968-69 school year has to be viewed as the best we've done.

Looking back on four years it is impossible to remember all those things worth remembering. For us they’ve been filled with many wonderful experiences, and some disappointing ones.

It seems odd to be growing older, yet time affects us all. It is only natural that we look upon these past four years with both a twinge of sadness, and an undeniable eagerness to get on to what awaits us next.

We can only hope that each class which follows us can also feel a sense of accomplishment and satisfaction at the close of their high school years.

And Just Having Fun...

It's Been A Great Year!
All loyal sons and daughters
Come let your voices rise
As we pledge allegiance to N.U. High.

Foundations firm!
Convictions strong!
We proudly stand erect and sing
Our Alma Mater song.
