Straight from the coach's mouth . . .

"Already we can see that we'll be a much better defensive team this year than we were a year ago. Our squad knows we have to do a better job in that area, and their attitude has been just great. We'll rely heavily on quickness . . ."

"Our problems last year were emotional in nature. The talent was there, but the experience and maturity wasn't; as a result, we had a multitude of mental errors — not only the obvious ones like bad passes and traveling violations, but also the not-so-obvious ones like missing the open man and passing up the high-percentage shot . . ."

"The improved play of Randy Beilke is a good example of the kind of generally better basketball we can expect from the whole team. Randy, it's obvious, has much more confidence in his abilities this year, and has looked outstanding in pre-season drills. He, along with the other veterans, have also shown considerable improvement in their ball skills . . ."

But a "new start"

Season No. 5 for Hogeland

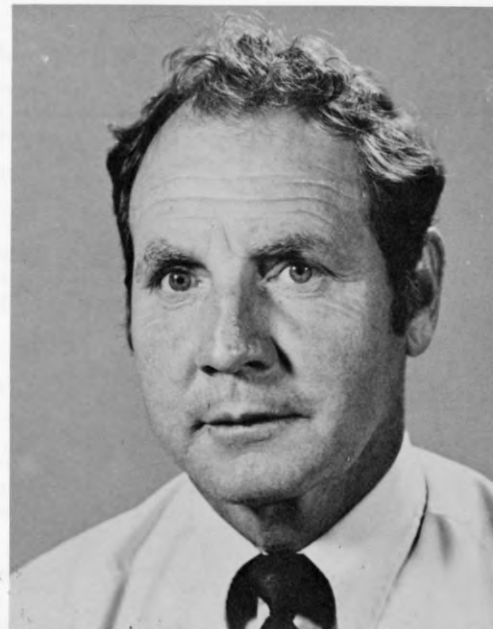

It's season No. 5 for University of Northern Iowa head basketball coach Zeke Hogeland; and yet, in many respects, it's a whole new start for the veteran of 21 cage seasons.

For Hogeland has at last watched his first big recruiting class mature to upper-classman status, a process which was painful, to say the least, for UNI's present junior class.

And it's up to that same crew, led by sharp-shooting guard Bill McCoy, to make good on Hogeland's bold prediction of a year ago: "We think we can get possibly two conference titles out of them."

A starter for "Hon" Nordly at UNI, Hogeland completed his undergraduate studies in three years, graduating in 1949. He later earned his master's degree in physical education at the University of Iowa in 1955.

After successful prep coaching jobs at Decorah and Washington, Zeke started the collegiate climb at Mason City Junior College, where he had a seven-year record of 105-24. He then moved to Bemidji State for five years, building a 57-34 record, and closing with a 19-5 mark in 1966-67.

Juniors face year of reckoning

1971-72 is most certainly a year of reckoning for the University of Northern Iowa basketball program. And head coach Zeke Hogeland is not in the least bit shying away from the challenge that it brings.

After two years of waiting, the big, talented group of recruits Hogeland attracted to UNI in the spring of 1969 have at last become upperclassmen — juniors to be specific. In fact, just as last year's starting line-up included four sophomores, this season's top quintet will be composed of four juniors, who, according to Hogeland, should be ready to play "two solid years of good basketball" at UNI.

McCoy To Start Third Season

The leader of the junior-dominated team is guard Bill McCoy of Iowa Falls, who will be starting his third consecutive season as a Panther. With half of his college career yet remaining, McCoy already ranks 14th on the all-time school scoring list with 805 points. A great junior season could put him close to Ken Huelman's record of 1,275 career points.

Without wishing bad luck upon the sharp-shooting guard, Hogeland admits he'd like to see some pressure taken off McCoy in the scoring column. However, his most ardent desire is to see the Panthers improve in their defensive play, an area that also saw a bit of record-breaking last season.

UNI set records for most points allowed in one season (2,248) and highest defensive average for one season (86.5).

Five Starters Return

Hogeland won't assign any new faces to the task, just (hopefully) some more mature ones. All five starters plus two more lettermen return from last year's squad. That group of seven includes five juniors and two seniors, co-captains Dave Harskamp and Nick Bertram.

The juniors, besides McCoy, include 6-8 center Brian Bestul, 6-8 forward Darrell Timion, 6-7 forward Randy Beilke and 6-2 guard Bill Smith. All but Smith were starters last year, but Hogeland hinted in pre-season drills that Smith might move ahead one of UNI's three "big men", for the purpose of adding speed, especially defensively. Harskamp is expected to be the fifth starter.

Behind McCoy's 21.2 scoring average last season were Bestul at 11.9, Timion at 11.0 and Beilke at 10.6. Harskamp was fifth with an average of 6.4 points per game.

Cage profiles

Returning lettermen

RANDY BEILKE Forward
6-7 195 Junior Marshalltown

Season	G	Fg-Fga	Ft-Fta	Reb.	Tp	Ave.
1969-70	25	88-228	57- 81	215	233	9.3
1970-71	24	94-207	66-101	189	254	10.6

Started the third game of his freshman year, and has been a starter ever since. Has the physical potential to be one of the finest rebounders in the league. Ranked fourth on the team in scoring, and was also fourth in NCC field goal shooting.

BRIAN BESTUL Center
6-8 210 Junior Northwood

Season	G	Fg-Fga	Ft-Fta	Reb.	Tp	Ave.
1969-70	19	3- 21	4- 5	19	10	0.5
1970-71	25	115-238	68- 91	154	298	11.9

Improved noticeably during last half of 1970-71 season. His increased confidence in his ability this year is obvious. One of the best-moving big men in the league, Bestul is a good bet to take some scoring pressure off McCoy.

BILL MCCOY Guard
6-3½ 170 Junior Iowa Falls

Season	G	Fg-Fga	Ft-Fta	Reb.	Tp	Ave.
1969-70	24	87-186	81-115	85	255	10.6
1970-71	26	169-356	212-274	165	550	21.2

When he wants two points, few opponents can stop him. Was the leading conference scorer last year with a 24.1 average, had a 21.2 overall average and led the team in scoring in 19 of 26 games last year, including the last 9.

DAVE HASKAMP Guard
6-2 180 Senior Sioux Center

Season	G	Fg-Fga	Ft-Fta	Reb.	Tp	Ave.
1969-70	24	52-131	30- 58	44	134	5.5
1970-71	25	57-154	46- 76	66	160	6.4

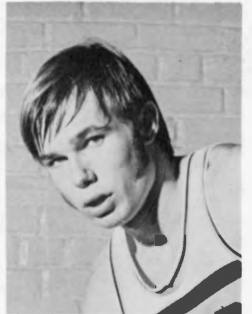

Three is the magic number for Harskamp in his final season with the Panthers. The senior from Sioux Center will be a starter for the third straight year, and he has also become a three-sport performer at UNI.

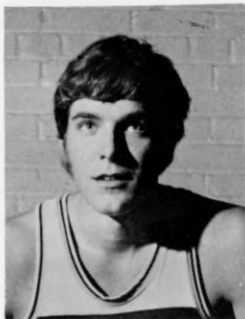

DARRELL TIMION Forward
6-8 175 Junior Waverly

Season	G	Fg-Fga	Ft-Fta	Reb.	Tp	Ave.
1969-70	11	3- 6	0- 0	9	6	0.5
1970-71	26	117-268	53- 93	223	287	11.0

Led the Panthers in rebounding in 70-71 with an average of 8.6 per game, and was the third leading scorer with an 11.0 average. Lack of consistency hurt Timion's effort last year, and Hogleland expects that problem to be minimal.

BILL SMITH Guard
6-3 170 Junior Eagle Grove

Season	G	Fg-Fga	Ft-Fta	Reb.	Tp	Ave.
1969-70	19	11- 28	23- 32	12	45	2.3
1970-71	26	51-126	60- 84	66	162	6.2

Could quite likely move into a starting role this year, taking the place of one of UNI's front line men. Has the speed, quickness Panthers need, both on offense and defense. Started only several games in 1970-71, but played in every one. Can really take the ball to the basket.

NICK BERTRAM Forward
6-6½ 200 Senior Storm Lake

Season	G	Fg-Fga	Ft-Fta	Reb.	Tp	Ave.
1969-70	19	3- 17	0- 1	25	6	0.3
1970-71	21	21- 45	18- 31	41	60	2.9

Expected to give the Panthers a top front line bench, especially with his rebounding abilities. Will co-captain the 1971-72 UNI basketball team along with fellow senior Harskamp. Could push junior frontliners.

Top reserves

TONY LOPEZ Forward
6-6 190 Senior New York City

Season	G	Fg-Fga	Ft-Fta	Reb.	Tp	Ave.
1970-71	12	4- 18	6- 8	22	14	1.2

Imaginative style of offense has good influence on Hogeland's Panthers. Was ineligible second semester last year, but improvement in all areas of his game could make him a valuable reserve.

JOE FERGUSON Guard
6-1 170 Freshman Ottumwa

One of three freshmen — Jim Davis of Oskaloosa and Rick Nielson of Algona are the others — who will wear varsity suits. Was a first-team all-state selection at guard, and one coach called him the best guard in the state since Gary Thompson of Roland played.

TIM HACKENMILLER Guard
5-10 170 Junior St. Ansgar

Season	G	Fg-Fga	Ft-Fta	Reb.	Tp	Ave.
1969-70	9	4- 8	7- 9	2	15	1.6
1970-71	14	5- 16	3- 4	4	13	0.9

Adds slightly different dimension to the Panthers' game. A real scrapper on defense, Hackenmiller also is a good scorer from the outside.

DOUG WITHAM Forward
6-4 180 Sophomore Cedar Falls

Witham was the leading scorer on UNI's junior varsity team last year with a 17.3 game average. Is very strong on the jump shot from the 15-foot range, and does a surprisingly good job on the boards for his size. A good outside scoring threat at forward.

ASSISTANT COACHES

Skip Anderson

In his second year of graduate assistantship, Anderson is expected to play a larger role in aiding Hogeland this year. Anderson, himself an outstanding performer for the Panthers, has been freed from junior varsity duties, and will consequently handle some of the scouting duties.

A three-year starter for UNI, Anderson ranks as the No. 15 scorer in all-time school history. He is one notch below junior guard Bill McCoy, who begins the season as No. 14.

Duane Jensen

Jensen, one of only two seniors off last year's club, will be the head coach for UNI's junior varsity program this year. Last year Jensen teamed with the Panthers' other senior — Pete Wessels — to co-captain the team.

Jim Schultz

Schultz, who will act as Jensen's assistant junior varsity coach, never played varsity ball at UNI.
