DEDICATION

We dedicate this annual to 'The Little Panther' who symbolizes the spirit of TCHS. He is the most important representative of our school and every one of us is responsible for his accomplishments and the impressions he makes. As each year sees the addition of new faculty members and students to our school, The Little Panther continues to grow in size. This, however, does not determine his strength. It is the energy and interest put into homerooms, clubs, music organizations and the athletic program that can make him strong and something to be proud of.

His character is also in our hands. We should strive to make The Little Panther ambitious, thoughtful and mentally alert. This can be achieved through realizing the importance of education, the consideration of other personalities and good sportsmanship in the classroom as well as in athletic contests. We sincerely feel that this year has been one of the most successful in the development of the size, strength and character of the school 'spirit'.

With each year spent in TCHS, you become more and more attached to The Little Panther. He is responsible for many friendships and wonderful times, and when graduation draws near, you realize that he has become a permanent part of your life. That is why we have chosen him as our theme for the 1951-52 annual. In future years, he will always be within these covers, ready to guide you through our school.
Dr. Curtis, Dr. Silvey and I welcome you to our school. Won't you come in?

First we would like you to meet the faculty—the men and women who are our teachers, guides and friends throughout our high school years. Here they are.

1946-47 Fresh out of grade school, the class of '52 entered seventh grade and began a high school career marked by a series of successful events which I shall relate to you on the following pages. 1947-48 As eighth graders, the class undertook the responsibilities of adopting a grade school in Karlsnue, Germany. Many hours were spent collecting and sending boxes of food and clothing. The most successful party that year was a novel 'Leap Year Leap', featuring hillbilly styles and dance programs.

1949-50 An unusual scavenger hunt is one event of the sophomore year that will long be remembered. In the spring, much effort went into the production of Senior Night. The sophomores were as enthusiastic making the punch as the seniors were about the employment office prophesying their futures.

1951-52 Many of the seniors spent much of their last high school year putting out this annual—a permanent record of days and nights they will never forget. Other accomplishments of the year were a successful work day and the sponsoring of TC's first variety show. These events were climaxed by a five-day trip to Chicago in May.
