Alumni "QUIZ KIDS" Have Fun AT DES MOINES REUNION

TWO RECENT WARTIME reunions of Iowa State Teachers College alumni and friends indicated that loyalty and spirit are not rationed, though travel is.

The annual dinner and reunion in Des Moines held at the time of the Iowa State Teachers Association convention, November 3, packed Younker's Dining Room to capacity with many eager alumni and friends sitting on the window ledges.

Herbert V. Hake and his Alumni "Quiz Kids" entertained at the banquet. Special recording equipment, operated by Dean M. J. Nelson, made it possible for the performance to be broadcast over Station KXEL, November 20.

All "Quiz Kids" had the answers on the tips of their tongues. The audience heard (many of them for the first time) that over 200 more women graduates than men have earned advanced degrees since leaving Teachers College, that 3,741 graduates are now teaching in Iowa, and that 11 school systems in the state employ 50 or more of T. C. graduates in each while there are three systems that employ 100 or more of our graduates.

"Quiz Kids" included: M. D. Anderson, '27, Rolfe; Odessa Farley, '10, Des Moines; A. C. Fuller, '99; E. W. Goetch, '09; I. H. Hart; President and Mrs. Malcolm Price, all of Cedar Falls; Eugene Lynch, '21, Red Oak; Delinda Roggensack, '21, Newton.

Mr. Anderson, superintendent of schools at Rolfe and vice president of the General Alumni Association, presided at the reunion. President Price extended greetings for the college. C. A. Fullerton, '90, and Olive Barker, '31, led the singing of the "Loyalty Song."

Two weeks later in Chicago another gathering and dinner was held with 82 alumni from the Chicago area attending. Many were turned away because of insufficient seating capacity.

"The remarkable interest and enthusiasm of this group made it one of the most outstanding alumni gatherings I have attended," said Mr. Fuller, director of the Alumni Bureau.
