William Thomas Pettit
Doctor of Humane Letters

William Thomas Pettit, B.A. '53, award-winning reporter and former vice president of NBC news, has made significant contributions to this University and his profession. As an undergraduate majoring in English with a minor in speech, Pettit worked on the student newspaper, The College Eye, serving as staff writer, editorial assistant and executive editor. His incisive, analytical reporting style was evident already then as he examined campus issues and programs. He graduated in 1953 with highest honors. Since then, Pettit has returned to his alma mater several times. In 1982, he was brought to campus as a speaker through the University Speaker's Program and donated his honorarium to the UNI Foundation to be used for scholarships for broadcast news majors. In 1987, Pettit returned to teach two courses, "National Election Coverage Methods," and "General Public Affairs Reporting Methods," during the summer school session.

Pettit's outstanding career in broadcasting is evidenced by his numerous awards and continuous rise to the top positions in network news. He has won virtually every major award for news reporting including three Emmys and a Peabody. He is currently serving as NBC Chief National Affairs Correspondent following a three-year stint as News Executive Vice President.

His career began at WOI TV in Ames, Iowa, where he worked for two years before moving to KRGT TV in Cedar Rapids, Iowa for a year and then to WCCO TV Documentary Films in Minneapolis, Minnesota. During his three-year stay at WCCO, Pettit pursued a master's degree in American Studies at the University of Minnesota receiving a degree in 1958. In 1959 he became an announcer for NBC Radio and completed a series of one-year stints at various locations across the country until he joined NBC TV in 1963 as a news reporter in Burbank, California. That same year, Pettit gained nationwide attention for his on-the-scene reporting of the shooting of President Kennedy's assassin, Lee Harvey Oswald. Pettit was stationed, on camera, in the basement of the Dallas, Texas jail when Oswald was shot. In 1967 he moved to the NBC affiliate in Los Angeles, California where he continued for nine years when he was assigned to cover Washington, DC and the White House, one of the top beats in journalism. The assignment included regular appearances on the "Today" show. In 1968 he left NBC for a one-year stay as chief West Coast correspondent with the Public Broadcast Laboratory of National Educational Television. He returned to NBC-Los Angeles at the end of that year. In 1982 he became NBC Executive Vice President for three years, returning to active reporting as Chief National Affairs Correspondent in 1985.

Highlights of Pettit's career include coverage of three presidential political campaigns from caucuses to conventions. He received an Emmy, a Peabody and other major awards in 1969 for, "CBW: The Secrets of Secrecy," an investigative report on the secrets behind the nation's chemical-biological warfare experiments that aired on NBC's "First Tuesday" news program. He received a second Emmy Award in 1970 for "Some Footnotes to 25 Nuclear Years" seen on "First Tuesday" and a third Emmy Award in 1973 for "America's Nerve Gas Arsenal," on "First Tuesday."

Upon the recommendation of the University Honorary Degrees Committee, the University Faculty Senate, President Curris and with the unanimous consent of the Board of Regents, it is a privilege to present William Thomas Pettit for the degree of Doctor of Humane Letters, honoris causa.

The Academic Procession

The President's Party forms the first section of the academic procession. Headed by the commencement marshal, it includes the president, members of the State Board of Regents and of the General Assembly, other platform-guests, and the vice-presidents, deans and other principal University officials.

The commencement marshal carries the University Mace, designed and fashioned for the Centennial Commencement in 1976 by Randall Swanson, at that time a freshman majoring in Industrial Arts. A traditional symbol of authority, the mace is a carved wood rod capped with ends of cast bronze, with the top carrying the seal of the University. The sterling silver chain worn by the president was also created for the Centennial Commencement. It was designed and constructed by Martin Peterson, then a junior majoring in art, and it memorializes the historical evolution of the University by carrying the seals of the Iowa State Normal School, the Iowa State Teachers College, the State College of Iowa, and the University of Northern Iowa.

The procession continues with the faculty. The heads of the departments come first, led by the chairperson of the faculty, and the chairperson of the Faculty Senate is the marshal for the remaining faculty.

When the members of the President's Party have arrived at their proper stations, they rise to honor the entrance of the candidates for degrees. Led by faculty marshals, the candidates enter with candidates for the highest degrees first. The candidates for the degree of Bachelor of Arts, both the Teaching Program and the Liberal Arts Program, enter in five groups, representing each of the four undergraduate colleges and the School of Business.

The banners which are carried with the candidates' procession were first used in 1977. They were designed by Bekka Lindstrom, at that time a sophomore majoring in Art. Ms. Lindstrom's explanation of the banner designs accompanies the symbols reproduced at the back of this program. The banners were fashioned by Phillip Elliott, who also designed the stage setting which you see before you. This was first used for the Centennial Commencement in 1976.

Students wearing gold cords are those graduating with highest honors, a distinction which requires a grade average of 3.75 (4.00 would be all As).

The academic costumes worn trace their origin to the Middle Ages when long-sleeved hooded gowns were necessary for warmth in the unheated stone colleges. Over the centuries, much diversity occurred, and to bring some order, in the United States in 1894 an intercollegiate system of academic costume was agreed on, now adhered to by more than 760 institutions. According to this code, both the styling and colors of the regalia have significance.

The design of the gown indicates the degree: the bachelor's is a simple gown with a full sleeve. The master's gown is much like it except for the long sleeve which hangs loose. The doctor's gown is fuller and more elaborate. It has velvet edging and three velvet stripes on the full sleeve. The color of this velvet may be black or in the color appropriate to the degree.

Hoods, which are worn over the gowns, are similar to all degrees, although differing slightly in length. The candidates for the bachelor's degrees usually do not wear the hood. The hood has a velvet edging which indicates the area of the degree, and the inside or lining of the hood is satin in the colors of the college or university granting the degree.

A partial list of the degree colors to be found on the edge of the hood or the trimming on the doctor's gown is as follows:

- Apricot — Nursing
- Blue, dark — Philosophy
- Blue, light — Education
- Brown — Fine Arts
- Citron — Social Science
- Copper — Economics
- Drab — Business
- Green — Medicine
- Green Sage — Physical Education
- Lemon — Library Science
- Maize — Agriculture
- Maroon — Home Economics
- Orange — Engineering
- Pink — Music
- Purple — Law
- Scarlet — Theology
- White — Arts and Letters
- Yellow, Golden — Science
