Notes For The Stalled

Open Access Week

October 23-29 is Open Access Week! Open Access seeks to return scholarly publishing to its original purpose: to spread knowledge and allow that knowledge to be built upon in a free and open environment. Rod Library supports open access by promoting and maintaining UNI ScholarWorks. The purpose of UNI ScholarWorks is to showcase, in a highly visible and comprehensive manner, the knowledge, creativity, and innovative spirit of the University in a free and open environment. In conjunction with Open Access Week, the Center for Excellence in Teaching and Learning is hosting an "Open Textbook Adoptions at UNI" panel discussion on Oct 25 from 12-1pm in room 301, Rod Library. Did you know last year alone UNI students saved $129, 715 due to open textbook adoptions? For more information about ScholarWorks see: <http://scholarworks.uni.edu/>. For more information about open access see: <http://www.openaccessweek.org/>

International Games Week

The American Library Association has declared Oct 29-Nov 4 "International Games Week." Stay tuned to our social media to see how Rod Library plans to celebrate and how you can participate this year!

Welcome Theresa!

Rod Library is happy to announce the newest addition to our faculty, Theresa Westbrook as the new Associate University Librarian for the Learning and Research Division. Theresa comes to us from New Mexico State University. "It's an exciting time to be an Information Professional," Theresa said, "and I can't wait to continue my career in Rod Library." As a new resident of the Cedar Valley, Theresa has been very impressed with our outdoor recreation options, and is looking forward to her first Iowa winter. Thanks Theresa for choosing to join our team!

Librarians on the Loose

Keep your eyes peeled for the Liaison Librarians on the Loose! Mondays you can find one in McCollum Science Hall, Wednesdays Sabin Hall, Thursdays in WRC and Fridays CACS. Stop by to ask your questions or get research help. Find your Liaison Librarians at <http://tiny.cc/j24uny> You can contact them directly or schedule a research consultation on our website. You can always stop at the Library Services Desk or chat with us online too!
