Connections to Other Disciplines (Opt.):
- Geography
- History
- Political Science

Time Frame (Req.): 4-5 class periods

Goal (Req.): Students will practice research and debate skills while learning about an issue affecting Québec and all of Canada.

Objective (Req.): Students will research facts about the issue of the Québec Separatist Movement. They will learn about the points of view of important political figures as well as the average citizens. They will evaluate the facts and others’ opinions to form their own opinion.

Materials Needed (Req.):
- textbook
- articles
- computer (internet)

New Vocabulary (Opt.):
- Quiet Revolution
- separatism
- confederation
- Clarity Act

Anticipatory Set/Introduction [Inquiry Question is required] (Req.): If Québec seceded from Canada, what would French speakers gain? How might their lives be improved? What impact might this have on the rest of Canada? If you were Québécois(e), would you vote to separate from Canada?

Instructional Sequence/Procedure (Req.):
3. Have students go to this website and watch the video and read the article about various separatist parties attempting to settle differences: http://montreal.ctvnews.ca/separatist-parties-attempt-to-bury-differences-1.1297532
4. Have students read this article on why Canada does not need the separatist debate: http://www.ottawacitizen.com/life/Welcome+Quebec+debate+Canada+doesn+need/7189767/story.html
5. Have students individually create a T-chart and use the internet to research the pros and cons of Québec separation to fill in the chart.
6. In groups of 3-4, have students share their information from their T-chart. Note the opinions of the students.
7. Divide the class randomly into 2 groups: 1 for and 1 against separatism.
10. All class debate- students share the viewpoint that they researched and debate their viewpoint with a classmate with the opposite viewpoint.
11. After the debate, have an all-class discussion where students can share how they actually feel about the issue.
12. Individual written essay: introduction, body, conclusion- include answers to the questions asked in the introduction.
