This display shows how UNI embodies the spirit and history of the past, while showcasing events for alumni, staff, and current students to enjoy this year. Materials displayed include peer-reviewed articles, homecoming activity schedules, the school fight song, artifacts from the Rod Library's Special Collections unit such as: medals, pins, buttons, and pictures. Wiki Loves Pride

LGBTQ Exhibit & Edit-A-Thon

Stop by the Learning Commons to see the exhibit that traces UNI's relationship with the LGBTQ community from 1960 to the present. The timeline shows the continuous strides and activism towards equality, rights and the pushback that the LGBTQ+ community continues to face. UNI Gender and Sexuality Services will also be hosting events and activities. In conjunction with the exhibit, join us in costume for "Wiki Loves Pride Halloween Edition." We will be improving the representation of LGBT+ folks and topics on Wikipedia while enjoying candy, a selfie wall, queer wiki buttons, and games. All are welcome. No prior Wikipedia experience

Open Access Week

October 21-27 is Open Access Week! Did you know last year alone UNI students saved $129,715 due to open textbook adoptions? Open Access seeks to return scholarly publishing to its original purpose: to spread knowledge and allow that knowledge to be built upon in a free and open environment. Rod Library supports open access by promoting and maintaining UNI ScholarWorks. The purpose of UNI ScholarWorks is to showcase, in a highly visible and comprehensive manner, the knowledge, creativity, and innovative spirit of the University in a free and open environment.
