Notes For The Stalled

Art Wall

Calling all artists, we need you! Do you create 2-D items with print, paint, pen, pencil, collage, or crayon? If so, Rod Library would love to showcase your comic/gaming/pop culture art on the Learning Commons Exhibition wall during March in celebration of RodCon. Please submit art by Thursday, March 5, to the Fine & Performing Arts Collection desk in the library on the 4th Floor. Maximum size is 24"x36" or contact: julieann.beddow@uni.edu.

African American Read-In

On Thursday, February 27, UNI has invited over 800, first-grade students from across the Cedar Valley to visit Rod Library as part of UNI's 12th annual African American Read-In. First-graders will have the opportunity to learn from award-winning author, literacy advocate, publisher, and motivational speaker Ty Allan Jackson. Library staff, faculty, and student workers will be coordinating sessions highlighting African American children's literature. The Read-In is part of a national event sponsored by the Black Caucus of the National Council of Teachers of English (NCTE) and endorsed by the International Literacy Association. UNI's African American Read-In is in conjunction with the annual African American Children and Families Conference.

Special Collections Website

We are pleased to announce the launch of the new Special Collections, and University Archives webpage found at <https://scua.library.uni.edu/>. Rod Library Special Collections and University Archives division collects, preserves, and provides access to rare, valuable, and delicate collections of books, manuscripts, and institutional records. The new website offers image galleries, virtual tours, and an easy to use the full-text content search function. Email any questions to: libarchives@uni.edu

Digital Scholarship

The Digital Scholarship unit has moved to the 1st Floor in room 125 of the library. The Digital Scholarship unit is responsible for, among other things, the university repository UNI Scholarworks. UNI Scholarworks is a digital site that allows students and faculty to make their work available and discoverable worldwide for free. It's exciting that since its launch in February of 2015, over 1 million downloads have occurred from all around the world. UNI Scholarworks is an excellent place for students to archive their work, create a permanent link for resumes and job interviews, and get their research seen by others.
