ALUMNI OFFICE SENDS NOTICES TO SPECIAL REUNION CLASSES

More than a thousand special invitations to the annual spring reunion, June 1, have been mailed out by the Office of Alumni Affairs.

These notices have gone to members of the Class of 1927, Class of 1902, Classes 1892 and 1882. Members of classes of 50, 60 or 70 years ago will receive medals when they appear for the spring reunion.

Members of all classes are invited to return for the reunion and will find many former classmates and faculty present.

Program for the day will begin with registration in the Commons starting at 9:30. Baccalaureate services will be held at the field house at 10:30.

The reunion luncheon is scheduled for 12:30 and pictures of the reunion classes will be taken. Slides of old pictures will be available and other material of interest to alumni will be on display in the Commons.

The usual business of electing officers and accepting a report of the Seerley Foundation will be transacted during the day.

Present officers in the General Alumni association are Melvin Anderson, Toledo superintendent, and Leo Esbeck, superintendent at Ventura (both '27), president and vice president respectively.

On the reunion committee for this year is Zelwyn Graham, B.A. '27. The other committee member, Clarence Rasmussen of Cedar Falls, died during the year.

Last year's reunion luncheon was attended by 230. There were 23 medals awarded to members of the 50-year graduating class, and two medals to members of the 60-year graduating class.

IN THIS ISSUE

The Alumni Office tries to keep up on the addresses of all alumni and former students who join the armed services so we may send the magazine.

In this issue (beginning on page 10) is the present listing of names and addresses of TC people in service. We know the list is not complete and ask your help in adding names and addresses to the alumni office files.

Some addresses given are home addresses since the person listed had no available service address.

FOUNDERS DAY COMMEMORATES 75 YEARS

Gov. William S. Beardsley and Thomas Vernor Smith, former U. S. congressman from Illinois and now a professor of citizenship and political philosophy at Syracuse university, were guest speakers during Founders Day ceremonies at Iowa State Teachers college May 1.

Teachers College President J. W. Maucker introduced both speakers at the convocation in the Men's Gymnasium.

Founders Day highlighted a two-day program marking the fourth of five all-college events during the current academic year in observance of the 75th Anniversary of Teachers college. The college was 75 years old last September 6.

Feature of the first day's program was an all-college Honors Convocation address by Dr. Clark G. Kuebler, president of Ripon college, Ripon, Wis. He spoke April 30, at 9:15 a.m. in the Men's Gymnasium.

Both convocations were open to the public.

Special Founders Day guests were Gov. Beardsley; state executive and administrative officials; members of the state legislature; members of the state board of education; representatives of public education, and the presidents of Iowa colleges and universities.

The Founders Day program began at 12:30 p.m. when the Cedar Falls and Waterloo chambers of commerce served as hosts at a luncheon at the Cedar Falls Women's club.

An automobile tour of nearby points of interest was scheduled for 2-3 p.m.

Guests had an opportunity to visit and inspect all college buildings, facilities, and teaching program from 3-5 p.m. The Teachers college baseball team played an intra-squad game for the guests.

A tea honoring the wives of all visiting officials was held at 3:30 p.m. at the Commons.

A social hour and dinner were held at 5 p.m. and 6 p.m., respectively, at the Commons.

Music at the evening convocation was presented by the Teachers college concert band under the direction of Karl M. Holvik.

TEA HONORS I. H. HART

An author's tea to honor I. H. Hart was held April 16 in the Commons. This event marked the beginning of sale of the book, "The First 75 Years," a history of the ideas behind the development of Teachers College.

More than 250 townspeople and members of the faculty attended the tea. Special guests besides Mr. and Mrs. I. H. Hart were Mr. and Mrs. Evan Hart of Milwaukee.

Evan Hart, son of the author, made the illustrations for the book. He is a commercial artist in Milwaukee.

On display were a number of copies of the book and the original drawings. Accorded special honor was Fred Cram (B.A. '09) who served as editor and indexed the book.

ACKNOWLEDGMENT

To the Editor
THE ALUMNUS

The Archivist acknowledges with thanks the receipt of three volumes of verse written by Ida Catherine Rohlf, B.A. '15, and for many years a member of the English staff of this college.

The volumes are: Out of the Night (1946), For Each Day Its Pattern (1947), and Twilight Is Here (1951).

We are endeavoring to make our collection of publications by past and present members of the faculty and of alumni as complete as possible, and shall therefore appreciate receiving any volumes of this type for our collection.

Maude Gilchrist Succumbs

Maude Gilchrist (B.Di. '78, B.S. '80) died February 28 at Fort Dodge. One of the most outstanding alumni of the Normal School, Miss Gilchrist was a member of the first graduating class in 1878. At that time her father, James Cleland Gilchrist, was serving as the first principal (president) of the school.

"In addition to being the daughter of a pioneer in teacher education, Miss Gilchrist was a distinguished educator in her own right," are the words of I. H. Hart, college archivist and historian.

Miss Gilchrist taught science at the Iowa State Normal school from 1883 to 1886 and for ten years thereafter taught botany at Wellesley (Mass.) college. She served from 1897-1901 as principal of the Illinois Women's college (now MacMurray college) at Jacksonville, Ill.

At Michigan State college, East Lansing, Miss Gilchrist spent 12 years (1901-13) as dean of women and supervisor of the home economics division. She returned to Wellesley in 1913 as associate professor of botany. She also served as house director at Iowa State college, Ames, from 1926-28.

After receiving her B.Di. (1878) and B.S. (1880) from the Iowa State Normal School, Miss Gilchrist received a master's degree from the University of Michigan in 1907. She was a special student in science at Wellesley and carried out a year's study in Goettingen, Germany, during 1896-97. She was a fellow in the American Association for the Advancement of Science and was co-founder of Omicron Nu, home economics honor society.

Miss Gilchrist, who was 90 at the time of her death, is survived by a brother, C. W. Gilchrist of Pocahontas, and a sister Mrs. J. H. Allen of Detroit Lakes, Minn. Another brother, Fred C. of Laurens, died last year.

Cedar Falls Celebrates Historic First Century

BY FRAN COLE

With little money and lots of courage, the first white settlers terminated their long trek and built for themselves a cabin here on the welcome banks of the Cedar River. William Sturgis and his family were those settlers.

Sturgis built this cabin for his family on the west bank of the Cedar River, where the prairie and woodlands met, in the Spring of 1845. This particular forty-acre site was chosen because of the power afforded by the river. Some two years later, he sold this land to the Overman brothers who in turn finished a dam and mill race and built a saw and grist mill; later a flour mill. In the next thirty years this became one of the largest power and milling sites in the state of Iowa.

The thick timber; gently sloping hills; protecting bluffs and the winding river made an ideal townsite and it was laid out as such in April of 1853. To this was added the first school in Black Hawk county. In this school was hung the first school bell in the state.

In the year 1854 the city of Cedar Falls was incorporated and because of its size was made the county seat. A county seat fight was inevitable! A mob from Waterloo tried to steal the records and they were in turn defended by an equally aroused mob of Cedar Falls citizens. There ensued somewhat of a melee during which several dozens of rotten eggs were exchanged. Two years later, an orderly election moved the county seat to Waterloo.

As late as 1859, the Main Street of Cedar Falls was full of tree stumps. On March 31, 1861, the long-hoped-for railroad, now called the Illinois Central, reached Cedar Falls. Due to the outbreak of the Civil War, the line was not extended for four years.

Farmers brought grain and stock here from more than 100 miles distance. Streets were crowded; elevators, stores and banks were open late in the evenings. In 1861, Cedar Falls sent its first troops to the war and later, a company composed of nearly all business men. A member of that company, George D. Perkins, later became a distinguished journalist at Sioux City and for eight years was a member of Congress.

Fran Cole, pictured here with his whiskers, is secretary of the Cedar Falls chamber of commerce. Mr. Cole attended TC during 1940-44. One of the activities for the celebration of the Cedar Falls centennial this July 2, 3 and 4 is a whisker contest for local residents—hence the heavy growth of beard.

Mr. Cole, in writing this short summary of Cedar Falls history, has expressed the hope that alumni will write him (Secretary, Cedar Falls Chamber of Commerce) with recollections or pictures of early days in Cedar Falls for publication in the local paper.

Following the war, the railroad was extended west and north. To complete this expansion, it was necessary to shut the water out of the millrace in order to install bridge piers. At that time the mills were running night and day. The owners charged the railroads $300 per day as damages for the shutting down. This so enraged the railway officials, that they moved the division point to Waterloo and built shops there. The result was a 92-mile division west of Dubuque.

Many names dominate the history of the community. Among those are the Pfeiffer Brothers who started a drug and cosmetic business. J. F. Sartori, a banker of renown, gave to the city its only hospital as a memorial to his parents who were honored citizens here for many years. Other names include Fran Walters, Clarence Morely, the Underwood brothers and the well known author, Bess Streeter Aldrich.

Today, Cedar Falls is a city of 14,000, noted for its excellent college and beautiful lawns. Its future is limited only to the development desired by its residents.

CHICAGO ALUMNI AT 20th ANNUAL MEETING

The annual dinner meeting of the I.S.T.C. Chicago Area Alumni was held at the Pica-dilly Restaurant, 410 S. Michigan Avenue, on Saturday evening, March 29.

Following the invocation by the Reverend Emerald Olson (B.A. '32) of Whiting, Indiana, President Clarence W. Hach (B.A. '37) of Evanston welcomed sixty-two alumni and guests.

The special occasion of this dinner was the 75th anniversary year of the founding of Iowa State Teachers' College. It is also the 20th anniversary of the organization of the Chicago I.S.T.C. Alumni group.

Points of interest concerning the people attending include the following:

Chicago, Hammond, and Gary headed the list in number with 17, 8 and 4 respectively.

Our guests of honor were the speaker Miss Alison Aitchison (M.Di. '03) of I.S.T.C.; George Holmes, Alumni Director of I.S.T.C., and Dr. Alice Foster (B.Di. '93, M.Di. '03), one of the founders of the Chicago Alumni Unit, was present. (Dr. Uttley (B.Di. '12, B.A. '15), another founder, could not attend.)

Past presidents attending were Miss Celia Natzke (B.A. '20), Miss Gertrude Steiner (J.C. '18), and Louis Orr (B.S. '28).

Gifts of "The First 75 Years," written by

Irving H. Hart, were presented to two of our members:

Earliest graduate—1893—Dr. Alice Foster
Longest teaching service—Miss Natzke

The minutes of the 1951 meeting were read by Miss Alice Jones (B.A. '26) and approved as read.

The report of the nominating committee was presented by Miss Steiner and unanimously accepted:

Miss Gladys Smith (B.A. '42), president
Mr. Wilbert Lund ('25-'27), vice president
Miss Jones, secretary-treasurer

The president then asked Louis Orr to lead in group singing with Miss Margo Meier of Evanston High School acting as accompanist.

Mr. Hach introduced the speaker Miss Alison Aitchison of Iowa State Teachers' College. She brought messages from President Maucker and from Miss Sadie Campbell who recently retired from the position of Dean of Women. Miss Aitchison, with understanding and with humor, portrayed the progress of the college from September 1876 (a faculty of four and a student body of twenty-seven) to its present vital program and inspiring plans for the future.

George Holmes then spoke of the service

OFFER THREE-PART SUMMER LECTURE SERIES

Versifier-humorist Ogden Nash will highlight a three-program lecture-concert series at the college during the summer session. The other programs in the summer series will be the Knowles Duo and the Coffey-Miller marionettes.

OGDEN NASH

These programs will make up the first complete lecture-concert series ever scheduled for summer session entertainment, according to Herbert V. Hake, chairman of the lecture-concert series committee.

Tuesday, June 24, will mark the performance of the Knowles Duo, a husband-wife team of tenor and mezzo-soprano featuring scenes from popular operas, operettas and musical comedies.

Thursday, July 10, Poet Nash will present a lecture based on some of his ten books of light verse.

Monday, August 11, the Coffey-Miller marionettes will present a special children's matinee featuring "Ali Baba and the Forty Thieves." Their evening performance will be Moliere's "The Imaginary Invalid."

The Rivals Produced In 1902

The entire cast of the 1902 production gather on stage for a photograph. This play was the first ever produced in the present auditorium building—the previous year's class play was presented in a tent on campus.

(Taken from the Normal Eye, 1902)

Class Day Exercises

The auditorium was well filled and many were obliged to stand around the sides of the room and in the corridors Monday morning to witness the class day exercises which were ushered in by a band concert at 9 o'clock.

At 9:30 a.m. the class play was presented. For this occasion "The Rivals," by Richard Brinsley Sheridan, had been selected.

"The Rivals," a society comedy, written in 1775 is one of the good dramas produced during that century.

Briefly stated, the plot consists of the attempts of Sir Anthony Absolute to force his son to marry Miss Lydia Languish; of Captain Absolute's devices to conceal from his father the fact that he is already engaged to the lady, who knows him only as Ensign Beverly; and of the untangling of this and other minor complications so that all ends happily.

The cast producing the play was made up as follows:

Sir Anthony

Absolute.....F. O. Smith (B.Di. '02,
M.Di. '03)

Capt. Absolute.....E. C. Smith (B.Di. '01,
M.Di. '02)

Sir Lucius

O'Trigger.....N. C. Bardsley (B.Di. '02)

Bob Acres.....J. C. Parish (M.Di. '02)

Faulkland.....R. D. Barr (B.Di. '01,
M.Di. '02)

Fag, Capt. A's

Servant.....J. M. Dunkerton (B.Di.
'02, M.Di. '03)

ON THE COVER

Howard Roberts (B.A. '33) poses before the painted backdrop of the 1932 production of Sheridan's "The Rivals." As Sir Lucius O'Trigger, the student Roberts also had a good chance to use his fine singing voice in that production. He is now on the staff of Radio Station WMT, Cedar Rapids.

AT LEFT

A similar pose is struck in 1952 by Elwyn Webster playing the part of swaggering, blustery Bob Acres in "The Rivals."

The Rivals—1932

Billed on the stylized program as presented "By a company of Comedians" the second campus appearance of "The Rivals" was on June 9 and 10, 1932. Directed by Miss Hazel Strayer, the play enjoyed great popularity.

Period music was used throughout the play. The following were listed as the cast:

- Sir Anthony.....Burdette Moeller (B.A. '34)
- Capt. Absolute.....Marshall Kathan (B.A. '32)
- Acres.....Burton Byers (B.A. '34)
- O'Trigger.....Howard Roberts (B.A. '33)
- Faulkland.....Ray Berrier (B.S. '32)
- Fag.....Ellis Barber (B.A. '32)
- David.....A. D. Mueller ('30-'33)
- Servant.....Maurice Boatman (B.A. '35)
- Thomas.....Charles Fry ('32)
- Mrs. Malaprop.....Cletus Bower (Mrs. Carol Johnston, B.A. '32)
- Lydia Languish.....Gwendolyn Bloker (Mrs. Wm. Brandenburg, B.A. '33)
- Julia.....Gayle Ristrim (Mrs. Robert Bowman, B.A. '33)
- Lucy.....F. Josephine Hirons (Mrs. Chas. Pullen, B.A. '33)

THE RIVALS—1952

Again directed by Miss Hazel Strayer, "The Rivals" enjoyed a five-performance run this year—four evening performances were held April 23-26 with a matinee on the 26th for the high schools attending the annual Drama Conference.

Extensive research produced late 17th and early 18th century music which, together with a minuet and country dance, gave the play additional interest and atmosphere.

This year's cast was as follows:

- Sir Anthony.....James Rasmussen
(Waterloo)
- Capt. Absolute.....Arlan Rahlf (Waverly)
- Acres.....Elwyn Webster (Waverly)
- O'Trigger.....Merle Picht (Lohrville)
- Faulkland.....Robert Geuder
(Guttenberg)
- David.....Norman Potts
(Rockwell City)
- Fag.....Jack Allen (Algona)
- Thomas.....Rob Wegner
(Wagner, S. Dak.)

(See 1952 RIVALS page 13)

1932—Mrs. Malaprop finds Sir Anthony Absolute so very, very amusing.

1952—Sir Anthony and Mrs. Malaprop, still crossing swords of witty conversation.

1952—Lydia Languish tries to bear up under the sharp (if twisted) tongue of Mrs. Malaprop.

Campus School Mourns Death of Miss Caldwell

Mary Pickett Caldwell (B.A. '19), assistant professor of teaching at Iowa State Teachers college, died March 21 in her office at the college Campus School.

Attending physician said the cause of death was a cerebral hemorrhage. Campus School classes were dismissed for the day.

Miss Caldwell, who taught high school English at the Campus School, joined the Teachers college staff in 1922 as a critic teacher.

In commenting on the passing of Miss Caldwell, Dwight Curtis, head of the department of teaching, said:

"The passing of Mary Caldwell is a shock to both pupils and faculty of the Campus School. We have lost one who endeared herself to all through a tremendous depth of sincerity and genuine wholesomeness; her expression of a basic philosophy of life. Tasks were not too small to receive her undivided attention, need was not existent without her concern, service was to her an opportunity; and, in all, life was a series of thrilling challenges to a keen mind, a willing hand, a heart of gold."

In 1926 Miss Caldwell received her master's degree from Columbia University and took graduate work beyond that degree at Columbia, University of Chicago and the State University of Iowa.

Miss Caldwell was born Aug. 19, 1888, in Minnesota and was graduated from the Clermont, Iowa, high school in 1906.

Before joining the Teachers college staff Miss Caldwell served as assistant principal and seventh and eighth grade teacher at Doliver 1910-12 and at Burt from 1912-13. From 1913-15 she served as superintendent and teacher of mathematics and Latin at Urbana.

During 1918-19 she was superintendent and taught mathematics and science at Goodell. She taught high school normal training and English at Mapleton from 1919-21 and 1921-22 she taught high school normal training at Leon.

Organization affiliations of Miss Caldwell included membership in the Iowa State Teachers association, National Education association, National Council of Teachers of English, Iowa State Historical society and Delta Kappa Gamma.

Teachers College Receives Homerian Society Mementos

Teachers College has been presented two interesting mementos of the Homerian Literary Society: a photograph of President and Mrs. Homer H. Seerley, and a gavel used by the literary club.

The items were presented to the college archives by Ida Rohlf (B.A. '15) who was one of the founding members of the Homerian Society.

The picture of President and Mrs. Seerley is an enlarged informal snapshot, one of the finest ever taken of the couple according to Archivist I. H. Hart.

Used by the Homerian Society, the gavel has a head of olive wood from the Greek islands claiming the birthplace of Homer. The handle of the gavel is walnut from the first desk used by President Seerley at the college.

Mementos and historic keepsakes of all types are always most welcome says Mr. Hart. He adds that the college now has a suitable department to receive such effects. One item Mr. Hart is interested in tracking down is the gavel of the Irving Literary Society, made of oak from Sleepy Hollow.

'32 Alumnus Writes Text

Charle R. Purdy (B.A. '32), associate professor of mathematics at San Jose State College, is the author, with Dr. Lucien B. Kinney of Stanford University, of a new textbook, "Teaching Mathematics in the Secondary School." It is published by Rinehart & Co. Inc., of New York.

Los Angeles Alumni Meet

Clark Heiple (left) and A. J. Neilsen (both B.A. '47) receive copies of "The First 75 Years" from Dr. George Mount (M.Di. '05) and Esther Bley Foy (B.A. '33) at the reunion dinner in Los Angeles.

Saturday evening, February 23, found well over one hundred alumni and friends of I.S.T.C. from Los Angeles and surrounding territory gathered again in the banquet hall of Immanuel Presbyterian Church.

The invocation was given by Dr. Wm. S. Meyer, minister of this great church, of which several alumni are members, preceding a beautifully served dinner.

After dinner, Dr. Geo. H. Mount (M.Di. '05), formerly a member of the faculty of I.S.T.C., was introduced as toastmaster by Mrs. Winton Foy (Esther Bley, B.A. '33), chairman of arrangements for the evening's program.

The program was designed to follow the theme "Through the Years at I.S.T.C." and the speakers were graduates chosen from classes of approximately ten year periods.

Mr. Casper Schenk (B.Di. '98, M.Di. '99) was the first speaker, who entertained with a few most interesting recollections of his days at TC.

He was followed by Verne Orr (M.Di. '10) whose enthusiasm and affection for Teachers College were present in all of his remarks.

Next, Leo Friis (B.A. '22) paid tribute to TC with praise for his professors there, including Dr. Mount, and their sound methods of instruction.

Mrs. Russell Hackler (Margaret Wachtel, B.A. '36) brought some interesting highlights of campus life of the coed of the "30's".

Lastly, A. J. Nielsen (B.A. '47) brought a word picture of more recent campus days, paying his respects to the athletic program of the

SPORTS PARADE

McCUSKEY RESIGNS

David McCuskey (B.S. '30), wrestling coach at Teachers College since 1930, has recently been appointed wrestling coach at the State University of Iowa. His successor at TC has not yet been announced.

One of the top wrestling coaches in the nation, McCuskey coached his Panther mat teams to 103 dual victories in 133 meets. A Teachers team won the NAAU title three years in a row, but this year declined to enter because of press of other wrestling activities. They placed second in the NCAA this year, having won that title two years ago.

In his 21 years here, McCuskey has coached 16 NCAA and 13 AAU individual champions. Three of his wrestlers went to the 1948 Olympics.

Coaching Alumni Meet At Cedar Rapids Reunion

Not even a violent Iowa March blizzard could keep 35 Iowa State Teachers college graduates from the first annual coaching alumni reunion held at the Hotel Roosevelt in Cedar Rapids, Saturday, March 22.

Including guests and representatives of the college, 48 persons attended the event to successfully inaugurate a new function for alumni of the college.

Basketball Coach O. M. (Hon) Nordly conceived the idea of the reunion to be held in conjunction with the boys' state high school basketball tournament at nearby Iowa City. And the session met with enough general approval to warrant continuation of the meeting in future years. In fact, advance reservations for the luncheon totalled 80, but the weather man failed to cooperate and attendance fell off.

partment. Mr. G. H. Holmes, alumni director, gave a report to the group on the recent survey taken of alumni concerning what the college could do for its graduates and vice versa. Basketball and football movies were shown to the group. Al Schmahl, sports publicity director, acted as master of ceremonies.

Copies of the diamond anniversary book, "The First 75 Years," written by Archivist I. H. Hart were awarded as prizes to four persons at the banquet. The awards and the recipients were:

Coach who came the greatest distance for the luncheon—George Case, Graettinger (B.A. '48).

Coach representing the oldest graduating class—F. S. (Jack) Orr, Iowa City (B.S. '26).

Coach with the best basketball record—Don Shupe, Keokuk (B.A. '47).

Consolation prize to coach with the poorest basketball record—Dean (Zeke) Hogeland, Washington (B.A. '49).

Upon the suggestion of Whitford, the group sent Shupe's Keokuk team a telegram of best wishes for its state championship game against Davenport that night.

WRESTLERS PLACE SECOND IN NCAA

Iowa State Teachers college wrestling team once again drew the plaudits of fans in the Hawkeye state with its performance in the 1952 national collegiate tournament. The Panthers scored 21 points to finish just one point behind the championship University of Oklahoma team.

Gene Lybbert, 130-pound senior from Cresco, won a title as did Bill Weick, 157-pound junior from Chicago. Bob Morris, 137-pound Chicago junior and freshman Jim Harmond, Waterloo, 147-pounder, took second places.

The Panthers entered seven men in the tourney and all advanced to the quarterfinals. Six made the semifinals and the big four entered the finals.

The two champions raised the total of Teachers NCAA titlists in the last seven years to 16. McCuskey's teams have finished first once, second four times and fourth twice in that period.

Honor Home Economics Grad At Meeting

Members of the Home Economics Department of I.S.T.C. helped to honor a distinguished alumna of the college, Florence Fallgatter, Home Ec. '12, at the spring meeting of the Iowa Home Economics Association in Des Moines. Miss Fallgatter is the retiring president of the American Home Economics Association.

She has held many important offices and positions such as president of the American Vocational Association (the only woman to hold this office), chief in charge of Home Economics studies in the Office of Education, U. S. A., a city and a state supervisor, head of the Home Economics Department of Montana State College. At the present time she is head of the Department of Home Economics Education at Iowa State College.

Members of the IHEA presented incidents based on periods in Miss Fallgatter's life. The home economics staff of I.S.T.C. put on a humorous skit depicting life as a home economics major during the time Miss Fallgatter attended this college.

Some of the material used in the skit was taken from the school catalogue of the period and also from Miss Fallgatter's sample book made in sewing class. An example of a quote from the catalogue was "The art of proper basting is one of the important subjects of the term's work." Her sample book yielded the following instructions: "To measure the thread sit with the left side next the table. Take the spool in the left hand, bring it to the waist line on the left side, take the end of the thread in the right hand and unwind until the right shoulder is reached."

MAIL BOX

The Mail Box is open to all alumni who have a message for our readers—additional information about alumni articles; comments on Teachers College, its policies and history; suggestions or criticisms. Because of limited space we can't publish long letters. You may address mail to The Editor, Alumnus Magazine, I.S.T.C.

The ALUMNUS arrived a few days ago and this time I shall really write the letter I have "put off till tomorrow" for the past five years! Words cannot adequately express our pleasure at reading about our friends both off and on the faculty while we have been spending these years so far from you. Each issue has always included a note about someone of whom we have just said "I wonder what happened to"

We frequently see Laura Mae O'Banion, B.A. '39, who has taught the past two years in Munich.

Dorothea Steel Holt, B.A. '47, Salzburg, Austria

With best wishes for your magazine. I enjoy getting it still, though there are few names familiar to me now and the college has grown so much, it is quite beyond my comprehension.

I am hoping to get back to the 50th anniversary of my class of 1903.

Mrs. S. W. Arthur (Mabel Christian, B.Di. '03)

200 Crescent Road, West
Portage LaPrairie, Manitoba, Canada

This is a little note to say how much of a pleasure it is to receive each copy of THE ALUMNUS. I assure you that the articles are read with care and what fun it is to read about schoolmates one often wonders about!

It is ten years since Lillian Watanabe

Maeda (B.A. '42) and I were at I.S.T.C. I think we were the first students from Hawaii to graduate from there but news from friends in Cedar Falls tells us that there is quite a "Hawaiian colony" on the campus now. All of us I.S.T.C.'ers from Maui send our Aloha to THE ALUMNUS.

Charlotte Matsuda (B.A. '42)
Box 25, Pauwela, Maui, Hawaii

P.S. The two Suda brothers and Jane Baldovi who are at I.S.T.C. now are from my home town. Jane is almost a next door neighbor.

While my husband was on a six weeks business trip last summer to South and Central America, I took our two small sons (Bob, 4 and Bill, 2) back to Iowa. When my husband returned to Iowa for us, we spent one Sunday on the I.S.T.C. Campus—my first visit since graduation. The improvements on the campus were many and the campus is even more beautiful than I remembered it. We brought back slides of the campus and enjoy seeing them at regular intervals.

Our neighbors here are Dr. and Mrs. N. O. Schneider, formerly of Cedar Falls. Dr. Schneider was an instructor at Teachers High. Since both families await the arrival of THE ALUMNUS will you please check on the change of address for us?

Mrs. Robert Baldwin (Leona Wheeler, Elem. '36)
108 Washington Ave., Chatham, N. J.

Twenty-six years ago, right after graduation, I came to an isolated area of Montana by train, mail stage, and horseback to teach a rural school. Teaching was a bit on the lurid side in those days, and I can still trace a bullet hole in the school house door to prove my point.

After one term I settled down on a ranch on Custer national forest where I seem to have taken root.

I've been interested in the many changes made at I.S.T.C., as I read about them in THE ALUMNUS, and they seem all to the good. I might mention one thing, educationally speaking, that we do a little better here than "back east." In twenty-six years I can't recall, off hand, a single teacher who has left our county unmarried!

Many thanks for THE ALUMNUS.

Mrs. John A. Kueffer (Vera Ione Lockwood, B.A. '26)
Sayle, Montana

college and telling of post war adjustments and changes that have taken place.

To bring the alumni up to the present time, J. B. Paul, Jr. (B.A. '40) showed color slides of scenes he photographed on campus within this past month. To many, who have forgotten what snow and ice really look like, this first-run viewing was a treat. The many changes and additions to the campus were plainly shown as well as scenes that were familiar to the earliest graduates present.

These pictures were preceded by a most enthusiastic singing by the group of the college Loyalty Song, led by Bernita Brundage Wert (B.A. '39) and accompanied at the piano by Mrs. Foy.

There were eleven people present who graduated between the years 1898 and 1902, and of these, Mr. Perry Cole (B.Di. '98) and Mr. Casper Schenk (M.Di. '99) were each given a prize of a copy of Irving H. Hart's book, The First Seventy-five Years, for being the earliest graduates present. Copies were also given to Mr. A. J. Nielsen, the latest graduate, and to Mrs. Julia Porter Bergman (M.Di. '09) the graduate living in California who came the greatest distance (El Cajon) and to Mr. Leo Paulger, the visiting guest coming the farthest (Washington, D. C.).

The program ended with the showing of a most entertaining film entitled Through the Years at Iowa State Teachers College, which had been made on campus for the occasion.

Before dispersing the entire group expressed their desire to meet next year and asked Mrs. Foy to act as chairman again, which she consented to do.

DES MOINES SCHOOL RADIO STATION, KDPS WILL AIR TEACHERS COLLEGE PROGRAMS

Three 15-minute programs originating in the Iowa State Teachers college radio studios here will be re-broadcast over the new Des Moines public school FM radio station, KDPS, each week for the balance of the spring, according to Herbert V. Hake.

Hake, radio program director at Teachers college, said the programs are "Behind the Headlines," "Stories of Iowa," and "Everyday Science."

KDPS, the only FM station owned by a public school system in the state, went on the air for the first time April 1. Station call letters are derived from the motto "Know Des Moines Public Schools."

The Teachers college programs, which are first heard each week over radio station WOI, Ames, will be tape recorded by KDPS for later broadcast, Hake said.

COMMENTS ON ANNIVERSARY BOOK

"... I had no idea of the inside story of I.S.T.C. It is extremely interesting. Mr. Hart has told the story in a most diplomatic way. He does well to handle it in an impersonal way. I think it exceptionally well written. It is scholarly, with simplicity of language. I am sure that every alumnus would enjoy reading it. . . ."

"... the book is well made up typographically and made attractive with very appropriate and well done sketches. It seems to me that this book should be owned by every TC graduate. . . . From it one can learn to know every growth of the college and to value and appreciate the foresight and wisdom that have made us graduates what we are and the college the great teaching institution that it is. . . ."
