Weekly Press Luncheon — Panther head football coach Darrell Mudra or one of his staff will be in attendance at the weekly press luncheon held each Monday at 12 noon. The luncheon is dutch treat and the media are encouraged to attend.

Interviews — Members of the media wishing to talk with Coach Mudra may contact him directly in the football office (319-273-6471) but also may go through the Sports Information Office if desired.

All player interviews should be arranged through the Sports Information Department. It is recommended arrangements be made at least one day in advance to better suit the schedule of the players.

Panther Hotline — The Sports Information Office will continue to keep members of the media updated with Panther football facts on the Panther Hotline. The message is updated at least twice weekly and can be reached by dialing 319-273-CATS.

Credentials — All requests for radio, television, scouting and photographer passes for Northern Iowa football games should be made to Nancy Justis at least three days prior to each game.

The Sports Information Department will provide one telecopier for use on a first come, first served basis. It is recommended that members of the media bring their own electronic sending machines when possible, however, especially for evening games. It also is recommended the media install their own phone lines. Two phones at the most is all that is available in the press box furnished by Sports Information.

The Press Box — The press box is located on the east side of the UNI-Dome above the east stands. Entrances are located on the north and south ends of the box. Nancy Justis became SID in 1979 after serving three years as the first fulltime assistant at UNI. A native of Cedar Rapids, IA, she received her B.A. degree in journalism from the University of Iowa in 1973. After graduation, she worked for the Fort Collins (CO) Coloradoan before coming to UNI as an assistant editor in the Public Relations Office. She was a member of the Olympic Press Operations staff in Los Angeles in 1984 and the Pan American staff this summer in Indiana. She is a member of the College Sports Information Directors of America (CoSIDA), Women in Communications, Inc., and the U.S. Basketball Writers Assoc. CoSIDA has honored her with publication awards for football programs and brochures and wrestling brochures. Married to Robert Justis, who announces Panther football and basketball games, the couple has one daughter, Nicole.

Roger Crimmins was named assistant SID in 1986, coming to UNI from Worcester Polytechnic Institute in Massachusetts where he spent one year as director. Prior to that, he spent three years as SID at the University of Dubuque. Crimmins also has received honors from CoSIDA for writing, wrestling brochures and magazines and women’s basketball programs. A native of Dubuque, IA, he graduated from Iowa State University in 1982. Married, his wife’s name is Mary.
Northern Iowa is an excellent choice for students who want the atmosphere of a smaller college but the faculty and resources of a larger university. Northern Iowa is student-oriented and makes you feel welcome and challenged while you earn your education with a minimum of hassle.

Located in Cedar Falls, UNI was founded in 1876 as the Iowa State Normal School. From a single building on a 40-acre campus, the University has grown to include more than 40 major buildings and 11,500 students.

UNI emphasizes outstanding undergraduate education with complementary graduate programs at the master's, specialist's and doctoral levels. Building on its historic strength in teacher education, Northern Iowa has developed other fine programs in its School of Business, College of Humanities and Fine Arts, College of Natural Sciences and College of Social and Behavioral Sciences.

Northern Iowa publishes the prestigious North American Review, a quarterly journal of literature that has received two National Magazine Awards. The University also operates KUNI-FM and KHKE-FM, serving eastern Iowa with quality music and public affairs programming. The Management Development Center and Small Business Development Center are two outreach programs of the School of Business, whose Department of Accounting is ranked among the best in the country.

Landmarks on the 723-acre campus include the Campanile, the Education Center, Strayer-Wood Theatre, Maucker University Union and the UNI-Dome. Special academic resources include the 600,000-volume University Library, the Industrial Technology Center and the Communication Arts Center.

The City of Cedar Falls is a pleasant and historic college town adjacent to Waterloo. Together, they are part of a major metropolitan area with a population of more than 100,000. It is a center for manufacturing, finance, commerce and cultural activities in northeast Iowa.
Management

A university and athletic program needs sound direction and leadership. The Panthers have the ingredients for success starting at the top.

Dr. Constantine W. Curris assumed the Presidency of the University of Northern Iowa in August of 1983, becoming only the seventh chief executive in the institution's 109-year history. Known as "Deno" to the University community, he has emphasized four major themes for the school's development: leadership in strengthening teacher education, development of the School of Business as part of Iowa's economic resurgence, a renewed emphasis upon quality in undergraduate education, and expansion of international studies to prepare students for life in the 21st century.

Prior to assuming the UNI Presidency, Curris served 10 years as President of Murray State in Kentucky. His tenure was characterized by expanding enrollments, extensive academic development and professional accreditation, and the development of nationally recognized programs in academic advising and student services. In 1983, the Murray State Board of Regents designated the school's new eight million dollar student center as the Curris Center.

Other professional experiences include serving as Dean of Students at Marshall University, Vice President and Academic Dean of both Midway (KY) College and the West Virginia Institute of Technology and a year's service as Director of Educational Programs for the West Virginia State Board of Education.

Curris received a bachelor's degree, magna cum laude, in political science with a minor in speech communication from the University of Kentucky in 1962. He received his master's in political science with a public administration emphasis from Illinois in 1965 and the Ed.D. degree in higher education with minors in student personnel services and public policy from Kentucky in 1967.

Curris currently serves as a Trustee of Midway College, a member of the National Small Business Development Center Advisory Board, a commissioner of the American Council on Education's Commission on Educational Credit and Credentials, a member of the Federal Relations Committee of the American Association of State Colleges and Universities and is a member of Rotary International. He recently served as Chairman of the Task Force on Teacher Education and Certification appointed by the Iowa State Board of Public Instruction and is now serving as a member of the First in the Nation in Education Foundation Governing Board on appointment by the Governor.

Curris is married to Jo Hern Curris, a tax attorney. They are the parents of Robert Page and Elena Diane.

Robert A. Bowlsby was selected Director of Athletics in mid-February of 1984 after serving as Assistant Athletic Director for Facilities and interim athletic director when Stan Sheriff resigned the post in September of 1983.

A native of Waterloo (IA), he is a 1970 graduate of West High School. He earned a bachelor's degree in health, physical education and recreation from Moorhead State in 1975 and a master's in recreation administration from Iowa in 1978.

Bowlsby served as Assistant Director of Recreational Services at Iowa from 1978-81, working in facility management and with responsibilities for supervision of a wide variety of recreation and athletics facilities on campus.

He joined the UNI staff in April of 1981. His experience at UNI has been broadbased, including involvement in all areas of the intercollegiate athletics program and promotion of the UNI-Dome. He has worked with a variety of athletic events, special programs and entertainment attractions.

Since the time of his appointment as Director of Athletics, Bowlsby has been actively involved in the promotion and marketing of the athletics program, the development of the Athletics Hall of Fame and the formulation of the Gateway Collegiate Athletic Conference football division.

Bowlsby and his wife, Candice, have three children — Lisa, Matt and Rachel.
Northern Iowa's fans demand the best from the Panthers on the field and the school provides some of the best facilities in the Midwest, and in particular at the I-AA level.

The UNI-Dome is one of the nation's finest football facilities, no matter at what level the game is played. The building actually combines the features of three different buildings — a football stadium, field house and large auditorium. It contains facilities to hold a variety of events, such as concerts, exhibitions, trade shows, pageants, rallies and convocations, as well as football, basketball and softball games and wrestling and track meets.

The UNI-Dome has hosted such events as the NCAA gymnastic and wrestling championships, the Iowa High School All-Star Basketball games and Shrine Football games, the Iowa High School football playoffs, concerts by Dolly Parton, the Eagles, REO Speedwagon, Fleetwood Mac and the Rolling Stones, antique car shows, tractor pulls and many other non-athletic events.

The UNI-Dome's air-supported, Fiberglass fabric roof allows for ample natural light during daylight hours. Its artificial turf for football games can be rolled up in a minimum of 36 hours. Underneath, on a synthetic floor area, are basketball and tennis courts and an eight-lane, 220-yard oval running track. As many as 12 tennis matches and two basketball games could be played simultaneously.

Approximately 16,400 spectators can be seated for football and 11,000 for courtside activities. For stage events, such as commencements, concerts and speakers’ series, total capacity, using movable bleachers and chairs, can reach 25,000.

A spacious press box atop the east stands has facilities for 20 radio stations, television capabilities and seating for up to 125 people. A photography darkroom, photo bay, concession area and scouting booths are other features. Two huge scoreboards flash messages and information to spectators throughout events. The west press box has been completed to provide a meeting room for the UNI Athletic Club.
In his tenure as Northern Iowa head coach, Darrell Mudra has guided the Panthers to the most successful season in the team's history. After 1985's 11-2 record and advance to the 1-AA semifinals, he was named Gateway Collegiate Athletic Conference Coach of the Year and Kodak Regional Coach of the Year.

Mudra is no stranger to success. Known as "Dr. Victory" in coaching circles because of his outstanding success at almost every coaching job he has taken on, he would nevertheless be the first one to shy away from the laurels piled upon him. He prefers to let his coaching staff and athletes take whatever credit is due. A great believer in the democratic approach to coaching rather than an authoritarian approach, his players and staff contribute greatly to the operation of the football programs he oversees.

"Both the authoritarian coach and the democratic coach have to have discipline," Mudra has been quoted as saying. "The difference is the way they get it. The authoritarian gets it by demanding it... We (UNI staff) give more freedom and we think then that the choices they (players) make really do reflect what they are learning."

Mudra brought a new look to Northern Iowa football in 1983, replacing Stan Sheriff who had directed UNI's fortunes the previous 23 years. A native of Omaha, NE, Mudra began his collegiate career at Adams State (CO) where he posted a 32-4-1 record in four years, including a 23-20 win over Northern Illinois in the 1962 Mineral Bowl. From there, he went to North Dakota State where he compiled a 24-6 mark over three years, including a 14-7 victory over Western Colorado in the 1964 Mineral Bowl, and a 20-7 win over Grambling for the national championship in the Pecan Bowl.

In 1966, he directed the Montreal Alouettes to a 7-7 record but left immediately for a two-year stint at Arizona, compiling an 11-9-1 mark, including a loss to Auburn in the 1968 Sun Bowl.

Mudra spent the next five years at Western Illinois, posting a 39-13 record and a Division II NCAA playoff berth in 1973. He spent the 1974 and '75 seasons at Florida State, going 4-18. He took the job at Eastern Illinois beginning in 1978 and recorded a 47-15-1 record there in five years before coming to UNI.

He has taken no less than seven different teams to post-season or bowl games, including 1985 when Northern Iowa advanced to the playoffs for the first time since 1975.

His success undoubtedly stems from his unusual coaching techniques and his relationship with his staff and players. Some think strange that he, as head coach, coaches from the press box rather than the sidelines. Some think strange he quotes Shakespeare to his players and at times would rather talk of politics and philosophy than x's and o's. However, he feels strongly about the tie between living in society and competing in athletics.

"While the goal to become a professional star is seldom realized," Mudra has been quoted as saying, "thousands of our youth are inspired to learn, to become disciplined and, most important, to perceive themselves as potentially useful, productive citizens as a result of their contact with sports."

"Athletics, he says, help students learn about themselves and society. "... the student who spends great amounts of time and energy in athletics: The importance is not vocational preparation but learning about oneself, learning to relate to others and forming habits that improve the quality of life."

"Most of these young men don't know it, but they're working way below their potential," Mudra has said. He believes the more responsibility he gives team members — "If you involve them in the strategy, they will play harder. If the players are involved in setting up team regulations, such as getting to practice on time, then they will be more responsive.”

A graduate of Peru State (NE) in 1951, he received his master’s from Omaha University (now Nebraska-Omaha) and his Ed.D. from Colorado State in 1965.

He and his wife, Jean, are the parents of four children, Darrell, Jr., Steve, Sherry and Michelle.
The Panther Assistants

Dennis Remmert, Assistant Head Coach, Defensive Line

The veteran of the UNI staff, Remmert is beginning his 24th season with the Panthers. An All-American defensive tackle at UNI in 1959, he played professional ball briefly for Buffalo. He joined Stan Sheriff's staff at UNI as a graduate assistant in 1961 and served for two seasons before coaching at Iowa Central Community College in Fort Dodge in 1963. Remmert rejoined UNI's program full-time in 1964, when the Panthers visited the Pecan Bowl. He received his MA degree in Physical Education in 1964.

Walt Klinker, Offensive Coordinator, Offensive Line

A former Big 8 center at Colorado, Walt Klinker was one of three new coaches added to head coach Darrell Mudra's staff four years ago. Klinker played at Colorado from 1959-61 and was an All-American pick. He has been voted the best two-way center in the history of Colorado football. He began his coaching career at the high school level. He was on the Colorado staff one year before coaching at Claremont Men's College in California two years. He spent the next nine years in the college ranks - five years at New Mexico State, one year at Fresno State and one more year at New Mexico. Prior to taking the Northern Iowa job, he was an administrative assistant in the Wyoming athletic department.

Mike Kolling, Defensive Coordinator, Linebackers

Mike Kolling, assistant coach with the Saskatchewan Rough Riders the past two seasons, was retained to coach at UNI this spring. Kolling coached eight years at UNI before moving to the CFL club but was reappointed. Kolling has coached both the linebackers and secondary at UNI. He graduated from South Dakota State in 1972 and played briefly with the Denver Broncos and the Birmingham Americans of the WFL. Kolling was an assistant at South Dakota State one year and an assistant at North Dakota State two years before being named to the Panther staff, the first time in 1977.

Terry Allen, Quarterbacks

Beginning his 12th year with the Panthers as a player and now as a coach, Allen knows what he's talking about when the subject is running the offense. He joined the UNI coaching staff after quarterbacking the Panthers from 1976-78. A native of Iowa City, Allen is highly respected by the staff and players as a player. He was well known for his strong throwing arm and ability to run the multi-option Houston Veer offense. The Panthers traditionally have fielded excellent quarterbacks and the tradition has remained intact under Allen's tutelage.

Robert Kincaid, Academic Advisor

A native of Waterloo, IA, Robert Kincaid joined the athletic staff in 1983, serving as academic advisor on a part-time basis. A graduate of East Waterloo High School, he graduated from Adams State in 1966 with a bachelor's degree in physical education with a minor in business administration. He spent four years at Northern Colorado as an assistant basketball coach and Assistant Dean of Students while working on his master's in Student Personnel and Administration. He also has been an accountant and auditor and has served as a counselor for Juvenile Court.

Bill Salmon, Receivers

Without a doubt one of the all-time greatest quarterbacks in Northern Iowa history, Bill Salmon joined the Panther coaching staff four years ago. Salmon led the Panthers to the NCAA Division II playoffs in 1975. Known for his excellent throwing arm, and football knowledge (he called about 75 percent of his own plays), he was superb at running the Panther veer attack. A three-year starter, he was named to the AP third team All-American list. The Minnesota Vikings picked him up following his last collegiate season, but a winter knee injury eventually spelled the end of his playing career.

Behind the Scenes

Robert Bolks, Defensive Backs

Robert (Rob) Bolks was hired two years ago to coach the Panther defensive backfield. Bolks had been on staff at Butler Community College in El Dorado, Ks. His duties were defensive coordinator and defensive back coach and he was named head coach just prior to accepting the UNI position. Prior to his stint at Butler, he was an assistant at Highland Community College, then at Independence Community College. While attending Iowa State, he played defensive back for the Cyclones when they played in the 1971 Sun Bowl and the 1972 Liberty Bowl. He was the Big Eight punt return leader in 1974. Bolks played professional ball for the Cedar Rapids Falcons in 1977 and 1978.

Robert Anderson, Running Backs

One of Coach Darrell Mudra's long-time associates, Robert "Andy" Anderson joined the UNI staff two years ago. He previously had been an assistant under Mudra at Eastern Illinois in 1979 and has 30 years of high school coaching experience. A native of Creston, IA, he spent 20 years coaching at Chula Vista (CA) High School, the last five as offensive coordinator. He retains his residence in California and joins the Panthers during the spring and regular seasons.

Terry Noonan, Athletic Trainer

Noonan was named Athletic Trainer almost two years ago after serving as interim head trainer for one year. Prior to that, he had served as assistant trainer at UNI since 1983. From 1979-81 he was a graduate assistant at UNI and then spent the next two years as a physical fitness instructor at Hawkeye Institute of Technology. From 1981-83, he was head trainer at Columbus High School in Waterloo, IA, before joining UNI as a full-time staff member. He is a nationally certified athletic trainer and has served as an examiner for the NATA Certification Test.

Dick Timmerman, Equipment Manager

Timmerman joined the Panther staff in September of 1982 after spending 22 years as equipment manager and athletic trainer at Upper Iowa University in Fayette. He is responsible for overseeing equipment for all 19 intercollegiate sports, with primary responsibilities for football and basketball. Besides his duties at Upper Iowa, he also worked with the Fayette ambulance service for 10 years. He is a certified EMT (Emergency Medical Technician) and is a member of the Athletic Equipment Managers Association, a national organization.
A Review: The Gateway Conference's second season of NCAA 1-AA football can be considered a huge success. It started in August of 1986 when the league was informed it was to be one of seven conferences whose champions would receive an automatic bid to the 1-AA playoffs. The season kicked off with Illinois State edging Eastern Illinois 23-20, the Eastern loss being significant because it was its only regular season loss. EIU was tested only once more in league play when, on October 11, then-front-runner Northern Iowa held Eastern to a scoreless first half and a 9-7 UNI lead after three quarters. Forty-five points were then scored in the final period, including Eastern's game-winning 58-yard field goal by Rich Ehmke as time expired to give EIU a 31-30 victory. In the NCAA playoffs, Eastern downed Murray State 28-21 in the opening round before losing 24-22 to Eastern Kentucky in the quarterfinals.

The Gateway had the third-highest attendance jump (16 percent) of any 1-A or 1-AA conference. Although the league ranked eighth in average attendance (9,513) among 1-AA conferences, it posted the third-best average increase (16 percent) among all 1-A and 1-AA conferences. In addition, the GCAC's attendance average filled conference stadiums to 64.9 percent of capacity, ranking fourth in 1-AA. Northern Iowa was second in average attendance (10,522) behind Southern Illinois (13,120).

The Gateway was seen nationally on ESPN when UNI downed Indiana State 45-7 in November.

The 1987 schedules of GCAC members show competition with the Big Ten (UNI vs. Minnesota), the Big Eight (UNI vs. Iowa State, Southern Illinois vs. Kansas), the Atlantic Coast (Indiana State vs. Georgia Tech), the Mid-American (Illinois State vs. Western Michigan, Indiana State vs. Ball State) and the Pacific Coast (Eastern Illinois vs. San Jose State, Western Illinois vs. Fresno State). In addition, 1-A independents Akron (vs. Eastern Illinois), Northern Illinois (vs. Southwest Missouri State) and Cincinnati (vs. Indiana State) meet GCAC foes. Other conferences represented on the Gateway composite schedule include the Southwestern, the Yankee, the Big Sky, the Ohio Valley and the Southland.

Twenty of the 48 1986 first and second team GCAC all-conference members return in 1987, including 10 first team (UNI has three) and 11 second team choices.

In addition, UNI's Brian Baker, Mike Smith, Carl Boyd, Jeff Bealles, Mark Farley and Clay Netusil were named to AP's Honorable Mention All-American list. Boyd, Smith and Farley also were named to Football News' team, Boyd on the second team.

UNI quarterback Mike Smith led the nation in passing efficiency (168.2) and was fourth in total offense, averaging 283 yards per game...UNI running back Carl Boyd was 12th in all-purpose yards with an average of 146.18 yards per game...UNI defensive back Kevin Anderson was 12th in kickoff return average with 25.21.

For two consecutive seasons, the Gateway has placed at least one member in each of the weekly NCAA 1-AA Top Twenty polls. UNI was ranked four times, as high as eighth on October 6, after being ranked third in the first preseason poll.

UNI's returning statistical leaders include Carl Boyd (208 carries for 715 yards) and Errol Peebles (147 for 747 yards) in rushing; quarterback Mike Smith (190 of 303 passes for 3,125 yards and 27 touchdowns); Boyd (52 catches for 893 yards) and Brian Baker (46 for 897 yards) in receiving; Baker in scoring (62 points); and Jeff Bealles with 56 total tackles.

Note: Western Illinois and Indiana State each played one substitute-conference game in 1986. WIU played Sam Houston State and Indiana State played Ball State. Both conference members lost. (Detailed standings and results are enclosed.)
F orget 1986. Following a record-breaking 11-2 season in 1985, falling one game short of playing for the national title, the Panthers had high hopes for 1986. A brilliant performance at Eastern Illinois was turned into a disaster by a late field goal, dashing hopes of a second-straight playoff appearance last year. UNI finished 7-3-1 overall and 4-2 in the Gateway Conference, tied for second.

The 1987 season is on the horizon. It promises to offer the most rigorous schedule in UNI football history. It begins September 5 in the heat and humidity of Southern Louisiana at McNeese State. It continues with an appearance in the Humphrey Dome against Big Ten foe Minnesota. It progresses with games against Big Sky opponents Montana State and Montana and with the Gateway opener September 26 at Indiana State. Midseason is highlighted with a challenge against Big Eight opponent Iowa State in Ames October 10. The year concludes with five straight GCAC contests.

Before the 1986 season ever got off the ground, UNI head coach Darrell Mudra said 1987 would be the year of the Panther. “We should be better than we were in 1985,” Mudra said. “But look at the schedule. Our record may not be as good.”

Why is Mudra so optimistic about 1987? Those sophomores who helped take UNI to the semifinals of the 1-AA playoffs in 1985 are now seniors, and they include many players in the skill positions — quarterbacks Mike Smith and Kevin Willard, running back Carl Boyd, tight end Brian Baker, to name a few.

That’s not to say the staff didn’t have their work cut out for them during the recent spring drills. The Panthers once again worked on basics, but spent the last two weeks of the spring session working on odd defenses and the option in preparation for the fall. Mudra and his assistants needed to beef up the linebacker position, which was hit hardest by graduation, and work on the kicking game where punter Clay Netusil has graduated and one of two placekickers quit the team.

On the positive side, 38 lettermen return to the Panther squad, including 17 full or parttime starters. Eleven of those 17 play offense.

The Quarterbacks

The position of strength, the quarterback slot is in the capable hands of seniors Mike Smith and Kevin Willard. Smith was the GCAC Offensive Player of the Year in 1985 and was a Football News and AP 1-AA Honorable Mention All-American last year. He threw for over 3,000 yards and 27 touchdowns in 1986, leading the nation in passing efficiency with a rating of 166.9, second highest ever in the NCAA. He holds several school records and has been described as “phenomenal” by Mudra. Smith missed the last two weeks of spring drills because of a severely sprained ankle, giving backup Willard more time to work with the no. 1 offensive unit.

Willard has played backup his entire career at UNI and has done so admirably. What Smith lacks in height, Willard at 6-5 offers another dimension.

Sophomore Courtney Messingham also played some quarterback in the spring after Smith’s injury. Messingham was recruited as a quarterback but played in the defensive backfield last fall. Another viable quarterback candidate is sophomore Christopher Klieman who started as a safety last fall. However, Messingham, Klieman and any incoming freshmen would get the nod only in the event both Smith and Willard were unable to play.

The Offensive Line

The offensive line should see marked improvement this fall. A very young and inexperienced position last year, the line now is an area of depth and great competition between players. Returnees include senior Ken Kolthoff, junior Mark Botkin, junior Mark Hanssen at center and juniors Jeff Chambers and Russ Rubie, senior Louie Cox and senior Scott Smallwood at guards. Senior Barry Klostermann has been switched back to defense after playing offense last fall.
"We're so deep here that I wish I could play everybody," said line coach Walt Klinker. Hanssen was a second team All-Conference pick last season.

The Receivers
Starting split end Scott Francke and flanker Luis Gonzalez have graduated, taking their 944 yards and six touchdowns with them. However, their young backups are excellent players. Junior Anthony Price is heir-apparent at split end, while senior parttime starter Eric White will have a tough time starting ahead of Wichita State transfer, Wes Anderson.

Two redshirt freshmen, Rory Feddersen and Phil Forbes, will get a lot of playing time.

Returning as the top two tight ends from a year ago are senior Brian Baker and junior Sherrod Howard. Baker was a first team all-conference and AP Honorable Mention All-American pick last year. He caught 46 passes for 897 yards, scoring 10 times, making him the top scorer on the team. He missed the entire spring, however, after injuring a knee only 15 minutes into the first session. He is expected to be completely healthy by fall.

Showing promise in the spring at the tight end spot was sophomore Cade Lindaman, who saw more action because of Baker's injury. Terry Armstrong, who was moved to defense last year, also will be available at his original position.

The Running Backs
The Panthers are very sound at the starting positions of halfback and fullback with the return of senior Carl Boyd and junior Errol Peebles, but depth would be a concern in the event of injury.

A first team all-conference pick, Boyd also was chosen to the AP Honorable Mention All-American team and the Football News second team. He rushed for 715 yards, scoring four times, but also became a receiving threat last year, catching 52 passes for 893 yards, scoring five times. His high game rushing was 115 yards versus McNeese State.

Peebles rushed for 747 yards, scoring six times, and had a high game of 135 yards against Indiana State. He also caught eight passes.

Beyond those two, the players showing the most promise during spring drills were returnee Jeff Gougis and newcomers Randy Schultz and Chris Mailander. Woody Wright, highly recruited out of Butler County Community College, also figures in the plan.

The Kicking Game
Punter Clay Netusil, who was ranked seventh in the nation at the end of last year, has graduated and also missing is kicker Mike Angell, who shared duties with returnee Kevin Mote the last two years. Mote returns after making 22 of 25 extra points and seven of 12 field goals last season.

Newcomer Omid Amjadi walked on as a kicker this spring and may challenge Mote for field goal responsibilities. Amjadi played his first football game ever during UNI's annual Purple-Gold spring game, kicking goals from 42 and 32 yards and making all four extra points.

Danny Helmer, a transfer from Butler County Community College, also should challenge for a kicking job when he arrives in camp for the fall.

However, the punting job is wide open. Three people punted in the spring game, including freshman Larry Piper, who averaged 41.9 yards on eight punts, offensive lineman Cox, who punted once for 49 yards, and split end Rory Feddersen, who had a 40 yard punt. Another possibility here is freshman Dan Rush.

The Defense
Sixteen lettermen have been lost for the 1987 squad, including 10 starters. Among those missing are linebackers Spencer Cowan, Mark Farley, Bob Storbeck and Pat Williams, tackle Terry Orth and defensive end Art Stelken. Obviously, linebacker was a concern heading into spring drills and still seems to be a weak spot, although Mudra feels great strides were made by the end of spring drills.

The Linebackers
Inside linebacker was hardest hit by graduation where not one starter returns. John Hill, moved from running back, was making great progress in the spring and in fact, held a starting position until he went down with two weeks remaining with a chipped bone in his ankle. Though expected to return healthy in the fall, any injury here slows progress. Juniors Mike Kalpin and Don Harnack were the starters at the end of the spring. There are plenty of freshmen who are battling for position, also, along with transfer Darron Harrison.

At outside linebacker, the Panthers lose a lot of playing experience and effort in coaching time. However, a lot of athletes here make for good competition, including David McCorvey, moved from safety, and returning sophomore Mark Hein. Junior Terry Armstrong also played here a little last fall after moving over from a receiver position. Junior college transfers Brian Shore and Jerry Hines also had a good spring.

Mudra said there is a possibility of bringing in at least one more linebacker over the summer to add depth to the position.

The Defensive Ends,
Tackles
Only two starters return in the defensive front — end Jeff Bealles, an AP Honorable Mention All-American, and tackle Mike Campbell. Redshirt senior Allen Donnell looks to have the other end spot nailed down heading into fall after sitting out the last two seasons because of credit hour problems and injuries.

Others returning up front include end Luke Carlson, who has been moved to a tackle position; end Todd Eagen and tackle Denny Hansen. Others being considered up front are ends Bryce Paup, Jason Jones and Tim Peterson and tackles Doug Andrews and Shawn Chestnut.

Despite the return of only two starters, Mudra feels the front line could be one of the stronger positions because of the experience gained last year by the backups and the amount of talent.

The Secondary
The secondary turned from a questionable area in 1986 to a solid position in 1987 with the return of every player. Corners Kevin Anderson and Theloniou Key seem to have their positions retained for now, as does safety Christopher Kliean. Backup Courtney Messingham played some quarterback in the spring when Mike Smith went down with his injury. Newcomers Alan Bostic, Mike Martin, Anthony Gullotto and Robert Gambala may challenge for position.

*Returning Lettermen
Returning Starters in Bold
The Players
Northern Iowa gave a gold watch to its players for length of service. Defensive end Jeff Bealles would be displaying one around his wrist.

A senior from Orland Park, Ill., Bealles already has started 31 straight games at UNI and it's a bet he'll start at least the next 11 barring injury. The strange thing is, he's outplayed his expectations.

"Jeff wasn't real big when we recruited him his senior year," UNI assistant head coach Dennis Remmert said. "He was tall and slender, but we knew he had the things it would take to play for us. He was extremely quick and he played very aggressively."

Now standing 6-3 and weighing in at 230 pounds, Bealles said his brother, Bill (now with the New Orleans Saints), was instrumental in his coming to UNI.

"Bill gave me a lot of information about UNI and urged the coaches to take a look at me. Without his help, UNI may not have noticed me," he said.

Even after signing with the Panthers, he wasn't certain how he would fit in with the program.

"Coach Remmert sent me a booklet with all the names of the other players recruited the same year I was," Bealles said. "Everyone on the list was a two-time all-stater or All-American. But after the first few days of practice, I worked out my butterflies and realized I could hold my own."

"I soon realized the high level of intensity that Jeff practiced at," Remmert said. "He was very aggressive in every scrimmage and when we did one-on-one drills, he refused to get beat. He just kept going at his opponents."

With injuries depleting the end spot, Bealles finally got his chance to show his stuff several games into his freshman season against Southwest Missouri State.

"The week before the game, Coach Remmert told me I was going to alternate with the second and third teams in practice. I thought this was going to be my chance," Bealles said.

With seconds left in the first half, Bealles was standing on the sideline with a cup of water when he heard the coach yell out his name.

"I didn't pay much attention at first because I thought he was yelling for my brother," he said. "But then I realized it was me they wanted. I went in, and got blown off the ball three straight times. And then, luckily, the half ended."

However, the coaches never lost confidence in him and he came out to start the second half. "I didn't choke," Bealles said. "I made a few freshman mistakes, but I never lost my composure."

He went on to start the next game and each game thereafter for the next two years.

Remmert has high praise for those performances. "Jeff had two strikes against him those first few starts," he said. "First, he was a freshman, and the opponents knew that. Secondly, he was playing the left side. Most teams run the majority of their plays to their right, so that means they were aiming directly at Jeff for a good part of the game."

Bealles never has lost any of his intensity. "I started working harder after I became no. 1," he said. "There was a senior and junior sitting behind me and I knew if I let up once, they would be there to knock me out of my spot. I guess a person might say I was possessive about my position."

Over the next two years, Bealles developed physically and, more importantly, his quickness.

"The way Jeff moves up the field reminds me of the way Mohammad Ali used to move," Remmert said. "He floats like a butterfly' and stings the quarterback 'like a bee.' And, Remmert said, Bealles can use his quickness to make his opponent look bad.

"When Jeff lines up against a 280-pound offensive tackle and uses his quickness off the ball, he can have that tackle back on his heels and tripping over his legs while Jeff is back on top of the quarterback," Remmert said.

Bealles has made all-conference twice in the last two years. Remmert said his hard work may bring him the conference MVP award when the season is over.

"Jeff has come so far the last two years," Remmert said. "He is respected for his abilities throughout the conference. Last year, he consistently drew two blockers. This spring he got even better. He had championship-game performances in our scrimmages. If those performances were any indication of what to expect in the fall, then quarterbacks around the league better be careful."

Bealles said becoming the league MVP would be nice, but there is one thing he wants to make sure he doesn't do this fall.

"I don't want to leave UNI thinking about what might have been," he said. "Too many people finish football and say 'if I would have done this better,' I don't want that to happen to me."

With all the MVP and All-American talk, playing in the NFL might be the next logical thought.

"Right now, the NFL is far down on my list," Bealles said. "I want to get my degree first (he's majoring in general studies with minors in psychology and Russian) and have a great football season. After that, if the NFL calls, I'll answer."

As intense as he is on the field, Bealles takes an easy view of football.

"I can't get myself too worked up before a game," he said. "I usually have a light attitude and crack a few jokes in the locker room. But, when we get on the field, I am a different person. One who means all business."

That attitude needs to rub off on the other players.

"Jeff has the most playing experience on the team by far," Remmert said. "He'll have to take over that leadership role with the graduation of Mark Farley. But Jeff can do that. People listen to what he has to say."

"I just try to avoid the stress that is put on me by other people," Bealles said. "I watch a lot of cable and public television. I listen to a lot of music. Groups like Traffic, and Crosby, Stills, Nash and Young are my favorites. Actually, I don't think I own but a few albums that are newer than 1975 issue. I would have liked to have been older during the '60s and '70s. I guess you could just call me a hippie with a good haircut that likes to play football."
By Doug Gowans

Like most boys, Carl Boyd started out identifying with his father. As a child, he remembers watching college football games and O.J. Simpson and listening to his father talk of the great running of Jim Brown.

That early interest and the companionship with his father helped Boyd get his start as a football player, but eventually it was his mother, Wilma, who influenced him the most and helped him become the superior player he is today.

"Any kid, as he grows up, has to identify with somebody and in my case it was my father (Wylie). But as I grow older, I started emulating my mother," said Boyd. "My mother was the backbone of our family. I watched her work miracles in our household, literally.

"When she sets out with a goal in mind, she sets it tenaciously. That tenacity is what's in me now. I try to emulate that same spirit, not only on the football field, but in my school work," explained Boyd, a graduate student in criminology this fall. "In Chicago, and my neighborhood, my mother is well respected. And when it comes to setting goals and achieving them, nobody has set a goal and achieved it like my mother has."

Boyd, the Panthers' number one running back the last two years, also has earned the respect of his classmates and teachers during his football career. He expects to leave Northern Iowa not only a winner on the field, but also as a success off the field.

As a student-athlete, he has excelled in all aspects of university life, from sports to his work with campus organizations. He is the president of the Ethnic Minority Student Association and also has been involved in various campus service projects. He carries a 3.0 grade point average and eventually hopes to pursue a career in either law enforcement or the marine corps.

"When people come to college, they should come for more than one thing. They shouldn't limit themselves. They shouldn't just come for football or just for an education. They should come for all of it and be involved in different functions. That has allowed me to grow," said Boyd.

Since his arrival at UNI, Boyd and Panther football have grown in leaps and bounds. Boyd has set several goals as a co-captain this year, the least of which are being the Gateway Conference and national champions. He also expects to be near the top of the nation in individual statistics.

Boyd finished 12th in the nation in all-purpose yardage last year with 146 yards per game, good enough to earn him first team All-Gateway, second team Football News and Associated Press honorable mention. As a sophomore, he was seventh nationally in scoring, 21st in all-purpose yardage and 22nd in rushing and was a second team All-Gateway pick.

During his career, he has gained 2,000 yards rushing and 1,352 yards receiving. He is just 850 yards short of the school record for rushing yards and is closing in on Panther records for scoring, rushing attempts and passes caught. He already holds the school records for touchdowns in a season (19), scoring in a season (116) and longest TD reception (93 yards).

"Two years ago, we made history by getting to the playoffs. We want to do that one step better this year. Winning the Gateway and national championships, those are my dreams. However, I have to keep in mind that I have to take it one game at a time. This is my senior year and I have to go out with a bang. I want to leave a winner," said Boyd.

With his aggressive style of play, Boyd has made a winner of himself and a believer of those who thought he may have been too small for college football. He has added 35 pounds to his 5-6 frame since his arrival four years ago and he's not afraid to knock heads. He has proven himself as a double threat — he can hurt you as a runner or a receiver.

"I try to hit them (defensive players) as hard as they hit me. I try to give as much punishment as I receive. That establishes respect for me and also protects me. You just have to concentrate on playing hard," Boyd said.

"I'm a running back. It's good that I can contribute as a pass receiver, but I'd like to get my rushing yards up this year. I'd rather run the ball," he added.

Whether he is running the football or catching it this fall, Boyd knows the Panthers will have a good season. The fact that they face their toughest schedule ever doesn't bother him.

"Each year, our team gets better and better. The players are more experienced than they were last year, both offensively and defensively. That's nothing but an asset," said Boyd. "Coach Mudra (Darrell) has put forth the comment that this is the best team ever at UNI and it is. It goes back to having a boxer's attitude. You can't be afraid. You have to have that kind of attitude."

Said Mudra of his star back, "He can do it all. He's a great runner, blocker and pass receiver. He's bright. He picked up our system quickly and he's an exceptional student and player. A can't miss guy."
Mark Hanssen

By Dan McCool

Mark Hanssen figures he'll be enjoying the best year of his collegiate life this fall. His job as center on Northern Iowa's football team is secure, he appears to be a shoo-in as the No. 1 Gateway Conference center, his chances at a pro football tryout appear better-than-average — and he has assistant coach Walt Klinker off his back.

Klinker is UNI's offensive coordinator and his main duties lie with the offensive line. During practice, Klinker's disposition might rival that of a drill sergeant but he says the constant barking remains because he tries to dig a little more good out of his players.

Some players would rather switch than fight but those who do stay around often play frontrunners on what has become one of the most explosive offensive units among Division I-AA programs.

In the case of Hanssen, sticking it out worked. The only problem was that Hanssen never had a chance to be yelled at during a redshirt season. When Hanssen came to UNI in 1984, he immediately saw varsity action, spelling veteran Jeff Melchert. He learned under fire and Klinker was there to judge Hanssen's every move and critique it with the eye of an experienced veteran.

Hanssen doesn't regret not having a redshirt year. "It was really good for me. Redshirt time is o.k. if you've got a long way to go before you're going to play.

"I was still green but I got the experience right away. I had to learn a lot and that year of learning a lot is what made me progress a lot faster," Hanssen said.

Hanssen also credits Klinker's persistent badgering with helping him improve. "He rode me while I was a freshman but that's what probably made me better, sticking it out through that," he said.

To fully appreciate what a steady diet of barbells have done, see Hanssen in a pair of shorts and a muscle shirt. He can bench press over 500 pounds and squat over 700 pounds but one wonders where he'll stuff any more muscles if he keeps it up. All that bulk paired with his football weaponry provides a wedge that opposing linemen rarely drive past.

About his dream of a pro career, Hanssen may have an edge on some draft picks with the fact that he enters his fourth season of competition without any serious injuries. The only things ailing Hanssen these days are a pair of shoulders that are showing the wear and tear of his occupation. They keep him from throwing a baseball around without pain and sometimes bother him during weight training, but he said the pain diminishes when the game starts.

With the graduation of Western Illinois center Frank Winters, who had been the Gateway's first-team center in each of the past two seasons, Hanssen seems to be the next No. 1 center. "I definitely want to be the best center in the conference and, hopefully, one of the best in the country," Hanssen said.

Hanssen doesn't mince words in his wishes for a national championship in his final season. He said this year's Panther squad may have more talent than the 1985 team that was a Division I-AA semifinalist, but it lacks the size.

"I think we've got the whole offense back, got a lot of experience, got a lot of confidence built in players that never played before that had to step in. I think we've got all the talent in the world, we just have to put it together," Hanssen said.

And the pros? "That's my ultimate goal. I really want to make it and prove to a lot of people who said I was too small wrong," Hanssen said.
Mike Smith

By Don Kruse

Size, or a lack of it, would seem to be against Mike Smith. But it has never stood in the way of his play on the athletic field.

Small means nothing to the University of Northern Iowa quarterback, who admits that even in shoes he's a quarter-inch shorter than his listed height of 5-10.

UNI quarterback coach Mike Allen looks at Smith and marvels at how he gets the job done.

"He's too short, but his knowledge, quick feet, and release overcome his lack of size."

Fact is, Smitty has always assumed big roles. While competing at Wakulla County High School in Crawfordville, FL, the school's football team won the state championship two of the three years he played, and Smith was named an all-stater. In baseball, he was a shortstop with good skills as a fielder and hitter, and passed up college baseball offers to play football.

While he's always been the shortest kid at any level he's played, Smith has never looked at his size as being a drawback to athletics.

"When you're a kid you just go out and play because it's fun. I've always liked football. The love of the sport has probably gotten me as far as anything."

But over the years, somebody must have told him that he was too small.

"Yeah, but it really hasn't bothered me that much, and I think I've proved that I have been playing football since fourth grade, and I've been pretty competitive."

Smith has put impressive numbers on the board his first two seasons as the Panthers' starting signal-caller. In his first year as a sophomore, he guided UNI to an 11-2 season, which ended with a 40-33 loss to eventual champion Georgia Southern in the NCAA I-AA national semifinals.

So good was Smith's rookie season that the Gateway Conference named him Offensive Player of the Year despite being the second-team quarterback behind Eastern Illinois All-American Sean Payton.

Smith had passed for close to 3,000 yards and 18 touchdowns, finishing sixth in the nation in passing efficiency. It was his magic that blended with the returning talent of a 9-2 team the year before and made it a national contender.

Coach Darrell Mudra's program at UNI was already starting to take hold, but it shifted into high gear the first time Smith grabbed the reins.

Mudra lived in the same Florida community 25 miles south of Tallahassee when Smith was playing Pop Warner Football as a seventh-grader. He had watched Smith quarterback a Pee Wee league team the year he was out of coaching, in 1976 between stints at Florida State and Eastern Illinois.

Mudra followed Smith's progress as a prep quarterback, and when it came to weighing all the offers, Smith selected Northern Iowa over Valdosta State, the University of Central Florida and Troy State of Alabama. He couldn't be persuaded by an invitation from Coach Bobby Bowden to walk on at Florida State. Besides, he had visited the Cedar Falls campus and liked the program and UNI-Dome.

When he arrived at Northern Iowa, baseball was the first sport he played. In his freshman year he lettered as a shortstop and batted .289 while taking his redshirt year in football.

"I made it clear that if I decided to accept a football scholarship, I wanted to be able to participate in baseball. Not that I didn't trust them. Coach Mudra understood my feelings. He wanted me to play baseball. He is a very Democratic coach."

When Northern Iowa finished the 1986 season with a 7-3-1 record, Smith knew there was something missing. Like the rest of the squad, he wanted to win the Gateway Conference championship again and return to the NCAA I-AAA playoffs.

Even though he passed for a school-record 3,125 yards, set another mark for touchdown passes (27) in a season and led the nation in passing efficiency, Smith finished in the shadow of Eastern Illinois' Payton again.

But now that Payton is gone and it would seem that Smith would vault to the top as the league's premier quarterback, he doesn't talk about personal gains.

"I'd love to win the national championship. We have the talent, we have the coaches and we have the schedule."

Ah yes, the schedule. In a year when the Panthers open up with road games at McNeese State and Minnesota, then travel to Ames for a mid-season clash with Iowa State of the Big Eight, Smith is talking about winning a national championship.

Maybe it is typical of the way he plays the game. He certainly has no fears, and Mudra has always recognized that quality in his quarterback.

"Mike's very bright. He has great determination and a marvelous attitude. He really likes to play the game. He's a real catalyst for us and has the potential to help us win a national championship."

In working with the quarterbacks, Coach Allen gets a feel for how the game is called on offense, and he says Smith has traits that every coach looks for.

"Mike is a winner. He has that competitive nature. He possesses uncanny ability to make things happen."

Smith has outgrown some of those little superstitions he had in high school, one being that everyone on the team would step on the 50-yard line before each home game. That was the spot where before the season they would bury a dime. It was for good luck.

Now that he's down to his last challenge — the final season of his collegiate football career, you can bet Smith will play it with the same enthusiasm that's earned him respect as a quarterback with leadership and desire. He's still a little scrapper who has been a tower of strength for the UNI football team.

Coach Allen: "With Mike's (Smith) injury in the spring, Kevin had the opportunity to work with the no. 1 unit a lot, which was very beneficial to him. He was able to develop his timing to a higher degree. The only thing separating him from Mike is Mike's ability to stay away from the rush and his game experience. Their knowledge and personal talent are very similar. Kevin has developed into an excellent coach on the field with what he knows and helps Mike on the sidelines."

1987 Outlook

First year head coach Sonny Jackson says McNeese’s “kicking game and our defense” will have to carry the Cowboys. Jackson, who took Nicholls State to a 10-3 overall mark enroute to a 1-AA playoff spot and a national ranking, is bringing a new offense and defense to McNeese. He has 40 lettermen with which to form a nucleus. Two key members of that group are quarterback Scott Dieterich and running back Tony Citizen. Dieterich rewrote all of McNeese’s passing records as a freshman, while Citizen rushed for 1,088 yards, ranking 11th in the nation. He ripped off 302 yards against Prairie View. Defensively, the Cowboys will go with three down linemen, four linebackers and four defensive backs. Frontliners are tackle Gary Irvin, linebacker Bradley Zaunbrecher, tackle James McGuane, linebackers Randy Moss and John Moss and safety Berwick Davenport. Expected to make a big impact in the secondary are Navarro Junior College transfers Daniel Cline and Charles Mayberry. Both placekicker Lance Wiley and punter Mike Hollerman return. Wiley led the team in scoring.

1987 Outlook

John Gutekunst, now in his second full season as head coach, looks for continued improvement in 1987 with a team built around 41 lettermen and more than a dozen promising red-shirts. The key to Minnesota’s success in ’87 will hinge on its one-two offensive punch provided by senior quarterback Rickey Foggie (led Minnesota in total offense last three years) and tailback Darrell Thompson who was tabbed as the nation’s top freshman running back a year ago while gaining all-conference honors. Kicker Chip Lohmiller, another all-conference pick and one of the nation’s best, also will play a key role. Up front, the big man offensively is senior guard Troy Walkow, a 6-4, 288 pound three-year starter. Defensively, Minnesota will build around Doug Mueller and Gary Hadd, a pair of interior linemen back to handle the kickoff, point-after and field goal chores. The same holds true in the punting department where Brent Herbel (40.5 avg.) also returns.

1987 Outlook

First-year head coach Earle Solomonson welcomed back 34 lettermen to spring drills, including 20 on defense (eight starters) and 14 on offense (four starters). Solomonson led North Dakota State to two straight Division II championships before being named at MSU last December. Heading the list of returnees on defense are senior ILB Ken Lang and junior FS Bob Kimball. Lang has been the Bobcats' leading tackler the past two seasons with a team-high 137 stops in '86. Kimball had 91 total tackles last season as well as a team-high five interceptions. Other lettermen back on defense with starting experience include ILB Ron Henson, DT Tom Jacobs, DB Shane Quilling, SS Rob Pouliot, CB Kevin Kirwin, OL Matt Micklewright, NG Kevin Wolf, DT Kip Halvorsen, OL Mark D'Agostino and CB Mark Rinehart. Other top returners on offense include FB Tim Peterson, MSU's leading rusher with 430 yards), TE Marc Paffhausen, OT Bob Kowalski, QB Shaun Shahan and WR Pat Bergman.

1987 Outlook

Eighth-year head coach Dennis Raetz must find replacements for nine graduated starters, but he welcomes back 34 lettermen, including seven offensive and six defensive starters. All the top receivers are back, top three quarterbacks and most of the offensive linemen. Defensively, he lost the top two inside linebackers, the starting nose guard, a starting defensive end and a starting cornerback. Junior quarterback Kyle Frondorf threw for the second highest single-season yardage total in school history (1,962 yards) last year. Leading the receiving corps is senior Gary Cannon (43 catches for 631 yards). Two seniors are expected to be the tight ends. ISU also returns center Mark Blakey, guards Mike Miller, Mike Edwards and Mike Nace and tackles Pete Endre and Stu Sevald. Senior Charles Walls is the top returning rusher (372 yards) but the starting tailback and fullback both are gone. Place-kicking duties will be handled by senior Corey Potter. Gone are inside linebackers who were the two leading tacklers last year, but three-fourths of the secondary is back, as are two tackles.

1987 Outlook
Second-year head coach Don Read welcomed back 17 starters, nine from defense, to spring drills. Not included in those 17 is quarterback Brent Pease who set numerous single season marks with 3,096 yards and 30 touchdowns passing. He helped make Montana the second ranked team in IAA in passing, averaging 312.2 yards a game, and the Grizz were eighth in overall offense with 293.3 yards a game. Montana also was second in the country in turnover margin and had 22 interceptions and recovered 15 fumbles. The defense is led by the return of end Pat Foster and All-American Tony Breland in the secondary. The entire defensive front is back, along with the four starting defensive backs. All-American candidate Larry Clarkson (6-8, 308 pounds) anchors the line. UM's All-American receiver (1,046 yards, 13 TDs) is gone, but speedy honors candidate Tony Lambert is back. Running backs Mike Ehlers and Jody Farmer also return. The offensive line is a strong area with experience and talent.

1987 Outlook
Seniors Dennis Ross and Tom Schulting both drew starting duty last season at receiver and provide ISU with big-play potential. Ross was the second-leading receiver with 23 for 312 yards. The Cyclones go four-deep at tight end with returning starter Tom Stawniak heading the list. Offensive tackle Keith Sims is the only returning starter in the line. The other three spots are up for grabs. Junior Derek DeGennaro, a 1986 redshirt, and senior Brett Sadek are the frontrunners for quarterback. Fullback Joe Henderson returns as a starter, while the tailback is gone. Returning starting defensive ends, Scott Benson and Robert Dabney, make this position a strength. ISU lost a pair of two-year starting defensive tackles, where senior Ken Sandbloom and sophomore Randy Bern are preseason favorites. Senior Chris Moore should challenge for national honors at linebacker. Last year, he led the conference with 145 tackles. ISU lost nearly everyone in the 1986 final two-deep defensive backfield. Redshirt freshman Jeff Shudek probably will handle the kicking chores and may be looked at as a punter.

1987 Outlook

The spring season saw the return of 28 lettermen, including six offensive starters, but only two regulars (includes two part-time 1986 starters) from the defensive side of the football. Nearly everyone along the offensive line is back, along with the backfield and quarterback. Only a void at both wide receiver spots must be filled. It’s a different story on defense where nearly every position must be filled with new personnel. The triggerman, QB Paul Singer, returns as a junior with 2,703 career yards. Veteran QB Rick Fahnstock is also back for his senior year — he’s passed for 2,310 yards. Singer will have one of the biggest offensive lines in the nation in front of him, averaging nearly 278 pounds, led by veterans Keith Blue at guard, center Mike Morrison, converted from tackle, and tackles Russ Bal and John Wisnosky. Tailback Mike Cox was the leading rusher last year with 574 yards. Dave Emond was the top scorer last year with 40 points and 30 consecutive PATs. Punter Mike Krause resumes his duties. Only senior tackle Rick Renner is the fulltime regular back on defense.

1987 Outlook

For the first time in four years the Panthers will not have Sean Payton and Roy Banks playing pitch and catch and for the third time in this decade there will be a new coach, Bob Spo0. Five returning starters on offense and three on defense most likely will be responsible for 1987 as EIU sets its sights on a 10th straight winning season. It was ranked third in the '86 final poll. The defense suffered a setback in the spring when AP and Football News HM All-American defensive end John Jurkovic underwent knee surgery and is lost for the year. He had 13 QB sacks and 14 more tackles for loss. The only returning defensive starters are corner Rod Reynolds, linemen Carl Parker and ILB Jeff Mills. Running back James Marable (112.7 all-purpose yards/game) leads the offense. Sean O'Brien and Jim Mitelf return for their third year on the offensive line as is Mark Peterson. Tight end Derick Wilhelms is the leading pass catcher back with 18 for 343 yards. Placekicker Rich Ehmke, who defeated UNI in the last second on a 58 yard FG, also returns. Critical areas are wide receiver and the secondary. Four quarterbacks are vying to replace Payton.

1987 Outlook
The triggermen for the Bear attack from the quarterback spot will continue to be David Johnson and Daryl Patton, both sophomores. At running back, seniors Ryan Jackson and Elijah Dukes will again be leading the way. Cedric Carswell is back as the other halfback starter. Tony Gilbert last year became the first freshman since 1976 to lead SMSU in rushing. Senior Bill Norton is back for another year at tight end while Ray Ratcliff had a good spring at split end ahead of a large group of hopefuls. The offensive line last year had to largely be rebuilt and coach Jesse Branch is hopeful the increased size and strength here will eventually make the difference. Defensively, Branch foresees Tim Gray and Preston Estes anchoring the line for interior players Tim Cooke, Jeff Kleitz Ed Torano and Joe Lisanti. Standout defensive back Ken Braden and Matt Soraghan again lead the way. Branch feels the success of transition by Bobby Eden from halfback to free safety will prove to be a bright spot while Bret Aagius is coming off a knee injury at that spot. Dempster Jackson has been shifted to the corner, while Craig Phillips and Greg Erb are experienced at these spots.

1987 Outlook
An abundance of returning lettermen just completed the most satisfying spring under Coach Ray Dorr since he's been coach. Eight starters, led by Ezell Shelton and Brad Crouse, key a strong defense that allowed only 120 yards on the ground per game last year. That defense directly led to conference wins over Northern Iowa and Illinois State last season and it may be called upon to do so again. Offensively, QB Kevin Brown returns after missing all but three games in '86, as does RB Byron Mitchell, who missed the entire season. The offensive output of the Salukis, if it is to be an explosive one, will hinge on the health of these two players. Pat King is a suitable replacement for Brown and Paul Patterson, who returned two kickoffs for touchdowns last season, has been switched to running back. He'll run behind massive 6-8, 275-pound Dave Smith.

1987 Outlook

Eight returning starters on both offense and defense give ISU a solid basis of experience. The defensive front figures to be strong once again despite the loss of four-year starter Brian Gant, who led the team in tackles two years. The line is led by HM I-AA All-American John Kropke who had 12 sacks. He is joined by seniors John Jurkus, John Juhler and Barry Moton, plus junior Rich Zukowski. Quarterback-turned linebacker Greg Peeler has won a starting spot on defense and will be joined by junior Brett Brindley, who transferred from Drake last year. Junior safety Jeff Smith has 12 career interceptions. Another two-year starter, corner- back Gary Conley, is back but Coach Bob Otolski still is looking for a strong safety and starting corner. Redshirt freshman Vic Northern should play at fullback and will be joined by tailbacks Henry Waters and Michael Moore if they can come back from spring injuries. Otolski was happy with the progress of quarterback Pat Williams and the offense has a trio of wide receivers who combined for 857 yards. The starting line is back from tackle to tackle.

From the Coach’s Chair — A Preview of 1987

After reading the preseason reports and viewing films, here is how Darrell Mudra views his team's 11 1987 opponents.

McNeese State: McNeese State will be the most important test for us. It had outstanding talent last year but was very young. It will have a new staff in the fall that is expected to do great things. I think it will be one of our hardest games. We have to play away from home and it will probably be very hot and humid. We're not going into it as a do-or-die game, we just hope we can play well.

Minnesota: Minnesota expects to be a contender in the Big 10 this year. It has a Heisman Trophy candidate in its running back and the quarterback is now a senior who has taken it to a bowl game. Minnesota obviously has many more resources than we. We might be asking a lot of our kids, but, hopefully, we'll learn from our competition and it will help us to compete better at the IAA level.

Montana State: This is a team we'll be keying up for after it helped to knock us out of the playoffs last year. We were terribly disappointed with that game and we hope to retaliate. There will not be a single game that we'll go into with anymore enthusiasm. It's a very important intersectional IAA game.

Indiana State: Indiana State may be the most improved team in our league. It always is one of the most solid, physical teams. It has had big-time aspirations and so the team can be kind of a cut above the other teams at our level. It's also our first conference test. It's an important game for us.

Montana: We don't know much about Montana except it plays in a really good league and I expect them to be very competitive. The Big Sky annually sends two teams to the playoffs and Montana could be one of them. We saw film on it last year. We're glad to be playing it at home.

Iowa State: We hope after having beaten Kansas State twice, moving up into the next level of Big Eight competition, we'll still be able to compete. ISU will be in kind of a transition year, so this might be a good time to play it. It's an important game for us because if we play well and can be competitive, it may encourage them to keep us on their schedule. We don't expect this game, or the Minnesota game, for that matter, to hurt us, although depth could be a factor. They'll have a few more quality players because of the number of scholarships allowed.

Western Illinois: Western is somewhat of an unknown this year because they graduated a lot of players, but the staff did an excellent job of recruiting. They have one of the best teams in the Big 10. It's their conference opener and we're not very confident.
Eastern Illinois: We felt we played one of our best games last year at Eastern, that we outcoached Eastern, but still got beat. It’s another team hard to predict because of new staff and it will have a lot of new players.

Southwest Missouri State: It should really be improved and it is another important game for us. We’re pleased we’ll get to play on their new astroturf. They are without question a good, solid coaching staff and it will be a new challenge with the wishbone offense.

Southern Illinois: We’ve never beaten Southern and we would like to try to change that. It is a good, solid team which narrowly missed the playoffs last year. We thought they were lucky to beat us last year. We’re anxious to get them back home.

Illinois State: Illinois State could be the most solid team we’ll play and, hopefully, we’ll be playing it for the championship and an automatic bid to the playoffs. It has the best talent, particularly on defense where it didn’t lose very much. It should be one of the better teams in the conference.

The Panthers continued their virtual domination of the Eastern Illinois Rich. Ekmeke kicked a 58 yard field goal with the wind with time expiring on the clock to take the win away from UNI, a win that had seemed almost assured earlier in the game. The first half ended in a scoreless tie with each team trading penalties to thwart drives. UNI missed a 45 yard field goal kicked into the wind at the end of the first quarter. UNI led 2-0 at the half, while MSU was intercepted on the UNI 27, but less than a minute later, UNI's Art Stelken recovered an EIU fumble on the 22. With 1:25 left, Smith tossed a 22 yard TD pass to Scott Francke, pulling, UNI to within five at 28-23, and an onside kick recovered by Pat Williams gave UNI a 35-28 win on Eastern's 39. That led to the Panthers' last TD and the field goal by Ekmeke which tied the 1AA record and set a new conference mark. UNI had a 56:23 to 23:31 possession advantage. Smith completed 20 of 37 passes. Errol Peebles carried the ball 22 times for 81 yards. Sherrod Howard led all receivers with five catches for 88 yards, while Francke had six catches for 72 yards. The Gateway Conference

In the late 1970's and early 1980's, a need arose for conferences to represent collegiate women's athletics. The cause of the need was the decline of the Association for Intercollegiate Athletics for Women (AIAW) and the increased role of the National Collegiate Athletic Association (NCAA) in women's sports.

During this period of transition, some midwestern universities with similar academic and athletic interests bound together in 1982 to form the Gateway Conference.

In August, 1982, the NCAA officially recognized the conference and in September, Patty Viverito was named the first commissioner. Before moving to its permanent headquarters in St. Louis, the Gateway spent three organizational months on the campus of Eastern Illinois University.

Gateway Conference Personnel

Patty Viverito, Commissioner

Entering her sixth year as the Gateway's first and only commissioner, Patty Viverito is the first woman commissioner to oversee a conference associated with men's athletics. Selected following a nationwide search in September, 1982, the 35-year-old Chicago native has a wide and varied background in athletic marketing and administration. Formerly an account executive for the Tidewater Tides International League baseball team, Viverito served as Special Project Director at the University of Texas, 1979-81. As such, she coordinated activities for the Longhorn women's program in promotion, sports information, fundraising and event management areas.

The former marketing representative for Procter and Gamble received her bachelor's degree in marketing from Northern Illinois University and her master's degree, with honors, in sports management from the University of Massachusetts.

Patty is married to Frank Viverito, Supervisor of Marketing and Promotions for Busch Stadium in St. Louis.

Jim Sheehan

Assistant Commissioner

The newest member of the Gateway Conference staff is Jim Sheehan, who became conference Information Director in August, 1985, and who was promoted to assistant commissioner this past year. Sheehan joined the Gateway following a nine-month stint as Coordinator of Media Information for the Houston Gamblers of the United States Football League.

Prior to working for the Gamblers, Sheehan served as Sports Information Director at the University of Tampa from August, 1982, through October, 1984. In addition, he has also served, from January, 1980, through October, 1984, as Information Director for the Florida-based Sunshine State Conference.

Sheehan has been cited several times for publication excellence by the College Sports Information Directors of America (CoSIDA). He is a 1982 graduate of Biscayne College's sports administration program. Jim is married to the former Maureen Barrett of Queens, NY.
Northern Iowa Post-Season Appearances

1985 NCAA 1-AA Quarterfinals
Cedar Falls, IA — Northern Iowa advanced to the 1-AA semifinals by knocking off Eastern Washington in the quarterfinal round, 17-14, in the Panthers’ first postseason game since 1975. UNI took a 10-0 first quarter lead on a 32 yard field goal by Kevin Mote and a 13 yard pass from Mike Smith to Brian Baker, who later broke his hand in the second quarter. The Panthers had a 17-0 halftime advantage after Carl Boyd scored on a seven yard run.

The Eagles got as far as their own 44 touchdown with 12:47 remaining in the contest at the 2:44 mark. However, Northern Iowa struggled with Western Kentucky in heavy rain and 42-degree temperatures and a 16 mph wind in the last game to be played in O.R. Latham Stadium. The Hilltoppers won the first round of the NCAA II playoffs 14-12.

The Panthers were 9-2 for the season and tied for the North Central title.

1960 Mineral Water Bowl
Excelsior Springs, MO — Northern Iowa ran into a bulldozer from Hillsdale College (Michigan) which won the contest 17-6.

The Panthers never really got going after finishing the 1960 season with a fine 9-0 record and winning the North Central Conference.

This game marked the first time in history UNI (then Iowa State Teachers College) played in a bowl contest.

In the Pros

Steve Wright, Tackle, Los Angeles Raiders
Despite an abundance of offensive line talent, the Dallas Cowboys signed Wright as a free agent in 1981. His first year he played in all 16 games and in 1982 was switched to a backup guard position. In 1983, he was traded to the Baltimore Colts and became their starting right guard but was slowed by an ankle injury. In 1984, he played in 12 games with the Colts, starting in nine of them. He signed with the Panthers on December 11, 1984, with his contract assigned to the Invaders following consolidation. Just this spring, he was picked up by the Los Angeles Raiders. Wright was a four-year letterman at UNI, playing offensive tackle his first three seasons and then was switched to tight end as a senior.

Bill Bealles, Offensive Guard, New Orleans Saints
A two-year starter for the Panthers, Bealles signed a free agent contract in 1986. A two-time All-Conference pick, he was named UNI’s Most Outstanding Offensive Lineman. He was a transfer from Northern Illinois.

Joe Fuller, Defensive Back, Saskatchewan Rough Riders
Without waiting for the NFL draft, Fuller, a 1985 Kodak and Football News first team All-American, signed with the Saskatchewan Rough Riders of the Canadian Football League. Fuller played four years for the Panthers. He led the nation in 1983 in punt returns and was a first team All-Conference pick two years.

Origin of a Nickname
It was 1931. The Northern Iowan was the College Eye. Cheerleaders were men and the UNI Panthers were known as the Iowa State Teachers College Tutors. But in the fall of that year, a contest was sponsored by the College Eye and the Men’s Physical Education Department to change the name of the school’s athletic teams. It was the “Purple Panthers,” submitted by Burl Berry of Wellman, IA, that caught the College’s eye and that’s the name that has guided UNI teams for the last half-century. Berry, who also happened to be that season’s football MVP selectee, won a briefcase from Berg Drug Co. The second place winner received an alarm clock. It also is known that the name which took third place was the “Purple Grackles,” a name submitted by students living in the same rooming house.

The NCAA 1-AA Playoffs
The NCAA 1-AA championship playoff system is in its 10th year with around 90 teams from four regions competing for the national championship. The tournament was expanded from eight to 12 teams qualifying in 1982 and to 16 teams in 1986, with seven conference champs from the Big Sky, Ohio Valley, Southern, Southland, Southwestern Athletic, Gateway and Yankee Conferences receiving automatic berths. Northern Iowa’s Gateway Conference, the newest league, became eligible in 1986. The top four teams generally receive first round byes. The top two independent teams receive berths and the remaining teams are selected at large by a committee.

The Panthers compete in the Central Region and received a first round bye in 1985 with its no. 4 ranking in the final 1-AA poll. The Ohio Valley Conference, along with UNI, Eastern Illinois, Illinois State, Indiana State, Southern Illinois, Southwest Missouri State, Tennessee State, Western Illinois and Western Kentucky, are assigned to this region.
