384 Get Degrees, Diplomas At Spring Commencement

The largest graduating class in the history of the college received degrees and diplomas at the 72nd annual spring commencement Monday morning, May 23.

A total of 384 students marched in colorful academic procession from the Campnile to the Men's gymnasium with more than 200 faculty members.

Due to the large size of the graduating class, there was no commencement speaker this year. President Malcolm Price presented the degrees, certificates and awards to the candidates. Of the graduates, 252 received bachelor of arts degrees, 63 two-year (Continued on page five)

The Alumnus

Volume 33 July, 1949 Number 3

The Alumnus is entered as second class matter at the post office in Cedar Falls, Iowa, under the act of August 24, 1912. Authority granted January 27, 1930. It is published and distributed quarterly in January, April, July, and October, by the Iowa State Teachers College.

The Alumnus is mailed without charge to 18,600 alumni. As second class matter it is not forwardable without extra cost. Editorial and technical duties are handled by the Bureau of Publications.

406 Attend 66th Annual Reunion

Class of '99 Receive 50-Year Citations

Four hundred six alumni, faculty and guests attended the annual alumni reunion luncheon and program Sunday, May 22, in the Commons. Although alumni living in Iowa and surrounding states made up the majority of those attending, several came from as far as Washington, Texas, Idaho and Colorado.

Nineteen members of the “Golden Anniversary” class returned to receive their 50-year medals. A. C. Fuller, director of the alumni service, read the brief personal citations and President Malcolm Price presented the medals.

Dr. Price also presented Mr. Fuller, M.Did. ’99, with a medal initiating him into the Half-Century club also. Dave McCuskey, B.S. ’30, read the special citation written by Dr. Price for Mr. Fuller who has been director of the alumni bureau since 1934.

Minnesingers Meet, Honor Director Hays

Highlight of the luncheon program was the formal and impromptu singing furnished by 44 former members of the Minnesingers men’s glee club. The reunion of this group was in honor of William E. Hays, B.Did. ’12, who reorganized and directed the club from 1921 to 1940. Mr. Hays retired from his instructing last summer after 27 years of service with the college.

With Mr. Hays directing and Roy Collins, 2-yr. ’24 and B.A. ’46, accompanying, the Minnesingers sang “Comrades in Arms”, “Auld Lang Syne” and “Italian Street Song”. Mrs. Genevieve Hays Erickson, B.A. ’26, professor of voice at Evansville, Ind., and daughter of Mr. Hays, sang the solo part to the last number.

Mr. Collins, supervisor of music at Pueblo, Colo., also attended commencement exercises Monday to see his daughter, Lu VInna Marie, receive her diploma.

Dr. Minard Stout, B.A. ’29, associate professor and principal of the University high school at the University of Minnesota, presented Mr. Hays a large spring tilting rocker chair, with foot divan, in behalf of the Minnesingers. Mrs. Hays was given a spray of pink roses.

65 of 1924 Class Return for Reunion

The class of 1924 held their special class session on the mezzanine floor of the Commons. Sixty-five members returned for their 25th reunion.

The earliest class represented was the class of 1894. Three members returned: Matilda Wild and Lucy Spicer, both of Cedar Falls, and Harlin Hollis of Hudson, Iowa.

Baccalaureate speaker, Dr. Joseph Sittler, told the graduates "there's no place for the college graduate of today to hide from the awful problems that confront the world."

"We are caught in the sheer dynamism of history which cannot be stopped, and we must not become neutral spectators, leading a life of non-involvement of sophisticated disengagement. Yield not to the temptation to withdraw from the problems of life," Dr. Sittler, professor of systematic theology at the Chicago Lutheran Theological seminary, implored.

A change in the status of Dr. E. C. Denny, head of the department of education, and the retirement of Dr. William H. Kadesch, professor of physics, both longtime members of the Teachers College faculty, were announced this spring by President Malcolm Price.

Dr. Denny will relinquish his position as head of the department of education at his own request so that he may devote more time to teaching. He will resume his former status as professor of education.

The retirement of Dr. Kadesch, who has served the college for 31 years, will also be-

Dr. Denny received his B.A. from the University of Indiana, M.A. from the University of Chicago and Ph.D. from the University of Iowa. He came to Teachers College as assistant professor of education in 1923 and was appointed head of the department in 1934.

College Allotted $1,239,000
For Capital Improvements

An appropriation of $1,239,000 for capital improvements at Teachers College for the next two years has been approved by the 53rd Iowa general assembly.

The projects for which these funds were requested are as follows: improvements to the heating plant, $607,000; new heating tunnel extensions, $132,000, and building of the second unit of the proposed new Campus School, $500,000.

In explanation of the appropriations, President Price said that the present heating plant at the college is barely adequate to carry the heating load of the campus.

"There is no reserve capacity in case any one of the boilers fails," he said, "and the present facilities would be unable to carry the load of the proposed new buildings to be built on campus. The appropriation of $607,000 will permit additional capacities sufficient to carry the load in the immediate future."

If they were laid one on top of the other, a stack nearly four miles high could be made of the 120,000 library books which were moved by students and faculty members during a single week in April.

Working 40 to each hour-long "shift" during the week, the movers transported some 15,000 books and periodicals from the second floor to the first and 20,000 books from the first to the second floor.

They also moved 85,000 volumes within the balcony stacks, shifting classified sections from one part of the stacks to another.

Over a thousand students and faculty members volunteered to carry books when the library sent out its request for help, while faculty women and wives offered to serve coffee and doughnuts to the movers at the end of each hour.

Alumni will remember that the library has long been cramped for shelf space, even though material has been constantly weeded out in order to maintain an active collection. But with the increased enrollment of the last few years the time finally came when more space had to be found.

It was finally decided to make use of the east side of the ground-floor "lobby" as a place in which to keep current and recent copies of magazines. Older, bound copies of the periodicals were to be moved downstairs also and put in new stacks in the west rooms formerly used to house special collections.

The problem of moving so many books, installing new stacks and rearranging the regular stacks was an immense one, but to attempt to do all this without disrupting library service to 3,000 students seemed almost impossible.

After various plans were suggested and discarded, it was finally decided to ask the entire student body to help with the task.

The campus chapter of Alpha Phi Omega, national service fraternity, volunteered to recruit the helpers, and letters were sent out to the presidents of more than 100 student organizations.

One of the benefits of the whole project and one which hadn't been previously anticipated, is that students and faculty have become better acquainted with the library and those mysterious sections, "the stacks," Librarians say that all who helped in the moving are now much more "at home" in the library and are making better use of its facilities.

Home Ec Teachers Learn New Methods in Workshops

This summer elementary and secondary home economics teachers are learning new approaches and new methods of teaching home economics through a series of special homemaking workshops being offered at Teachers College.

The five two-week periods are under the direction of Lela Mae Ping, assistant professor of home economics at the college. A teacher may enroll in any one or all of the workshop series and will receive three hours of undergraduate credit for each workshop.

Classes in clothing construction techniques and school lunch supervision have already closed. On July 5 the class in organization of adult education classes in homemaking begins. The two remaining courses to be given are teaching family relationships in elementary and high schools, which will begin July 18, and planning and organizing home economics departments to meet the needs of the community, August 1.

College Holds Branch School at Shenandoah

The twelve-week branch summer school is being held this year at Shenandoah with Dr. Daryl Pendergraft of the college social science department again acting as director. Classes began June 1 and will close August 19.

In view of a great need for elementary teachers, all the required courses under the new two-year standard elementary curriculum, with the exception of observation and practice teaching are being offered this year.

The staff for the Shenandoah school includes seven members of the Teachers College faculty and three visiting instructors. The instructors and their subjects are as follows: Alta Wilmarth and Irwin Ramsay, education and psychology courses; Lucille Anderson and Dr. Pendergraft, social science courses; Karl M. Holvik, music director; Grace Van Ness, physical education, and Emma Opfer, mathematics and earth science.

The visiting instructors are Ruth Simmons, elementary art supervisor at South Bend, Ind., who is directing the art program; Herman Nelson of Burlington high school and junior college who is teaching science, and Jack H. Lamb of the University of Iowa who is teaching English and speech.

Baker Hall Wins First Sing

Voices of college students blending in music under the stars were heard May 6 during the first annual All-Campus Sing, held on Bartlett hall's Rose lounge steps.

Nine student ensembles contributed vocal selections to this first Sing, sponsored by campus chapters of two national music fraternities, Phi Mu Alpha Sinfonia and Sigma Alpha Iota.

Baker hall's 12 singers captured the gold and ivory travelling cup by being adjudged the best entry. They will retain the trophy until next year's Sing.

Fraternities, sororities, dormitories, clubs and interest groups presented a wide variety of songs, among them being "Sweet and Lovely", "Strange Music", "May Day Carol" and "Summertime."

Entries were judged by Jane Mauck, instructor in voice, Herbert V. Hake, radio program director, and William E. Hayes, associate professor of voice, emeritus.

Sporting the national AAU wrestling team title are the five Panther individual AAU champions and Coach Dave McCuskey. They are Russ Bush, Bill Smith, Coach McCuskey, John Harrison, Keith Young and Bill Nelson. The wrestlers lead Panther athletic teams to the greatest year in the school's history.

Panthers Sweep Titles

Panther athletic teams captured just about every honor within their grasp in the 1948-49 season. They won 58 out of 77 contests to overcome the previous record of 55 set last year. The Panthers won .735 of their games.

In the North Central conference, the Teachers captured every available title. They won the football, basketball, track and golf crowns. The loop tennis tourney was rained out.

Wrestling reached new heights in 1949. Coach Dave McCuskey's matmen won the state and national AAU laurels and placed second in the national collegiate meet. Three Panther wrestlers captured NCAA crowns, five took national AAU titles and seven walked off with state AAU honors.

The wrestlers chalked up nine victories in dual meets. Panther trackmen were also undefeated. They won six meets. Basketball tallied 16 victories in 22 games, football seven in ten contests, baseball nine in 14, tennis six in seven and golf five out of six meets.

Other highlights of the season:

FOOTBALL

Coach C. L. "Buck" Starbeck's gridders won the conference title for the sixth straight time. Since 1939, no loop foe has beaten the Panthers in 30 games. Against all opposition, the Teachers have played 20 consecutive tilts on their home field without a loss.

Five players won all-conference recognition. They are Paul DeVan, Elvin Goodvin, Jason Loving, Lee Wachenheim and Harvey Wissler. Loving also won honors on AP's Little All-American team and was voted by the loop coaches as the outstanding player in the conference.

off all pursuers to capture the North Central loop crown for the second straight year. Norm Jespersen and Walt Kochneff were named to the all-conference team for the second time.

Despite such tough competition as Nebraska and Kansas State, the cagers won 16 games, more than any previous Panther team. The team broke former school records in field goals, total points and offensive average. Jespersen snapped marks in total points, field goals and offensive average. The Panthers represented Iowa in the NIAB tourney in Kansas for the second successive season.

WRESTLING

Panther matmen who won national collegiate titles are Keith Young at 145, Bill Nelson at 155 and Bill Smith at 165. Russ Bush at 128 and Luverne Klar at 136 each placed third to help the Teachers take second in the team standings.

In the national AAU meet, Young, Nelson and Smith repeated their victories and were joined by John Harrison and Bush. These wins enabled the Teachers to take the team title.

TRACK

Continuing the rapid pace, Coach Art Dickinson's tracksters captured the conference crown in addition to six dual and triangular meets. The Panther thinclads won the state AAU indoor title, placed second in the Midwest relays and made fine showings in three outdoor carnivals. In the 26th Annual Teachers College Relays, they won five firsts to share top honors with Minnesota. They took first place in the Iowa college mile relay at the Drake Relays. The Panthers also took five first places in the Dakota Relays.

Don Green of Ames broke the individual scoring record at the school by running up 92½ points to snap the mark of 88½ set by Ed Herrmann last year. Green missed the conference meet and lost a chance to better his mark. His mates won the loop crown by one-half point.

The Panther team also set a record in point-making, scoring 795 4/15 markers to best the old mark set in 1940. Eight indoor records and four outdoor school marks fell by the wayside while a ninth indoor mark was tied. The 880-yard run time was beaten four times indoors and once on the outdoor track.

BASEBALL

On the diamond front, Coach L. W. "Mun" Whitford's crew won nine of the 14 tough contests on their schedule. Included in the victories were a pair against Minnesota.

George Dorr, senior catcher, was the leading hitter with an average of .371. Pitcher-outfielder Don Dahlke was second with .346. Hurler Jack Demitroff batted .350 but was at the plate only 20 times. Dahlke won six games on the mound and had an earned run average of .90. He drove in ten runs and handled 38 fielding chances without error to lead in those departments.

During 1949 the Panthers played the longest game in the history of the school before winning 4-3 from Minnesota. They had eight consecutive hits against Luther and tallied 21 runs against Illinois Normal to set new marks. Demitroff hurled 20 innings against Minnesota without giving up an earned run. An unearned tally cost him one game against the Gophers after he had beaten them earlier in the season.

GOLF

Panther golfers completed the sweep of conference titles for Teachers College by winning the laurels by ten strokes. During the season, Coach Nordly's linksmen won five out of six dual matches and placed fourth in the Iowa collegiate. Glenn Reed set a new course record of 68 in trials for the conference meet.

TENNIS

Only bad weather kept the Panther tennis team from a chance to give the school five loop crowns in one year. After winning five meets in a row, Coach McCuskey's netsters were conceded a good chance at the conference title. As it was, the Panthers settled for a season of six victories and one defeat.

900 Give $6768 to Chapel Fund

With contributions from nearly 900 alumni, the chapel fund now stands at $6,768.43. This, however, is less than one-tenth of the $70,000 needed to construct the new building.

After a small amount of figuring, we discovered that if the remaining 17,000 alumni who have not as yet contributed to the fund, were to give approximately $3.70 each, this $70,000 goal could be reached. The foundation is begun—let's complete the construction!

The Alumni office recently received a copy of a resolution passed by the Nevada legislature which gives high recognition to Jeanne Elizabeth Wier, B.Di. '03, for her "outstanding services to the state, to science and to humanity." Miss Wier, professor emeritus of history and political science, retired from the post of head of the department of history in the University of Nevada in 1940 at the age of 70. She received the B.A. degree from Stanford University in 1901 and a master's and honorary doctor's degree from the same institution. The LL.D. degree was conferred at the University of Nevada in 1924. With the college flag lowered to half-mast and a special program of chimes on the campanile, Teachers College honored the memory of Roger Leavitt, Cedar Falls, who died April 3.

APPROPRIATIONS

In order to serve the new Campus Laboratory school and other buildings to be built north of the present campus, an extension to the tunnels of the heating system is necessary, President Price said, and $132,000 has been granted for this purpose.

The estimated cost of the entire new Campus School is $1,724,000. Of this amount, there is an unexpended balance in the appropriations of the 52nd general assembly for the first unit of the building to the amount of $724,000. An additional $500,000 will permit the construction of the second unit of the building.

Plans and specifications for these three projects are being developed and it is hoped that actual construction can be started in the late summer or early fall.
Ringing out across the campus again after several years of silence are the famous Westminster chimes of the Alumni Memorial Campanile.

The chimes, which alumni will remember as tolling the hours and quarter hours, have not rung since early in World War II. Electromagnetic coils which activate the bell-striking apparatus went out of order at that time and it has only now become possible to replace them.

Malfunction of the coils, however, has not interfered with playing of tunes on the bells, a custom which has continued as usual. Twice each day a fifteen-minute program is played.

Hundreds of selections may be played on the campanile’s 15 bells which cover a range of nearly two octaves. Such a range and variety of songs can rarely be played on a set of chimes, since most bell towers contain fewer than 15 bells.

Building of the Alumni Memorial Campanile was made possible by funds subscribed by graduates, former students, faculty members and friends of the college, prior to its erection in 1926.

Teachers College was chosen from among 300 competitors as permanent home for the famous Fosoldt clock which is installed in the campanile. Built in 1873, the clock was willed to “the institution that could provide the best setting and insure adequate care,” and the judges chose the Alumni Memorial Campanile as meeting these terms.
