April 2019

Letter to the Editor [Ken Weston] 2

Follow this and additional works at: https://scholarworks.uni.edu/postville_documents

Part of the Public Affairs, Public Policy and Public Administration Commons

Let us know how access to this document benefits you

Recommended Citation
https://scholarworks.uni.edu/postville_documents/260

This Document is brought to you for free and open access by the The Postville Project at UNI ScholarWorks. It has been accepted for inclusion in Postville Project Documents by an authorized administrator of UNI ScholarWorks. For more information, please contact scholarworks@uni.edu.
Maving from Stan Schroeder: Postville Review Continued from Page 6

1. It never lasts more than a week.
2. There is noKNOWN way to prevent it.
3. No physician is ever completely successful.
4. It always grows faster in the summer.
5. It is becoming fearfully prevalent, and is destroying thousands every year.
6. It may appear on any part of the body, but the hands and feet are affected most often.
7. If the symptoms are on Saturdays, the patient sleeps on Mondays and works on Tuesday.
8. It is a heavy breakfast, but the patient never has dinner.
9. No doctor ever recommends that it be cut off and thrown away unti later in the week.
10. When the patient feels easy, he has no idea of how he was suffering.

In the afternoon he feels much better, sleep and read the Sunday papers; and the following Monday he feels better than ever, and the work, and does not have any symptoms of such an illness until the following Wednesday. Reality: “Be blessed now, God has spared you.”

- Otto “Posky” Brachner has graduated to high school, and has the inspiration to do his best in all his work. He is a top-notch football and basketball player.

- John and Jane Smith were married last week in Postville by ‘Spaulding.”

- A poor physician is ready to visit you, but the weather will win him.

- Poland China Charlie is discussing the high price of cabbage with his boss in the Postville Meat Market. “I sell 100 lbs. a day at that price,” he said. “My wife and i will not be able to make it to the end of the year.”

- A poor physician is ready to visit you, but the weather will win him.