MORE THAN A GAME

It's important to me. To some it's only a game that will be forgotten when they leave the park.

To those of us who have sacrificed countless hours of precious time that we have been granted on this earth it becomes more important. We don't expect anyone to swing the bat or handle the glove for us. We ask that we be made aware of the ability that has been bestowed upon us. We must not let this gift pass, unnoticed. We ask that, when the time comes we no longer have fun displaying the skills with which so few of us have been blessed, we will have the courage and courtesy to put our spikes and gloves away. We give thanks for the speed, strength, and agility to perform for those that are appreciative of this rare ability that is a part of us.

Season Outlook

If 1988 proved anything to college baseball fans in the University of Northern Iowa community, it proved that you can't compete at the NCAA Division I level on offense alone. The high-powered offenses of years past had gone by the wayside, but last season's Panthers were respectable enough to fashion a .274 team batting average with a school record 417 hits. This alone, however, wasn't enough to prevent them from a worst-in-history 11-43 record.

With that in mind, second year head coach Gene Baker went about the task of recruiting pitching and defense for the 1989 campaign.

"If offense was enough, Oklahoma State would win the College World Series every year," noted Baker. "The key to turning the corner for our program, or any other for that matter, is to develop solid pitching, and consistent, if not spectacular, defense."

Last year's Panthers allowed an average of just over 11 runs per game, a figure that makes winning baseball games difficult.

"We gave up a lot of runs, but not an extraordinary amount compared with UNI teams of the not-too-distant past," was the way Baker summed up his 1988 squad's defense. "This year, that's all got to change."

PITCHING

Returning from 1988's battered mound corps are seniors Donnie Allen and Rod Hulme. "These two guys have the guts and experience to get outs at this level," says Baker. Hulme was a mainstay in the bullpen last year with a team-leading two saves. Allen made great strides in the Panthers' fall campaign, allowing only slightly over a hit per inning pitched, a yardstick with validity from Little League to the majors.

Mike Brandmeyer (2-5 in 1988) is also back, but in a new role as a bullpen stopper. "Mike had a tendency to lose concentration in the middle innings as a starter. As a short reliever, he won't be asked to throw more than 2 innings each time out," Baker said.

A quartet of sophomores returns a year older and wiser. After a shattering of any preconceived ideas that Division I would be a cake-walk, Steve Dreyer, Steve Bair, Dennis Hanken, and Adam Huehnergath have gone to work with a better understanding of what has to be done. Bair led the squad in innings pitched in 1988 with 40 and was at the top of the list in control stats. Dreyer was 2-5 last spring, primarily as a reliever, but looks to be an integral part of the starting rotation in 1989. Hanken may have carved himself a niche in the rotation with 3 quality starts in 1988 and a team leading 2.92 ERA this fall. After battling injuries in the fall, Huehnergath remains a question mark, but has the potential to be a big contributor to the staff.

Joining the Panther veterans are a trio of experienced transfers. Scott Kaul comes to UNI following a two-year career at Mankato State where he helped pitch the Mavericks into the Division II World Series. Kaul was outstanding last fall, racking up five victories including a shutout, and a 4.38 ERA. The two remaining transfers graduated from the juco ranks. Steve Hoffmann is a fierce competitor who holds the school record for victories in a season at Iowa Central in Fort Dodge, and Jim Duthie brings a moving fastball and southpaw motion from Ellsworth Community College after sitting out the 1988 campaign. Hard throwing sophomore outfielder John Pratt may see mound time in relief.

Stating the obvious, Baker explains, "Statistically, we can't help but improve, but we've added quality newcomers to a staff that gained valuable experience last year, and with some hard work, these guys can go where no Panther pitching staff has gone before . . . to our first AMCU title."

FIRST BASE

At first glance, the loss of Shawn Andrews (.312, 8 HRs) would seem to be a devastating blow - enter junior Steve Schmelzer. Schmelzer moved from a part time outfielder in 1988 to full time first sacker last fall and promptly put up some impressive numbers: .453 batting average with nine doubles, 10 home runs, and 40 RBIs. Add some depth at the position with sophomore Matt TeStrake (.314 this fall) and transfer Brett Elson (.281) and this looks like anything but a weak link in the Panther arsenal.

SECOND BASE

Switch-hitting transfer Mark Vogel (Kaskaskia Junior College) appears to have the inside track here after hitting .369 in the fall, but he will be pushed hard by another juco transfer, Mike Kelly (DMACC at Boone). Each has their own strong suit, with Kelly possessing the stronger arm, but Vogel, softer hands and the two-sided stick.

SHORTSTOP

Senior Brian Scheidegger will hold down the fort in the middle as long as he's healthy. Scheidegger rarely makes a defensive mistake when he's on his game, and brings a deceptively strong bat (.318 in 1988) to the ballpark every day. Number two at short is Mike Morony, also a third baseman.

THIRD BASE

Senior Dan Wirtz moves to the hot corner from second base where he played in a school-record 52 games in 1988. The move is designed to improve the defense, but Wirtz proved he's no slouch with the bat in the fall (.417, 8 doubles). Mike Morony, a redshirt sophomore provides more than adequate reinforcement at third, as well as shortstop. His on base percentage of .612 in the fall should net him playing time as the designated lead off man. Third man at third is junior Brian Dixon, a left-handed batter, used primarily as a catcher in 1988, when he hit .295.

CATCHER

A source of particular frustration for Coach Baker, a former catcher himself, was the UNI opponents' stolen base percentage of .895 in 1988. In an effort to shore up this chink in the armor, Baker recruited highly-touted juco product Craig Kealty (Milwaukee Area Technical College). A mid-year transfer following graduation from MATC, Kealty has shown wares good enough to merit an invitation to the U.S. Olympic tryouts in Millington, Tennessee last summer. He must, however, take the position away from incumbents Brian Dixon and sophomore Brad Hansen. Dixon, also a utility infielder, bats from the left side (.432 this fall) and brings unmatched enthusiasm to the park every day. Hansen has come a long way since his freshman year, and steady improvement makes him capable of stepping in and doing an admirable job.

OUTFIELD

Returning All-AMCU rightfielder Mark Lumpa (.321, 7 HRs, and 35 RBIs in 1988) seems to be the only player with a lock on a given position in the Panther outfield. Returning platoon leftfielders, sophomore John Pratt (.390 this fall) and junior Geff Gescheidler (.400, 27 RBIs this fall) have earned more playing time, with Pratt possessing the best arm on the squad and Gescheidler being the most solid fundamental outfielder. Pushing hard are juco transfers Tim Bartz (Ellsworth) and Jimmy Welsh (Kirkwood). Completing the outfield puzzle is a freshman transfer from Creighton, P.J. Conlon who impressed the staff with his swing in the fall (.453).

KEYS TO SUCCESS

Offensively, the Panthers must continue in the tradition of UNI teams past. Last season's Most Valuable Hitter, Mark Lumpa, will be relied on heavily to produce in the same way he did last year and cut down on his school-record 55 strikeouts. According to Baker, "If he can make more contact, Mark is a threat to hit .400." If Morony, Dixon, Gescheidler, Scheidegger, and Wirtz can set the table, it appears that Schmelzer is ready to feast on opposing pitchers. As with all teams, the key to scoring runs will be producing with men in scoring position, and it must happen from one to nine in the batting order. Speed has also been a Panther tradition and the 1989 edition will be no exception with Pratt (18 SBs this fall) and Wirtz (17 SBs in 1988) the most notorious thieves.

The defense was solid a year ago, but left room for improvement. Moving Wirtz to third should solidify an infield that is already solid up the middle with Scheidegger and Vogel. Elson is the best defensively at first, but Schmelzer will improve with experience. Behind the plate, Dixon and Hansen have both worked hard and made great improvements, but Kealty may be the best of the bunch. Lumpa and Gescheidler are fundamentally sound in the outfield while Pratt can throw out anybody on any base hit, but must cut down on mistakes. Welsh and Bartz provide speed and Conlon made very few mistakes in left in the fall.

Pitching is the big question mark, and the missing piece to the Panther puzzle. The veteran hurlers are all one year better, and the newcomers all have quality arms. But with so far to go in one off-season, one wonders if the improvement will be enough. All are capable of spectacular work, but the true test will be consistency over the long haul. With Hulme, Brandmeyer, and Pratt in the bullpen there will be at least one stopper available every game. If the starters/middle relievers can carry a lead into the late innings, the Panthers will be able to compete with anyone. The key to the pitchers' success will be their ability to control the strike zone.

THE SCHEDULE

For 1989, Baker has assembled what is arguably the toughest Division I schedule in the Midwest. This year's slate includes all competing teams in the Big Eight (Colorado does not field a baseball team), the two best from the Missouri Valley, three Big Ten contenders, and a perennial front-runner from the Southwest. The spring trip includes stops on consecutive days at NCAA tournament participants Arkansas, Oklahoma, Oklahoma State, and Wichita State sandwiched between a weekend series at St. Louis University and weekend round-robin with Kansas and Kansas State.

"Our schedule is a tough one," understates Baker "but it serves several purposes. First and foremost, our early season trip prepares us for anything, and then some, we might run up against in our own conference. Second, it provides our players with the most exciting Division I baseball experience possible. Third, playing those kind of schools attracts quality ballplayers to our program. Finally, if we are to call ourselves a Division I baseball program, we have got to play a predominantly Division I schedule." Explains Baker, "It's not that we play so many ranked teams by choice (we probably would anyway), but in order to get an 80-90% Division I schedule we've got to play every Division I school we can get to. Unfortunately, the entire area is covered with national caliber programs. But I ask the players, 'What if we beat them?' That would be something they could carry around with them forever."

Head Coach Gene Baker

Gene Baker begins his second season as Panther head coach after serving two previous stints at his alma mater, Austin Peay State University in Clarksville, TN. He served as an assistant from 1981-82 and 1986-87 after a playing career in which he earned Ohio Valley All-Conference honors in 1980.

A catcher/designated hitter, Baker was also voted to the NCAA Division I Academic All-America Team in 1981.

UNI is Baker's second head coaching stop, as he was coach and athletic director at Bristol (TN) College from 1984 to '86. From 1982 to '84, he was an assistant at Cumberland College in Lebanon, TN.

The Wappinger Falls, NY, native received his bachelor's degree in chemistry in 1981 and master's in health and physical education in 1987, both from APSU.

His collegiate coaching record is 46-101 in four seasons.

Head baseball trainer Mark Kwikkel returned to his alma mater last summer after serving three years as co-head trainer at Nebraska-Omaha. Kwikkel received his bachelor's degree in physical education/athletic training from UNI in 1983 and later earned his master's in physical education/exercise science in 1985 from Nebraska-Omaha.

Among his duties, Kwikkel assists the coaches in developing and maintaining strength, conditioning and nutrition programs for players. He attends to all injuries from point of occurrence through rehabilitation. He acts as the liaison between the athlete and the physician in charge of the injury.

Student assistant trainer Brent Buttjer is in his first season with the baseball program. He is a sophomore from Cresco, IA, majoring in therapeutic recreation. This is his second year in the athletic training program.

Camille Korschgen is a freshman from West Branch, IA, in her first year as scorer and head statistician with the Panthers.

What I remember about UNI baseball

UNI baseball players receive personal attention from coaches, faculty, and other students. Everyone shows an interest in what you're trying to accomplish.

Most memorable moment

Getting 2 hits at 7th ranked Arkansas in 1988 against All Southwest Conference pitcher, Mark Swope. I think my double that game was the hardest ball I ever hit.

Bat Cats

The UNI Bat Cats is a volunteer organization of women who help the Panther coaching staff by donating its time and contributing to the promotion and awareness of Northern Iowa Baseball throughout the year.

Each Bat Cat is scheduled to work different ballgames and tournaments, and assist in the recruiting process by giving campus tours and other assigned duties.

What I remember about UNI baseball

Being given the opportunity to prove myself at the Division I level from the day I walked on campus. And, competing against the best teams the NCAA has to offer.

Most memorable moment

Defeating my hometown school (Creighton) in a doubleheader in 1987. They were in the top twenty at the time, and I had the best day of my career. UNI Baseball earned some respect that day.

What I remember about UNI baseball

The opportunity to integrate athletics and academics. We played some of the toughest competition in NCAA Division I, and UNI is one of the top accounting schools in the nation.

Most memorable moment

Finally getting a chance to start and going 7 for 9 with 7 runs batted in a doubleheader against Briar Cliff. It was a great way to close out my career.

What I remember about UNI baseball

The experience of playing against the best college baseball teams and players in the country. After four years out of baseball, it was an opportunity I thought I would never get.

Most memorable moment

Pitching to Robin Ventura of Oklahoma State. Ventura was an All-American, Olympic Gold Medalist, and first round pick of the Chicago White Sox. He grounded out to second base.

The Association of Mid-Continent Universities

The Association of Mid-Continent Universities (AMCU) was conceived in 1982 as eight Midwestern universities joined to form a new league for men's athletics.

Representing six states, AMCU members are Cleveland State University, Eastern Illinois University, University of Illinois at Chicago, University of Northern Iowa, Southwest Missouri State University, Valparaiso University, Western Illinois University and the University of Wisconsin-Green Bay.

One of the goals of the Division 1 conference was to secure an automatic qualification into the NCAA Basketball Tournament. The league had its first season of cage competition in 1982-83, and it fulfilled its requirements for automatic NCAA Tournament qualification for the 1987-88 season.

In addition to basketball, the AMCU sponsors eight other sports, including soccer, baseball, cross country, swimming, indoor track, outdoor track, golf, and tennis.

AMCU headquarters are located in Chicago, IL, with a staff of commissioner Jerry Ippoliti, information director Michael Madsen, and secretary Marcia Hokin. Richard Weiler of Oak Lawn, IL, is the supervisor of basketball officials, and the 1988-89 league president is Dr. Ralph Wagoner of Western Illinois. The AMCU is governed by a Council of Delegates, made up of the presidents and athletic directors of member schools.

Kevin Willard (1988)

Cedar Falls, Iowa

What I remember about UNI baseball

The chance to play against the nation's best teams. Spring trip was great. 1988 was the beginning of good things to come for the Panthers.

Most memorable moment

Pitching 5 innings of 1 hit ball versus 12th-ranked Nebraska at their ballpark. It was my longest pitching performance since high school and we led 2-0 after 5 innings.

This is Northern Iowa

Northern Iowa is an excellent choice for students who want the atmosphere of a smaller college but the faculty and resources of a larger university. Northern Iowa is student-oriented and makes you feel welcome and challenged while you earn your education with a minimum of hassle.

Located in Cedar Falls, the University was founded in 1876 as the Iowa State Normal School. From a single building on a 40-acre campus, it has grown to include more than 40 major buildings and 11,500 students.

UNI emphasizes outstanding undergraduate education with complementary graduate programs at the master's, specialist's and doctoral levels. Building on its historic strength in teacher education, Northern Iowa has developed other fine programs in its School of Business, College of Humanities and Fine Arts, College of Natural Sciences and College of Social and Behavioral Sciences.

Northern Iowa publishes the prestigious North American Review, a quarterly journal of literature that has received two National Magazine Awards. The University also operates KUNI-FM and KHKE-FM, serving eastern Iowa with quality music and public affairs programming. The Management Development Center and Small Business Development Center are two outreach programs of the School of Business, whose Department of Accounting is ranked among the best in the country.

Landmarks on the 838-acre campus include the Campanile, the Education Center, Strayer-Wood Theatre, Maucker University Union and the UNI-Dome. Special academic resources include the 600,000-volume University Library, the Industrial Technology Center and the Communication Arts Center.

The City of Cedar Falls is a pleasant and historic college town adjacent to Waterloo. Together, they are part of a major metropolitan area with a population of more than 100,000. It is a center for manufacturing, finance, commerce and cultural activities in northeast Iowa.
