Shooting for Victory . . .

OUR COVER GIRL, Helen Killeen of Climbing Hill, Ia., is not only shooting for a star, but she's also doing her part to bring about victory for the democracies. Symbolizing her will to victory is her active participation in outdoor sports. Proof is found in the picture taken by Harry Hollett, Waterloo photographer . . .

Archery is one of the many forms of recreation scheduled for the present summer session, when many teachers will seek outdoor fun along with indoor scholastic stints designed to renew that teaching certificate.

Dr. Price Introduces Rural Plan . . .

FOUR-SEVEN IOWA COUNTY superintendents met with President Malcolm Price, Monday, April 20, to discuss the new cooperative state-wide plan for the training of rural teachers . . .

The standards of Iowa's one-room rural schools would be raised by the plan, which would provide better trained rural teachers to meet the threatened teacher shortage . . . A minimum of nine students from each county cooperating in the project will attend TEACHERS COLLEGE for three quarters and spend an additional quarter as an "apprentice teacher" in a rural school in their home county, learning teaching methods first-hand.

Marian Anderson in War Benefit . . .

MARIAN ANDERSON, one of the nation's greatest singers, presented a war benefit concert in the TEACHERS COLLEGE gymnasium, Monday, April 20, to a capacity crowd of music lovers . . .

The great Philadelphia Negro contralto made her only appearance in Iowa this year and thrilled more than four thousand listeners, many of whom drove hundreds of miles to hear the voice made famous 'round the world.
Branch Schools Meet Emergency . . .

Teachers College is extending its teacher-training program into the southwestern part of the state this summer, as it holds three branch summer schools at Red Oak, Creston, and Denison in an effort to meet the threatened teacher shortage resulting from the war emergency . . .

Both a six-week and a 12-week session are being held at Red Oak, under the direction of Marshall R. Beard, associate professor of history; a six-week session at Creston, under the direction of H. Van Engen, head of the mathematics department, and a six-week session at Denison under the direction of J. B. Paul, director of the bureau of research . . .

The branch summer schools meet a three-fold need since they: (1) extend the opportunity to earn credits required for renewal of certificates, (2) offer the opportunity for persons desiring to qualify for teaching in rural schools to do so by attending the 12-week course at Red Oak, and (3) extend the facilities of the college for teacher education to parts of the state most remote from Cedar Falls.

Coeds Find New "Dates" . . .

Teachers College coeds are busy making and keeping "dates" with the Red Cross Workroom on the Cedar Falls campus these days, as they turn spare minutes and hours into much-needed garments for war relief . . .

This new kind of "date" is taking the place of leisurely "coking" sessions, and in their stead are hours of profitable activity for a worthy cause... The Workroom is located in the yellow kitchen of Bartlett Hall.

MacArthur Had His Day...

"Remember MacArthur—and buy War Savings Stamps and Bonds" was the slogan heard 'round the campus, Friday, April 24...

That day was set aside as MacArthur Day, and every student, faculty member and employe was canvassed by students in a campaign to sell stamps and bonds. The business office boomed with extra "business" in Uncle Sam's behalf and the students of the Campus School went "all out for MacArthur" and did their valuable bit to boost sales...

A gay crowd danced to the music of Anson Weeks and his famous orchestra at night in a benefit dance in the Commons... Proceeds from the dance went to the establishment of a scholarship fund to finance the return of students to college after the war... All dancers were required to show their holdings in war stamps and bonds before they could go on the dance floor.

Journalists Razz Each Other...

MacArthur Day saw also the observance of another popular campus tradition the Gridiron "Razz" Dinner, the annual party of the publications workers...

Roland Wick of Waterloo, the editor of the Old Gold, the yearbook, did the unusual when he walked off with two oil cans, symbolic of distinguished service in behalf of the Student Publications... The awards were voted him by members of the College Eye, student newspaper, staff, and his own co-workers on the college yearbook...

Prof. Herbert V. Hake, co-director of the college theater was named the most "respected and admired faculty member," an honor coveted by all college instructors... His trophy was likewise in the form of an oil can.

A group of high school seniors discovers the Science Building while touring the Teachers College campus on the first high school Senior Day, Friday, April 17.

Freshmen of Tomorrow Have Fun for a Day

A happy throng of high school seniors took a good look at the Iowa State Teachers College—and liked it—Friday, April 17, the first High School Senior Day for College Hill. They saw the collegiate life first hand, took part in a "brain brawl," toured the campus, attended a dinner, and were "corralled" in the Commons for the ride 'em cowboy "T.C. Round-Up."

Prospective freshies intently watch the "T.C. Round-Up" in the Commons, a highlight of the day's activities. Members of Iowa Teachers First Committee were hosts to the visitors.
Learning the "Inside" of Collegiate Life

Here is what this same happy band of high school seniors will be doing in the fall, as they register for the fall quarter, which begins September 7. These prospective freshmen will re-live these typical registration scenes in September, even to the wearing of the green "beanie" cap, a true mark of distinction! They will be enrolling for the special war training programs.
ALUMNI FOLLOW NEW TRADITION

MEMBERS OF THE TEACHERS COLLEGE "family" who returned to College Hill for their annual alumni reunion, May 31, saw the observance of a new tradition, the first "alumni chapel," and the repetition of familiar customs of former years. They also saw members of the class of 1942 receive their degrees and diplomas in the afternoon Commencement exercises.

The day began with the chapel service, which featured talks by and for the alumni. Principal speaker was Prof. Kenneth W. Colegrove, head of the political science department at Northwestern University, son of a prominent early-day educator at Teachers College. His topic was a timely one, "A New World Order: East and West."

Professor Colegrove, B.Di. '05, is the son of Chauncey P. Colegrove, long-time distinguished member of the faculty and prominent speaker and writer. His stepmother, Mrs. Emma Ridley Colegrove, is a graduate of 1898 and former faculty member.

REVEREND HUGET DELIVERS INVOCATION

The invocation was given by Rev. J. Percival Huget, M.Di. '92, of Shelter Island, N. Y., who was on hand to receive his golden anniversary medal. He is pastor of the First Presbyterian Church of Shelter Island.

After the chapel service, the alumni adjourned to the Commons, where they held informal get-togethers previous to the dinner, the highlight of the day's festivities.

President Malcolm Price sounded the keynote for his "family," when he talked on "The Forward Look," outlining briefly his program for alumni participation in Teachers College life.

Community singing was led by C. A. Fullerston, Iowa's "grand old man of music," and Olive Barker of the music department was accompanist.

Happiest members of the alumni family were the 14 graduates who received the 50-year gold medal, signifying a half century or more as loyal alumni. The class of 1917 celebrated its 25th anniversary, and the 35 members present were special honored guests.

The class of 1892 is the newest 50-year class. Forty-four men and 62 women were graduated in the days of the Iowa State Normal School, and of this group 24 men and 36 women are now listed in the active files of the Alumni Bureau.

The silver anniversary class of 1917 numbered 38 men and 442 women at graduation, and 32 men and 364 women now report to the college.

JOURNALISTS RECEIVE RECOGNITION

Student journalists of the Normal Eyte days joined with the staff of the College Eye, the modern news organ of Teachers College, in a celebration of the 50th anniversary of the newspaper's founding. The business manager of the first issue of the Normal Eyte, Reverend Huget, in 1892, claimed seniority honors among staff members for the past half century.

Special tribute was also paid to alumni of the college who are now employed in the newspaper field.

The retiring president, John G. McDowell, B.A. '31, principal of the high school at Algona, Ia., presided during the dinner, which concluded his year's term of service as leader of Teachers College alumni.

The "big day" was marked by two occasions, the alumni reunion and Commencement. The program was planned by A. C. Fuller, director of the Bureau.

THEY LEAD THE ALUMNI

New Officers of the General Alumni Association for the coming year are Minard W. Stout, B.A. '29, principal of University High School, Iowa City, president, and Melvin D. Anderson, B.A. '27, superintendent at Rolfe, Ia., vice-president. Elected to a three-year term as director is Marion T. Haahr, B.S. '33, high school commercial teacher at Ottumwa, Ia. New directors of the Seerley Foundation are S. A. Cohagan, B.A. '12, Waterloo, Benjamin Boardman, M.Di. '99, and A. C. Fuller, M.Di. '99. of Alumni Service, and his co-workers among alumni and faculty.

Among the gold medalists were 13 members of the 1892 class and one, Dr. James Anderson, Dubuque, Ia., of the class of 1887. The 1892 award winners are: Lewis H. Andrews, Clearfield, Ia.; John F. Belz, Cedar Falls; Mrs. Bruce Francis (Ella Flater), Minneapolis, Minn.; J. Percival Huget, Shelter Island, N.Y.; Mrs. Aaron Palmer (Maude Humphrey), Waterloo.

J. Ed Johnson, Sioux City, Ia.; Mrs. W. Walter Wilson (S. Sophie Keeler), Traer, Ia.; Mrs. W. G. Brown (Cora A. McKim), Whiting, Ia.; Mrs. E. K. Annas (Kate L. Overfelt), Ainsworth, Ia.; Mrs. Richard Gibson (Cora F. Spargur), Cedar Falls; Mrs. Curtis H. Brown (Minnie M. Speer), Traer, Ia.; Mrs. George A. Stewart (Cora E. Taylor), Cedar Falls, and Charles M. Thompson, Columbus Nebr.

Honors for being the oldest graduate present went to Seward Higby, Cedar Falls, Ia., a member of the class of 1881. He was one of six graduates of 50 or more years ago who were on hand to see the new-

Freshmen Pace Purple Track Squad

Two freshman athletes, Bob McSweeney, and James Struthers, paced the 1942 Teachers College track squad.

McSweeney, who was the Panthers’ leading scorer with a total of 72½ points, set a new record of 6 ft. 1¾ in. in the high jump at the annual Teachers College Relays, in addition to winning individual scoring honors at the annual North Central Conference meet by capturing firsts in the high and broad jump.

Bob Keyes, Panther veteran, captured first place at the loop meet in the 220-yard low hurdles and second in the high hurdles. Struthers and Frazier took third in the 220-yard dash and half mile respectively, while the Panthers placed in 440-yard run, discus and mile relay events.

Six new records were established at the 21st annual running of the Iowa Teachers College Relays, always the big classic on the Panther track schedule. McSweeney copped the only new mark for Coach Dickinson’s men while Keyes placed in the high hurdles, high jump, broad jump, and Basil Gray placed in the two mile run. The Panthers also placed second in the 440, 880 and two-mile relay events.

The Dickinson-men captured 12 firsts to win the Luther College Invitational Track Meet with ease. Struthers and Keyes each collected 13 points.

At the annual Viking Olympics at Rock Island, Ill. the Panthers tallied 41½ points to place third, while at the Drake Relays the Dickinson-men placed second in every event they entered.
Panther Diamond Men Win Six Games

The Teachers College baseball nine has a record of six wins, five losses and one tie for 1942.

The Panthers defeated Luther College three out of four, broke even with Iowa State College, and Illinois College and won one and tied one with Illinois Normal University. Simpson's veteran nine was the only team to beat the Tutors twice. Dan "Red" Bock senior righthander, led the Panther hurlers with four victories and two defeats. Al LoBalbo, another senior righthander, finished the season with two wins and the same number of losses.

Dick Nottger, Waterloo junior, led the Tutor sluggers for the second consecutive year with an average of .426. LoBalbo, pitcher, and Ken Dilly, outfielder, hit .322 and .306 respectively while Jack Jindrich, firstbaseman, and Jack Lansing, shortstop, and pitcher Bock hit just under .300. Nottger led the Tutors in four other phases of the game. He batted in the most runs, 8, scored the most runs, 11, collected the most hits, 20, and stole the most bases, 5.

Panther sluggers had a field day in Cedar Falls May 2 when they belted five home runs, four in one inning to overwhelm Illinois Normal University 15 to 5. Bob Titsworth, Jack Lansing, Dick Nottger and Ken Dilly hit for the circuit in the big eighth inning with Lansing clouting another four-bagger earlier in the contest. In the second game of the series the two teams battled for more than four hours before officials called the game because of darkness after 15 innings, with the score tied 3 to 3.

Of the 13 men who were awarded baseball letters four regulars, Lansing, Mueller, Bock, LoBalbo and one reserve, Fred Ritze, will be lost by graduation.

A third consecutive North Central Conference championship and another victory dinner is the goal of 1942 football team. The men bagged and cleaned approximately 34 pheasants, while the Starbecks prepared the meal and furnished the trimmings.
Panthers Play Four Home Football Games

As we go to press it is anything but football weather, but a chat with Coach Clyde L. Starbeck will convince anyone that the 1942 football season is just around the corner. And the Panther gridiron boss, who is set to begin his seventh season at Teachers College, is right.

September is only a few weeks off and that means the beginning of football practice for Starbeck and his "Mighty Midgets" of the gridiron. The Panther head man laid what he hopes will be the foundation for his third consecutive loop championship team during spring football practice. There is still a lot of work to do this fall, however, because only three members of last year's championship squad were able to report for regular drills during the spring season. In addition Starbeck will have to spend considerable time teaching his style of play to freshmen who will be eligible for varsity competition this fall.

Four Lettermen Lost

Although the squad's personnel is very uncertain in these times the Panther hopes seem fairly bright. Only four letter winners from last year were lost through graduation, but several men are eligible for the draft and may be called before the opening of the football season.

Four of six all-conference men of last year, Leon "Champ" Martin, Don Barnhart, Aaron Linn and Cyril Bellock, will be available this fall unless Uncle Sam needs them worse. If the other veterans return along with several of the most promising sophomore prospects the Panthers should be in the thick of the fight for first place in the loop race.

Four Home Games

Although the football schedule is in the process of completion Panther fans are certain of seeing their favorites in action at home in at least three games and possibly four. Morningside College of Sioux City, the two South Dakota league representatives, South Dakota State and the University of South Dakota, and a non-loop battle with Drake University will round out the home football schedule.

1942 PANThER FOOTBALL SCHEDULE

WALTERS ENDS LONG TEACHING CAREER

G. W. WALTERS, a member of the Teachers College faculty for nearly half a century, died Thursday, May 14. A loyal, devoted member of the staff, he came to Cedar Falls in 1895 as instructor of mathematics. In 1898 he joined the education faculty, and from 1916 to 1930 he served as head of the Education Department.

He will be remembered not only by his contributions as a teacher but also for the college museum, which he founded. His hobbies were taxidermy and bird study, and he was responsible for the mounting of many animals and birds now in the museum. Born near Pittsburgh, Pa., he came with his parents to southeastern Iowa as a child, and was educated at Mt. Pleasant. He received his B.S. and M.S. degrees from Iowa Wesleyan University.

He began his educational career as principal of the high school at Ft. Madison. He later taught own compositions or orchestrations in a series of public concerts . . .

Students took over the job of directing the college symphony in a special concert Thursday night . . . Members of ensemble classes appeared in a program of chamber music Thursday afternoon, and another program was given over to the presentation of original compositions and orchestrations.

The college vocal groups—the college chorus, the a cappella choir and glee clubs—presented a joint concert Friday night, as the two-day festival ended.

Four Conferences Attract Hundreds

One of the busiest week ends ever was recorded April 24 and 25, when four conferences attracted hundreds of Iowa schoolmen and women, to the Cedar Falls campus . . .

Visitors were the order of the week end, but resident students had their own good time too, since Friday, April 24, was MacArthur Day.

THE ALUMNUS

July

at Whittier College, Salem, Ia., Howe's Academy, Mt. Pleasant, Iowa Wesleyan College, and at the Illinois College Academy, Jacksonville, Ill. He followed a teaching career for 63 years.

The faculty paid tribute to the popular educator as follows:

"Many an alumnus of Teachers College, or of the preceding Iowa State Normal School, thanks him for guidance through difficulties of the first lonesome or perhaps homesick years. His philosophy of life was genuine and foundational to worthy living.

"His breadth of interest and scholarship is indicated by the fact that he held positions as divergent as professor of mathematics, professor of philosophy, curator and collector for the museum, and professor of education . . .

"By those who knew him best, Mr. Walters will be always remembered for his broad and liberal scholarship, his characteristics of a great teacher, his embodiment of the best in citizenship, and his traits of the finest Christian gentlemen."

... The elementary principals convened on Friday, classroom teachers in elementary and rural schools on Saturday, high school teachers on both Friday and Saturday, and students and teachers of high school drama on Saturday . . .

"Mom" Becomes a Collegian . . .

"Mothers in War-Time" was the theme of the Mother's Day dinner, Saturday, May 9, as a highlight of the week end when coeds brought "mom" to Cedar Falls to show her the campus . . .

Mothers and sons and daughters all had a good time as they took part in a series of special events honoring the "head of the family." . . . They attended a choral concert Friday, a luncheon Saturday noon, the dinner Saturday night, a student varieties show Saturday night, a breakfast Sunday morning, and a leisure time hour recital Sunday afternoon . . . In between times they took several good looks at the campus and its typical round of activities for son or daughter.

THE ANNA B. LAWThER HALL . . . A FRIENDLY HOME FOR COEDS

Grace, charm and refinement mark the beauty that is the Anna B. Lawther Hall for Women, the newest residence on the Teachers College campus. Color is the key to the beauty of the hall, with its quiet yet intriguing shades of blue, chartreuse, gray and green. Hanging in the lobby is a portrait of Miss Anna B. Lawther, retired member of the Iowa State Board of Education in whose honor the dormitory is named. Beautifully furnished throughout, Lawther Hall contains all the modern conveniences today's young women collegiates could wish for. Residents have the most pleasant of social contacts in their corridors, each of which includes approximately 30 students. Lawther Hall provides housing accommodations for 294 women.

Here's the scene of informal corridor get-togethers.

Committee meetings and study sessions hold forth here.

Student rooms are beautiful, comfortable and liveable.

Boardman Sets Service Record . . . .

FAITHFUL SPENDER AND BOOKKEEPER for Teachers College during the last quarter century is Benjamin Boardman, now in his 26th year of service as college business manager.

He is a familiar figure to all who have passed through the halls of learning on College Hill for the last hundred terms. Energetically and with no absences because of illness, he has supervised the collection of college fees and tuition. He has been the financial advisor to approximately 200,000 individual students since he became business manager in 1917.

His twenty-fifth year ended officially Tuesday, March 31, 1942. On that day his staff of workers presented him with a bouquet of red roses, symbolic of long years of faithful service to his alma mater.

Mr. Boardman, born September 12, 1874, in Bradford, Ill., came to the campus in 1896. He was a member of the only Teachers College football team to defeat the University of Iowa.

Before returning to Cedar Falls, he served 17 years as a teacher, county superintendent, and newspaper publisher. Between 1917 and 1942, he has reported for duty for more than 5,000 days without a single absence because of illness. “Not even my vacations brought on sickness,” he said.

COLONEL SHAFFER KNOWS BATAAN DEFENSES

Col. Pearl M. Shaffer, M.D. ’97, now retired from the U.S. Army staff, knows well the terrain and defenses of Bataan Peninsula and Manila, the result of the five round trips he made to the Philippine Islands in the early part of the century.

At one time he was in command of American troops on Corregidor Island, guarding theconvalescent hospital. In his five round trips, he was stationed at Manila, in Pangasinan Province, Gulf of Lingayou and Batangas in Luzon, and at Parang, Mindanao. He made the trip around to all principal islands in 1908-09 and again in 1915.

He was captain in the 6th U.S. Infantry in the Mexican Punitive Expedition of 1916-17 under General Pershing. During World War I he trained with the 347th Infantry at Camp Pike, Ark., and commanded the 347th Regiment in France in 1918.

Colonel Shaffer is one of four “nineties” graduates who were commissioned in the army during the Spanish American War as second lieutenants.

The others are Harry E. Whitney, M.D. ’97, who died in Cuba about 1900 of typhoid fever; Leslie I. A. Chapman, M.D. ’93, who was in the Philippines in 1914-15 and died in service; and Robert T. Crawford, M.D. ’96, who was drowned in Grandara River, Samar Island, about 1900.

Colonel Shaffer spent eight years on duty as professor of military science and tactics at Kansas State College from 1903-07, and at Iowa State College, from 1920-24.

He retired from active service on January 31, 1932, at his own request, after a third of a century, of commissioned service. Age and ill health now prevent him from taking an active part in today’s war.
