Teach From Abundance of Rich Personality

OUTLINING the qualities of personality and approaches to personality improvement, Dr. John Scholte Nollen, president of Grinnell College, cautioned the 262 spring term graduates from Teachers College that "teachers have a peculiar obligation to build up riches within themselves, so that they may give richly to the youth to whom it is their business to be guides, philosophers, and friends."

Dr. Nollen pointed out that personality is all important to the teacher, and that in personality the teacher should watch beauty of skin, charm, good taste in clothes, good humor, and development of appreciation of aesthetic expressions. He declared that personality can only be built by unceasing self education.

The graduates formed in line for the academic procession immediately after the second annual cap and gown breakfast in the Commons on Monday, June 2, and marched to the Men's Gymnasium, accompanied by the College Band. Robert Henry, Traer, opened the exercises with a baritone solo, "Even Bravest Heart May Swell", from "Faust," by Gounod. Dr. Harold A. Bosley, director of religious activities, read the invocation, followed by a group of old French dance tunes by Sherrrer, presented by a wood-wind sextet.

After the address, Helen McMillan, Hudson, a contralto singer, presented two numbers, "Les Filles de Cadiz," by Delibes, and "The Morning Hymn," by Henschel. President O. R. Latham conferred the degrees and diplomas.

The exercises were closed with the benediction by Dr. Bosley.

The commencement exercises climaxed an eight-day round of graduation activities, opening on Sunday, May 26, with the President's reception for graduates and their parents, alumni, and faculty.

Commencement Play Is "Distaff Side"

On Wednesday of graduation week, the College Band presented the annual concert on the steps of the Auditorium Building in the afternoon, and in the evening, the drama division of the English Department offered the opening presentation of John Van Druten's comedy of women, "The Distaff Side."

"The Distaff Side" was repeated on Friday evening. The Iowa College Track and Field Meet was held on the Panther track on Saturday afternoon. In the evening graduates gathered at the traditional commencement dinner party in the Commons.

The Class of 1910 Holds Center of Stage at Reunion

By A. C. Fuller, Director of Bureau of Alumni Affairs

Everybody present at the Alumni Dinner and Program Sunday, June 2, enjoyed the comradeship of old friends and helped to maintain the high spirit of alumni loyalty and enthusiasm. The center of the stage was given to the class of 1910.

The leadership of Mrs. Leslie H. Hughes (Dorothy E. Buell, 1911), Mrs. Leo P. Dunbar (Mary C. Horan, 1925), and Mrs. Walter Abrams (Ethel M. Dryden, 1910), members of the Reunion Committee, assisted by S. A. Cohagan and Ray Crouse as Corresponding Secretaries, brought out the largest attendance from any 25 year anniversary class thus far.

Before the class of 1910 was seated for dinner, each member was presented with a rose. Two members of the class contributed to the toast program. Odesa Farley, Lincoln High School, Des Moines, responded to the toast "As I Recall", and Mrs. Joseph Lynch (Gertrude Tyrell), supervisor of music at Waverly, sang two delightful numbers.

On the completion of the general program, the class of 1910 remained in session and listened to the reading of special messages sent in from all parts of the United States. Mrs. Elizabeth Upton Schenck had the happy idea of including a snapshot of younger members of her family. Other special groups present were:

Class of 1885—
John R. McKee and Mrs. McKee, Spencer
Mrs. Fred Gates (Viola Russell), Marble Rock
Mrs. C. A. Bemler (Kittie Sheridan), and
Mr. Bemler, Cedar Falls
Miss Sara M. Riggs (I.S.T.C.), Cedar Falls
Miss Kate Sullivan, Waverly
Mrs. G. S. Mornin (Delia Dayton), '84, and
Mr. Mornin, Cedar Falls

Classes of 1878-79—
Miss Maude B. Gilchrist, '78, Des Moines, daughter of J. C. Gilchrist, first President of Iowa State Teachers College
Mrs. C. J. Scheeler (Matilda Palmer), '78, Marshalltown
Mrs. Stephen P. Hicks (Alice McManus), '79, Minneapolis, Minnesota
Mrs. Mary E. Bond, '79, Waterloo
Mrs. D. Sands Wright (Eliza Rawstern), '79, Cedar Falls

Farthest distances traveled yielded the first prize of a toy automobile to Mrs. C. M. Wyth (Stella M. Kingsbury), B. Di. '92, Santa Monica, California — 2600 miles. Second prize for next greatest distance traveled went to Mr. and Mrs. J. Leonard St. John, both of the class of 1915, Pullman, Washington — 2100 miles. Honorable mention for distance was awarded to Mr. and Mrs. Aubrey C. Grubb, 1917, Saskatoon, Saskatchewan, Canada — 1500 miles.

The program of toasts, in addition to the two numbers above mentioned, was presented by Professor A. Lynch, head of the Department of English of the College, "It Seems To Me", and by President O. R. Latham, "The Facts Are," Professor Lynch made reference to the presence of representatives of the Superintendents of Iowa and the Primary Diploma holders. These two groups were prominent factors both in the attendance and in the theme of the toast program.

After the general meeting, the College Club and the Faculty Men's Club joined in sponsoring a short informal reception honoring the representatives of the Primary Diploma holders of the years 1921, 1922, and 1923 and the representatives of the Alumni Superintendents.
Superintendents, Teachers, Honored at Dinner

Superintendents and outstanding primary teachers were honored at the fiftieth annual alumni reunion luncheon during the commencement activities at Teachers College.

Three groups—alumni superintendents, class of 1910, and primary diploma holders for 1921, 1922, and 1923—were honored at the luncheon, but from among other teachers in the field, some were selected for recognition for their meritorious work in teaching.

The list of superintendents who have made educational work their career was headed by the name of A. T. S. Owen, who was also recognized by the Evening Democrat, Ft. Madison, on May 25, for completing 37 years as superintendent at Farmington, Iowa. The other names on the list follow:

Celia Bell, B. Di. '96, (B. S. Columbia) County superintendent, Ottawa; June Chidester, '98, (not a graduate) County superintendent, Fairfield; Mrs. Alice DeSpain, B. Di. '02, County superintendent, Marengo; George D. Eaton, B. A. '15, Superintendent, Forest City; M. R. Fayram, M. Di. '04, Superintendent, Camanche; F. E. Green, B. Di. '08, (B. A. Tabor, M. A. Nebraska) Superintendent, Story City; J. I. Lynch, B. Di. '00, (B. A. Iowa) County superintendent, Oskaloosa; A. W. Moore, M. Di. '05, (B. A. Upper Iowa, M. A. Iowa) Superintendent, Glidden.

Those honored for long service as primary teachers are:

Maude M. Davis, '05, Edison School, Waterloo; Adella Taylor, '05, Lake City; Emma L. Freyermuth, '05, Muscatine; Helen L. Lewis, '05, Oelwein; Blanche Lulu Seyller, '04, Minneapolis; Nettie Taylor, '04, Newton; Mabelle Haley, '03, Dunlap; Florence Knox, '02, primary supervisor in the State Teachers College at Salt Lake City, Utah; Laura T. E. Specht (Mrs. Price), '01, director of elementary teacher training in the State Teachers College at Santa Barbara, California; Edith Arlen, '00, Clinton; Mae Mercer, '99, Wilder, Idaho; Anna Schneider, '99, Colorado Springs, Colorado; Bertha Pike, '97, Des Moines; Blanch L. Vance, '96, Los Angeles, California.

The list was closed with the name of Kathryn Reynolds, '01, of Spencer, Iowa, now deceased, but who for thirty years was a beloved teacher. Refusing offers of distinctive positions, she remained in Spencer to care for a dependent and crippled mother. Miss Reynolds was long known in her community as the “Little Mother of the East Side.”

The new school building, erected to replace one destroyed by fire, was named the Reynolds Building. In her will, Miss Reynolds left $2,000 for additional playground and equipment.

Yearbook Edition

Featuring campus and student life illustrations from the 1935 Old Gold, this issue of The Alumnus is presented as the “Yearbook Edition.” This year’s student annual, edited by Gayle Howe, one of the spring term graduates, was dedicated to student life and was profusely illustrated with snapshots and student life pictures.

The Alumnus acknowledges its indebtedness to the Old Gold for the privilege of bringing these pleasant scenes of campus life to its 15,000 alumni readers.
Student Life Is Busy One for Spring Term

Hours of Study, Lectures, Tests Leave Time for Gay Festivities and Thoughtful Recreation

Student activities in the fields of music, drama, debate, journalism, and social life rounded out a full year of achievement in extra-curricular affairs for 1934-35. With an initial calendar of some 146 events scheduled in the Student Handbook, the activities of the year increased with each succeeding term and gathered momentum right up to the events of commencement week, when seniors attended their last social and academic functions as undergraduates.

An outline of the events in the various fields of activity during the spring term follows:

Music

Bruch’s cantata, “The Lay of the Bell” was sung by a mixed chorus and several soloists as the principal event of the annual Music Festival, presented this year on the week-end of May 11. Earlier in the spring term, Gabriel Fenyves, famed Hungarian pianist, was presented in concert by the Music Department. Other activities of the Department for the spring term included the combined concert of the Cecilian and Minnesinger Glee Clubs in April, and the traditional spring trip of the Minnesinger Club.

Four towns were visited on this week-end trip: Renwick, Corwith, Humboldt, and Fort Dodge.

Drama

“The Good Hope,” a sea drama by Herman Heijermans, was presented as the annual Drama Conference Play by the drama division of the English Department, when the conference met at Teachers College on Saturday, April 27. The play was presented on Thursday and Friday evenings and again on Saturday at a special matinee performance. About 450 high school students and their instructors attended the conference.

At the morning session, S. A. Lynch, head of the English Department, presided, presenting Hazel B. Strayer, assistant professor of oral interpretation, in her talk, “The Significance of Acting,” and H. Darke Albright, instructor in English and stage technician, in his speech, “Flexibility and Economy in Stage Scenery.”

The second play of the spring term was John Van Druten’s “The Distaff Side,” offered in connection with commencement activities on May 29 and 31. This was the first amateur production of “The Distaff Side,” which just finished its run in New York City the end of March.

Debate

Although the major portion of the debate and speech season was over when the last Alumnus went to press, a few meets were scheduled for the spring term.

James Curtis, Maquoketa, winner of the Iowa Oratorical Contest for colleges, represented the state of Iowa at the annual convention and contest of the Interstate Oratorical Association at Northwestern University, Evanston, Illinois, on Thursday and Friday, April 25 and 26. He was accompanied by Dr. F. W. Lamberton, professor of public speaking and debate coach.

Two Teachers College debaters, Mary Jane Snyder, Manchester, and Aletha Freet, Cedar Falls, debated two students from Columbia College, Dubuque, at Teachers College on March 15 on the question, “Resolved: That the nations should agree to prevent the international shipment of arms and munitions.”

Cable to Head Combined Science Departments

Dr. E. J. Cable

In 1911, Dr. Begeman was president of the Iowa Academy of Science, and in 1930 was selected a "Fellow" in the American Association for the Advancement of Science. He received international recognition among scientists in 1910 when he determined the charge of the electron. This value is still quoted and accepted today as one of the most accurate in the science tests of Europe and America.

Dr. Emmett J. Cable, the new head of the combined departments, has been with the Teachers College since 1905, serving as head of the Natural Science Department since 1917. He holds the M. S. Degree from Cornell and the Ph. D. Degree from the University of Iowa.

preceding the commencement exercises, graduates gathered at the second annual cap and gown breakfast, adjourning at 9 o'clock to form the academic procession and march to the gymnasium, where they received their degrees and diplomas.

Excerpts From Address
Selections from Dr. Nollen's commencement address, entitled "Personality," follow:

"I propose, out of a long and checkered career as teacher and educator, to use ordinary common-sense in giving some homely advice to the budding pedagogues who are about to receive the accolade of their alma mater.

"I am convinced that personality can be cultivated and educated, in spite of the discouraging comments of negative experts . . . . Furthermore, I am sure that the teacher, more than most human beings, has a definite responsibility for working at this task; for two reasons. In the first place, the teacher is inevitably a public character, whose life is in the limelight almost as much as that of the preacher or the actor. In the second place, the teacher has a rare opportunity to influence the lives of countless young people.

"The first obvious observation is that personality has its important physical side. There is no other language that is so universal and immediately understandable as appearance and gesture . . . . The physical presence of a teacher is either an asset or a liability.

"But beauty is not the last word; charm has far greater value, and we all know that the most charming people may have little or no statuesque plastic beauty. Charm is beauty in action, and action is within the reach of all who are willing to learn. I would insist, therefore, that the teacher possess charm. In this respect, the voice is perhaps even more important than appearance and demeanor.

"The teacher must be guided by the principles of good taste. This principle certainly applies to the choice of wearing apparel, as it does to habits of personal decency and cleanliness.

"Teaching is naturally a very serious occupation; but the teacher is ill equipped who does not possess a sense of humor. But here let us distinguish sharply between good humor and the spurious variety that takes the form of sarcasm, a vice so destructive of effective teaching that it would justify the instant dismissal of its perpetrator.

"Good taste is by its nature an aesthetic quality, and it therefore comes to its finest flower in the love of beauty. The expression of beauty in art, music, drama, good literature, is an essential element of the atmosphere in which the cultivated spirit finds the breath of life. This rule applies to the classroom in so far as the teacher is permitted to affect its decoration. The influence of such things upon the impressionable spirits of children is subtle and incalculable.

"I would stress particularly the value of the reading habit and the love of good books. The wise use of the public libraries, now thickly scattered over the country, and more important, the building up of a private collection by each person, should be one of the main objects of education.

"A spirit of joyous service alone can make teaching tolerable to both teacher and taught. The teacher is a constant giver, but this is possible only if the storehouse be well furnished and if it receive constantly new supplies. The teacher cannot give richly unless he be richly endowed; he, above most professional servants of the community, must have a great wealth of content in his life.

OPERA! THE BOHEMIAN GIRL
Southern Californians Eat Turkey, Honor Author

By Mrs. Andrew J. Morris (June Chase, M. Di. '06), Secretary

The Southern California Alumni group of Iowa State Teachers College had a most delightful dinner at Hotel Rosslyn on March 22, 1935. The tables were decorated with purple and gold flowers. A turkey dinner was served.

The guest of honor was Mrs. Bess Streeter Aldrich of the class of 1901, who was doing some writing for one of the studios in Hollywood.

Dr. George Mount, 1903, the president, presided and introduced Mrs. Charles W. Roadman, who gave a group of readings. Then he introduced Hal Washburn, 1901, banquet chairman, and past president of this alumni unit, thanking him for his efforts to make this year’s banquet a success. He accorded him the honor of introducing the guest of honor, as Mr. Washburn and Mrs. Aldrich were classmates at Teachers College. In her gracious, clever manner Mrs. Aldrich told of her writing, and greeted her many friends and admirers. Dr. C. P. Colegrove paid tribute to Mrs. Aldrich from the faculty of Teachers College. A telegram expressing greetings from Dr. O. R. Latham was read, also a letter from A. C. Fuller, director of the Bureau of Alumni Affairs.

Henry Iblings, 1917, accompanied by Mrs. Iblings, sang two beautiful solos: “The Light” and “Total Eclipse.” It is always a joy to hear him sing.

Mr. Mount called upon the following and each graciously responded: Mrs. Emma Ridley Colegrove, Miss Anna McGovern, Professor Abbott Page and Mrs. Page, Miss Anna Gertrude Childs, Mrs. W. W. Gist, Miss Mary L. Townsend, Miss Jennie Hutchinson, Dr. John Parish, Miss Helen Zilk, vice president of this alumni unit, and others.

Roll was called by years, and all enjoyed seeing groups from the various classes. Many met acquaintances of “yester years.”

The following officers were elected for the coming year:

President: Mr. Leslye Martin Boatman, 1910.
Vice President: Mr. Hal B. Washburn, 1901.
Recording Secretary: Mrs. June Chase Morris, 1905 and 1906.
Corresponding Secretary: Miss Jennie G. Hutchinson, 1901.
Treasurer: Mrs. Minna Merriam Madill, 1903.

A reception for Mrs. Aldrich followed, and all regretted the lack of more time for chatting with old friends. Among those present were:

Mrs. Alice Edwards, 1905; Mrs. Ruth Davidson Parish, 1905; Ida Specht, 1905; Laura Hoag, 1899; Mr. and Mrs. Leo Ebersold, 1918; Blanche Simmons; Vida Norman; Ruth Collins, 1917; Norine Piggott, 1888; Anna Hurley; Blanche LeValley Burchatt; Mr. and Mrs. Leon Smith; Lurana Rownd, 1911; Mr. and Mrs. Calvin J. Smith; Carl J. Shaffer; Clara Morris Smith; Anna Merriam; Agnes E. Battersby; Mr. and Mrs. John S. Goldthwaite; Mabel Dimmitt; Mrs. William H. Harwood, 1879; Sue Riley Wolfer, 1896; Kathryn Mornin, 1901; Cora Sawyer Snyder; Mr. and Mrs. Harley Wylde, 1901; Sophia Hieber Pfeiffer, 1894; Ethel Wood Odell; Dr. and Mrs. F. C. Sage; Lillian Stine Simmons; Florence McNeal Ogden; Avis Judy; Leola Farrow Brown; Velma Roadman Hollegenback; Richard M. Wyant; M. Elizabeth Wyant, 1892; Salome Van Winkle McCain, 1901; Lucy Plummer, 1890; Buelah Bingham; Alice Bradley; Iris Crawford; Myrtle Tyler Tietosport; Luella Jackson; Margaret Lamberty Robbins; Alee Robinson; Ruth Saul Hunter; Fay Strong Campbell; Jessie Wyler Gist; Dr. and Mrs. A. J. Meyer; Clara Zager Houghton; and Rosa Clausen.
Men To Have Dormitory Opposite Commons

Construction of a new men's dormitory, to be known as the George T. Baker Hall for Men and capable of housing 110 students, is scheduled to begin about July 1, the bids having been let June 4.

The new Teachers College dormitory is to be built at an estimated cost of $140,000 and will be open probably for the summer session of next year, 1936. The new structure will be given its name in honor of George T. Baker, of Davenport, Iowa, for many years a member of the Iowa State Board of Education.

Recreation Rooms Provided

The building, to be erected opposite the Commons, will have a large recreation room in the basement as well as four double rooms. Each double room will be 13 feet by 15 feet 3 inches. There will be a room for pressing, kitchenette, trunk room, service rooms, and apartment.

On the first floor will be a main lobby, lounge, solarium, office, apartment for the matron, and 12 double rooms, as well as one single and one guest room. A circular stairway will connect the main lobby with the floor above.

The second floor is to be the same as the first, except that several more single rooms will be found there above the lounge and office. Guest rooms will be provided on all floors.

Wardrobes will be built in all rooms, as will desks, two in the double rooms and one in the single. Each room will have a lavatory with hot and cold water and a medicine cabinet built in above. Over each desk there will be a study light, another over the medicine cabinet, and another in the center of the ceiling. Electrical outlets will be provided for a lamp between the two beds, for a radio, and one additional.

The new building will be built of architectural monolithic concrete and brick in a style to harmonize with the Commons and the Men's Gymnasium. It will be located south of the Campanile, just opposite the Commons, and as far south of the Campanile as the Commons is north of it.

Contracts Already Let

Plans for the building, drafted by Oren Thomas, Des Moines architect, were approved by the State Board of Education last fall, but announcement of the proposed structure was not made until late spring.

Contracts for the dormitory have been conditionally let, pending the settlement of several minor points, with the general construction contract going to C. C. Larson Company, of Council Bluffs, Iowa.

The contract for plumbing and heating went to Gallagher & Sons of Faribault, Minnesota, and the electrical wiring contract to the Wack Electric Company, Council Bluffs.

The Larson bid was for an even $112,000, and the electrical bid for $4,743. Gallagher's bid of $23,548 was low for plumbing and heating.

Prominent Alumni, Those Members of Normal Battalion Shown on Back Cover This Issue

REPRODUCED on the back cover of this issue of the Alumnus is the picture of the officers of the Iowa State Normal School battalion in 1895-96. This picture is printed with the same copper halftone plate that was used when the picture was first printed in the Commencement Number of the Normal Eye, issued on June 24, 1896, thirty-nine years ago.

Standing, left to right: Lieutenant Harry E. Whitney, not a graduate, died in a Florida camp after contracting malaria in Cuba during the Spanish-American War; Lieutenant W. E. Smith, not a graduate; Lieutenant E. L. Hollis, M. Di. '98, physician at Marengo, Iowa; Lieutenant Byron J. Lambert, M. Di. '97, head of the Department of Civil Engineering at the State University of Iowa; Sergeant Carl J. Schaffer, M. Di. '97, physician and surgeon at Huntington Park, California; Color-Sergeant Charles E. Locke, M. Di. '96, attorney, Los Angeles.

Sergeant Pearl M. Schaffer, M. Di. '97, later Colonel in the U. S. Army, now retired and living in Des Moines; Lieutenant G. Percival Hunt, M. Di. '97, for many years professor of English at the State University of Iowa, and now head of the Department of English at the University of Pittsburgh; Lieutenant Joseph O. Johnson, M. Di. '97, deceased; Lieutenant Charles F. Johnson, B. Di. '96, superintendent of the Industrial School for Boys at Kis-Lyn Pennsylvania; Sergeant-Major Luther C. Bryan, M. Di. '96, principal of the elementary grades at Davenport, Iowa. Lieutenant Bert B. Welty, B. Di. '96, lawyer at Nevada, Iowa, not shown, appears in the original print.

Wiping Noses, Cutting Hair of Young Alaskans—All in Day’s Work for Helen Taft, ’24

Long Winter Nights, Competition of Medicine Men Fail to Daunt Missionary at Haines, Alaska, School

Helen L. Taft, J. C. ’24, is engaged in Presbyterian mission work at Haines, Alaska, where she has been located for the past five years. After her graduation from Teachers College, Miss Taft prepared further for her work in the field of religion at Christian Workers College, Bellevue, Nebraska.

Miss Taft’s work at Haines House is primarily the care and training of the boys. The children go to the government school for their secular education, but Miss Taft’s work includes everything from “wiping noses, mending clothes, cutting hair, and keeping the house in order to assisting with the religious and moral training of the boys.” Besides her work at the Home, Miss Taft assists in the work of the Church and Sunday School, of which she has been superintendent for almost five years. She is also treasurer of the church.

Children in the Home vary in age from three to fourteen, and come from five native tribes: Eskimo, Thlinget, Simeian, Aleut, and Hydra. One of the boys at the Home at present is from Nome, farther from his own locality than the other students.

By special request Miss Taft has written for the Alumnus an informative account of Haines House and her Alaskan surroundings. Her account follows:

“The Presbyterian Church in the United States has had missions established at Haines for many years, starting with their first station in 1881. The Church established a hospital at Haines and continued its operation until the U. S. Army Post was located there. The Army Post established its own hospital. Then the federal government established a hospital at Juneau, and in 1921 the Haines building was turned into a home for orphan and dependent Indian children and was named Haines House.

In 1928 the Home had grown to such proportions that a new building was needed; so a new boy’s dormitory, dispensary, and hospital were added to the original set-up. The Home is located on a hill overlooking the ocean, and is between the town proper and the Army Post. It is heated with steam, lighted by electricity, and through the courtesy of the U. S. Army, has running water.

“At present there are fifty-three children, about equally divided between boys and girls, and nine supervisors and workers. Ten acres of the large farm which surrounds the Home are under cultivation, the rest being timberland. Crops grown include potatoes, carrots, turnips, cabbage, lettuce, beans, peas, onions, beets, and spinach for use during the summer; and peas and sunflowers for the silo. The Home has a herd of seven cows, and as feed shipped in is very expensive, the station raises as much as possible itself. Several tons of hay are cut and stored each fall. During the summer months the sun shines most of the time, and crops grow rapidly. During the longest summer days, the sun shines for eighteen and nineteen hours.

“Even in winter the climate of southeastern Alaska is quite mild, as the territory is warmed by the Japanese Current. The temperature at Haines in the winter rarely falls to ten degrees below zero. During the shortest winter days, Haines has only about two hours of sunlight, and that only on clear days.”

Of the Indians, Miss Taft writes that they are sturdy built, as a rule, and have brown eyes and straight black hair. They live in houses the same as the white people, ordinarily. Formerly they lived in community houses, with perhaps a tent set up by each family in their particular corner. Last winter several families reverted to the community life because of the hard times. The Indians’ diet consists mainly of native foods, dried fish, berries, and seaweed. They are very fond of sweets. They still cling somewhat to old beliefs and superstitions and have a fear of their medicine men.

Most of the older Indians know very few words of English, but the younger generation understands and speaks the language quite well. The government requires that English only be spoken in the schools.
Religious Life Program Gains New Impetus

Students Take Immediate Liking to Pastor, His Plans and Discussion Forums

There is progress and change in the area of religion. The purpose of the office of religious activities is to enable the students of the College to become acquainted with the new facts or interpretations in the field of religion. These facts are not forced upon them, but rather it is the purpose to make more meaningful to them whatever religious ideas they may have after they have been "refined by the refiner's fire."

Dr. Harold A. Bosley succeeded Dr. Howard Hanson as director of religious activities at the opening of the fall term. He supervises the College Chapel Sermons, the religious Forums, and as a member of the English department teaches all classes in Religious literature and philosophy.

Dr. Bosley received the Bachelor of Arts Degree from Nebraska Wesleyan College and the Bachelor of Divinity and Doctor of Philosophy Degrees from the University of Chicago. For four years previous to his coming to the Teachers College campus he was pastor of the Midlothian Union Church in South Chicago. By invitation of the National Student Committee of Y. M. C. A. Associations, Dr. Bosley spent a part of last summer at Lake George, New York, delivering a series of lectures and leading religious discussion groups.

Dr. Bosley is married and has two children.

Students at the College took an immediate liking to Dr. Bosley when he came to the campus last fall. His religious Forums on Tuesday evenings have been well attended, principally because Dr. Bosley has kept youth's viewpoint. The popularity of the discussion on "Dating Standards at Teachers College," led by Dr. Bosley, was such that the same topic had to be brought up again two weeks later. The report of the meeting, carried in the College Eye, excited such an interest among college students everywhere that it was broadcast throughout the United States by the Associated Collegiate Press, a college news syndicate.
Calling All Cars! Calling All Cars! Bring Class of 1911

Proceed to Campus Iowa Teachers College, June, 1936. Get Names, Addresses, Send Them in to Alumni Bureau

Attention, Class Members!
The June commencement in 1936 is your twenty-fifth anniversary. The time-honored custom gives you the place of honor. There is extra honor for you because the College plans an important celebration to mark its sixty years. All this will make it the more worth while for each and every member of the class of 1911 to be on hand.

There is an efficient local Reunion Committee for the Alumni Association on the Campus which will be working under the competent leadership of Dorothy M. Buell, 1911 (Mrs. Leslie H. Hughes). Cooperating committees from the faculty organizations will assist in providing for all appropriate Alumni-College features of the occasion.

Class Presidents:
Ruth Wright (Mrs. R. J. Swanson) Villisca, Iowa
Russell Glasener, 1160 23rd St., Des Moines, Iowa
Fred Vorhies, 720 4th St. S.W., Mason City, Iowa

The committee sounds the rallying call for a most impressive anniversary reunion for the class of 1911.

Send in your name right away for the list of those who will plan to come for a class roll to be printed in the October Alumnus. Address the Bureau of Alumni Affairs, Iowa State Teachers College.

Six From One Family of Nine Attend Teachers College

Six of the nine children of the Porter family at Centerville, Iowa, have attended the Iowa State Teachers College, although only two of them have received degrees from the Cedar Falls school. This information was furnished to The Alumnus by Bert G. Porter, the second in line of the children, who has attended six colleges and who received his degree from Iowa State College at Ames. Briggs Porter also received a degree from Ames.

Laura Ethel Porter, M. Di. '11, went on with advanced work at the University of Iowa after graduating from Teachers College and received the B. A. Degree from the University in 1921. Mernie Porter, B. Di. '13, is the only other of the nine children to receive a degree from Teachers College.

All nine children of the Porter family have had college work, and the parents, too, have taken short-course work at Ames. The parents started their college work after they were both 45 years of age.

Alumnus Publishes Research

A. C. Grubb, B. A. '17, is receiving distinction in the field of scientific research. Dr. Grubb, professor of chemistry at the University of Saskatchewan, Saskatoon, Canada, is the author of several printed reports of experiments that have recently come to the editor.

One of these, "New Features of the Nitrogen Afterglow," is by Dr. Grubb and H. A. Jones, reprinted from the July 28, 1934, "Nature." Another article was published in the March, 1935, "Journal of Chemical Physics." This was an article based on a thesis submitted by A. B. Van Cleave in 1933 in partial fulfillment of requirements for the Degree of Master of Science in Chemistry at the University of Saskatchewan.

Dr. Grubb also presented a paper before the Sixty-third General Meeting of the Electrochemical Society in Montreal, Canada, on May 12, 1933. This paper was subsequently published in the account of procedures and again as a pamphlet in itself. This paper, entitled "Formation of Ozone in the Alternating Current Corona Discharge with Tubes Coated with Paraffin, Stearic Acid, and Platinum", was based on a thesis submitted to the University for the Degree of Master of Science by H. G. Thode.

Since his graduation from Teachers College, Dr. Grubb has studied at Purdue University, where he received the M. S. Degree, and at the University of Chicago, from which he received the Doctorate Degree.

E. S. Tesdell, B. Di. '07, 1414 Germania Drive, Des Moines, an attorney in that city, was a campus visitor recently. He looked into the various classrooms where he had once recited and visited the old chapel in Gilchrist Hall and the new assembly room, besides going through the new Commons Building.
Social Activities

Social activities opened with the first day of registration of the fall term with a tea in the Commons and the Student Council reception on the South Campus in the evening. The second day of registration brought forth another tea and informal dancing in the Commons in the evening.

High lights of the fall term social season were the regular Friday evening dances, Men’s Play Day, Pep Jamboree, Frosh Night, Leisure Time Hours, the formal dance, and Homecoming, with its football game with Grinnell, the dance, and the annual Homecoming play.

Traditional Washington Ball

The winter term also opened with the registration tea, and went on to a round of dances, including formals, Christmas dance, Femmes Fancy, and the Washington Ball. There were Tutor Ticklers, more Leisure Time Hours, Student Forums, plays, and numerous music recitals and concerts. This term, like all the others, closed with the graduation dinner, baccalaureate, and other activities incidental to commencement.

Spring activities opened with the tea on registration day, the presentation of the opera, "The Bohemian Girl," dances, including the Senior Prom and the Press Prom, Drama Conference, Music Festival, Mother’s Day, recognition days for scholars and athletes, and the round of activities that always make up the spring term commencement.

W. G. Moorhead, student from 1907 to 1909, is acting as director of the Division of Health and Physical Education in the Department of Public Instruction at Harrisburg, Pennsylvania.

Mr. Moorhead captained the baseball team at Teachers College in 1908, was re-elected captain for 1909, but left school to accept the principalship of the Washington School in Waterloo just before the season opened. He remained in Waterloo for five years. He then entered Springfield College, Springfield, Massachusetts, where he was awarded both the Bachelor and Master of Arts Degrees. Upon graduation in 1914 from Springfield he became director of physical education in the schools of New Britain, Connecticut, remaining there for four years. During the war he was Camp Physical Director at Camp Beauregard, Alexandria, Louisiana. He became associated with the State Department of Public Instruction of Pennsylvania in 1920 as supervisor of physical education, and in 1925 assumed his present position.

In 1933, Mr. Moorhead received the Honor Award of the American Physical Education Association for his contributions to the field of health and physical education. He is a member of the National Council of the American Physical Education Association, and in 1930 was chairman of the committee on Elementary School Physical Education of the White House Conference.

Mr. Moorhead was selected President of the American Physical Education Association at its Fiftieth Anniversary Convention in Pittsburgh on April 24-27. He was also honored by the physical education teachers of Pennsylvania at a testimonial dinner at Pittsburgh on April 26 and presented with a gold watch and a life membership in the Association.
Track Team Champions of Two Conferences

ALTHOUGH the Panthers lost the Coe-Cornell triangular meet, the 1935 season was one of the greatest in Teachers College track history from the viewpoint of championships. Capturing the Iowa Conference title for the eighth straight year, Coach Art Dickinson's track and field artists climaxed the season by winning the North Central Conference championship in their first competition in the new loop. Both contests were won without much apparent effort, although the actual ebb and flow of the meets could not be put on paper. The Panthers seemed ever in danger of running into trouble, but the opposition crumbled at the crucial points.

In addition to the two team championships six records were set by Teachers College men. Roland White set the North Central Conference pole vault mark at 12 feet 10½ inches for the only individual record, while the half-mile relay team created three marks, the 440 relay one, and the mile team another. Anson Vinall, Johnny Walgren, Earl Meikle, and Orville Nichols set a new Teachers College relay mark of 43.4 in the 440 event, ran the half-mile relay in 1:30.8 for a relay record here, ran the same race in 1:29.9 for a new Drake relay record, and ran it in 1:30 to set a new Iowa Conference mark. Arvil Hinshaw, George Dana, Meikle, and Nichols also set the mile mark of 3:28.7 for the Teachers College relays.

Panthers Set Six Records; Win Eighth Straight Iowa Conference Title

Perhaps the most outstanding single performance of the season was the anchor lap turned in by Nichols when the Panthers won the mile relay in the Cedar Falls meet. Taking the baton 25 yards behind Pull of Coe, the Californian ran a beautifully timed race to pass the Kohawk five yards from the tape.

Nichols won the Armour Tech quarter indoors and paced the team in scoring outdoors, totaling 60 points.

Doped to place no better than third in the Conference Meet held at Cedar Falls, the Panthers upset the dope and ran away with proceedings. Rising to the press of competition, Teachers College athletes turned in best performances in several events. Luther was second, with Iowa Wesleyan third. Teachers College scored 52½ points, nearly doubling the total of the second-place team.

Again the figures showed that Teachers College should place well down in the standings in the North Central Meet, but once more a last-ditch spirit turned a meet into a run-away as South Dakota State, in second with 37 points, trailed the Panthers by 11.

In the state meet the Dickinson-coached team was fifth, scoring on second by White in the vault, Vern Stribley third in the discus, and a second by the half-mile relay team. Nichols was fourth in the 440, and the mile relay team also took a fourth for a total of 11 points.
In the big meets where Panthers took first places, the following men were champions:

Stout—Iowa Conference broad jump.
Stribley—Iowa Conference discus.
Meikle—Iowa Conference 440-yard dash.
White—Iowa and North Central Conference vault.
Nichols—North Central 440-yard dash, Armour Relays 440, Teachers College Relays 100 and 220 dashes, and javelin.

880-Relay team—Teachers College Relays, Iowa Conference, Drake Relays.
Mile relay—Teachers College Relays, Drake, North Central Conference.
440-yard relay—Teachers College Relays.

Panther Athletes Honored at Special Assembly

Klotz, Kimberlin, Cheney Gain Annual Board Awards for Achievements

Don Klotz, Kenneth Kimberlin, and Ray Cheney received the three high awards at the spring letter assembly. Klotz was given the scholarship-athletic trophy for four years of participation on the tennis teams with highest grades. He was graduated last August. Kimberlin, a senior, and Cheney, a sophomore, were named the men of greatest value to the basketball and wrestling teams.

Reeves Wins Net Title

Captures N. C. I. A. C. Singles; Teams With McNabb for Doubles Crown

Stanley Reeves, Panther net ace, captured the North Central Conference tennis singles title at Brookings, S. D., and paired with Bill McNabb to gain the doubles to climax a good season of play for Coach Homer Haddox's team.

Reeves was undefeated in six dual matches during the season and lost only one match in tournament play, that to Pederson of Luther. His record for the year shows 10 singles wins and one loss and six doubles triumphs against three defeats.

McNabb, No. 2 man on the squad, waited until tournament time to display his best tennis. Winner of but four of nine matches in dual meets, McNabb went to the semifinals of the Iowa Conference meet before bowing to Ainley, and advanced to the same round in the North Central before he lost to Loveland. He also teamed up with Reeves to gain two doubles wins in tournaments. His record showed six singles wins, six singles losses, four doubles wins and four losses.

Bill Hinson and Ross Cutler were the other regular members of the team, while Elliott Hutton and Darrell Black played in one match.

Reeves, McNabb, Black, Hutton, and Hinson will all be back next year, in addition to one or two promising freshmen. Hinson had the best dual meet mark, next to that of Reeves, winning four and losing two.

Cutler is the only one who was graduated. The Cedar Falls net star did not turn out for a full season until this year, but played the No. 3 position with fair success.

The team record:

Teachers College --- 2; Grinnell --- 4
Teachers College --- 3; Grinnell --- 3
Teachers College --- 2; Coe ------- 4
Teachers College --- 5; Penn ------- 1
Teachers College --- 2; Coe ------- 4
Teachers College --- 5; Penn ------- 1
Everett Scott Pitches No-Hit Contest at Ypsilanti

EVERETT SCOTT, one of the six men on the Panther baseball team who closed his intercollegiate career last season, took the most sensational route possible to bid goodbye to his coach. The chubby righthander blanked the Michigan Normal nine without allowing a single hit. It was the first time a Teachers College pitcher had turned in a hitless game since Coach Munn Whitford did the trick himself in 1919 against Ellsworth, then a four-year school.

Starting the season without a single winning pitcher on the squad, the team was further handicapped by lack of veterans. Harry Krieg, left fielder, Johnny Champlin, third baseman, Ray Smalling, catcher, and Dick Rollins and Scott, pitchers, were the only regulars reporting at the start of the season. The loss of Gordon Blanchard, undefeated during the 1934 season, cut the efficiency of the team immensurably as it robbed Whitford of his only starting and finishing pitcher.

First Hitless Shutout Since Whitford's Perfect Game in 1919

Four wins in 12 games was the record for 1935. Forced to use a third baseman at first, the Panthers uncovered a good player in Kenneth LaVelle, but his inexperience drew him into many errors. At shortstop three men were used with but little choice in fielding. Roger Fleming was the regular in the position. Verl "Chick" Donald, one of the leading hitters on the team, was a fielding disappointment until moved from second to the outfield.

Krieg, one of the finest ball players ever to wear the Purple, led the team in both hitting and fielding. The Volga City athlete had a perfect record in fielding and hit the ball hard from mid-season on to set up an average of .404. Smalling and Verne Ostrem, reserve catcher, were the other men with perfect fielding records. Scott was next to Krieg in hitting, followed by Champlin and Donald. Scott was the leading pitcher, winning two and losing two, while Rollins won two but lost four. Merton Blake, sophomore, lost the other games for the team.

Seniors included Scott, Krieg, Rollins, Smalling, Donald, and Vern Miller.

Iowa State gave the Panthers a 15 to 3 batting in the opening game when the green Teachers College infield blew wide open to commit 10 errors.

Against the University of Nebraska a week later, the team settled down and for eight innings gave a great demonstration to run up a 3 to 0 lead. The Cornhuskers turned on Scott and his green infield and chased across seven runs to win the game.

The following day, behind Rollins, Teachers College won its first game, 8 to 7. Nebraska, after trailing all the way, tied the game in the ninth on a home run, triple, and single. The Panthers rallied for the winning marker when Fleming singled Smalling home after two were out.

Rain forestalled the Panthers twice in the game with Platteville Teachers and finally ended the game in the seventh to give the Wisconsin team a 4 to 2 win.

Teachers College split a double-header with Iowa State in the next series to give the Cyclones their second defeat. The scores, both games going but seven innings, were 6 to 3 for State, and 4 to 3 for Teachers College.

Another split series saw two slugfests between the Panthers and Western Teachers of Macomb, Ill. Errors and a hard-hitting lineup gave Macomb a 14 to 9 decision in the first game, while Teachers College came back the next day to score an easy 13 to 2 win.

In the annual battle with Luther it was shakiness afield that again lost for the Tutors. Rollins, bettering his performance against Macomb, did not allow a hit until the sixth, only to see the Norse tie the score at three-all in the eighth on misplays and win in the tenth, 5 to 3.

A three-game trip through Ohio and Michigan gave the Panthers one more win, the no-hit game pitched by Scott.

In the game with Toledo the final score was 11 to 1.

In the first game at Ypsilanti Scott allowed the Normalites to hit only two balls hard to win. The next day Teachers College lost, 20 to 1.

The freshmen, under David McCuskey, lost to Luther, 7 to 5, in the only game played.

Four Teachers College graduates were in the cast of the play, "Some Little Fixer," a three-act comedy presented by the faculty of the Manly Public Schools, Manly, Iowa, on April 12, 1935.

The graduates taking part included Dorothy Rogers, B. A. '30, (sixth grade); Rosamond Rathbone, B. S. '34, (commercial); Dorothy Edgar, B. A. '31, (fourth grade); and Alice Aden, Pri. '29, (first grade). Miss Rathbone and Superintendent W. H. Tate were co-directors of the play.

The purpose of the play was to raise money for the extra-curricular activities, and to cover the cost of debate, music, commercial, and dramatic contests.

E. D. Y. Culbertson, B. Di. '89, is serving as superintendent of schools at Ferguson, Iowa.

H. E. Aldrich, B. Di. '93, vice-president of the Equitable Life Insurance Company of Iowa, conducted a two-day sales school on April 1 and 2, 1935, for the company’s agents in the state of California.

After graduation from Teachers College in 1893, Mr. Aldrich, instead of making teaching a profession, entered life insurance and after a few years joined the Equitable of Iowa at the home office. This was 41 years ago, February 1, 1894.

Mrs. William Shuttleworth (Blanche B. Sokol), B. Di. '93, is living at Sibley, Iowa, where her husband is associated with the lumber business. They have one son, Frank.

Mrs. Shuttleworth, since graduation from Teachers College, has done research in adolescent education at Yale University.

H. A. Mueller, M. Di. '95, assistant cashier of J. F. Johnson's Bank, St. Charles, Iowa, recently was re-elected president of the Madison County Historical Society. This society was organized in March, 1904, with Mr. Mueller and John C. Parish, M. Di. '02, now professor of history, University of California, Southwestern Branch, Los Angeles, as charter members. Mr. Mueller has served as president of the association since its organization.

Mr. Mueller is also superintendent of the Methodist Sunday School in St. Charles, and was elected secretary of that town's Vacation School for this summer.

J. Herbert Kelley, M. Di. '97, is beginning his fifteenth year as executive secretary of the Pennsylvania State Education Association and editor of the Pennsylvania School Journal. The Association has a membership of 62,494, the largest in the history of the organization.

Robert D. Barr, M. Di. '02, is employed as a salesman for the Churchill Manufacturing Company at Sioux City, Iowa.

A. D. King, M. Di. '03, teaches mathematics in Polytechnic High School, San Francisco, California, commuting daily from 1633 Cedar Street, Berkeley, California. He finds time week ends and vacations to look after a ranch in the almond belt of Paso Robles. Mr. King and his wife, who was Jeannette Scott Wooley, M. Di. '03, have a talented daughter, Miss Winona, who completed the B. A. and M. A. courses in the University of California prior to completing work for her M. D. there in 1930. Miss King is now college physician at the State Teachers College at Chico, California. This summer she will be Dean of Women as well as college physician at their summer session near Mt. Shasta. After the summer session, she will leave for a month's visit in Alaska.

Kris Fesenbeck, M. Di. '04, is now manager of the Powell, Wyoming, branch of the Big Horn Cooperative Marketing Association. This Association, with headquarters at Basin, Wyoming, has 1,100 members in Park and Big Horn Counties, and has been in operation for 12 years.

Frank G. Hart, M. Di. '04, of Powell, Wyoming, is president of the Association.

Leo Ranney, B. Di. '05, writes as follows concerning his unique and interesting work.

"Last spring and summer I spent in Europe, found London, England, short 200 million gallons of water daily, installed my system for the city, which will provide all their requirements in future applications. This year we have a contract to provide a new water supply for Lisbon, Portugal. This will eliminate their occasional epidemics of typhoid. We are closing a contract for Rangoon, India, where it is anticipated that the same good result will be accomplished. In Spain and North Africa the system will be used for charging the ground with water so that no rainfall will be lost. In the latter case, Mussolini's representative has asked us to come to Rome for a conference. Operations for South America are handled from our Panama office."

'06

W. G. Brandstetter, B. Di. '06, has been in charge of Christian Education and is serving as University Pastor at Southwest Texas Teachers College at San Marcos, Texas, for the past six years.

Alice Beck Hancock, M. Di. '06, is acting as teacher in the Indian service at Cheyenne, South Dakota. She teaches home economics and serves as home demonstration agent there.

'10

Mrs. H. C. Fugh (Thursa E. Slattery), Pri. '10, of 2833 Buckingham Road, Los Angeles, California, is acting as second grade teacher in that city.

Mrs. Stewart S. Foster (Helen M. Craft), Pri. '10, is living at Hamburg, Iowa.

Avis Judy, Pri. '10, is primary teacher in California. Her address is 563 North Heliotrope Drive, Los Angeles, California.

Lillian Sharts Larrimore, Kg. '10, resides at 2196 West 24th Street, Los Angeles, California. She sent her best wishes for a grand reunion of the 1910 class at Teachers College in June. She is associated with the Caltex Sportswear Company.

'11

F. Russell Glasener, B. A. '11, 1160 Twenty-third Street, Des Moines, Iowa, who was granted his Master of Arts Degree from the University of Iowa in 1933 and his Ph. D. Degree from the same institution in 1934, was appointed head of the Department of Economics at Drake University, effective with the opening of the fall term 1934.

'13

John P. Johnson, B. A. '13, is editor of the Union Star at Union, Iowa.

Mrs. Johnson was formerly Alma Cooper, Pri. '11.

Anna Lynam, B. Di. '13, has left for the Corn ing school system to assume the superintendency of the Iowa State Training School for Girls in Mitchellville. Gladys Riddle, former student at Teachers College, will replace her as Normal Training instructor at Corning.

'14

Bertha Bennett, Pri. '14, of Waterloo, Iowa, is acting as a public health nurse at Kankakee, Illinois. Her address is 153 North Indiana Avenue, Kankakee.

Miss Bennett received the graduate nursing diploma at Chicago Presbyterian Hospital in 1919.

'16

Ira F. Heald, B. A. '16, is now enrolled at the University of Iowa working on the Ph. D. Degree. He received the Master of Arts Degree there in 1923.

'17

Louise Arildson, P. E. '17, is entering upon her eleventh year of service in the elementary grades of the Spring Garden School of Nutley, New Jersey. She was an official delegate of the Nutley Teachers Association to the N. E. A. Convention in Denver and attended the Iowa State Teachers College Reunion.

Claude C. Dickey, R. S. '17, will act as superintendent of schools at Rowley, Iowa, this fall. For the past three years he has served as superintendent of schools at Delaware, Iowa.

Mr. Dickey received the Bachelor of Arts Degree at Coe College in 1932.

Lloyd C. Grover, M'l A. '17, is associated with the Iowa Employment Service at Cedar Rapids, Iowa.

Mahlon H. Johnson, B. A. '17, publisher of the Buffalo County Republican, Fountain City, Wisconsin, sends a clipping of an advertisement in his paper run by his seven-year old son, Dwight. Dwight has set himself up in the circulating library business, handling books for children five to eight years old. Among the titles he advertises are Robin Hood, Beacon Second Primer, and other children's books. Dwight also sells foreign stamps and large pictures of his home town. According to his advertisement, profits from the five cents per week rental will go to buy new books for the library.

Ruth Sheldon, J. C. '17, was recently assigned a position in the Government Hospital at Kana kanak, Alaska. Previous to her new work she taught in grade schools of Iowa and Minnesota, took nurses' training at the University of Minnesota and graduated in 1925. During her senior year at the School of Nursing she was awarded a scholarship in Nursing Education. For four years she had charge of the students' Health Service at the Northwest School of Agriculture located at Crookston, Minnesota, and for three years was instructor of nurses at Grant Hospital and Roseland Community Hospital, both in Chicago. For the past three years she has been in charge of the health work and school hospital at the Eklutna Industrial School, Eklutna, Alaska. This is a boarding school for native (Indian and Eskimo) children in central Alaska.

'Mrs. L. N. Gill (Myrtle Paine), Pri. '19, has devised a new phonic system which aids in the teaching of reading and spelling. The development of the material has been progressing over a period of years and has only recently been copyrighted. A large edition of bulletins and phonic cards have just come from the press, she writes. She is the wife of the superintendent at Arnold Park, Iowa.

'Mary D. Reed, B. A. '20, now director of primary education at Indiana State Teachers College at Terre Haute, recently wrote requesting a copy of the Teachers College Loyalty Song. The plan was to play the Loyalty Song on "Honor Day." The custom at Terre Haute, in making awards that day to outstanding persons in the various departments, is to have the band play the Alma Mater song for the head of the particular department. Florence Curtis, B. A. '13, is head of the Women's Physical Education Department there.

'Mrs. Bruce A. Rogers (Stella Handorf), J. C. '20, is residing at 1653 Glenn Avenue, Columbus, Ohio.

'Mr. Rogers is associated with the Battelle Memorial Institute doing research work in steel.

'Mrs. R. E. Armstrong (Mary Handorf), J. C. '21, is living near Hampton, Iowa. Her address is R. R. 5, Hampton.

'Miller Christiansen, B. A. '21, writes that he and Mrs. Christiansen now live at San Juan, Texas. Shortly before Christmas they left Portland, Oregon, and spent Christmas with Mrs. Marston Sweet (Gertrude Huffman), B. A. '26, at Arbuckle, California. Mrs. Sweet operates an almond ranch with her son and daughter. She formerly taught at Rippey, Iowa.

The following is quoted from a Portland newspaper: "Much of Deering High School's record in athletics since he became connected with the institution nearly 10 years ago has been due to his zeal and exceptional ability as director. He had endeavored to create and maintain school spirit in the student body and the response has been manifest in the succession of victories by the different athletic teams of the institution. He had accomplished much with his swimming teams.

"Mr. Vinall was instrumental in the establishment of the annual four-cornered track meet which has become the most notable of indoor events for schoolboy athletics.

"The individual trophy for performance and sportsmanship, annually presented at the four-cornered track meet of the Suburban Track League will henceforth be known as the George H. Vinall Cup, in perpetuation of the memory of the Deering High athletic director."
