1994 Track and Field

University of Northern Iowa

A campus-wide commitment to great teaching lies at the heart of the University of Northern Iowa's reputation for providing exceptional undergraduate education, as well as complementary programs at the master's, specialist's and doctoral levels. Building on its historic strength in teacher education, the University has developed a number of outstanding programs in business, natural sciences, humanities and fine arts, and social and behavioral sciences.

Northern Iowa prides itself on providing a student-centered educational experience. The University's medium size allows it to offer the faculty, facilities and academic choices of a major university, while retaining a friendly, small college atmosphere. Small classes enable the University to foster one-on-one working relationships between faculty and students. More than 90 percent of UNI's classes have 50 or fewer students.

Students enter the University well-prepared, demonstrated by their selection of high school courses and rank in class. In recent years, over 90 percent of the entering freshmen ranked in the top 50 percent of their high school classes, with about 60 percent ranking in the top 30 percent. The average undergraduate arrives at UNI with an ACT score of 23.

U.S. News and World Report has recognized the University by ranking it seventh among the top 15 colleges and universities and second among best buys in the Midwest Region in its America's Best Colleges book. It also recognized Northern Iowa as one of two "up-and-coming" Midwest regional universities.

The College of Business Administration has become the largest undergraduate business school in Iowa. The College's Department of Accounting is ranked among the 10 best in the country by educators and accounting professionals. In a national survey of 400 accounting faculty, Northern Iowa ranked as one of their top programs.

Considered a long-time leader in the field of teacher education, UNI has implemented several programs that continue this tradition of excellence. The Regents' Center for Early Developmental Education is a leading setting for research and training in the education of young children. The Center is the only educational resource of its kind in Iowa.

Northern Iowa's 19 men's and women's intercollegiate athletics programs compete at the NCAA Division I level with major conference affiliations. The Panthers boast a nationally recognized coaching staff to maintain consistently competitive programs.

The Northern Iowa campus combines the grandeur of early 1900s architecture with striking, modern building designs that have characterized an impressive growth period over the past dozen years. The attractive, park-like campus contains more than 40 major buildings on 861 acres, yet is compact enough to cross in a 10-minute walk.

UNI is located in Cedar Falls, an inviting and historic community of about 35,000 people. Together with the adjacent city of Waterloo, the metropolitan area has a culturally diverse population of 115,000 and combines big city opportunities with small town friendliness. Cedar Falls/Waterloo is a center for industry, finance, commerce, recreation and cultural activities for northeast Iowa.

The University was founded in 1876 and is one of three state-assisted universities administered by the Iowa State Board of Regents. Additional private support is provided by the UNI Foundation and Northern Iowa Alumni Association, representing more than 65,000 alumni in the United States and other countries.

1994 Outlook

by J.R. Ogden, Assistant Sports Editor
Cedar Rapids Gazette

If the Northern Iowa track and field team is known for anything, it's the ability to "rise above it", 10th-year head coach Chris Bucknam said.

And Bucknam knows that will be important this spring since the Panthers will be without junior Jason McCleary. The Missouri Valley Conference Field Co-Athlete of the Year last spring after capturing the decathlon and long jump, McCleary tore his anterior cruciate ligament during the football season and is out for the year.

"It's definitely going to be felt," Bucknam said of McCleary's absence. "He's the most versatile athlete in the Missouri Valley...that was a huge blow to our conference chances."

Combine that loss with the departure of All-American hurdler Johnny Westbrook and all-conference sprinter Cole Honeck through graduation, and it's obvious there are some significant holes to fill.

But Bucknam and his team still have plenty of weapons. A two-time runnerup in the league's outdoor race, UNI is gunning for its first Valley track title.

"We're going to prepare as best we can and go in with the attitude we're going for the conference championship," Bucknam said. "Our kids realize we're going to have to be tougher (since McCleary's injury) and we're going to have to find somewhere else to get some of those points."

And Bucknam thinks his team will rise to the challenge.

"The practice after (McCleary) got hurt...it was the best workout of the fall," he said.

Bucknam said one place UNI will have to get more points is in the distance events. Always a tough team during the cross country season, Bucknam said, "we have to get tougher on the track with the distance races."

He's hoping the return of sophomore Jeff Joiner will help bolster these events. Joiner, fifth in the MVC cross country meet last fall, missed last spring's track season with an injury. He's also expecting a lot from freshman Kyle Kepler, who finished 10th in the cross country meet.

"He's going to be a good one," Bucknam said of Kepler.

But while the distance events are the obvious area for needed points, Bucknam said, "you can always find points in every area."

The Panthers return a host of all-conference performers to build around. Miklos Arpasi, a sophomore from Hungary, won the league 400-meter indoor title last year, ran on three championship relays teams and placed second in the outdoor 800.

Sophomore Joey Woody won the outdoor 400 hurdles title, qualified for the NCAA Championships, and was a member of the winning 1,600 relay along with Arpasi and senior Gregg Garn. Indoors, Woody joined Arpasi and senior Chad Flynn on the championship two-mile relay, and Garn and Arpasi on the winning mile relay.

Bucknam also thinks high jumpers Tim Suchan, Ryan Santi and Pete Herber along with shot putter Matt Casillas have shots at qualifying for the NCAAAs. Suchan was second in the conference indoor meet and Herber third, while Santi also cleared seven feet last year. Senior Steve Daugherty is the school recordholder outdoors and has provisionally qualified for the national meet in the past.

"Woody will have a better shot outdoors than indoors," Bucknam said because Woody's speciality, the 400 hurdles, is an outdoor event. "But he will be much improved in the highs."

Casillas, who finished third in both the indoor and outdoor conference meets last season, has a best put of 55-0 1/4.

"He's got a ton of potential," Bucknam said.

The UNI coach also is hoping to get some needed depth from freshmen Kepler (distance), Maceo Strickland (sprints), Dedric Ward (sprints) and Alonzo Clayton (hurdles).

"Alonzo Clayton looks to be an excellent collegiate hurdler," Bucknam said. "He's got great potential."

The MVC indoor meet is Feb. 26-27 in Carbondale, Ill., and the outdoor meet is May 17-20 in Wichita, Kan.

"One of the things (assistant coach Bill) Lawson and I wanted to do was be in the Big Three," Bucknam said of Southern Illinois, Illinois State and Indiana State. "We wanted to join that group and be one of those top teams."

It appears UNI has done just that. Since joining the league in 1991, the Panthers have been the most consistent performers in the conference, not finishing below fourth in the past seven MVC meets and averaging a higher finish than any of its conference rivals.

"It's a tough league and that's something we are proud of," Bucknam said.

1994 Outlook

Sprints: The shorts sprints are unproven, but hold plenty of potential in youngsters like Dedric Ward and Maceo Strickland. The veteran of the short group is Sly Brown, who had the team's top 200 time outdoors a year ago.

Senior Gregg Garn and sophomores Miklos Arpasi and Joey Woody anchor the long sprints, which figures to be a real UNI strength. The trio combined on several conference championship relay teams last season and all made their marks individually as well.

Arpasi is the defending Missouri Valley indoor champion in the 400 meters. Woody was a national qualifier in the hurdles last season as a freshman, but also set the UNI record in the 600 meters. Garn ranks fourth on the all-time 600 list and is a member of the school recordholding mile relay teams both indoors and out.

Hurdles: Although All-American Johnny Westbrook has graduated, the hurdles should again be a Panther strength with Woody leading the way. The only freshman to qualify for the NCAA's in the 400-meter hurdles a year ago, he won the MVC title and finished third in the 110 highs indoors.

Garn is a two-time all-conference performer in the 400s outdoors and placed third in the Valley meet last year after second the previous season.

Sophomores Alex Garn and Jim Liebermann, and freshmen Mike Wherry and Alonzo Clayton should provide depth. Clayton already has shown great promise by winning his first collegiate race in December.

Middle Distances: Arpasi is UNI's best in the 800 meters, provisionally qualifying for the national championships indoors and outdoors as a freshman. An explosive runner with All-American potential, he already ranks first on the school's all-time indoor list and third outdoors.

Junior Chad Flynn is the top returner in the mile run and 1,500 meters. He placed third in the MVC mile run in '92 and had the team's top times in the mile, 1,000 and 1,500 a year ago.

Also expected to help are sophomores Guy Willey and Matt Mullenix, and freshman Chad Pietig.

Distances: A pair of two-time all-conference cross country runners, Jeff Joiner and Jason Meyer, are the headliners. Joiner missed part of last season due to injury, but is back at full strength and should be a major force. Meyer was UNI's top distance man last season, recording the top 5,000 and 10,000 times outdoors.

Freshman Kyle Kepler is being counted on after earning all-conference honors by placing 10th in the league cross country meet last fall.

Vertical Jumps: UNI is one of just a handful of schools who can boast four seven-foot high jumpers, making it the strongest event on the team. Senior Steve Daugherty and juniors Pete Herber, Tim Suchan and Ryan Santi all have strong chances to become national qualifiers.

Horizontal Jumps: Traditionally a Panther strength, the long and triple jumps figure to be a weakness this season, although junior Todd Madsen will likely be a conference contender in the long jump after taking second in the league outdoor meet last season and fourth indoors.

Throws: With plans calling for junior Allan Walz to redshirt, sophomore Matt Casillas will carry the load. In his first collegiate season, he won the shot put in four meets and earned all-MVC honors indoors and out. He ranks in the school's all-time top five in the shot put and 35-lb. weight.

Freshman Mike Maddox also is expected to contribute immediately.

Coaching Staff

Head Coach Chris Bucknam

As he gets set to complete a decade as the Northern Iowa head track and field coach, Chris Bucknam has certainly made his mark.

Under his guidance, the Panthers have gone from nine championships in seven seasons in the old Mid-Continent Conference to consistent contenders in the Missouri Valley to a team that must be reckoned with on a national basis anytime it steps on the track.

And Bucknam will tell you right away that any credit due him or his program must be shared with assistant coach Bill Lawson, whom he calls his head coach in charge of field events. The statistics and credentials compiled by Northern Iowa's teams over the last decade have brought the UNI staff recognition as one of the finest in the Midwest.

Bucknam oversaw Northern Iowa's 1991 move to the Missouri Valley Conference, where the Panthers have left an indelible mark on the league in just a short amount of time. Although the MVC historically has been one of the best conferences in the nation, boasting All-Americans and numerous NCAA champions in recent years, UNI stepped in and became one of the top competitors in the league instantly.

In fact, in the first seven MVC meets since UNI's membership in 1991, the Panthers have the best composite record in the league. They have claimed one championship, four runnerup finishes and two fourth places, averaging out as the best finish in the MVC in that span.

"We've really had some pretty strong teams the last six or seven years," Bucknam said. "We've had national qualifiers and nationally-ranked relays, but it's just now being seen because of the move to the Missouri Valley. It's that added exposure and improved competition."

After leading the Panther cross country team to the Missouri Valley Conference title in just its second season in the conference, Bucknam was voted MVC Coach of the Year by his peers in 1992. He was named Mid-Continent Conference Indoor Coach of the Year four times in the last seven seasons UNI was a member of the league, Outdoor Coach of the Year in 1986 and Cross Country Coach of the Year in 1988 and 1990.

During his nine-year tenure, the Panthers have won 10 conference crowns--four in indoor track, five in cross country, and one outdoor title. His teams have never finished lower than fourth in any conference meet. In the past six seasons, Bucknam has sent five qualifiers to the NCAA Indoor Championships, with three earning All-America honors, and three to the Outdoor Championships.

Since his arrival at UNI in 1979 as an assistant to long-time head coach Lynn King, the Panthers have won or shared 16 conference titles in track and field and cross country, and produced 12 All-Americans.

A native of Beverly, MA, Bucknam attended Norwich University in Northfield, VT, where he was a four-time letterwinner in track, specializing in the middle and long distances. He was elected co-captain his senior year and graduated in 1978 with a bachelor's degree in physical education. He earned his master's degree in physical education from Northern Iowa in 1982.

Bucknam and his wife, Cindy, have a son, Eric, and daughter, Kate.

Assistant Coach Bill Lawson

Recognized as one of the greatest athletes in Northern Iowa history, Bill Lawson has been with head coach Chris Bucknam every step of the way as the Panther assistant coach and field event coach the past nine seasons.

A 1980 UNI graduate, Lawson returned to his alma mater after serving three years as boys' and girls' track and field and cross country coach, and girls' basketball coach at John Marshall High School in Rochester, MN.

The Carthage, IL, native was a four-time All-American at UNI from 1977-80 and ranks second on the school's all-time decathlon list. He was a two-time co-captain for the Panthers and was a senior when Bucknam was named assistant coach in 1979. He qualified for national competition in the decathlon, pole vault and triple jump four times.

Lawson won the National Master's Decathlon Championship in 1987 and 1992, and has been runnerup three times.

His duties with the Panthers include coordinating the fall track program and conditioning, and coaching the field events and decathlon during the indoor and outdoor seasons. He is recognized as an excellent field event coach and motivator.

Along with Bucknam, he has coached UNI athletes to 98 individual conference championships. The Panther head man is quick to point out that Lawson has played a part just as important to the Panthers' success as his.

"I don't consider Bill my assistant," says Bucknam. "He is a head coach in charge of field events. I sincerely believe he is one of the finest coaches in the country."

"He has a rare combination of not only having a tremendous knowledge of the field events, but the ability to motivate at the same time. There are a lot of coaches who have one or the other, but don't have both. Bill has the rare combination of being able to do both as well as anyone I've seen. Our athletes in the field events are always prepared to compete and do their best."

In addition to his coaching duties, Lawson is a member of the physical education faculty.

Lawson and his wife, Jodie, reside in Waterloo.

Facilities

The UNI-Dome is a unique, multi-purpose athletic facility built in 1976 which has gained a reputation as one of the finest indoor track facilities in America.

It has been the site of numerous nationally prominent meets such as the Central Collegiate Conference Championships, the Mid-Continent Conference Championships, the AIAW National Championships and is annually the site of the premier indoor high school track meet in Iowa, the A.D. Dickinson Relays. Last February, in just its second year in the conference, Northern Iowa hosted the Missouri Valley Conference Championships.

A glance at the UNI-Dome records list shows some of America's finest athletes, both past and present, have competed in the facility in its 18-year history.

The Dome combines the features of a fieldhouse, football stadium and large auditorium. In addition to top track and field events, it also has hosted NCAA football playoffs and will be the home of the 1997 NCAA Division I Wrestling Championships.

Approximately 16,400 spectators can be seated for football games and track meets and 10,000 for courtside activities.

The facility provides an ideal training atmosphere for the Northern Iowa track and field program. The Panthers are able to train in the Dome from November to April, utilizing all the field event stations simultaneously due to the spacious arrangement on the arena floor.

With one of the fastest 200-meter indoor tracks in America to call home, the Panthers annually attract some of the finest teams in the Midwest to their home meets.

By the start of the 1995 season, Northern Iowa will be able to claim some of the finest overall track and field facilities anywhere with the 1994 construction of a new outdoor track and field complex on campus.

The new facility will feature a 400-meter track with eight 48-inch lanes, the latest polyurethane surface and all field event stations. Plans also call for a state-of-the-art electronic scoreboard, seating for 3,000 spectators, complete locker facilities and a press box.

Missouri Valley Conference

Seeds for the creation of the Missouri Valley Conference were planted by eight administrators representing five institutions who gathered at the Midland Hotel in Kansas City, Mo., on January 12, 1907. Basketball became the first competitive sport and served as in the initial step in establishing the MVC as one of the most respected leagues in the nation.

While MVC basketball and baseball have flourished in the national spotlight, Valley track and field and cross country athletes have been making their mark nationally as well.

MVC teams boast a proud, rich tradition in track and field and cross country and have produced numerous All-Americans over the years. In addition, several track and field athletes representing current MVC schools have competed in the Olympics. The most recent was former Southern Illinois standout Darrin Plab, a two-time national high jump champion in 1991 and '92, who competed in the 1992 Barcelona Games.

National champions and All-Americans aren't anything new for MVC teams. Plab is one of eight SIU national champions, while Drake has had five and Indiana State recently added Chris Lancaster, the 1990 NCAA outdoor high hurdles champion, to the honor roll.

The 1992-93 academic year was a landmark year for the conference when, for the first time ever, it began administering women's programs.

The women's squads have brought their share of tradition to the Valley. Two former Southern Illinois stars, Connie Price-Smith and Shelly Zack, competed in the Olympics for the second time in 1992.

Other recent standouts include Indiana State's Holli Hyche, a double NCAA champion sprinter a year ago.

MVC athletes have excelled in the classroom as well. Peter Bednekoff, a track athlete from Tulsa, earned a Rhodes scholarship in 1988. Indiana State's Kyle Hobbs, an NCAA cross country qualifier in 1991, as an Academic All-American, as was SIU's Mark Stuart in 1992.

In its short history in the MVC, the Northern Iowa men's team has placed more student-athletes on the league's annual all-academic teams than any of its rivals.

In addition to track and field and cross country, the Missouri Valley Conference sponsors the following sports: baseball, men's and women's basketball, men's and women's golf, men's soccer, softball, men's and women's tennis and women's volleyball.

Members of the Missouri Valley Conference include: Bradley University, Creighton University, Drake University, Illinois State University, Indiana State University, the University of Northern Iowa, Southern Illinois University, Southwest Missouri State University, the University of Tulsa, Wichita State University and the University of Evansville, which became the league's 11th member in October, 1993.

Since joining the Missouri Valley Conference in 1991, Northern Iowa's men's track and field program has been one of the most consistent forces in the league. In fact, in seven conference championships from October 1991 through October 1993, the Panthers have not finished below fourth in an MVC meet, have won a conference title (cross country, 1992) and have averaged a higher finish than any of their competitors.

Central Collegiate Conference

The Northern Iowa men's track and field program is fortunate to be in a unique situation in which it competes in two conferences--the Missouri Valley and the Central Collegiate Conference.

The Central Collegiate Conference (CCC) can be called a senior citizen when measured against other major track and field and cross country championship meets.

Only the famed Drake and Penn Relays, the NCAA outdoor championships and a smattering of conference championships meets have been held longer than the 66-year-old CCC outdoor meet, commonly known as "The Centrals". In cross country, the CCC meet was the forerunner of the NCAA competition in that sport.

Today's 24-member conference remains one of the top athletic conferences of its type 67 years after its founding. Its members include independents as well as institutions from the Big Ten, Missouri Valley, Mid-American, Midwestern and Great Midwest conferences.

Geographically, the CCC is comprised of members from seven states (Ohio, Michigan, Indiana, Illinois, Wisconsin, Minnesota and Iowa) and extends from southeastern Ohio to as far west as central Iowa and as far north as eastern Minnesota.

"Although the Missouri Valley is the main impetus to our program," Bucknam said, "the addition of the CCC Championships adds another dimension. It expands our competition east towards Michigan and Ohio, something a lot of Missouri Valley or Big Eight teams can't offer, thus improving our schedule and quality of competition.

"We joined the conference to increase our exposure to more Big Ten schools and to test ourselves in a bigger region than the Midwest."

In addition to Northern Iowa, membership in the CCC includes Akron, Bowling Green, Bradley, Central Michigan, Cleveland State, DePaul, Detroit, Drake, Eastern Michigan, Illinois, Iowa, Kent, Loyola, Marquette, Michigan, Michigan State, Minnesota, Notre Dame, Ohio, Purdue, Toledo, Western Michigan and Wisconsin.

To maintain eligibility in the league, each member institution must compete in at least one of the three Central Collegiate Championship meets each academic year.

The CCC has provided a legacy of excellence in American track and field for 66 years, with many of the premier names in track and field listed on the roster of CCC champions.

Two-Sport Athletes

A unique characteristic of the Northern Iowa athletic "family" is the cooperation between programs, allowing student-athletes to compete in more than one sport rather than having to choose one over another. The men's track and field program has had many student-athletes take advantage of those opportunities over the years, with some of the more prominent of those featured below.

Kenny Shedd
Wide Receiver,
New York Jets
School
Recordholder and Multiple Conference
Champion in Sprints

Jason McCleary
All-Conference
Defensive Back
1993 Missouri Valley
Conference Outdoor
Track and Field
Athlete of the Year

Craig Nordlie
All-Conference
Return Specialist
School
Recordholder in Sprints

Joe Fuller
Defensive Back,
Ottawa Roughriders
(formerly with Green
Bay, Minnesota, San Diego)
School Recordholder
and Conference
Champ in Sprints

"Our football staff has a great relationship with the track and field coaches. We feel like participation in both sports has benefitted everyone involved, but most importantly the student-athletes. And the people that have competed in both since I've been here, like Kenny Shedd and Jason McCleary, have certainly proven it's possible to excel in both. We're very proud of our track and field program at Northern Iowa and thankful that we have coaches like Chris and Bill to work with." —

Northern Iowa Football Coach Terry Allen

1993 Cross Country Results

After winning the league title the previous year, Northern Iowa fell just short of defending in the 1993 Missouri Valley Conference Cross Country Championships in Ankeny, Iowa. In the closest Missouri Valley Conference Championship meet since 1960, Southern Illinois copped the team title with 61 points while the Panthers took second with 72, one ahead of pre-meet favorite Illinois State.

The Panthers were the only team in the meet to claim three all-conference runners. Junior Jeff Joiner and senior Jason Meyer each turned in all-conference performances for the second consecutive year, taking fifth and sixth place, respectively. Kyle Kepler finished 10th to win all-conference honors, easily the top finish by a freshman in the field.

The 1993 meet was hosted by Drake University and run on the Otter Creek Golf Course with snow flurries and a wind-chill factor of 14 degrees.
