Here is the Third Group of Faculty Pictures.

(This is the third "Meet the Faculty" series presented by the Alumnus in an attempt to acquaint graduates with the people who are carrying on at Cedar Falls in the cause of good teaching.)

Because of the necessity for retrenchment under present conditions, a few members of the Faculty whose pictures appear in this section are no longer on the teaching staff. Others, on leave at the time that these pictures were taken, have now returned.)

The dean among music educators, not only on the college campus, but throughout the state, is the man who guides the destinies of the Music Department of Teachers College. C. A. Fullerton is probably known more intimately and by more alumni than any other member of the college faculty. As a student at the Iowa State Normal School in the early days, he participated in glee club work, and was seen as a singer on the platform at Teachers College and in many other schools throughout the state. The man who founded a system of music instruction which has attracted nation-wide and international attention, is now a striking, white-haired veteran among Iowa educators. Always a lover of the best in music, he has devoted his life-long enthusiasm and energy to the study and dissemination of the most effective methods of teaching music in the public schools.

Mr. Fullerton received the B. Di. Degree from Teachers College in 1889, and was awarded the Bachelor of Science Degree in 1890. In (To Continue this Item Please Turn to Page 10.)

Dr. Eva May Luse

A LUMNI connected with public school systems in Iowa, and graduates almost everywhere who are deeply interested in educational work will know of and have had some contact with

Dr. Eva May Luse, head of the Department of Teaching.

Dr. Luse comes from a family of educators, and in her years of service at Teachers College she has become in her own right not only the director of the distinctively technical branch of educational work at the College but also an active worker and administrator in the cause of education in Iowa.

She attended the Iowa State Teachers College, where she served as a high school critic in training and received the M. Di. Diploma in 1904 and the Home Economics Diploma in 1918. She studied at Columbia University and at the University of Iowa, which conferred upon her the B. A., M. A., and Ph. D. Degrees.

Dr. Luse has taught at Cornell University, and at the State University of Ohio, and since 1919 has served as head of the Department of Teaching at the Iowa State Teachers College. She is an active member of many educational organizations and committees.

The Department which Dr. Luse supervises seeks to provide the best possible laboratory for the training of students. Directed observation, an introductory course in which the student observes specifically the work of supervising critics in various grades and subjects, furnishes the approach for a period of observation combined with participation in teaching and class management. This leads as rapidly as possible into increased independence and responsibility in teaching under competent supervision.
Professors Charles H. Bailey, head of the Department of Art and Manual Arts, is well known among alumni of Teachers College.

Mr. Bailey is a graduate of the University of Iowa, from which institution he received the Bachelor of Science in Civil Engineering Degree in 1893. He was awarded the Bachelor of Science and the Manual Training Diploma in 1903 from Columbia University. In addition to this work, he has pursued advanced studies at the Chicago Normal School and Cornell University.

Mr. Bailey has had experience as supervisor of manual training in the public schools of Iowa City, and as director of manual training at the James Millikin University at Decatur, Illinois. He came to Teachers College in 1905, and in 1909 was made head of the Department which he now directs.

The aim of the Department is to train special teachers of Art and of Manual Arts for the high schools, and for the grades below the high school. It offers courses that may be elected by students who wish to increase their knowledge and strengthen their preparation through contacts with these important branches of school work.

The two lines of work represented in the Department of Art and Manual Arts were carried on under separate departments in the earlier years of their development. Instruction in Art began very early in the history of the institution, and consisted of courses in Drawing, which were required of all students. In 1904, the work in Manual Training was introduced, and, along with other special curriculums, two-year and three-year curriculums in Art and Manual Arts were offered. Later, four-year curriculums were organized in both of these lines, and the shorter curriculums were discontinued.

Miss Effie Schuneman, one of the members of the staff pictured below, was killed in an automobile accident, September 1, 1933.
Physics and Chemistry

Dr. Louis Begeman

PROFESSOR Louis Begeman has served in the Department of Physics and Chemistry at the College since 1899. He was made head of the Department in 1909. He received the Bachelor of Science Degree from the University of Michigan in 1889, and was awarded the Master of Science Degree in 1897 and the Ph.D. Degree in 1910 at the University of Chicago.

Dr. Begeman has had experience as a teacher in the rural schools of Indiana, and as superintendent of the public schools of Corydon, Iowa. He served as professor of physics and chemistry for four years at Parsons College, Fairfield, Iowa.

Under his direction, the work of the Department of Physics and Chemistry has developed rapidly. In 1900, the work was limited practically to two terms of general chemistry and two terms of high school physics. At the present time, all of the courses in the Department are conducted on the college level. More than two years of college work are offered in each of the major subjects of the Department. This provides a thorough, adequate training for the teaching of these subjects in the best high schools. Furthermore, the courses offered are so planned that a student can prepare himself for graduate study if he so desires.

The science laboratory building, designed entirely for work in physics and chemistry, was completed in 1906. The first and second floors of this structure were equipped for the recitation and laboratory work in physics, and the third floor, for the work in chemistry.

In addition to the regular laboratory facilities, the Department is equipped with a special machine room where many mechanical devices used in the various laboratories may be constructed by students under faculty direction.

Members of the Department of Physics and Chemistry, in addition to Dr. Begeman, include S. F. Hersey, Dr. W. H. Kadesch, O. B. Read, and Dr. R. W. Getchell.
HERE is a member of the Faculty to whom graduates of the past twenty-six years need no introduction.

Dr. F. I. Merchant came to Teachers College in 1907 and was made head of the Department of Latin and Greek in 1909. He received the Bachelor of Arts Degree from Shurtleff College in 1880. Later he studied at the University of Berlin, where he received the Master of Arts and the Ph. D. Degrees in 1890. He has studied and traveled extensively in Europe, especially in Italy.

Before assuming his duties at Teachers College, Dr. Merchant served for five years as instructor in the Preparatory Department at Shurtleff College. He taught at the Sauveur Summer School of Languages for one year, and later served for twelve years as head of the Latin Department at the University of South Dakota.

The study of Latin was introduced into the work of the Iowa State Normal School in 1885. In 1892, a full year of standard college work was added to the high school courses in Caesar, Cicero, and Virgil. The Latin Department was authorized in 1897 and the work in Latin was expanded in 1898 to two years of standard college work, and in 1905 to three years. In that same year, courses in Greek were introduced.

J. B. Knoepfler was head of the Department of German from its establishment in 1900 until his death in 1925, when the Department was combined with the Department of Latin and Greek. The aim of the work in German is to provide an introduction to the study of a literature rich in cultural value, and to make available important technical publications in every field.

Members of the Latin, Greek, and German Department, in addition to Dr. Merchant, include Miss Edna O. Miller and Dr. Josef Schaefer. Dr. Hafkesbrink, pictured below, resigned last spring to accept a position at the Connecticut College for Women.

Dr. Hafkesbrink, 1932; Dr. Josef Schaefer, 1926; Miss Edna Miller, 1924.
Romance Languages

Dr. I. L. Lillehei

R ENEW acquaintance with Dr. I. L. Lillehei, who has been head of the Department of Romance Languages since 1925.

Dr. Lillehei came to Teachers College in 1918. He received the Bachelor of Arts Degree in 1908 from the University of Minnesota, and the Master of Arts Degree in 1909, and the Ph. D. Degree in 1914 from the University of Illinois. He attended the University of Paris for one year.

Dr. Lillehei has had extensive experience in the teaching profession. He served as instructor for one year at the State College of Washington, and as teaching assistant at the University of Illinois for three years. He has acted as instructor at the University of Kansas, University of Iowa, and Northwestern University. In addition, he taught for one summer session at the Colorado State Normal College.

The Department, under the supervision of Dr. Lillehei, consists of the two major lines of work, French and Spanish, which include courses in grammar, conversation, and literature. The aim of the Department is to prepare teachers of French and Spanish for high schools, to enable students to satisfy the requirements for the degrees beyond the Bachelor of Arts, and to create a spirit of larger understanding, sympathy, and tolerance by introducing students to another language, people, and literature.

The Department carries on correspondence work and conducts Extension Credit Classes in French and Spanish.

The Department is well equipped with educational material, such as maps, pictures, and post-cards of France, Spain, and South America. Its library numbers about 3,000 volumes, receives the leading magazines of France and Spain, and for French and Spanish is one of the most complete in the Middlewest.

Mr. Homer Haddox is not shown in the group below. He was on leave of absence at the time the pictures were taken.

Miss Mildred Dyer, 1923; Miss Mary Short, 1924; Miss Isabel Thomes, 1918.
MAKE acquaintance with Dr. Beatrice Geiger, head of the Home Economics Department since 1932.

Dr. Geiger has had experience as teacher both in elementary schools and colleges. She taught for three years in the seventh grade at Oak Park, Illinois, and later served for six years as instructor in chemistry at the Colorado Agricultural College. From 1926 to 1930, she taught classes in nutrition at Oregon Agricultural College.

The new head of the Home Economics Department has had extensive training in the Universities of Chicago, Columbia, and Wisconsin. She received the Bachelor of Science Degree from the University of Chicago in 1919, and the Master of Science Degree from Columbia University in 1926. In 1932, she was awarded the Ph. D. Degree at the University of Wisconsin. She also has a Teachers' Diploma which she received from the State Normal School at Oshkosh, Wisconsin.

The primary purpose of the Department which Dr. Geiger directs is to train Home Economics teachers for the schools of Iowa. However, to increase the usefulness of the Department, service courses for students not majoring in Home Economics, are being introduced.

The Home Economics work, as presented at Teachers College, embraces the study of such problems of the modern home maker as choosing wisely, buying sanely, planning and organizing, and appreciating and enjoying life more fully. The work has developed from a course in cooking and sewing to a four-year curriculum leading to the Bachelor of Science Degree in Home Economics.

Members of the teaching staff of the Department include Miss Bernice Allen, and Miss May Frank, who is taking charge of the duties of Miss Luella Overn, who is on leave of absence. Miss Overn is expected to return at the beginning of the spring term.
Religion

Dr. Howland Hanson

Dr. Howland Hanson has served as Supervisor of Religious Education at Teachers College since 1928. He received the Bachelor of Arts Degree from Princeton University in 1892, and the D. D. Degree from Des Moines University in 1927. He also took work at the University of Chicago, Bucknell University of Pennsylvania, and Peddie Institute of New Jersey.

Before coming to Teachers College, Dr. Hanson served for sixteen years as minister of the First Baptist Church in Des Moines. He was professor of Bible at Des Moines University for six years.

Professor D. Sands Wright founded the Department in 1916. Its original purpose was "a constructive and systematic knowledge of the Holy Scriptures." As the work developed, interpretation became the supreme aim.

Three general attitudes toward the Bible prevail in the public mind, according to Dr. Hanson. First, the literalistic and fundamentalist, which reads the scriptures as they were written in the thought forms of the sixteenth century. Second, the skeptical and rationalistic, which reads scriptures as old fables and mythical stories that are discarded in a scientific age. Third, the synthetic and modern, which reads the Bible in the full light of all the sciences and in a reverent spirit.

Following the last method, Dr. Hanson offers fourteen courses under which the entire Bible is divided into historic periods. The scriptures are actually studied to discover what they really say, to seek and find out what they were intended to mean by the writers, to understand what they meant to the original hearers, and then to interpret and restate the abiding truths in terms of the changing categories of our times.

Forgotten School Unit Presented at Reunion

Alumni circles may record another successful Reunion at Des Moines, Friday evening, November 3. Convention dates plus campus athletic requirements brought Homecoming on the very next day. Nevertheless, both occasions were well attended, and those present exemplified college spirit and loyalty upon a plane that was never higher.

The Des Moines Reunion held its usual place of pre-eminence among the college convention gatherings. The satisfying menu was provided by the famous Hotel Fort Des Moines cuisine in the well-filled, spacious west dining room. A feature of the occasion entitled, "The Forgotten School Unit," came by design as an interruption of the dinner. Following the knocking at the door, the Forgotten School Unit was allowed to enter the banquet room and "have what was left." Eight people impersonating a typical rural school came in carrying a miniature of a rural school house and outbuildings.

Dinner Programs Are Unique

The menu and program cover for the dinner showed Gilchrist Hall, the Administration Building, and the Campanile in silhouette in purple ink on old gold paper, the printing being done by the linoleum block process. These covers standing on edge by the plates, together with model campaniles of black cardboard with enclosed candle illumination, made an effective and striking table decoration supporting the program theme—"The Campus, Past, Present, and Future."

Just before the toast program was presented, the toastmaster referred to the "In Memory" leaflet at each place in these words: "As we pause in honor of those who rest from their labors, may we feel our obligation for the foundations they laid and for ideals they set up for service to the commonwealth. With your memorial slips in hand, please stand until the music ceases." The leaflet bore a black and white night picture of the Campanile on the cover. Page one carried a small picture of Homer H. Seerley, after which came the following quotations by way of tribute to those from the campus who had passed on during the year.

A Memorial For "Founders"

Homer H. Seerley

"Not armies, not nations, have advanced the race; but here and there, in the course of ages, an individual has stood up and cast his shadow over the world."

MRS. LESLIE I. REED

"Blessing she was. God made her so
And deeds of week day holiness
Fell from her noiseless as the snow.
Nor did she ever chance to know
That aught were easier than to bless."

W. A. BRINDLEY

"His life was gentle, and the elements so mixed up in him that nature might stand up and say to all the world, 'This was a man!'"

H. L. EELLS

"To live well in the quiet routine of life, to fill a little space because God wills it, to go on cheerfully with a petty round of little duties and little avocations; to smile for the joys of others when the heart is aching—who does this, his works follow him. He is one of God's heroes."

EFFIE SCHUNEMANN

"Not by its conquests doth a nation live, but by its art—the art that gives its soul embodiment.

Today, who knows of Troy, except through Homer's song? Of Egypt's past, did not her sandswept tombs and temples breathe her somber mystic faith? Not Salamis—the Parthenon is Greece; or even this; the sculptured head that gives naught else does a god's serenity.

And not by popes or kings—forgot—the Gothic age survives; it lives in Chartres or in some primitive that paints the Adoration of the Child.

These have not died whose souls live with us yet."

Music Faculty Entertain

Faculty members appearing on the musical program included Edward Kurtz, Roland Seairight, Miss Alta Freeman, and Miss Olive Barker.

The one address was given by Dr. Eva May Luse, M. Di. '04, head of the Department of Teaching. Taking the topic, "The Campus, Past, Present and Future," she treated it in happy vein and confident note.

A telegram of greetings from President O. R. Latham, sent from New York City, where he was enjoying his first opportunity for a vacation, closed the occasion.
The regular committee from the College in charge of arrangements was composed of Alison Aitchison, M. Di. '03; Olive Barker, F. S. M. '20; Louise Hearst, B. A. '21; Sara M. Riggs, B. Di. '25; Fred Cram, B. A. '09; Leslie Reed, M. Di. '00, and A. C. Fuller, M. Di. '99, chairman. Immediately following the dinner, several members of this committee left Des Moines in order to care for various responsibilities of Homecoming the next morning at Cedar Falls.

Martin Memorial Scholarships

Caryl Middleton, Grundy Center, and Miss Fern Clark, Waterloo, had the distinction of being the first Teachers College students to receive scholarships conferred by the Bertha Martin Memorial Foundation for "promise and distinction in the dramatic arts."

The two scholarships were conferred Tuesday evening, November 28, as a part of the program of the fall term graduation exercises.

Mr. Middleton is a senior student working toward a Bachelor of Arts Degree. He has been a member of the Playcraft Club, and has taken active part in dramatic work at the College. He is also a member of Sigma Tau Delta, national English fraternity, and has acted as treasurer of Phi Mu Alpha Symphonia, national music fraternity. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Middleton, of Grundy Center.

Miss Clark is a senior student, working toward a Bachelor of Arts Degree. She is a member of Theta Alpha Phi, national dramatic fraternity; Pi Tau Phi, social sorority; Orchesis, Playcraft Club, Delphian Literary Society, and the English Club. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. N. Clark, of Waterloo.

The "Living Memorial"

The scholarships announced as, "the living Bertha Martin Memorial," provide for the payment of full tuition and college fees for three terms of collegiate study, and are given only to students of junior or senior rank who show great promise and distinction in dramatic work. The funds are provided from the interest on securities held in trust by the Memorial Committee. These funds were accumulated from the proceeds of plays given under Miss Martin's direction during the twenty-four years that she taught at the Teachers College.

The scholarships are granted upon recommendation of the head of the English Department with the approval of the Memorial Committee and of the President of the College.

A. C. Fuller Honored by N. E. A.

A. C. Fuller, M. Di. '99, associate director of the Extension Division at the Teachers College, has been appointed a member of a National Committee on Education for "the new America," according to word received from the National Education Association headquarters. The announcement was made by Paul C. Stetson, superintendent of schools of Indianapolis, Indiana, and president of the Department of Superintendence of the National Educational Association. This committee will meet and report at the Cleveland convention of the Department of Superintendence, February 24 to March 1, 1934.

The appointment of this committee is an important item in a fundamental reorganization of the convention plan followed by the educational leaders in their national professional organization for many years. The change was made to extend greater responsibility to individual members in the Department's attempt to plan more effectively for meeting the current crisis in education.

Seven such committees have been appointed by President Stetson. These groups will give their attention respectively to problems of teacher training, a comprehensive program of public education, financing the schools, education for the new America, a national outlook on education, the interpretation of the schools to the public, and public education and public welfare.

Meet the Faculty . . . .

1931, the Master of Music Degree was conferred upon him by the Chicago Musical College. He has also taken work at the University of Chicago.

In his early days, the veteran educator taught in the rural schools near Rockford, Iowa, and later served as principal of schools at Norway, Parkersburg, and Manson, Iowa. He came to Teachers College in 1897, and was made head of the Department in 1908.

Mr. Fullerton is the father of the choir method of music instruction now in use in every county in Iowa and in eight other states.

Since over ninety-five per cent of the people in general can participate successfully in recreating music with satisfaction to themselves and to the listeners, providing they have a good opportunity, it is one of the distinct purposes of the Music Department to help in developing the means by which this opportunity can be given them.
Miss Lynam Heads Teachers’ Association

Miss Anna Lynam

ANNA LYNAM, B. Di. ’13, had one of the greatest distinctions which can be conferred upon a teacher in the Iowa schools when she was elected president of the Iowa State Teachers’ Association at the annual meeting of the organization in Des Moines. She succeeds I. H. Hart, director of the Extension Division at Teachers College.

Miss Lynam, who is supervisor of Normal Training in the Corning, Iowa, schools, assumes her position at a time when great responsibilities await those who take up the reins of leadership in the teaching profession. The honor carries with it important duties, in that as president, she will have a part in the plans looking forward to the direction, inspiration, and execution of the aims and desires of some 15,000 teachers who are members of the organization.

The president each year is chosen to represent some branch of the educational system in the state. The office may be given to a college teacher or executive, a classroom teacher, a county superintendent, a high school principal, or a city superintendent. Miss Lynam represents the classroom teachers of the state.

Received Many Honors

Miss Lynam, in addition to her degree received at Teachers College, was awarded a Master of Arts Degree from the State University of Iowa in the summer of 1933. She is a member of Theta Chapter of Pi Lambda Theta, national honorary education sorority. For twelve years, she served as county superintendent of Adams County, and during that time established a reputation for leadership in the field of education. She has been a member of the Iowa State Course of Study Committee on “Adaptations to Rural Schools in Program Alteration and Distribution of Time,” vice-president and member of the Executive Committee of the South Central District of the Iowa State Teachers’ Association, and a member of the Character Education Committee of the Education Council. At the time of her election as president, she was a member of the Appropriations Committee of the State Teachers’ Association. In all of her work in the field of education, Miss Lynam has the enthusiastic support of her own community.

Says an article in the Adams County Free Press, of Corning, Iowa, “The honor comes not only to Miss Lynam, but to Corning and Adams County, for it was here that the foundation was laid by her faithful endeavors in small spheres. The same loyalty which helped in the success of smaller ventures will be accorded by her friends in this place of trust, and it is with deepest confidence that the home folks look to a successful year, which will bring more and more honors to Miss Lynam, who so well deserves the best, and through her to Adams County and southwest Iowa.”

Says Mrs. Orsa Clayton Moore, P. C. ’96, in her column, “My Neighbor and I,” which occupies a prominent section of the Free Press, “I wondered what she would say—Miss Anna Lynam, to whom 12,500 educators of the state had offered the highest honor they had to bestow. Trying to appear journalistic and professional, I said, ‘What have you to say?’ She merely answered, ‘Nothing, except that I am very, very humble and I don’t know how it could have happened to me.’ Adams County people know exactly how it happened. It is as simple as ABC. Miss Lynam has never let an opportunity for service go by without giving her best to the task—no task was too slight to demand her supreme effort regardless of pay. She served in harmony with her associates insofar as she could without sacrificing a principle, and persistently held to the idea that the cause is always bigger than any selfish interest. She’s the woman of the hour educationally speaking, and our educators know it. And that’s how it happened that she was elected president.”
Alumnus Returns after Thirty Years

W HEN an alumnus stays away from his Alma Mater for thirty years something ought to be done about it. William C. Jarnagin, M. D., '99, editor of the Storm Lake Pilot Tribune, a weekly newspaper adjudged "the best in the United States" by the National Editorial Association in 1932, did something about it. He returned to the campus at Homecoming time last fall. After nearly getting lost, and at times finding himself just a bit bewildered by the many changes, he decided to do something further about it. His further action was the writing of a most interesting account of his first Homecoming in his column, "Things Seen and Heard," appearing on the editorial page of the Pilot Tribune of Thursday, November 9.

Under the title, "By Old Timer," he tells of his Homecoming experiences as follows:

"We've written many times about 'old grads' returning to their colleges for Homecoming. But we never realized the significance of that word 'old' until last week-end. We wandered back, accompanied by our better half, Brother Roy and his better half, to Cedar Falls to attend the Homecoming of our own Alma Mater.

"As we looked upon the benign, benevolent, even venerable countenances of A. C. Fuller, Ben Boardman, and Dean Leslie Reed, all of whom were in our graduating class back in 1899, we realized that one should never return to a Homecoming celebration after more than thirty years, without being prepared for a few shocks.

Visit Your Alma Mater Often

"The moral, of course, don't wait so long before revisiting the scenes of your college activities!

"We never thought we'd get lost on College Hill—it was Normal Hill when we went there,—but we completely lost our bearings Friday night when we arrived after the hours of darkness and tried to locate the new Commons Building. This building corresponds to the Memorial Unions at Ames and Iowa City. Only it isn't so large and is more elegantly furnished. It was built out of the profits of the dormitories and cafeteria. Just how they'd get along without it now, we couldn't even conjecture!

"Thanks to Miss Alberta Tigges, charming co-ed from Peterson, whom we located by chance, we were piloted into the dining room and later about the campus. There were only three buildings when we attended the institution. Now there are so many, no wonder we were bewildered.

"The new men's gym, for instance, is a wonder. It has been selected for the state basketball tournament next spring. "Wag" and the Tornadoes will understand what we're talking about when they go down there representing this district next March!

"The co-eds have a gym, too. Our modesty prevented us from even peering within it. But we saw a group of gals playing hockey out on the open lot beside the gym. They were in such abbreviated costumes that we not only shivered in sympathy because of the cold but we blushed as we speculated as to what people would have said had the co-eds shown up in public in short panties and naked legs back in '99! Yes, times have changed! This is no world for a prude!

"The Homecoming was a success, they told us. Personally, we missed President Homer H. Seerley, the inspiration of every student who ever attended the STC. He's passed on. We visited briefly with Mrs. Seerley, a dear old lady with a mind as clear as a bell. We've never had the pleasure of meeting Dr. Latham, present president, who was in the east.

Professors of the '90's

"We saw a few of the faculty members who were there back in the gay nineties. Professor G. W. Walters, Professor I. S. Condit, Registrar C. S. Cory—others were at the State Teachers Convention at Des Moines, they told us. Miss Emma Lambert was at the Homecoming and so was Miss Patt, neither looking a day older than in 1899 in marked contrast to the aforementioned Messrs. Fuller, Boardman, and Reed!

"Brother Roy started in to boast about being the first male student to be awarded a diploma by Miss Patt, showing that he was entitled to teach drawing in the schools of Iowa, rather a flaky story, but no doubt true.

"We recalled a distinction of our connection with Miss Patt—we were the first student that she ever flunked in penmanship!

"Lester Peterson, the Alta flash, was juggling dishes in the cafeteria when we first saw him. He told us that he was working for his board, a very commendable plan!

"The next time we saw him was on the gridiron the following day. Simpson upset the hopes of the Teachers by winning the Homecoming game, 13 to 0. Lester, who goes by the (Continued on Page 19)
A REGISTRATION of twice as many alumni as those registered at Homecoming last year shows that the annual Homecoming affairs are increasing in interest. This year 555 alumni registered, whereas last year there were only 258. Grads were not daunted by cold winds in their plans to return and see the new Commons building. Many who registered as "friends," not included in the alumni registration, brought the total to well over 600.

At the luncheon at 11:30 o'clock, the east dining room of the Commons was filled to nearly a capacity point by alumni, faculty, and students in attendance. The reunion committee, Mrs. J. Foy Cross (Edith Biland), Kg. '11; Mrs. W. H. Kadesch (Mary Barnum), B. A. '11, and Mrs. Ralph Frances (Flo Correll), M. Di. '05, arranged the tables with appropriate fall decorations. The Commons staff provided an appetizing menu.

Glenn Cowan Presides

President Glenn Cowan was master of ceremonies. During the luncheon, two Jarnagin men and their wives, all alumni, were introduced: Roy Jarnagin, A. '07; Mrs. Roy Jarnagin (June E. Allison), Kg. '10; W. C. Jarnagin, M. Di. '99, and Mrs. W. C. Jarnagin (Jennie Gilchrist), P. C. '00. Roy and W. C. Jarnagin are sons of J. W. Jarnagin, a former member of the Board of Trustees of the College and the man who was instrumental in bringing Dr. Scearley to the campus. Others who were introduced during the luncheon were: President Hillman, financial secretary and alumni secretary of Simpson College; Walter Jensen of Waterloo; Mrs. A. F. Yarche of Shell Rock, a student of forty years ago, and Mrs. Sara P. Pryor (Sara P. Sherman), B. Di. '99, head of Department of Dramatics at Grinnell College.

There was no toast program after the luncheon, but Edgar Harden, president of the new Men's unit, explained some of the principles of this new organization. Following this, a short act was presented by former drama students under the direction of Miss Hazel B. Strayer, B. A. '14, associate professor of oral interpretation. Stanley Wood, B. A. '31; Howard Roberts, B. A. '33; Marshall Kathan, B. A. '38, and Caryl Middleton, a student, were the participants in the act. Another stunt was furnished during the luncheon by one of the yell-leaders and a group representing the band. The group entered the room and led in a few yells by way of encouraging the alumni to attend the game.

Following the luncheon, the enthusiastic fans attended the football game, braving the cold winds that swept the field.

Business Meeting Held

The annual business meeting of the general alumni association was held in the Women's club rooms in the Commons at 10:30 a.m., as the first formal event of the Homecoming activities. President Glenn Cowan, B. A. '20, presided. At this meeting, the new constitution was formally presented and ratified. This new constitution, as adopted by the alumni in attendance, is printed on the following page of this issue of the Alumni. The nominating committee presented names of candidates for the different offices, and these were voted upon by the group.

Officers Elected for Year

Officers elected for the coming year are as follows: President, Eugene Lynch, B. A. '21, superintendent at Sigourney, Iowa; Vice President, Ralph Nichols, B. A. '29, English Teacher at Fort Dodge, Iowa; Reunion Committee Chairman, Mrs. J. Foy Cross (Edith Biland), Kg. '11, Cedar Falls, Iowa; member of Reunion Committee, Mrs. Leslie Hughes (Dorothy Buell), H. E. '11; Board of Directors for three years, Maurice Kramer, B. S. '33, Commercial teacher at Sioux Rapids, Iowa; Board of Directors for two years, Rena Nelson, J. C. '26, County Superintendent at Osage, Iowa; Board of Directors for one year, Emma Lambert, M. Di. '97, professor of Mathematics at Teachers College. Three former presidents who will automatically become members of the Board of Directors by virtue of the new constitution are: three years, Glenn Cowan, B. A. '20, high school principal at Iowa Falls, Iowa; two years, Dale Welsch, B. A. '22, Superintendent at Elkader, Iowa; one year, L. C. Ary, B. A. '15, lawyer at Cherokee.

New Alumni Constitution

With the beginning of the New Year, alumni of Iowa State Teachers College will conduct the activities of the greater Alumni Association under a constitution which, in many respects, represents the turning over of a new leaf in graduate matters.

At Homecoming time, Saturday, November 4, the alumni in attendance gathered for a business meeting in the new Commons building. At this time the new constitution was submitted and unanimously approved. In substance, the changes provide for the following: (1) a more closely-knit alumni group, (2) more definite arrangements for elections and the duties of officers, and, (3) definite plans for the time and place of meetings for the general alumni body of Teachers College.

Members of the committee which drew up the constitution were Miss Alison Aitchison, M. Di. '03; Miss Lou Shepherd, B. A. '19, and Mr. Fred D. Cram, B. A. '09.

The constitution as approved at the business meeting is printed herewith.

Article I—NAME

This organization shall be known as the Alumni Association of the Iowa State Teachers College.

Article II—PURPOSE

The purpose of this Association shall be to bind the alumni of the Iowa State Teachers College into a working unit pledged to the best interests of the College, of its graduates, and of all former students.

Article III—MEMBERSHIP

Each graduate of the Iowa State Teachers College becomes a member of this Association upon receiving his diploma.

Article IV—OFFICERS

The officers of this Association shall be: a President, whose term of office shall be one year; a Vice-President, whose term of office shall be one year; an Executive Secretary, whose term shall be set by the Board of Directors; a Treasurer, whose term shall be set by the Board of Directors, and a Board of Directors consisting of nine persons, whose presiding officer shall be the President, ex officio.

The President shall be elected at the annual meeting of the Association. The Secretary and the Treasurer shall be elected by the Board of Directors.

There shall be elected at the annual meeting of the Association one Director to serve for three years. At the close of the annual meeting, the outgoing President shall automatically become a member of the Board of Directors for three years.

Immediately upon adjournment of the annual meeting of the general Association, the Board of Directors shall meet to select such officers as it may be necessary to provide for at the time, and to carry out any instructions, so far as may be given them by the electorate at the annual meeting.

The duties of all officers shall be those usually entrusted to such as have the titles used herein.

Article V—STANDING COMMITTEES

There shall be a Reunion Committee consisting of three members, each serving for three years, one being elected annually. The Chairman each year shall be the outgoing member.

Article VI—LOCAL UNITS

Local units may be formed anywhere and with any number of members. County branches of this Association may be formed, made up of local units.

Article VII—AMENDMENT

This constitution may be amended, revised or completely superseded by another, provided notice of such proposed change is submitted at an annual meeting; but no such change shall be considered binding until it shall have been passed on favorably by a second annual meeting at least one year after its proposal. In the meantime, it shall have been published in the organ of the Association.

BY-LAWS

1. The annual meetings of this Association shall be held as directed by the electors, who may delegate the power to the Board of Directors.

2. At the first meeting succeeding the adoption of this constitution, the Board of Directors shall be selected as follows:
   a. Three members shall be elected who shall decide by lot which one is to serve one, which one is to serve two, and which one is to serve three years.
   b. The President for 1931-32 shall serve two years; the President for 1930-31 shall serve for one year.
   c. The outgoing President shall become a member automatically; and serves three years.
   d. The seventh member shall be the President of the Association.
   e. The eighth member shall be the Vice-President of the Association.
   f. The ninth member shall be the Chairman of the Reunion Committee.

3. Vacancies in the officiary of the Association shall be filled at the annual meeting. In case both Presidency and Vice-Presidency should be vacated, the Board of Directors shall appoint an acting President to serve until his successor is elected at the next annual meeting.

4. All voting shall be conducted as the electors assembled in business meeting shall determine.

5. Nominations for office shall be made by a committee appointed by the President, but additional nominations shall be considered in order up to the time a ballot is called for.

6. The Board of Directors are empowered to conduct referendum ballot by mail among the nine members.
Alumni Roster Increased by Fall Graduation

Dr. George A. Works, dean of the University of Chicago, delivered the graduation address in the fall term commencement exercises at the College, November 28. Approximately twenty-five members of the student body received degrees and diplomas conferred by President O. B. Latham.

Eight students were awarded Bachelor of Arts Degrees and three received the Bachelor of Science Degrees. Departmental certificates and diplomas were awarded to thirteen students.

"Education Expansion Amazing"

In tracing developments in secondary school education in the United States as compared with the other major countries in the educational world, Dr. Works stated, "Universal education at the elementary school level by means of public funds is not unique. Several countries have realized this goal fully as effectively as has the United States. The distinguishing feature of our program of education lies in the large opportunities that we have made available at public expense above the elementary school level. The recent expansion in secondary and higher education has been little short of amazing. This rapid growth in these areas began about 1890. The enrollment in the secondary schools in 1828 was 1108 per cent of the 1890 enrollment. In 1828, the enrollment in collegiate departments was more than ten times as great as in 1890. During this period of time the total population of continental United States increased somewhat more than 90 per cent. In 1890, slightly more than 5 per cent of the persons of secondary school age were enrolled in high schools, whereas at the present time, approximately one-half of this group is attending school. In the same period of time, the proportion of persons of college age attending higher institutions has increased from about 2.5 per cent to approximately 15 per cent. Evidently this expansion has been due not primarily to the growth in population but rather to the proportion of young persons who have taken advantage of the school facilities offered at the upper levels."

"Education Open To All"

He continued by saying, "The significance of the large numbers in our educational institutions at the upper levels lies back of the figures themselves. It is to be found in the intimate relationship between education and our social organization. We are interested in numbers only as an index of the degree to which we are realizing one of the great ideas that has actuated this country—the desire to open to each individual the opportunity for education to the limits of his ability to profit by it."

The speaker went on to say that the reason back of all this great change is that "the people of the United States have launched a publicly-supported program of higher education that is not equalled by that of any other country in the proportion of the youth brought under its influence."

Dean Works has been actively engaged in the educational field since 1912. He has taught rural education and education in the Universities of Wisconsin, Minnesota, Cornell, and Chicago, and was at one time president of the Connecticut Agricultural College.

He was also director of the rural school survey in New York in 1921-1922, of the educational survey in Texas in 1923-1924, and of the survey of higher education in North Carolina in 1931-1932. He is author of the general report of the Texas Educational survey.

Dr. Works is a member of the American Association for Advancement of Science, Delta Upsilon, Phi Beta Kappa, Alpha Zeta, and Phi Delta Kappa.

President Latham Confers Degrees

The exercises were opened with an organ precessional played by George W. Samson, Jr., professor of organ. Esther Bley, Cedar Falls, a member of the graduating class, played "Ballade in G Minor" by Chopin. The Reverend M. G. Christensen, pastor of the Nazareth Lutheran Church, of Cedar Falls, pronounced the invocation.

An octette composed of Marguerite Miller, Mary Dunkle, Dorothy Richardson, Alice Faust, Kenneth Mueters, Charles Hill, Robert Henry, and Robert Wick, sang two selections "All Creatures Now Are Merry Minded" by Benet, and "Wake Thee, Now" by Taylor. Miriam Marston was the accompanist.

Following the address by Dean Works, the new Bertha Martin Memorial Scholarships were awarded to Caryl Middleton, of Grundy Center, and Fern Clark, of Waterloo, by President O. B. Latham. President Latham then conferred the diplomas and degrees. The exercises were closed with the benediction by Reverend Christensen.

The fall term graduates and their degrees and diplomas as awarded are as follows:

Bachelor of Arts Degree: Esther Bley, Cedar Falls; Belle Diamond, Cedar Falls; Guinnever Hoffman, Belle Plaine; Hazel Lindberg, Doris White

Physical Education Staff --- A Correction

The picture of Doris White, M. Di. '14, Teachers College; B. A. '11, Simpson College, who is now acting head of the Department of Physical Education for Women at Teachers College, was through error left out of the group of Physical Education instructors presented in the October issue of the Alumnus. As a result of a mistake in the mounting of the photographs by the engravers, the picture of Miss Elizabeth Nelson, a member of the teaching staff, was shown with the group of Physical Education staff members.

Miss White, who received the M. A. Degree at Teachers College, Columbia University, in 1931, has been acting head of the Department of Physical Education for Women during the absence of Miss Monica Wild, who is expected to return in January.

Miss White came to Teachers College in 1915. She has had experience as a teacher in the Indianola High School, in the county high school of Dillon, Montana, and was director of the city playground at Dillon.

She is active in professional organizations connected with physical education work, and in 1933 cooperated in writing state courses of study for physical and health education.

Reunion of Class of 1909

Plans are now under way for the festivities featuring the twenty-fifth anniversary of the Class of 1909, which will be held in connection with the Commencement Dinner on Saturday, June 2, 1934. A special Reunion Luncheon of the Honor Class will be held on Sunday, June 3.

The Class of 1909 numbered 317, which includes all sections and departments. In the case of 53 persons, we have no mailing address. All our communications to them at the address last given have been returned. Our first request is for any information that will supply the present address of the following members of the Class of 1909.

Former Students Receive Honors

Four teachers in Iowa schools who have taken work at Teachers College are among the five who recently had the distinction of having their rural schools adjudged “superior” by the State Department of Public Instruction, according to an announcement made by the Educational Bulletin of the Department.

The four teachers and their schools which were given distinction are Daisy Maxwell, Newton school number 7, of Jasper County; Kathryn Hicks, Highland school number 6, of O’Brien County; Helen Lake, Hartley school number 4, of O’Brien County, and Nellie Hudson, Floyd school number 8, of O’Brien County. Elsie Clague, Jackson school number 7, of Madison County, was the fifth teacher to be honored.
News Items of the College

DADS GUESTS OF COLLEGE

Approximately 300 Dads were guests of the College for the Fifth Annual Dads' Day celebration held November 18.

Friday evening the Dads were entertained at a concert in the College Auditorium presented by the Ladies' Band. This was followed by an all-college dance in the recreation hall of the Commons, where the Dads had a chance to view their sons and daughters "at play" and to meet the "best boy and girl friend."

The annual Dads' Day luncheon and toast program was held in the dining room of the Commons at 11:30 o'clock, with Dean Leslie I. Reed presiding.

After the luncheon, the students and their Dads adjourned to the football stadium where the Dads, as guests of the College, saw the Teachers defeat the Luther College team 25 to 13.

Following the game, the Dads were entertained with "at homes" given by fraternities, rooming house groups, and by student groups meeting in the Commons.

Sunday morning at 10:30 o'clock, the fathers of students were honored at special church services in the Auditorium.

ALL-AMERICAN YEARBOOK

Another publication of the Teachers College, the 1933 edition of the Old Gold, student yearbook, was awarded an All-American rating by the National Scholastic Press Association. The annual won the coveted title, "superior," the highest rating attainable in the national contest.

The yearbook received 925 points, out of a possible 1,000 points, which is the highest score that a State Teachers College publication has yet received.

Alumni Were Staff Members

The major staff officers of the 1933 Old Gold were Oscar Johnson, B. S. '33, editor; Robert Brown, 1934 Old Gold editor, was managing editor; Clermont Loper, B. S. '33, business manager, and Esther Olenson, B. A. '33, art editor.

PURPLE PEN ISSUED

The Fall Term number of the Purple Pen, student literary magazine at the College, was issued Tuesday, November 14, by members of Sigma Tau Delta, national honorary English fraternity.

Viola Ann Herrig, LaMotte, is editor-in-chief, and Leroy Furry, Waterloo, is business manager of the publication. Miss Selina Terry, professor of English, is staff adviser. The publication includes several stories, articles, poems, and sketches done by students at the College.

TUTOR TICKLER MANAGERS CHOSEN

Burton Byers, of Cedar Falls, a member of the Alpha Chi Epsilon Fraternity, was selected as manager of the 1934 Tutor Ticklers by the Student Council, the organization which annually sponsors the all-college vaudeville. The show will be presented January 25 and 26 in the College Auditorium.

Raymond Phillips, of Cedar Falls, a member of the Chi Pi Theta Fraternity, was chosen as Byers' assistant.

TUTORS DEBATE WITH BRITISH TEAM

An enthusiastic audience of between 700 and 800 people saw and heard two outstanding Teachers College debaters, James Curtis, of Maquoketa, and David Grant, of Oelwein, clash wits with two young British students, Alastair Sharp and Michael Barkway, in the Teachers College fourth international debate, Thursday evening, November 23, in the College Auditorium. The subject for debate was, "Resolved, that the League of Nations is the Only Secure Guarantee of World Peace."

The debate was a non-decision affair, the object being to get away from the cut-and-dried earning of points to swing the decision one way or another. This fact resulted in a rapid exchange of witty remarks, which added greatly to the amusement and enjoyment of the audience. A minor discussion arose as to whether the Englishmen or the Americans spoke English.

The Teachers College team upheld the negative side of the question, while the foreign debaters argued the affirmative. The local debaters built their case primarily on the words "the" and "is" in the statement of the question, declaring that the League of Nations as it exists today is a failure.

The British debaters argued that the word "the" is a general term, and that the question did not imply that the League of Nations would have to be the one which is in existence now.

The speakers were introduced by Dr. M. J. Nelson, head of the Education Department.
FULLERTON EDITOR OF BOOKLET

Professor C. A. Fullerton, head of the Music Department, is the editor of a music festival booklet published in Des Moines recently. The booklet sets forth the model Music Festival.

The purpose of this book is to promote group singing, not only by the general public, but by all organizations, and to standardize this singing by phonograph records made by artists. It is Professor Fullerton's belief that more than ninety-five per cent of the general population can learn to sing.

This year, as last year, one feature of the May Day and Mother's Day activities will be a music demonstration depicting the typical county music festival.

BRANCH SCHOOL AT CORNING

Corning, Iowa, has been selected as the location for the branch summer school of Teachers College for the term beginning June 6 and ending August 24, it was announced by I. H. Hart, director of the Extension Division at the College. Mr. Hart made his announcement following the approval of the location by the Board of Education.

The school is to have a staff of eleven instructors, and courses of study are to be those open to freshman students. The studies will be such as to allow students to complete one fourth of the work toward an academic degree or one half of the work toward a two-year diploma.

The branch summer school last year was located at Atlantic.

DR. ROBINSON RECEIVES MEDAL

Dr. George C. Robinson, of the Social Science Department at the College, received a gold medal at the National Convention of the American Legion, held in Chicago recently, for his prize-winning Post History, submitted in the national contest last spring. The history, "The American Legion in Cedar Falls," covers the period from the founding of the Cedar Falls Post No. 237 in September, 1919, to the middle of February, 1933.

ENROLLMENT RECORD ESTABLISHED

Increased enrollment for the winter term at Teachers College established a new record when, for the first time in years, the registration for the second term exceeded that of the opening quarter. Figures at the Secretary's Office showed that the enrollment up to noon, December 5, was 1,485, an increase of 36 over the enrollment of the first day of the fall term. On the second Monday of the winter term there had been a total of 1,460 students enrolled.

The old rule of five or more girls to one boy, which has for years applied to this co-educational institution, has also been shattered. First figures for the winter term showed that there was a percentage of a little less than two girls to one boy. At the end of the first day of the term, 945 women and 480 men students were enrolled. The banner year for the over-ruling by the feminine sex was realized in the summer of 1918 when there were 14 girls to every boy. Three years later than this, also in the summer term, there was a percentage of seven to one.

NEW PEP ORGANIZATION FORMED

A new organization entitled, "Pep Fraternity," having as its constitutional purpose, "To create and organize cheering, to provide an organization which will instill school spirit, and to promote ways and means of a greater friendship among the student body," has been recently organized at Teachers College.

Any student of good standing who shows an active interest in organized student activities is eligible to membership. The organization attends all athletic contests in a body. Plans are under consideration for the group to become affiliated with the national pep fraternity, Pi Epsilon Pi.

DR. HARBESON'S ARTICLES PUBLISHED

Another article on "The Emergency Railroad Transportation Act of 1933" has been accepted by the Journal of Political Economy and will probably appear in February. Dr. Harbeson has also filed a statement in response to an inquiry concerning transportation legislation issued recently by Mr. J. B. Eastman, Federal Coordinator of Transportation.

DR. FAHRNEY IS HONORED

Dr. Ralph Fahrney, assistant professor of history at Teachers College, has received word that his paper on "A Utilitarian Motive in the Teaching of History," which he gave recently at Des Moines as president of the Iowa Society of History Teachers, will appear in the next issue of the Historical Outlook magazine.
ALUMNI ISSUE BOOK

A new book to be used in the teaching of reading in the primary grades has been issued recently by Miss Lou Shepherd, B. A. ’19, associate professor of primary education here, and Mrs. Elizabeth Hart Bennett, Fri. ’22, formerly supervisor of English in the elementary grades in Western Illinois State Teachers College of Macomb, Illinois. Mrs. Bennett is the daughter of I. H. Hart, director of the Extension Division at Teachers College.

The book, which is published by Silver, Burdett, and Company, contains many distinctive features, and is to be used with the Pathway to Reading Primers. The pages are perforated so that pictures may be cut from one page and pasted on another. By using these and special colored pages provided at the end of the book, the student makes an entirely new book by the completion of a reading course. The book is extensively illustrated.

MILLER BOOMED FOR CANDIDACY

Cap E. Miller, B. A. ’13, professor of agricultural economics at North Dakota Agricultural College at Fargo, is being advanced as candidate by the Democrats in North Dakota for the United States Senator on the Democratic ticket.

Mr. Miller is being advanced as candidate by a committee of men in widely scattered communities in North Dakota. Says the committee, “Since our state is so definitely an agricultural state, the Democratic candidate for senator must know farming from both the practical and theoretical sides. The fact that Cap E. Miller was mentioned in the public press throughout the nation as a possible secretary of agriculture under the Roosevelt administration brought this man’s ability, qualifications, and life history before our people in a very vivid way. He has the background, the experience, the very qualities of mind, heart, and personality that would go to make a creditable United States senator for our great state.

“Mr. Miller was born and reared on an Iowa farm, educated in Iowa public schools, and Kansas State College, University of Wisconsin, and Iowa State College. He has been professor of agricultural economics at North Dakota Agricultural College since 1918. He has been secretary-treasurer of the Northwest Farm Managers Association for many years, and is a prolific contributor to many farm journals and agricultural periodicals.”

Says an editorial in the Renville County Farmer: “Democrats in North Dakota are looking over their timber for good material for United States Senator. One group of men are endorsing Cap E. Miller, of the North Dakota Agricultural College, for the position. Mr. Miller was given considerable support last year for secretary of agriculture, the position that went to Secretary Wallace.

“Mr. Miller is an entirely different type of man than this state has been electing to public office for a long time. He is a student of agriculture, the more serious type. He has never been in politics and is not a politician, generally speaking. . . . They do not have to make any apologies for Mr. Miller, except that he is not a politician. He certainly has the ability, and he knows the farm problems, and it is high time we had men with farm thoughts and ideas in public office.”

Leslie H. Callender, B. A. ’27, and his wife (Lillian Keller), B. S. ’28, are now located at St. Charles, Iowa, where Mr. Callender is superintendent of schools.

They have a daughter, who is a freshman in high school.

Mr. Callender received the Master of Science Degree in 1932 from the State Teachers College at Greeley, Colorado, while Mrs. Callender received the same degree in 1933 from the same college.

ALUMNUS ATTENDS HOMECOMING

name of “Little Pete” on the sidelines, was in the contest for much of the battle. He played stellar football, and the fans figure him as one of the vertebral in the backbone of the football team. We predict he’Il shine in basketball, too. Lester is a popular lad at STC.

“We could ramble on indefinitely about Homecoming and our surprises, not the least of which was to discover G. F. Thompson, of Tuesdale, and his family “going” the institution.

“And it ended Saturday night with a dance in the Commons Building. This was a surprise to those of us who recall that back in the gay nineties, one had to go dancing on the sly. We have even known students to retire, climb out the bedroom window, and descend via ladder or fire escape and go to a dance, returning by the same secretive method. And now, they’re holding dances right on the campus! It’s better so, too—of that we are convinced. So we check these random observations of our first Homecoming by repeating our previous observations—don’t wait longer than thirty years to go “back home” to your college!”
State Tournament to be Held at Teachers College

On Thursday, Friday, and Saturday, March 15, 16, and 17, 1934, the annual State High School Basketball Tournament will be held in the gymnasium of the Iowa State Teachers College. (See front cover.)

This will be an elimination tournament in which sixteen teams, winners in the district tournaments, will participate. Class A schools are those that have an enrollment of more than one hundred students in high school; class B high schools are those with an enrollment of less than one hundred. In the state tournament there will be eight teams of each class.

In district and sectional tournaments schools will keep within their own class in arranging contests, but in the state tournament all of the competing schools will be paired for the first round according to the alphabetical order of the names of the schools, regardless of previous classification as A or B.

Trophies To Be Awarded

The trophies for schools winning first, second, and third places will be gold, silver, and bronze plaques, respectively, identical in design, with the state seal of Iowa as the chief feature. There will be no awards to individual players.

The tournament will be conducted under the general supervision of the State Board of Control of High School Athletics, consisting of Superintendent C. E. Humphrey, of Grinnell, chairman; Superintendent T. M. Clevenger, of Waverly, treasurer, and Superintendent K. C. Vanorden, of Mapleton. Mr. George A. Brown, 711 Valley National Bank Building, Des Moines, is Executive Secretary of this Board.

Chambers of Commerce Cooperating

The Cedar Falls and Waterloo Chambers of Commerce have cooperated heartily with the Iowa State Teachers College in making plans for this tournament and in providing accommodations for those who will be in attendance. The seating capacity of the gymnasium will be increased by the erection of additional bleachers so that more than 4,500 persons may be seated and have a good view of the games from any seat. Ample parking space for automobiles will be provided near the gymnasium.

In the spring of 1933, the state tournament was won by a class B team from Dunkerton, which had been coached by Mr. W. H. Hartman, a graduate (B. A. '28) of Iowa State Teachers College. Since the tournament for 1934 is to be held on our campus, alumni will undoubtedly note the outcome of the games with keen interest and will probably hope that some team coached by a graduate of Teachers College will come through with flying colors.

New Award to be Given

A new award, to be given to athletes who are major sport monogram winners, was announced by the Athletic Board at Teachers College recently. The award is to be made on a basis of value to the team represented and may also be given in other cases of "exceptional attainment."

The nature of the trophy and the rules governing its presentation have been referred by the Athletic Board to a committee composed of Mr. C. H. Erbe, professor of government; Mr. H. E. Rath, associate professor of biology; and L. L. Mendenhall, director of men's athletics. It is planned to make the award uniform from year to year.

This is the third honor award in athletics to be offered by the school, the others previously instituted being the scholarship-athletic medal, given to a senior major letter winner with the highest scholarship in his college work, and the freshman numeral winner scholarship offered to the freshman monogram winner having the highest scholarship. A need was felt for the award on account of the fact that the Berg trophies have been discontinued.

Varsity Men Awarded Letters

Twenty-two men at Teachers College were awarded varsity football letters at a banquet held December 4.

The men who received awards are Lester Peterson, Alta; Willard Carson, Valley Junction; William Schulz, Naperville, Illinois; Paul Hoemann, Adair; Wallace Stewart, Banning, California; John McCallie, Dubuque; Harry Helgason, Wallingford; Kenneth Kimberlin, Marshalltown; Raymond Smalley, Janesville; Edward Thompson, Kanawha; Myron Cedarholm, Waterloo; Kenneth Albee, Muscatine; Raburn Miller, Zearing; James DeSpain, Marengo; Harlan Rigby, Mechanicsville; William Chambers, Anderson; Vernon Stribley, Correctionsville; Owen Ralston, Sheldon; Clair Kraft, Oelwein; Stewart Seidler, Waterloo; Charles Potter, Hutchinson, Minnesota, and Frank Snyder, Waterloo.
Seven Lettermen Return for Basketball

Faced with a schedule of fourteen games calling for a "home and home" arrangement with seven Iowa colleges, three of them non-conference schools, Coach Art Dickinson stepped the practice season ahead and issued a call for all basketball men to report to him on Monday, November 20.

Coach Dickinson returned to Cedar Falls last summer after spending a year at the University of Iowa where he received the Master of Arts Degree in June.

Although a number of lettermen will be available to Coach Dickinson, many of the men lack either the necessary size or collegiate experience. Of the lettermen, four have been out for football and have not had the advantage of pre-season drill.

In their opener, the Tutors met an old loop rival, Columbia, at Cedar Falls, on December 6, defeating them 34 to 17.

Several Lettermen Available

Lettermen who will be available for the 1933-34 Panther five include: Clair Kraft, Oelwein, center; Truman "Swede" Manship, LeGrand, guard; Carleton Lytle, Washington, guard; David Irvine, Tracer, guard; Maurice Carr, Maloy, forward; Raymond Smalling, Janeville, forward, and Kenneth Kimberlin, Marshalltown, forward. Two men who won their letters as members of the Tutor cage squad of 1931 also may be available, Paul Lambert, Buckingham, a forward, and Raymond Johannsen, LaPorte City, a guard.

Two men who saw action last year but did not have enough competition to win letters are reporting for basketball. Both should see much service this year. They are Vernon Stribley, Correctionville, a center, and Ralph Piper, Albion, a guard.

Sophomores Seeking Positions

A goodly crop of sophomores who got their baptismal competition as members of last year's freshman squad are on hand for the cage season and are seeking places on the team. The sophomore candidates are: James DeSpain, Marengo, center; Don Black, Cedar Falls, forward; James Pearson, Mondamin, forward; Charles Hutton, Marion, guard; Tom Boardman, Cedar Falls, center, and Anthony Mimbach, Hutchinson, Minnesota, a guard candidate.

It is probable that several junior college transfers will be eligible for basketball competition. Outstanding prospects among these men are: Elwood Robinson, Rhodes, forward; Edward Roeoffs, Sioux Center, guard; Warren Jordan, Riverside, California, guard; and Bill Templeton, Waterloo, forward.

Six Gridders End Careers

Six seniors played their last football game for Teachers College Saturday, November 18, when the Purple Panthers completed their nine-game schedule by winning a decisive victory over Luther College, of Decorah. The score read 25 to 13 when the game ended, and the fathers in attendance at the Fifth Annual Dads’ Day celebration cheered lustily, smiled proudly, and went home well pleased.

Of the six men, three, including Raburn Miller, Zearing; Clair Kraft, Oelwein, and Kenneth Kimberlin, Marshalltown, have been regular members of the squad since their sophomore year in 1931. They concluded their third and final football campaign when they turned in their suits following the last game. Harlan Rigby, Mechanicsville, was a member of the squad in 1931, but won his first monogram last fall.

Owen Balston, Sheldon, who returned to the squad this fall after an absence of two years, earned his first award as a sophomore tackle in 1930. However, since he expects to be graduated next fall, he will not return to the squad next year.

The sixth Panther who played his last game for Teachers College is Clarence Bain, Washington, speedy little quarterback.

With his sophomore team playing their first year of football under an entirely new system, Coach Johnny Baker’s eleven won three and lost six of the games on their difficult schedule.

Tutors Won Initial Game

The Tutors won their initial test of the season after but two weeks of work, which was given over to a study of some of the fundamentals of the Jones system. On Boy Scout Day, the first game of the season, Columbia College, of Dubuque, was the first victim of the Panthers. The Duhawks went home on tail end of a 13 to 0 score. Although boasting a veteran backfield, the Irish failed to threaten.

On the next week-end, Baker’s men journeyed to Mt. Vernon, and after leading for three periods, lost to Cornell, 12 to 7.

After a week’s stress on blocking and tackling, Coach Baker sent a vastly improved machine to Grinnell. The Panthers unleashed a driving attack in the final quarter of the game to down a fighting Pioneer team 13 to 6.

On October 14, one of the two intersectional tilts was played, when Western State Teachers, of Kalamazoo, Michigan, came to Cedar Falls. A game that threatened throughout three periods to end in a tie, was finally decided by a safety, and the Michigan lads went home with a slim 8 to 6 victory.

The following week-end, the Tutors fell victim of Morey Eby’s great Coe eleven, losing 19 to 0 in a nightcap. A 6 to 0 defeat at the hands of Morningside College, of Sioux City, came to Johnny Baker’s boys in their second conference start.

The Panthers next met an undefeated Iowa loop eleven, and lost their Homecoming game to the ever-fighting and alert Methodists. An intercepted pass and a long and brilliant run both contributed touchdowns for Simpson and a resulting 13 to 0 defeat for the Teachers.

After but three nights of drill, the Tutors boarded pullmans for a long jump to Michigan where they met Michigan Normal College, of Ypsilanti. In a game, most of which was played in a blinding snowstorm, the Hurons were victorious by a 19 to 6 margin.

The Tutor machine came back to Cedar Falls the next week to soundly trounce their ancient foe, Luther College, of Decorah, 25 to 13, in the traditional Dads’ Day struggle. After two periods of listless ball, the Panthers hit their stride in the final period and scored a one-sided triumph over the Norsemen.

O. Nichols Wins Decathlon

A speedy freshman, Orville Nichols, of Riverside, California, captured first place in the annual fall decathlon for track candidates at Teachers College. The track candidates, working under the direction of Coach Art Dickinson, started running off the various events in the decathlon soon after the Fall Term started, and the event was completed early in November.

The husky Californian, winner of the 1933 event, was out in front in five of the ten events and scored the necessary number of points in the other events to win. The winner of the decathlon was not out for fall track, because of his participation in freshman football. His work in the backfield showed up well on the football team.

Events in the decathlon were the 50-yard dash, the 100-yard dash, broad jump, high jump, 120-yard high hurdles, 60-yard low hurdles, shot put, javelin, pole vault, and the 440-yard dash.

Nichols, the winner, scored 6,015 points to win first place in the fall track event. Beverly La Dage, of Waverly, was runnerup with 5,688 points. Other high men in the event were Maynard Voorhies, of Cedar Falls, 5,420 points, and Anson Vinall, of Newton, with 5,299 points.
Squad of Nineteen Reports for Wrestling

Wrestling may be a minor sport in the athletic departments of some institutions, but at Iowa State Teachers College it has always been ranked on a par with the other major sports, and the teams have been consistently above par. This year's team will be no exception, if the number of veterans reporting to Coach David McCuskey is any indication.

Strenuous drills on the fundamentals of wrestling were begun in earnest with the close of the football season. Practice was held up until this time because many of the Panther grappling candidates were members of the football squad.

Four home meets are scheduled for the 1934 Iowa State Teachers College wrestling card. The meets at Cedar Falls include matches with the University of Wisconsin, the University of Missouri, the University of Iowa, and Iowa State College.

The Tutor grappers have two meets away from home, with the University of Minnesota and Cornell College.

As a nucleus for a team, the Tutor wrestling mentor has five lettermen from which to build a club of formidable grapplers.

Five Lettermen Available

Lettermen who have reported for wrestling are Alvie Natvig, Hew Hampton, in the 119 pound class; Bruce Warner, Alden, in the 135 pound class; Owen Ralston, Sheldon, in the 175 pound class; William Chambers, Anderson, in the 165 pound class, and Francis Flannagan, Williamsburg, in the 135 pound class. Flannagan won the state title in his class last year.

Richard Geeertsema, Parkersburg, a grappler in the 175 pound class, is teaching this year, and will not return to school to compete this winter.

A galaxy of freshman wrestling luminaries will be available to Coach McCuskey. Although the men lack the toughening experience of intercollegiate competition, many of them were impressive in practice meets last winter.

Numeral Winners Report

Men who have won numerals in wrestling are John Cowie, Cedar Falls, 126 pound class; William Schulz, Naperville, Illinois, 155 pound class; Wendell Griggs, Cedar Falls, 155 pound class; Merlyn Kirkpatrick, Kinross, 145 pound class; Alvin Johnson, Graettinger, 145 pound class; Lester Cottrill, Des Moines, 145 pound class; Irvin Berryhill, Buffalo Center, 165 pound class.

Other numeral winners who are in school and are out for wrestling include Ralph Novak, Calmar, 155 pounds; Marc Ihm, Guttenberg, 135 pound class, and Edward Thompson, Kanawha, the lone heavyweight with experience.

In addition to the letterwinners and those who have been awarded freshman numerals, a number of additional men are working out. Many of the men have had some varsity experience, but not enough to entitle them to letter awards.

In the 118 pound group, James Steiner, Dubuque, a senior, has been reporting; Vernon Axmear, Keswick, in the 126 pound class; William Kirsher, Valley Junction, in the 145 pound class, and Carol Mathers, Cedar Falls, in the 135 pound group.

1934 Wrestling Schedule

- January 15—Wisconsin at Cedar Falls
- January 22 or 26—Iowa State at Cedar Falls
- February 8—University of Missouri at Cedar Falls
- February 14—University of Iowa at Cedar Falls
- February 24—University of Minnesota at Minneapolis
- (Date to be selected)—Cornell at Mt. Vernon
- March 17—State wrestling meet at Iowa City
- March 9 and 19—Midwest A. A. U. meet at Cherokee
The New Year

During the past year the word "new" has received extraordinary emphasis. In newspapers and magazines, from platform and pulpit, over the radio and upon the silvered screen, we are constantly reminded that the old order is dead and that upon its ruins a new civilization is to be built. Especially are we told that rugged individualism is a thing of the pioneering past and that a sense of social responsibility, stronger than any such idealism we have ever known, must be developed in order that national and individual welfare may be saved from complete catastrophe.

Those who have great responsibility in the guidance of public opinion seem to think that the evolution which is to prevent revolution will be brought about by legislative and executive planning and activity. And what has been done along that line during the past nine months in our country is amazing, almost bewildering, in its variety and rapidity. At the same time, the one great, fundamental principle of democracy has not been forgotten, namely, that good government rests upon the uncoerced consent of the governed, that lawmaking bodies and elected officials can not change the social order to a degree beyond that which free citizens will approve and support. In other words, a democratic government can not be greater than the general level of the intelligence and moral character of the people of the country. After all, it is the training of individuals in the duties and responsibilities of citizenship that determines the ultimate fate of a nation.

And it is just here that teachers play their part. What has the new year for them? Reduced income, increased cost of living, heavier teaching load, fear of further decrease in financial support of schools? Alas, too true in many instances. But millions of others have had similar distressing experience without the teacher's inspiring opportunity to forget individual difficulties by becoming absorbed in the great work of instilling new ideals of life and service into the minds and hearts of children. If there is to be in the future a more altruistic attitude of mind, if good will toward all men is to become more prevalent and cogent, if we are to substitute considerate cooperation for ruthless competition, these conceptions of duty must be inculcated chiefly in the public schools of our land.

As always, one of the chief phases of a teacher's work will be the instruction of youth in regard to their heritage from the past. The best that has been achieved in science, literature, art, philosophy, and other lines of human endeavor must be preserved and perpetuated. This is essential for any worthy effort of the present or the future. But, as Lowell sang, "New occasions teach new duties; Time makes ancient good uncoynt." The teacher must keep abreast of the times, must be informed in regard to new movements for the betterment of society, must be able to distinguish between valid ideas based upon unselfishness and mere propaganda for personal advantage. Unquestionably the necessity for a wide and discerning knowledge of public affairs will be greater in 1934 than ever before in this country. This means self-improvement for teachers, one of the greatest joys of human life.

Fortunately, just as we enter the new year, a spirit of confidence and courage, a renewal of faith and hope, seems to be displacing the previous melancholy mood of millions of our people. Alumni of Iowa State Teachers College, remembering the ideals which this institution has always championed, will undoubtedly face the new year with an unflagging determination to render to their various communities the highest and greatest service of which they are capable.

Edward Gingerich, B. S. '29, has been located at the Nettleton Commercial College at Sioux Falls, South Dakota, since July, 1933. Mr. Gingerich reports that he enjoys his work, and that the attendance at the school is very encouraging.

Lawrence A. Wood, B. S. '27, is acting as assistant coach and teacher of vocational guidance in the High School in Boise, Idaho. His present address is 1006 North 16th Street, Boise. Mr. Wood has attended the University of Iowa and the University of California at Los Angeles.
Alumni News

KAPPA DELTA PI ANNIVERSARY NOTES

The Alumnus is indebted to Kappa Delta Pi, national honorary education fraternity at Teachers College, for the news items which follow this editorial notation. The information contained in these items was gleaned from letters sent in by members of Kappa Delta Pi, in response to letters inviting them to attend the Tenth Anniversary of the fraternity held at the College last August.

Edith Berry, B. A. ’26, is doing extension work in connection with Ohio State University where she is employed in the Department of Cooperative Extension Work in Agriculture and Home Economics. She has been associated with the University for four and a half years.

Milo E. Bixler, B. A. ’30, is acting as assistant in the Chemistry Department at the University of Illinois at Urbana.

Mr. Bixler was associated with the Frigidaire Corporation at Dayton, Ohio, after graduation from Teachers College. During the past year he has pursued graduate studies at Urbana, where he is working on the Master of Arts Degree. He was elected as a member of Phi Lambda Kappa, national honorary chemistry fraternity last year.

Mrs. Herbert Collier (Dorothy Nelson), B. A. ’24, is now living at Sutherland, Iowa. She taught for four years previous to her marriage. She now has two little girls, Leone Lorraine, seven years old, and Norris Eileen, age three.

Mrs. Collier has been active in Sunday school work. Until the last two years, she taught Sunday school classes and acted as pianist and chorister at various times, but at present she is superintendent. She writes that her oldest girl lacks two months of completing four years of perfect attendance in the Sunday school.

Anna M. Nelson, B. 32, was enrolled at the University of Chicago during the past summer working toward the Master of Arts Degree. She is now teaching in Big Piney, Wyoming, where she has been employed since graduation from Teachers College.

Jane Needham, B. A. ’26, is teaching at Parkersburg, Iowa.

Violet Dell Bennett, C. ’25, spent her vacation at Colorado during the past summer. She has been teaching commercial subjects in Jamestown, New York, since 1928. She writes that she enjoys the East, and has had many pleasant trips to Washington and the New England states. She has taken advanced work during the summer months at Columbia University, where she is working on a Master of Arts Degree.

Elisie McElhinney, El. ’31, has been connected with the Sam Houston State Teachers College at Huntsville, Texas, since graduation from Teachers College, except for time taken for graduate work.

Ethel E. Lindsay, B. A. ’26, has been teaching mathematics and Latin in Renwick, Iowa, for the past six years. For the past four years she has been acting as principal. One of her Latin students, Vera Bogard, won first place in the Iowa Academic tests last year, and second place this year.

Miss Lindsay was seriously injured last spring in an automobile accident. She had been with the senior class to have their pictures taken. Two members of the class were killed. Miss Lindsay missed over seven weeks of school, but is well on the way to recovery at present.

Leonard Olson, B. A. ’32, has been doing graduate work in physics at the University of Iowa. In addition to his regular school work, he is in charge of the Field House Dormitory.

Mrs. Merle Trickey (Edna Butler), B. A. ’28, is now living at Aberdeen, South Dakota. Her husband is head of the Department of Commerce at the Teachers College at Aberdeen.

Mrs. Trickey writes that Dr. Milton Nugent, who formerly taught at Iowa State Teachers College, is now teaching at Aberdeen.

Mrs. Trickey has a two year old daughter.

Arvilla Benshoof, B. S. ’31, attended the normal session of Gregg College at Chicago during the past summer. She is teaching at Creston, Iowa, this year.

Max Noah, B. A. ’27, head of the Music Department at Guilford College at Guilford, North Carolina, was enrolled at the Teachers College, Columbia University, during the past summer. He has been working toward the Master of Arts Degree in Music Education.

Mrs. Noah (Dorothy Wilbur), B. A. ’26, was also enrolled at Columbia University. She was working on a Master of Arts Degree in Speech Education.

Marjorie Loomis, B. A. ’28, was enrolled at the University of Wisconsin during the past summer studying law. Since her graduation from Teachers College, she has been teaching at Newton, Iowa.

Ariet Christian, B. A. '32, is acting as high school principal and teacher of mathematics at Milford Township High School. She has been associated with the Donnelley Corporation at Nebraska, Iowa, for the past year.

Mrs. Marston Sweet (V. Gertrude Huffman), B. A. '26, writes that she has been living in Arbuckle, California, for nearly six years.
Her husband is an almond grower. Last year, his husband and his brother harvested over fiftsix tons of almonds. Mrs. Sweet states that because of the lack of rainfall this year the crop will be lighter.

Mr. and Mrs. Sweet have two children,
Doris Elaine, four years old, and George Marsten, age two.

Florentine Martin, B. A. '30, is teaching high school biology at Le Mars, Iowa. Miss Martin is active in girl scout work.

Alice Charlesworth, B. A. '33, spent an enjoyable summer traveling. She wrote on August 3, that she hadn't seen the state of Iowa since July 1, as she had been to New York City and Canada. She stated that she didn't care for New York City at first, but soon grew fascinated with it. She thought Washington, D. C., was a delightful city. While on her way to New York City she stopped at Chicago to see the World's Fair.

Katherine Rose, B. A. '30, of Moline, Illinis, writes that after graduation from Teachers College she taught art for one year in the Webster Groves, Missouri, junior high school. She spent two summers working in Yellowstone National Park. "Then," she writes, "I hibernated a year. Last year I studied and assisted with the juvenile classes of the Davenport Art Gal-ery. Since then I have been doing quite a bit of painting with the hope of having an exhibit of my own, some day ..."

"For amusement the least expensive and the greatest ever is hiking. The tri-cities are fortunate in having the Black-Hawk Hiking Club. Between this organization, and a smaller one, every Saturday finds me out in the 'sticks' somewhere. We tramp about, rain or shine, ninety-five degrees above or ten degrees below. This summer fifty-one of the members traveled in three large open trucks, all through the east.
We slept out, cooked over open fires, and saw things. The route took us through Pittsburgh,
Philadelphia, Lakehurst, New Jersey beaches,
New York City, West Point, the length of Cape Cod, Plymouth, Boston, and then to Acadia National Park, Maine, where we camped for three days. We returned through New Hampshire, Vermont, New York, and Canada. The total mileage covered was 3,600."

Miss Rose writes, "I am riding a bicycle! Most inexpensive means of locomotion which I would recommend to all professors and teachers."

C. W. Roadman, M. Di. '04, was recently assigned as sales director in charge of the northwest states along with the southwest, for the
B. H. Sanborn Company, of Chicago, publishers of school and college textbooks.

Mr. Roadman is located at Los Angeles,
California, with his business office at 1015 Burnside Avenue.

Mr. Roadman is one of many alumni who have written expressions of appreciation for the "Meet the Faculty Section." The pictures as well as much of the copy for this section are being furnished through the courtesy of the 1933
Old Gold, student annual.

J. H. Seymour, B. Di. '09, is starting on his twentieth year at State Teachers College, Valley City, North Dakota. He writes that in some instances salaries have been cut from forty to fifty per cent at the different state institutions in North Dakota.

Mr. Seymour received the Bachelor of Science Degree in 1915, and the Master of Science Degree in 1925 from Iowa State College.

Mrs. Mary Patton, M. Di. '02, formerly
Dean of Women and a member of the English Department at State Teachers College, Valley City, North Dakota, resigned her position at the end of the summer session in August, 1933. She had been a member of the faculty since 1916.
Her present address is 151 East Broadway, Dan-vile, Indiana.

Mrs. Patton received the Bachelor of Arts Degree in 1912 and the Master of Arts Degree in 1913 from the University of Chicago.

Florence D. Bailey, B. A. '26, is a member of the Commerce Department at State Teachers College at Valley City, North Dakota. She has the Master of Arts Degree in Commerce from the University of Iowa.

Vera Follman, Cons. '33, is teaching in the high school at Bridgewater, Iowa.

Margaret Wingert, El. '33, is teaching in a rural school near Raymond.
Faye Stuart, El. '33, of Chariton, Iowa, is teaching departmental work in the seventh and eighth grades at Williamson.

Sheila Seddon, El. '33, is teaching sixth grade at Mystic.

Florence Reynolds, El. '33, is acting as teacher in a standardized rural school near Madrid, Iowa.

Alice M. Heidel, El. '33, of Mundelein, Illinois, is teaching sixth and seventh grades in the Albion Consolidated School at Albion, Iowa.

Helen Bunker, El. '33, of 404 East Fourth Street, Villisca, Iowa, is doing departmental work in the Junior High School at Red Oak, Iowa. Her address is 710 Sixth Street.

E. B. Lynch, B. A. '21, son of S. A. Lynch, head of the English Department at Teachers College, and superintendent of schools at Sigourney, Iowa, has had the distinction of being elected president of the Lions' Club at Sigourney.

The honor conferred upon Mr. Lynch constitutes a recognition of his extensive activities and service in the interests of the community which he serves as superintendent.

Mr. Lynch received the M. A. Degree in 1927 from the University of Iowa.

Clara Klesswetter, R. '33, is teaching in a rural school near Haverhill, Iowa.

Everest Bryant, R. '33, is an instructor in a rural school near Corydon.

Leona Aden, R. '33, is teaching in a rural school near Palmer, Iowa.

Ardon L. Cole, B. S. '33, is employed as an instructor in social science and coaching at Aberdeen, South Dakota.

Kathryn Doore, Pri. '33, of Marble Rock, Iowa, is teaching first and second grades at Plainfield.

Gladys A. Clark, Pri. '33, is teaching first grade at Winterset, Iowa.

Gladys Van Ardale, B. A. '31, is a critic in the third and fourth grades in the Training School at State Teachers College, Valley City, North Dakota. She has been acting as critic at Valley City since 1931. She was on leave of absence last year while working on the Master of Arts Degree which she received from Columbia University.

C. T. Addington, B. A. '18, is now teaching sociology in the Central High School at Minneapolis, Minnesota.

Mr. Addington writes that upon graduation from Teachers College, he had thought of taking up teaching work only as a stepping stone to other activity. He became so interested in the profession, however, that he has planned to take up graduate work in the field of his specialty, and has decided to "continue in the profession during the next thirty years."

"In looking back upon my work at Teachers College," says Professor Addington, "it is the teachers that I had which stick in my mind rather than the subjects which I took. Dr. Charles H. Meyerholz, a former teacher in government, certainly taught me more about government in the three short months that I had him as a teacher than I had learned during the previous seventeen years of my life..." Dr. Seerley, although I did not know him personally, made an impression upon me by his prayers in chapel. I have often wondered why state laws prohibit religious principles in the public schools. Surely, it must be important to the adolescent if it has made any impression on college students with more mature minds."

Professor Addington extended greetings to Miss Emma Lamb, professor of mathematics; Dr. Hugh S. Buffum, professor of education; S. A. Lynch, head of the English Department, and G. W. Walters, professor of education.

H. W. Busby, B. A. '23, is now at El Nido Lodge, Buffalo, Wyoming, where he is "hibernating in the mountains this winter" and venturing forth on occasion to hunt, trap, and write on his novels. He writes that he went antelope hunting in October and got his "winter supply of meat."

During the summer months Mr. Busby is connected with a traveling college which takes its students by bus to various points of interest in the country. Thus Mr. Busby teaches classes in many states in the union.

Aileen Muschewski, El. '32, is teaching grades four, five, and six in the Elkader schools. This is her second year there.

H. Cleo Christian, El. '33, of Nevada, Iowa, is teaching seventh and eighth grades at Roland, Iowa.

Kathryn Langford, El. '33, of Numa, Iowa, is teaching seventh and eighth grades at Rathbun, Iowa.

David W. Knepper, B. A. '23, was elected president of the Mississippi State Conference of Social Work at the Eighth Annual meeting held at Gulfport, Mississippi, October 19-21.

Mr. Knepper received the M. A. and the Ph. D. Degrees from the University of Iowa. He has been professor and head of the Department of Social Studies at Mississippi State College for Women at Columbus since 1927.

Mrs. A. B. Jenkins is now residing at Early, Iowa. She will be remembered as G. Lavonne Hinde, C. '31.

Mr. and Mrs. Jenkins have one child, Patricia Faye, born September 21, 1932.

Mrs. Carl Magdick (Verplanck Bennett), B. A. '11, was elected vice-president of Iowa Congress of Parents and Teachers at the biennial meeting held recently in Marshalltown, Iowa.

Alice Watson, El. '31, is teaching at Schaller, Iowa.

Mrs. Carl Magdick, (Verplanck Bennett), B. A. '11, was elected vice-president of the Iowa Congress of Parents and Teachers. Her husband is a practicing physician, and they reside in the city noted for the famous Carlsbad Caverns.

Dr. Nelson L. Hersey, B. A. '20, of Independence, Iowa, was chairman of the Armistice Day celebration at Independence this year.

Dr. Hersey is a practicing physician at Independence.

Mrs. William Bauer (La Vane Sellers), P. E. '22, of Eagle Grove, Iowa, and her sister, Mrs. Clifton Grimes (Frances Sellers), H. E. '24, and daughter, Camille, of Philadelphia, Pennsylvania, visited at the campus during the Homecoming celebration in November.

Mrs. Grimes, whose husband is a junior officer in the Navy, has recently returned to Philadelphia after spending the summer in Marshalltown, Iowa, while her husband was at sea.

Her address is: Care of New Mexico Battleship, Philadelphia.

Mrs. J. R. C. Hoover (Opal Schrader), El. '30, is now living at Carlsbad, New Mexico. She has taught in Carlsbad for three years. Her husband is a physician and surgeon in Carlsbad, the city noted for the famous Carlsbad Caverns.

Kenneth Baldwin, C. '28, is employed as accountant at the Federal Jail of the Department of Justice at New Orleans, Louisiana.

Mary Wallace, Pri. '31, of Schaller, Iowa, is teaching first grade at Moville, Iowa.

Elizabeth Wartman, of Cedar Falls, is teaching physical education at Creston, Iowa.

Geneva Waters, B. A. '25, of Postville, Iowa, is teaching in the high school at Shellsburg.

Alice Watje, El. '29, of Buck Grove, Iowa, is teaching in the junior high school at Lake View.

Winifred Watkins, Pri. '33, of Gilmore City, Iowa, is acting as primary teacher at A.Vord.

Marjorie Watson, El. '31, is teaching at Schaller, Iowa.

Donald Webber, B. S. '28, is high school principal at Strawberry Point.

Malcolm Webber, El. '29, of Lester, Iowa, is acting as high school instructor at the Newkirk Consolidated School at Hoppers.

Virgil Lekin, B. A. '32, of Parnell, Iowa, was recently elected to the position of chief clerk of the House of Representatives of the Iowa Legislature.

Philip Shutt, B. A. '29, of Independence, Iowa, was re-elected as Reading Clerk of the House of Representatives of the Iowa Legislature. This is Mr. Shutt's second term in the House.

Margaret Broughton, Pri. '33, is teaching second and third grades at Hartley, Iowa, rather than in a rural school, as stated in the last issue of the Alumnus.

Roger Mullinex, B. A. '25, of 3800 East Ocean Avenue, Long Beach, California, is teaching chemistry at the Long Beach Junior College. This is his fourth year there.

Mr. Mullinex received the Master of Science Degree in 1926 from the University of Iowa.

Roger Prior, B. A. '33, is attending school at the University of Illinois, where he is working toward the Master of Arts Degree.

Mr. Prior was a member of Alpha Delta Alpha Fraternity while attending Teachers College.

Betty McElhinney, El. '31, is teaching fourth grade in the Lincoln School at Spencer, Iowa. Last year she taught at Clarksville, Iowa.

Dorothy Marie Horn, B. A. '31, is doing graduate work at Drake University, Des Moines, this year. She taught for two years at Geneva, Iowa.

I. F. Heald, B. A. '16, writes that he is teaching at Louisiana State Normal College at Natchitoches. His work is in the field of psychology and education. Last year, he was appointed Director of Guidance, and acted as adviser of freshmen and others who were in doubt as to what curriculum to take. This year his duties as an instructor were lightened, and he was appointed Dean of Men.

Before going to Louisiana, Mr. Heald taught agriculture at Teachers College for five summers. He received the Master of Arts Degree from the University of Iowa in 1923.

George E. Welles, B. Di. '92, of 642 Juanita Avenue, Los Angeles, California, visited at the College October 10, 1933.
Mr. Welles was on his way back from Ohio, where he visited his daughter, Leona. He also attended the World Fair in Chicago. After leaving Cedar Falls, he planned to visit his brothers at Riceville, Iowa, and Minneapolis, Minnesota.

Milton Moore, former student, of Clarksville, Iowa, was awarded a fellowship at Juilliard Graduate School of Music in New York City for the present school year. The fellowship includes tuition for one year. The school, which is endowed, requires for admission a college degree and talent in music. There is only one other school in the United States of the same type.

Mr. Moore received the Bachelor of Music Degree from the Cincinnati Conservatory of Music after studying there for one year under Dan Bedloe. In 1932, he won the state Atwater Kent audition and the State Federated Music Club contest, both times earning the right to represent Iowa in the Chicago contest.

Mrs. Austin E. Childs (Prudence Atwood), El. ’30, is now located at Needles, California, where her husband is connected with the Fred Harvey Eating House system. Her address is 915 Broadway.

Mrs. Childs taught for three years in the fourth grade at Blue Rapids, Kansas.

Bartley Ogden, B. A. ’33, of Akron, Iowa, is acting as superintendent of schools at Alvord this year.

Sara E. Berg, B. A. ’33, of 701 East Broadway, Eagle Grove, Iowa, is teaching English and Reading in grades four, five, and six at Vinton, Iowa, this year.

Altha Marquesen, Pri. ’33, of 809 West 18th Street, Cedar Falls, is teaching first and second grades at Whitten, Iowa.

Loren Dillon, B. S. ’33, of Cedar Falls, is teaching industrial arts at Fayette, Iowa.

Ruth A. Waugh, B. A. ’26, of 309 Washington Street, Cedar Falls, is music supervisor at Monona, Iowa.

George Freshwaters, B. S. ’27, is acting as coach and head of the Junior College at Washington, Iowa.

Mr. Freshwaters is the father of a little girl, Nancy Lee, born January 26, 1933.

Dorothea Skoel, B. A. ’33, of Parkersburg, Iowa, is employed as secretary of the Lalan Music Shop at Cedar Falls. Her work consists of supplying schools and churches with both sacred and secular music.

Miss Skoel majored in music while attending Teachers College.
