Alumni Propose Revision of Constitution

Committee Asks For Vote of All Graduates to Decide Proposal

By Lou A. Shepherd,
Alumni Secretary

How many times since graduation have you been back on the campus for the purpose of attending the alumni reunion? If you have the habit started do not break it this year. If it is not formed, make the initial move and come on May 28 for the 1932 reunion.

There are special reasons for doing so. Here is one. Two years ago at the business meeting, the question arose as to how the Alumni Association might function more effectively. Since this could not be answered without time and study, Miss Alison Aitchison, 1903, was appointed as chairman of a committee whose purpose should be to look into the matter and to report at the next meeting. Selecting Miss Emma Lambert, 1897, and Dr. W. D. Wiler, 1898, to serve with her, investigations were made concerning other schools, and a report was submitted to the President of our college and to the Alumni Association at the 1931 reunion, last June.

Need for New Set-up

The chief suggestion was the desirability of having a paid Alumni Secretary whose duties would be to meet with alumni in the field, bring them news of the college, and carry back information from them to the campus. In general this person was to promote the interests of the Iowa State Teachers College in the state and develop a feeling of loyalty for our alma mater.

If you were in the business meeting last June, you remember that this report and the discussion which followed showed that there was much sympathy, interest, and desire for seeing results. So much feeling was manifested that the committee was asked to continue, and to see if more definite plans could be organized.

In addition to the work of this committee during last summer and fall, the Alumni President, J. Dale Welsch, 1922, called two meetings of officers, the reunion committee, and the committee already working on the problem. These meetings were held on October 31, and December 12.

At the Alumni luncheon at Homecoming, Mr. Glenn Cowan, 1920, First Vice-President, discussed possibilities for more usefulness of our organization, especially the desirability of having unit organizations, perhaps by counties. The program at our dinner at Des Moines centered around the Alumni topics—"The College Needs Us," "We Need the College" and "The College Needs You." So it is evident that people are thinking and talking, and it seems nearly time to take some definite action.

At the meeting in December it was voted to draw up a new constitution, submit this to you before Commencement this year, get your replies, and so be ready to reorganize at this year's reunion.

Homecoming Reunion Favored

We liked our getting together last fall at Homecoming. There were over twice as many enrolled at this time as at the reunion in June. These Alumni came from seventy-five counties in Iowa, from four other states, and one from India. This was a very satisfactory distribution. Several of those who are teaching have said that it was easier to leave their duties and come on a Saturday in the fall than in June, because many times the schools with which they were connected were not closed and it was their own commencement season. How do you feel about it?

It is expensive to publish the Alumnus. There are many indications that it may not be possible for the college to continue its publication. We should all miss the news of our former companions. In most cases this is our only source of such information. Do we all appreciate it enough to be willing to help in some way, so that its publication may be continued? Assistance in financing the Alumnus and making a start in the work of an Alumni Secretary are the main objectives in revising the constitution.

In the copy of the proposed constitution which is printed elsewhere in this issue for your study and consideration, Chapter VII, dealing with alumni Dues and Fees is still receiving consideration by the State Board of Education. It is hoped that we may have their approval of both the method of collection of alumni dues and the amount to be collected, as well as the method of administration proposed. In the meantime, think out the amount of dues you believe should be stipulated and send in your comments. Better still, plan to be present at the annual alumni business meeting following the dinner, Saturday evening, May 28.

Local Units Valuable

Other colleges in Iowa and elsewhere find it beneficial to their colleges to have local units of Alumni who meet at intervals and discuss interests. These local units may be instrumental in bringing to the attention of the college local young people who would be desirable as future students, of keeping parents informed of the activities of the college, and of shaping opinion in regard to legislation. On the other hand, these local units may easily be the means of direct communication with the central office on the campus.

Committee Asks for Vote

The January Number of the Alumnus carried the announcement that a reorganization of the Alumni Association was being recommended. A committee regularly authorized by the officers and executive committee of the Association submit herewith a proposed revision of the constitution.

The object of the proposed revision is to authorize the formation of local units of the Alumni Association wherever desirable; to authorize the change of date for the annual business meeting from June to the annual Homecoming at Cedar Falls, and third, to arrange a plan whereby some financial responsibilities may be shouldered by the alumni for the publication of the ALUMNUS and for partial support at least for other activities in behalf of the alumni.

The Proposed Constitution

Article I.—Name

This organization shall be known as The Alumni Association of the Iowa State Teachers College.

Article II.—Object

The object of this Association shall be to promote the interests of the Iowa State Teachers College and its graduates.

Article III.—Membership

All graduates of the Iowa State Teachers College become members of this Association by virtue of their graduation and payment of dues according to Article VII.

Article IV.—Annual Meeting

The annual business meeting of the Association shall be held at 10:00 a.m. on Homecoming Day.

Article V.—Officers

The elective officers of this Association shall consist of a President and six directors. They shall be elected by ballot at the annual meeting. The President shall serve for a term of one year. Upon retiring as President he shall serve one year as Vice President. Directors shall serve three-year terms, two being elected each year. One director each year shall be selected who resides outside of Cedar Falls.

Treasurer. The Financial Secretary of the College shall ex officio serve as Treasurer for the Alumni Association.

Secretary. The person in charge of The Bureau of Public Relationships shall ex officio be The Alumni Secretary.

Article VI.—Committees

The President, the directors, and the Alumni Secretary shall be empowered to transact the regular business of the Association. They shall refer major matters of new policy to the annual business meeting for consideration or ratification.

Article VII.—Dues and Fees

(This item still under consideration.)

Article VIII.—Local Units

Local units may be formed anywhere and with any number of members. It is recommended that local units unite into a County Branch wherever circumstances permit. Such County Branches and local units will be the means of communication between the central organization of the alumni and the individual members.

In the annual business meetings voting power shall be held by life members.

Classes to Return for Reunion

By Lou A. Shepherd

TWO months until Commencement, the time for the annual return to the campus.

Now is the time to begin planning for the trip to Cedar Falls. Here are some of the features: two baseball games, the Commencement Play, the Commencement Dinner, the Commencement Party, and the alumni reunions.

The Reunion Classes

We wish that this might be a banner year for attendance at Commencement. Although all graduates and former students are invited, the following classes are the ones scheduled for special reunions: 1919, 1918, 1917, 1916; 1900, 1899, 1898, 1897; 1881, 1880, 1879, 1878. We are following the "Dix Plan," and in that the class of 1931 is grouped with 1932. Come and see your friends receive the honors which were yours last year.

The class of 1907, which reaches its twenty-fifth birthday this year, will receive the special attention of the Reunion Committee. Those who return for the Reunion Dinner on Sunday always seem to have such a good time. Next month you will receive a letter telling more specifically of your entertainment, from Mrs. Ruth Johnson Corn-

saturday and evening classes well received
At the opening of the College last September, Saturday and evening classes were organized upon the Campus. This new feature was organized by the Extension Division to provide additional opportunities for public school teachers. For the fall quarter the registration by this plan supported classes in the following courses: French I, French
III, Recent American Poets, Recent American Prose Writers, German II, and Spanish I. An evening class in Public Finance assembled Thursday nights.
The Saturday classes work with the college instructor who regularly offers the course and put in a session of sufficient length each week to cover the work in a college term, investing the same number of hours as the class in residence work. An evening class meets for a shorter session and spreads a course over two terms.
During the winter quarter classes were maintained in French II, German III, Spanish II. For the spring quarter the enrollment in the Saturday classes permitted the organization of American History II, French III, and Spanish III.
Some members of the classes drive as far as fifty miles. Sixteen school systems and eight counties are represented in the enrollment.
In addition, an extension class has been maintained at Des Moines and another at Home and School to Change, Says Mr. Threlkeld

Both the home and the school must be readjusted in order that they may be made to give utmost service in a changed civilization, Mr. A. L. Threlkeld, superintendent of the public school system in Denver, Colorado, told graduates in the Winter Term Commencement exercises Thursday evening, March 3. Seventy-four students received degrees and diplomas conferred by President O. R. Latham.

The commencement speaker declared that the modern school must make up for essentials lacking in the modern home, and the home must in turn supply those functions which cannot effectively be provided in the schools.

"Today we have a tremendous lack of appreciation of the fact that we are living in a new civilization," said Mr. Threlkeld. "Old concepts have come down to us and have proved themselves inadequate."

"In the agrarian period in which the older members of this generation lived, the home was practically a complete social organization. Recreation, manual labor, and study were all present in the old time home. There were no idlers. Today, the home for youth, is a place to refill and retire.

"What does this situation imply for the schools of today? They must carry forward, in terms appropriate to our civilization, with a program to develop characters. The whole program which is giving social ideals to young people of today is one of the most important parts of the present school system.

"The home itself should not be left out of this program, however. It faces the necessity of adaptation as much as the school. The home that is meeting this necessity is reaching the highest plane known to the world."
diplomas at the commencement exercises were as follows:

Bachelor of Arts Degree in Education: Effie Arnold, Chariton; Bertha I. Bode, Kesley; M. Burton Briggs, Cedar Falls; Jack B. Greelis, Waterloo; Julia C. Hawks, Cedar Falls; Audrey J. Hayward, Fort Dodge; Margaret F. Holt, Storm Lake; Mary V. Hunter, Iowa City; Laura M. Karsten, Marengo; Harvey R. Lindberg, Cedar Falls; Darrell L. Maxwell, Marble Rock; Leo J. Old Gold Has “Progress Edition”

“The progress of the Iowa State Teachers College” is the theme of the 1932 Old Gold, an issue of the publication which is almost certain to be interesting not only to the graduating class and students on the Campus, but to faculty members, alumni, and friends of the College as well. The yearbook is to be placed on sale at the College May 1. A limited number of extra copies will be available to alumni who may be interested in securing this “progress edition.”

The annual this year will be distinctive in every respect, with especial emphasis on modernistic art work and unique typographical display. The forthcoming issue of the Old Gold will be unexcelled by any past publication of its kind in the amount and excellence of student art work and design. Something like 34 pages are to be devoted to student art work presenting the historical development of the College in a modernistic motive. For the first time in the history of the publication the view section will contain drawings of the campus buildings, all done by a student artist. Mr. Jack Arends, Aplington, is the staff artist.

Of especial interest to alumni will be the cover design showing the growth of the College from the construction of Gilchrist Hall to the completion of the College Library. The drawings for the cover were also made by Mr. Arends.

Alumni Mourn Jarnagin Death

J. W. Jarnagin, 78, a member of the Board of Directors of the Iowa State Normal School from 1886 to 1898, and one of the best friends and most loyal supporters that the Teachers College has known, died at his home in Des Moines, February 6, 1932.

Mr. Jarnagin was a pioneer Iowa editor and newspaper correspondent. He founded the Monroe Times which he sold in 1877, and later organized the Lucas County Republican. He was educated at Central University at Pella, Iowa, and was principal of schools in Colfax, Iowa, from 1878 to 1880. He was also principal of schools at Lynnville, Iowa, from 1880 to 1882. He returned to newspaper work to become editor of "The Telenbone" and afterwards the "Saturday Globe" at Oska­loosa, Iowa, from 1882 to 1884. He took over the Montezuma Republican in 1884, but in 1886 returned to his first interest, that of education, and became superintendent of schools at Montezuma, Iowa, in 1886 to 1889.

He was a member of the Iowa Columbian Commission in 1891, and was in charge of the Iowa Educational Exhibit at the World’s Columbian Exposition at Chicago in 1893.

He was postmaster at Montezuma in 1900. Subsequently, he became publisher of the Daily Record at Cedar Falls, Iowa, and in 1911 sold the paper and moved to Des Moines, where until the time of his death, he operated a news service for Iowa weekly papers.

As a member of the Board of Directors of the Normal School, Mr. Jarnagin took great interest in the work of teacher training. He was deeply interested in the alumni of the College, and was present as a special guest at many of the annual alumni dinners in Des Moines. He was one of the outstanding men commemorated by the memorial inscription in the granite base of the Campanile entitled, "Founders and Builders of Iowa State Teachers College." He had a wide circle of friends in Iowa and nearby states.

He is survived by two sons, W. C. Jarnagin, M.D., '99, publisher of the Storm Lake Pilot Tribune, and Roy S. Jarnagin, A. '07, publisher of the Peterson Patriot.

Mabel Reid, B.A. ’31, who returned to Burma in the fall after spending a year’s furlough doing advanced work at Teachers College, is now located at No. 6 Lancaster Road in Rangoon, where she is principal of the Methodist English Girls’ High School. This is a government school with an enrollment of four hundred in the grades and high school, fifty of whom are boarders. The principal is sent out by the Methodist Board of Foreign Missions while all the other teachers are Anglo-Indian.

Miss Reid fills the position formerly held by Miss Emma Amburn, who is now on furlough and working on her Master’s Degree at the State University of Iowa. Mrs. Bridget Wells, a native of Burma and former teacher in this Girls’ School, came to the United States with Miss Amburn and is now enrolled at Teachers College.

Mrs. Frank L. Byrnes (Hazel Webster), B.A. ’10, gave the address at the program of the Bicentennial Celebration put on by the State Teachers College, Mayville, North Dakota, on February 22. The college paper says of it, "Mrs. Byrnes spoke on the subject, 'Washington the Man.' . . . The address was on a high plane most appropriate to the occasion and given in her usual interesting manner." Mrs. Byrnes is librarian at the college.
Two "Circle Letters" Break Record

Records for long-time and long-distance correspondence established by graduates of the College through circle letters would seem to give the Iowa State Teachers College alumni something of a record for having the largest number of circle letter groups. Ever since the publication in the Alumnus some time ago of an article concerning one of the circle letter groups, the editor has been receiving news of other groups having even larger membership and longer time records.

Record is being kept of the various circle letter groups in order to ascertain just how many alumni are included in such organizations.

Two groups were heard from within the last few months. Information of one comes from Etta B. Fluke, B.A., '22, whereas the other was reported by Mrs. L. V. Cranston (Esther Ridley), B.Di. '04.

Says Miss Fluke, "In the October issue of the Alumnus I read of the reunion and Round Robin letter of a group of I. S. T. C. graduates who are wondering if any other group of graduates can beat their record of having kept a Round Robin letter going since 1920.

"Yes, there is at least one group of girls, not all graduates, who can beat the record, by six years.

"During the school year of 1912-13 a group of nine girls who roomed at the same place became such fast friends that at the close of the year when we separated a Round Robin letter was started and is still kept up.

"The group is made up of the following: Mrs. A. D. Latimer (Alma Fallers), student, 1912-13, of Shenandoah, Iowa; Malvina Reid, B.Di. '13, of 5311 North 26th Street, Omaha, Nebraska; Mrs. Harold C. Hansen (Iva Breck), student, 1912-13, of Tillamook, Oregon; Orra Kirkham, student, 1912-13, of Blackfoot, Idaho; Mary Catlin, student, 1912-13, of Marion, Iowa; Mrs. Ed Koefoed (Florence Fredericksen), R.S. '15, of Janesville, Iowa; Mrs. Percy Holland (Maza Fitzgerald), student, 1912-13, of Bode, Iowa, and myself.

"One of our group, Mrs. George Amin (Alta Kirkham), student, 1912-13, died in 1923.

"Our reunion is still in the future. Member meets member now and then but one and all thoroughly enjoy the advent of our Round Robin."

This new record had hardly been record-ed when in the mail came a letter telling of another club which was started in 1902.

Says Mrs. Cranston in reference to the Round Robin club started in 1920, "To the 'Jolly Eight' that seems a very new and recent affair. In the spring of 1902 when the 'Jolly Eight' of Porter Hall, 2508 Olive Street, started to pack up, they decided they really could not let their close friendship break up just because there might be some poor letter-writers in the group. So they decided to have what they called a 'Circle Letter.' This letter has been wending its way round and around ever since, each one taking out his old letter and putting in a new one. Sometimes sickness, death, or family cares hold it up for a month or so, but from two to four times a year it is a welcome sight in the mail box.

"In 1919 one of our group, Edna Williams Kenyon, Pri. '03, died, but the other seven carried on.

"From time to time we make up a packet of snapshots, each adding her contribution, and these go around as a package to keep the others posted on the 'Juniors' as they grow. Not any of us are Grandmothers yet, but, I suppose when we are, we will as proudly send snapshots of our grandchildren around the same as we did of our own babies.

"This is our group: Mayme Fitting, student, 1901-02, of Dexter, Iowa; Mrs. Charles Brooks (Orrell Larrison), B.Di. '97, M.Di. '02, of Des Moines, Iowa; Jennie Willey Heimer, student, 1901-02, of Carroll, Iowa; Mrs. W. H. Williams (Winifred Selser), B.Di. '02, of Villa­lica, Iowa; Alice Hunt Smith, student, 1901-02, of Hood River, Oregon; Mrs. Orien McKiearnan (Orpha Ensign), B.Di. '03, of Ducor, California, and Mrs. Cranston, B.Di. '04, of Lindsay, California."

And Here's Another Record

Mrs. Horace Tousley (Ruth Sherrard), Pri. '16, B.A. '22, of 1905 North Prairie Avenue, Joliet, Illinois, writes that she noticed in the last issue of the Alumnus that a group of Teachers College girls had kept up a circle letter since 1920, and says that she belongs to a group of girls who keep up a circle letter which dates back to 1916. She says at that time they all lived in Iowa, but now are scattered over six states from California to Connecticut.

Mrs. Tousley says the letter usually reaches each one about every two or three months
"Commons Building" Planned

A BUILDING which has been the dream of students, alumni, and administrators of the College for many years, will begin to take form on the Campus during the coming spring or early summer with the construction of a College Commons patterned after the Memorial Unions which are in such great favor with alumni of other institutions. If plans worked out by President O. R. Latham are approved by the state board of education, the building of the structure, which will include recreational facilities for the entire student body and eating service for women at the dormitory, will be started immediately.

The new building, probably of two stories, will be located directly north of the campanile and will be directly or indirectly attached to the south end of the west wing of Bartlett Hall.

Preliminary sketches for the Commons are being prepared by the firm of Proudfoot, Rawson, Souers, and Thomas, Des Moines architects. Until the actual plans are completed and the contract awarded, the cost will not be definitely known, but it will be somewhere between $100,000 and $200,000. The funds for the Commons have been accumulated over a period of years through the operation of the Women's Dormitory.

According to the preliminary planning, the ground floor will include two large dining rooms, kitchens, offices, post office, and information booth. The second floor will probably include a ballroom, slightly smaller than the Men's Gymnasium floor, a large student lounge and promenade, check rooms, rest rooms, and smaller lounge rooms.

The recreation facilities to be provided in the new building will take dances and other social functions out of the Women's Gymnasium, which will be remodeled if present plans are carried out. The consummation of these plans depends upon the action of the state board of education.

I. S. T. C. AT THE DEPARTMENT OF SUPERINTENDENCE

At the meetings of the Department of Superintendence in Washington, D. C., February 21 to 26, and in those of allied organizations occurring in connection with it, the College was represented by members of the present faculty, a few who had at former times served on the faculty, and numerous alumni.

Teachers College people filled program assignments or committee responsibilities as follows:

Dean Campbell represented the college in the Conference of Deans of Women and served as secretary of the Teachers College section of that organization.

Dr. E. O. Finkenbinder, of the Department of Education, was the official delegate in the national conference of Kappa Delta Pi Fraternity, representing the local chapter.

Dr. M. J. Nelson, head of the Department of Education, attended the working sessions of the national committee preparing intelligence tests for college freshmen.

A. C. Fuller, M.Di. '99, associate director, Extension Division, served as president of the Teachers College Extension Association, and presented a paper on Follow-Up Work for Teachers Colleges. Mr. Fuller was re-elected president of this organization for the coming year. Mr. Fuller also met with the National Committee on Rural Education for a discussion of their program of activities.

Miss Agnes Samuelson, now State Superintendent of Schools for Iowa, but who was a regular staff member of the Extension Division during the year 1924-26, is serving on the Commission on School Administration which is bringing out the yearbook for the Department of Superintendence for 1934. Miss Samuelson joined in the deliberations of the national commission on the Enrichment of Adult Life.

Other members of the college staff present were, E. W. Goetch, B.Di. '06, M.Di. '09, Director of the Placement Bureau, Mr. F. E. Fuller and Harry M. Kauffman, B.A. '27, both of the Extension Division. These last two named gentlemen with A. C. Fuller made the trip by automobile, and were fortunate in finding mild weather and pleasant driving conditions for the entire trip.

In addition to those mentioned, the roster of attendance includes the following: Mrs. Hazel Hoyt Ott, Pri. '10, B.A. '23, representing the State Department of Education, Pierre, South Dakota; B. H. Van Oot, one time member of the Department of Manual Arts, now in the State Department of Education at Richmond, Virginia; S. T. Neveln, B.A. '16, Superintendent of Schools, Austin, Minnesota, also secretary of the Schoolmasters Rotary Club, which holds one meeting a year at this annual gathering; E. L. Palmer, one time with the Natural Science Department, now on the staff of Cornell University, Ithaca, N. Y.; L. H. Van Houten, for several years a member of the Department of Rural Education, now stationed in the branch of the University of Pittsburg, located at Edinboro, Pennsylvania; Clifford P. Archer, B.A. '20, head of the Education Department, State Teachers College, Moorhead, Minnesota; O. E. Hertzberg, member of the Education Department for some time and now located in the Teachers College at Buffalo, N. Y.

Others were George H. Hilliard, B.A. '14, professor of Education and Psychology at Western State Teachers College, Kalamazoo, Michigan; C. C. Swain, for many years in the Rural Department, now president of the State Teachers College at Mayville, North Dakota; James Herbert Kelly, M.Di. '97, Executive Secretary, Pennsylvania State Education Association, Harrisburg, Pennsylvania; Alexander C. Roberts, '01, president State Teachers College, San Francisco, California.

Lydia Wells, Kg. '24, B.A. '31, is now working for the American Book Company of Chicago, Illinois, as Reading Demonstrator. She is promoting two series of readers for the elementary grades entitled "Do and Learn" and "Fact and Story." In her work she does a great deal of traveling, and recently she completed a month of work which took her into such cities as Springfield, Joplin, Carthage, Columbia, and Jefferson City Missouri.

Miss Wells' business address is at 330 East 22nd Street, Chicago, Illinois. Her residence address is 401 Kirkwood Blvd., Davenport, Iowa.

State Course In Mathematics

The new state course of study in mathematics for Iowa high schools is now being distributed. This is one of a series of courses of study in the several high school subjects published under the direction of the State Department of Public Instruction by an Executive Committee under the leadership of Dr. Thomas J. Kirby, of the University of Iowa. President O. R. Latham is a member of this committee.

Professor Condit is Chairman

The sub-committee which prepared the course in mathematics has the following members: Ira S. Condit, head of the Department of Mathematics, Iowa State Teachers College, chairman; W. E. Beck, principal of high school, Iowa City; Marian Daniels, associate professor of mathematics, Iowa State College, Ames; Mary E. Joiner, principal, high school, Maquoketa; Ruth Lane, teacher of mathematics, University High School, Iowa City; Ida McKee, head of mathematics, high school, Newton; Geraldine Rendleman, teacher of mathematics, Woodrow Wilson Junior High School, Des Moines, and Jennie Taylor, teacher of mathematics, high school, Shenandoah.

Helpful to Teachers

This course of study monograph is a pamphlet of one hundred and thirty pages. It contains a general introduction setting forth some values of mathematics followed by complete outlines for the presentation of one and one half years of algebra and one and one half years of geometry in accordance with modern views on the teaching of these subjects. There are also discussions of study habits in mathematics, plans for mathematics clubs and plays, and a scheme for debate recitation in geometry. A tabulation of college entrance requirements in mathematics is given and also a complete and up-to-date bibliography.

Before preparing this monograph the sub-committee made a very complete study of mathematics in Iowa high schools and has made an effort to prepare material which will be immediately helpful to high school teachers as well as an inspiration to the improvement of the teaching of mathematics.

Mrs. La Fel Barney (Mary Desmond), J.C. '26, of Aurum, Nevada, writes that she is now teaching school in Nevada.
Speech Correction Clinic Enlarged

By Dr. F. W. Lambertson, Professor of Public Speaking and Clinic Director

Alumni interested in speech correction work, and those now in the teaching profession who recognize the great importance of effective voice habits in the school room will be interested to know that the speech clinic started some three years ago at the College is being greatly enlarged and improved with the addition of new technical equipment for the detection and correction of speech difficulties.

In the new offices of the clinic in Room 139 of the Auditorium Building at the College, prospective teachers now in training may receive speech attention through the cooperation of the English Department and Education Department.

New equipment, which has been added, includes an Ediphone for recording voices of students, laryngoscope for observing the condition of the throat, phonetic charts for phonetic transcription, and a new equipment cabinet.

Through the cooperation of the Education Department, certain laboratory equipment is also available for speech work. Students will be initiated into the use of the manometric flame, the tachistoscope, the galvanometer, the plethysmograph and tambours. Professor D. P. Phillips of the Education Department has consented to cooperate in the work of mental hygiene.

Each student who becomes a patient of the clinic first fills out a Case History. This includes a survey of his home life, his social life, and his personality reactions. He then goes to Dr. E. O. Finkenbinder, of the Education Department, for intelligence and reaction tests. Later he goes to Dr. Helen Lynch, health director of Bartlett Hall, for a medical examination of the nose, mouth, and throat.

Members of the Advisory Committee, which planned the work of the speech clinic for the year, are Miss Sadie B. Campbell, dean of women; Dr. Eva May Luse, head of the Department of Teaching; Dr. M. J. Nelson, head of the Education Department; Mr. S. A. Lynch, head of the English Department; Dr. E. O. Finkenbinder, professor of Education, and Dr. Helen Lynch, health director of Bartlett Hall.

State Survey of Speech Defectives

The foremost project of the year is to be a state-wide survey of the public schools for speech defectives. Dr. Lambertson was appointed chairman of the committee for the elementary grades. Together with Dr. Lee Travis, of the University of Iowa, and other helpers, he will attempt a sampling of the state. In other communities where surveys have been made from eight to ten per cent of the pupils are found to be defective. This percentage increases in rural districts. The results of this survey will be looked forward to with interest.

The Clinic in April

During the month of April, a Clinic will be held by Dr. Travis and Miss Bessie Rasmus, both of Iowa University, in Teachers College. Dr. Travis is a nationally known figure in the work of Speech Correction, whose new book, “Speech Pathology,” was the storm center of the conference in Detroit this last year. Persons from the surrounding cities who would care to have their children examined may bring them at this time and receive his suggestions free of charge.

A New Field of Opportunity for the Teachers

The work of speech correction is offering a new field of activity for the public school teacher. Surveys have already been conducted by Conradi in Kansas City, Milwaukee, Cleveland, Louisville, Albany, and Springfield. Blanton surveyed the schools of Madison, Wisconsin. Wallin made a more intensive study of 89,057 students in the St. Louis public schools, and Root investigated the schools of South Dakota. In all of these studies a surprising number, from 2.5% to 10% of children were found with voice or speech defects.

What are the forms of defect most commonly found? The following classification of 16,213 cases in the Department of Speech Improvement in New York City for 1928-29 is suggestive.

In the lower grades consonant substitutions and oral inaccuracies are most common. Children speak of their “toof bwush” or the “wabbit” (rabbit) or a “fassy-igh,” (flashlight). Frequently these defects disappear with age; on the other hand, they may not, and the child leaves the school timid or socially maladjusted. If the defect is that of lisping or of stuttering it may require intensive practice over a long period of time.

The teacher who has studied into the causes of these defects and has learned something of how to cure them will be a more valuable instructor in any school system.

What Other Cities Are Doing

Many cities have realized the loss of time and effort due to speech defects. According to school reports, eighty-four cities in twenty-two states are hiring speech correction teachers. California has ten cities with clinics, Wisconsin sixteen, Michigan six, and Iowa three. In the main, these cities are the larger ones, with a population of over 10,000. Since a higher rate of poor speech is evidenced among the rural and small town population, there is need for work by the average teacher in the communities of Iowa.

Requirements for Speech Correctionists

What courses are desirable for teachers who would major in this work? Several universities are now equipping teachers for such tasks. The University of Wisconsin includes among its requirements such courses as the following: Correction of Speech Disorders, Speech Pathology, Phonetics, Psychology of Speech, Intelligence Testing, along with selected courses from Voice Science, Personality Traits, Health and Hygiene, Eugenics, etc. The teacher properly equipped will have a specialized training in actual clinic work, along with a wide background in allied fields.

Social Values

Speech is our most effective means of influencing others. The person with a rich, resonant, well-modulated voice has a powerful weapon for gaining his wishes in the social group. The child who begins life with a voice or speech defect often becomes the social misfit: he is laughed at by his companions because of his manner of speaking; he stops talking, becomes an introverted person. Serious personality mal-adjustments may result from faulty speech. speech that might have been corrected with ease in the early stages.

Clean-cut and accurate speaking is usually an index of clear-cut thinking. The person who finds difficulty in expressing himself is apt to be the one who has muddled ideas. Improve his speech and you immediately improve his entire personality.

The economic side of the problem cannot be ignored. Imagine that ten per cent of our public school pupils have some form of voice or speech defect. They are in four, five, or six classes each day. Presume that they retard the class recitation by one minute in each class. Figure up the number of minutes, of hours, of months, that are wasted simply because little Johnny or Sister Sue has some form of faulty speech. The state of Iowa will find this a large sum over the period of a year, a sum which might be saved to the tax payer if teachers had a more adequate knowledge of speech correction.

Stanley Wood, B.A. ’31, who is now doing graduate work at Yale University, is being accorded recognition for his artistic and creative ability developed at Teachers College.

The most recent recognition that he has received was accorded him by the New Haven Skating Club. Stanley and three other students from the Yale School of Drama, were selected to supervise construction of all of the scenery and properties for the pageant, “A Night of Magic,” which was presented by the club.

The pageant was presented by the skating club under the auspices of the United States Figure Skating Association. Many Olympic and National champions were featured on the program. Elaborate scenery and lighting effects were worked out by the Yale students.

Stanley was well known during his attendance at the college for his talent in scene construction, dramatics, artistic sign work, and creative writing. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. George Wood, 307 Olive Street, Cedar Falls.

Oratorical Contest at College May 6

Speakers representing Iowa colleges will compete in the State Peace Oratorical contest at the College on May 6, Dr. F. W. Lambertson, professor of public speaking at the college, has announced. Dr. Lambertson, who is secretary of the organization, will have charge of general plans for the contest.

Any Iowa college or university may enter a contestant. Speakers from eight colleges competed last year in a tournament held at Central college, at Pella.

A cash prize of $60 will be awarded the winner of the state contest and the holder of second place will receive $40. Each speech must be seven minutes long and on the subject of peace.
COLLEGE OFFERS NEW COURSE

A new course has been offered at the College since the beginning of the spring term. The new subject, entitled “Problems of Student Advisers,” is taught by Miss Sadie B. Campbell, dean of women.

Dean Campbell made special advanced study in this field during her attendance at Columbia University. She also conducted classes at Columbia last summer for deans of women taking graduate work. One of these classes dealt with problems of student advisement.

The new course is of particular value to college women who plan to become deans of girls in high school.

Dr. M. J. Nelson, head of the Education Department, stated that the class will give three term hours of college credit, and count on the state requirement in education.

PURPLE PEN WINS HONORS

The Purple Pen, student literary magazine, which is subscribed to regularly by many alumni of the College, received high distinction by being awarded second place in the Columbia Scholastic Press Association contest held at Columbia University, New York City, in March. The award was made for “general excellence.”

Miss Selina Terry, professor of English, is faculty adviser of the publication, and Jane Becknell and Richard Shane, both of Waterloo, are editor-in-chief and managing editor respectively.

The Purple Pen is published by members of Lambda Beta Chapter of Sigma Tau Delta, national honorary English fraternity. The magazine is a member of the Columbia Scholastic Press Association and is issued regularly each term at the College in an attractive format of 32 pages.

The spring term issue is now off the press and available to students, faculty members, and alumni. The price is twenty-five cents per copy. The spring term issue contains unusually delightful and interesting poems, articles, and sketches.

Paderewski Thrills Record Audience

One of the largest crowds ever assembled in the Men’s Gymnasium at the College heard the master of all pianists, Ignace Jan Paderewski, present an unforgettable concert as the fifth number of the lecture and entertainment course at the College. People for miles around Cedar Falls, many of them coming from towns as distant as Iowa City, Cedar Rapids, Mason City, and Dubuque, were in attendance at the concert.

With the striking of the first chord a hush fell over the audience and the listeners remained spellbound and silent except for bursts of applause at the end of each number.

The lecture and entertainment committee at the College is composed of H. C. Cummins, professor of commercial education, chairman; W. L. Wallace, professor of government, and Luther A. Richman, professor of voice.

The next and sixth number on the entertainment program will be presented April 14 by Alice Mock, soprano soloist of the Chicago Civic Opera. The final number of the series will be presented on May 5 by Edgar Raine, outstanding lecturer on Alaska.

MR. HART COMBATS ILLITERACY

I. H. Hart, director of the Extension Division at the College, as chairman of the Third District Committee on Illiteracy, appointed recently by Agnes Samuelson, state superintendent of public instruction, is directing an extensive campaign to combat illiteracy. Superintendents of schools from the ten counties of the District were appointed by Mr. Hart as county chairmen to combat illiteracy in each county. Each superintendent was authorized to proceed with the appointment of an advisory committee composed of representatives of community groups cooperating in the project.

Steps are being taken to secure names of those who are in need and want help, and teachers in the counties are contributing their service in the instruction of classes and in the individual work.

WORKING MEN EARN HIGH GRADES

Men students at the College who were employed part time were victorious over non-employed collegians in the battle for grades during the fall term, according to a summary of employment by men students preparing in the office of L. I. Reed, dean of men. The working men received an average of 2.09 grade points per credit hour, which compares with 2.01 for the men who were not working. Although the employed men numbered 236, or 67 per cent of the 352 men who were not employed, they recorded less than half of the total number of hours of failing work.

Robert Huntoon, Waterloo, senior student at the College and a prominent debater, led the victory march for the employed men by earning 60 grade points while carrying 15 hours of college work, which means that he obtained the highest possible grade in all studies. Huntoon found time to work in the chemistry laboratory three hours each day in addition to fulfilling his duties as a member of ten college organizations and serving in some official capacity in seven of them.

Public restaurants ranked first as a source of employment with 59 men engaged in this kind of work, while the college cafeteria gave part time employment to 55 men. The number of students participating in other types of work was as follows: clerking, 35; janitor, 29; farm, 11; office, 8; college library and laboratories, 5, and miscellaneous, 39. The miscellaneous group includes teaching, photography, printing, hotel service, and other positions.

The number of employed men, according to classes, was freshmen, 77; sophomores, 51; juniors, 66; seniors, 44, and post graduates, 3.

SPEECH PROFESSOR HONORED

Dr. F. W. Lambertson, professor of public speaking at the Teachers College, has been selected as one of the eight contributors to a volume of "Iowa Studies in Speech" in honor of Dr. Charles H. Woolbert, outstanding leader in the field of speech work, who died in 1929 while professor of speech at the University of Iowa.

Dr. Woolbert is author of the text "Fundamentals of Speech" which is one of the most widely used college and university speech texts in the country.

Dr. Lambertson was a student under Dr. Woolbert at Albion college, Michigan, in 1912.

Tuition Rates Increased

An increase in tuition rates at the College for the 1932 summer session and the 1932-33 academic year was announced recently by President Latham. The new student charges, as approved on December 8th by the Iowa State Board of Education, call for the payment of a matriculation fee of five dollars by all new students. This fee is to be paid only once, namely, at the time future students enroll in the college for the first time. Students who are enrolled in the college at the present time, or who have attended at some previous time, and return any term for further study will not be required to pay this new fee. The collection of the matriculation fee from new students begins with the coming summer session.

The tuition for the summer session has been increased from $20 to $30 for freshmen and sophomores and from $30 to $40 for juniors and seniors. For the regular academic year the new rates are $25 per term for freshmen and sophomores, an increase of $5 per term over current rates, and $32 per term for juniors and seniors, an increase of $2 per term. The fee for private music instruction has been changed from $1.50 per half hour lesson, or $18.00 per term of twelve weeks for one thirty-minute lesson each week, to $20.00 per term for one thirty-minute lesson each week and $35.00 per term for two thirty-minute lessons each week if both lessons are taken with same instructor.

The increased tuition rates will carry certain values and permit the students to enjoy certain privileges that have not been common to, or associated with, the rates now in effect. Certain auxiliary agencies and extra-curricular projects which are now maintained by student assessment or patronage, will be furnished entirely or in part by a portion of the new tuition rate which is to be known as The College Fee.

In announcing the new rates, the President stated that they have been adopted with considerable reluctance but were made necessary by the fact that the present economic conditions are endangering the existence of certain indispensable agencies and activities which have heretofore been dependent entirely on student support. He explained further that the college is receiving from the state approximately $90,000 per year less for current operating expenses during the present biennial period than it was receiving ten years ago.
Debaters and Orators Successful

During the 1932 debating season Iowa State Teachers College debaters met or will meet in intercollegiate debate thirty-three different colleges, teachers colleges, and universities. Fifty students participated in debating activities, and thirty of this number took part in intercollegiate debates. Seven of the participants in intercollegiate contests were women, and twenty-three were men. In all, there were sixty-five debates. Since the object of the debate work is principally to give training in speech, many of the debates were non-decision. However, in the Inter-State Debating Tournament, a decision affair held at St. Paul, Minnesota, on February 24, 25, and 26, both of the teams from Iowa State Teachers College qualified for the final series of debates and one of the teams remained in until the semi-finals. In the debating tournament of the Forensic Association of Iowa Colleges, in which twelve Iowa colleges competed at Cedar Falls, Iowa State Teachers College was represented by Thorrel Fest of Audubon, Robert D. Huntoon of Waterloo, and Charles Vandaworker, of Kingsley, and won the championship. To accomplish this they had to meet teams from eleven different Iowa colleges and win more debates than any other men's team in the tournament. This is the fourth state debating championship for the Teachers College in the past three years, two for the men and two for the women.

Oratory and Extempore Speaking

In the oratory and extempore speaking, Mary A. Woolverton, Cedar Falls, won second place in the women's extemporaneous division of the contests held by the Forensic Association of Iowa Colleges at Cedar Falls recently, and Mary Schwyzhart, Grundy Center, won third place in the women's oratorical contest.

Dr. F. W. Lambertson, professor of public speaking, has charge of the extemporaneous speech work.

Science Academy to Meet at College

Arrangements are being made at the College to entertain the annual convention of the Iowa Academy of Science which is planned for April 29 and 30. Three hundred Iowa scientists in the fields of botany, zoology, physics, chemistry, pschology, and mathematics are expected to attend. The annual convention of the academy of science is always held in some member college. St. Ambrose College in Davenport entertained the scientists last year.

The committee on arrangements for the meeting is composed of Dr. R. W. Getchell, professor of physics and chemistry; Dr. W. H. Kadesch, professor of physics; Dr. E. O. Finkenbinder, professor of education; C. W. Wester, professor of mathematics, and Dr. Winfield Scott, professor of natural science.

Dr. Roy L. Abbott, professor of natural science, is chairman of the state section in the field of biology. He will preside over the meetings of his group, and address the delegates on a recent study. Other members of the College faculty are expected to appear on the program.

Five Students Earn "Straight A's"

Five students at the College tied for first place in scholastic honors during the winter term by attaining the highest possible mark of A in all subjects pursued, it is revealed by the honor rolls released by Sadie B. Campbell, dean of women, and L. I. Reed, dean of men at the state school.

Women students who received the scholastic distinction are Olive Sinclair, Waterloo; Helen Barber, Clear Lake, and Gabrielle Ritchie, Independence. The men students who received all A grades were Rexford Hughes, Madrid, and Arnold Schneider, Duluth, Minnesota.

Miss Sinclair earned 80 grade points while carrying 20 hours of studies. This is an unusual record, inasmuch as the usual number of hours carried is 15. The other four students each earned 60 grade points while carrying 15 hours of work.

Richard Wallace, a former student at the College, passed the rigid examinations for entrance to the United States Naval Academy at Annapolis, Maryland, according to information received by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Wallace, from Congressman T. J. B. Robinson. Mr. Wallace is professor of government at the college.

Following his nomination last summer by Congressman Robinson, Mr. Wallace entered the Cochran-Bryan preparatory school, where he made intensive preparation in various fields of study. He will continue his work at the school until June, when he will be formally admitted to the Annapolis academy. Since this extra preparation is not required for entrance, Mr. Wallace is one of only two candidates who expect to enroll for further study.

Mr. Wallace was graduated from the Teachers College Training School in June, 1930.
Eight Lettermen Back In Uniform For Baseball

Coach L. W. Whitford has only a short time in which to whip into shape a baseball team to meet the University of Iowa on April 22 in the first game of the season at Cedar Falls.

Eight lettermen from the 1931 squad are back in uniform this year and form a strong nucleus around which Coach Whitford can build his team. Fifteen games are on the schedule for the Panther nine, including two with the University of Minnesota, and one with the University of Iowa.

The loss of Wayne Heintz, Collins, captain of last year's team and a mainstay of the pitching staff, leaves a big hole to be filled before the first game. The first base job is another position that remains to be filled. Francis Schammel, Waterloo, who handled that post last year, is attending the University of Iowa this year.

Schrody Behind the Plate

Ray Schrody, Cedar Falls, regular catcher on the 1931 nine, is hard at work this spring and has shown his old time ability both in receiving and with the bat. Another catcher who saw much service last spring is Forrest Montgomery, Monroe, who is also back in uniform this spring. He is a good receiver, but is not as dependable at the plate as Schrody. Lee Coler, Ackley, also won a letter last year as a catcher and outfielder, but this year he has been working in the outfield most of the time.

Pitchers will be Coach Whitford's chief worry this year, as there are only two lettermen back, and they were more or less utility hurlers last spring. Dan Johns, Lime Springs, is a senior who has a good variety of "stuff" on the ball. The other experienced hurler is Charles Ward, Wall Lake. As a sophomore last year he developed a great deal, and thus far this spring he has continued his march of improvement.

Two members of last year's frosh squad will undoubtedly do a good share of the hurling for the varsity this season. They are George Gingles, Collins, and Elmer Carty, Earlville. Gingles has played a lot of summer baseball and is almost certain to have a place on the varsity nine, either on the mound or at third base.

While there is only one veteran infielder back from last year, there are a number of good reserves who, according to pre-season showing, should ably fill the vacancies at first, short stop, and second base. Paul Lambert, Buckingham, is the letterman returning who will cover for the third sack again.

Edgar Pohlman, Sheldon, is a numeral winner from two years ago who played some last spring but did not earn a letter. He is a short-stop or second baseman. Don Blanchard, Lone Rock, is a numeral winner from last year's freshman squad who looks good at second base and will probably see a lot of service this year.

Two "Vets" in Outfield

In the outfield, there are two lettermen back, James Paustian, Walcott, and Melvin Ingebritsen, Cedar Falls, who has won two varsity letters. Paustian is uncanny in his accuracy in judging long fly balls. Vergil Lekin, Parnell, and Don Cook, Corwith, are two reserves from the 1931 squad who are being counted on this season.

Other reserves who are expected to make strong bids for varsity jobs are Merle O'Brien, Newton; Millard Berry, Joice; Wendell Dunn, Kingsley, and Arthur Olsen, Cedar Falls.

There are four other numeral winners from the yearling team last year who will be available for the varsity this year. They are Edward McGreevey, Britt; Francis Talarico, Des Moines; Max Boller, Nevada, and Lloyd Chapman, Bennett.

1932 Baseball Schedule

April 22—University of Iowa at Cedar Falls.
April 29—Carleton at Northfield.
May 2—Luther at Decorah.
May 6—Carleton at Cedar Falls.
May 7—Western State Teachers of Kalamazoo, Michigan, at Cedar Falls.
May 10—University of Minnesota at Minneapolis.
May 14—Michigan State Normal at Cedar Falls.
May 17—Upper Iowa at Cedar Falls.
May 20—Michigan Normal at Ypsilanti.
May 21—Western State Teachers at Kalamazoo.
May 25—Upper Iowa at Fayette.
May 26—University of Minnesota at Cedar Falls.
May 28—Luther at Cedar Falls.
Varsity Basketball Squad of 1932

These fourteen members of the Teachers College basketball squad played through a difficult sixteen-game schedule this year, winning ten games against six losses.

Basketball Squad Wins Ten Games, Loses Six

The record of ten games won and six lost does not tell the real story of the valiant brand of basketball played by Coach Art Dickinson's cagers this year. Two of the defeats were handed the Panthers by the powerful Central college five, which established a record of seventy-two victories out of the last seventy-five games played. Luther college, which tied with Central for the Iowa conference title defeated the Teachers on two different occasions while the other two losses were at the hands of two Minnesota schools, Carleton and Hamline colleges of Northfield and St. Paul.

The State Teachers quintet opened the season on December 11 by defeating the highly-touted Oklahoma A. & M. team, 29 to 27, after an overtime period. One more game was played before Christmas vacation. The Coe college cagers came to Cedar Falls and were sent home with the small end of a 29 to 26 score.

Coach Dickinson called the squad back three days before school opened in preparation for the disastrous Minnesota trip on which Carleton took the measure of the Panthers on one night and Hamline on the next. The Teachers followed these two defeats with victories in the two opening Iowa conference games against Columbia college at Dubuque and Simpson at Indianola.

The Luther Norsemen came to Cedar Falls for the third home game of the season and took a 25 to 14 victory back to Decorah with them after a ragged game. On January 30 the Panthers met Central in the Drake field house in Des Moines and came out second best in a 32 to 19 game. Columbia came to Cedar Falls for a return game and was easily defeated a week before the second Luther game. In the Luther contest Coach Dickinson and his cagers lost a 34 to 21 decision for their fifth loss of the season.

Immediately after this defeat, the Panthers started on a five-game winning streak in which Penn and Parsons were defeated twice within ten days, and Simpson once in an overtime game at Cedar Falls which ended 36 to 34. The Central Flying Dutchmen visited Cedar Falls on March 1 for the last game of the season and returned to Pella with a hard-earned 43 to 37 win after one of the fastest games of the season.

Five men, Paul Lambert, Buckingham; Roger Willert, Reinbeck; Clarence Meewes, Reinbeck; Arthur Olsen, Cedar Falls, and Raymond Johannsen, La Porte City, were the regulars who started practically every game and finished most of them. All of these men have one or two years of competition left to them. Johannsen, who held down one guard post, has two years left and gives promise of developing into a real basketball star. The other four are all juniors.

Only two men from the entire squad of fourteen will graduate this year. They are Russell Hackler, Lincoln, Nebraska, and Floyd Harger, Grand River, who did quite a little playing this year to win his third varsity letter. Other men who saw service are Francis Brouwer, Ventura, Everett Sherman, Cedar Falls, Gale Fisher, Washington, and Clair Kraft, Oelwein.

First Year Girl is Champion

Mable Hall, Des Moines, freshman at the College, won the championship in the 100 yard crawl and second place in the 500 yard free style contest at the Midwest A. A. U. swimming meet in Omaha on February 20. The contest was held in the Nicholas Senn Hospital pool under the direction of G. P. Wendel.

Miss Dorothy Michel, instructor in Physical Education for Women at the College, coached Miss Hall for the two events in which she was entered.

This is not the first taste of victory with stiff competition that Miss Hall has experienced. She also holds the women's record in the outdoor 220 yard backstroke over the long course which she set last summer in the Midwest meet at Council Bluffs.

Although still in her freshman year, Miss Hall has been active in many extra-curricular activities. She is a member of the Physical Education Club and the Life Saving Corps.

Publicity work is also fascinating to Miss Hall. She has charge of publicity for the Young Women's Christian Association and the Women's Athletic Association.

Miss Hall's most recent activity is reporting work on the College Eye. She also conducts "The Line" for the student newspaper at the College.

TRACK SCHEDULE FOR 1932

Kansas Relays—April 23.
Drake Relays—April 30.
Dakota Relays—May 6-7.
Freshman-Varsity, May 7.
Coe, Cornell, Teachers—Mount Vernon, May 14.
Iowa Conference Meet—May 20-21—Cedar Falls.
State Meet or Collegiate Invitation meet at Cedar Falls—May 28.

Intramurals Create Interest

A new set of stringent intramural eligibility requirements this year did much to increase the general interest in intramural activities among the student body.

Under the direction of Coach Paul F. Bender, a study was made of rules governing intramural play in a number of colleges in the Middle-west and what were believed the best points in each system were incorporated into one set to govern activities at Teachers College.

The most drastic change in the rules eliminated all men who had won numerals in a sport or were members of a varsity or freshman team from competing in that sport. Here-to-fore, freshmen were eligible to compete in intramural sports even though they were members of a freshman squad, which merely meant that the fraternity or organization that had the best first-year men would win the intramurals.

In the published set of rules the purpose was set forth as being "to afford those students not competing on varsity and freshman squads the opportunity to engage in strenuous competitive games and also to participate in wholesome, active recreation."

Six events were scheduled for the winter intramural program. They were the game of 21, free throw contest, handball, wrestling, basketball and volleyball. In the spring, intramurals will be held in track, golf, tennis, and swimming.

In the track and field division a number of events have been cut out because they require special training and conditioning work. The 440 yard dash, pole vault, discus, javelin, mile, half mile, and mile relay have been eliminated altogether. The low hurdle race has been shortened to 120 yards and the high hurdle race to 75 yards.
Sixty Trackmen Drilling For Kansas Relays

The largest varsity track squad in the history of the school reported to Coach A. D. Dickinson on March 9 when he took over actual supervision of early season workouts. Approximately sixty men are working-out daily in preparation for the first meet of the season on April 23, when a small group of Panther trackmen will attend the Kansas Relays in Lawrence, Kansas.

Coach Dickinson is well supplied with experienced material this spring, with a state champion in the pole vault and a conference title holder in the broad jump as the leading members of the squad. Keith Stapley, Cedar Falls, won the Iowa conference title in the vault and in the state meet vaulted 12 feet 11½ inches to take first place and the right to compete in the National intercollegiate meet in Chicago. Stapley placed seventh in this affair with a mark of 12 feet 6 inches. He is also a high jumper who has come close to six feet on several occasions.

Paul Grier, Guernsey, not only won the Iowa conference meet in the broad jump last spring, but set a new loop record with his winning leap of 22 feet 6 inches. Grier is also a dashman of no mean repute. He is capable of doing the 100 yard dash in close to even time.

Other men who are looking good in the dashes are Willys Hulin, Gilman, a sophomore who has run the 100 in close to ten seconds; Clarence Bain, Washington, another new man on the Panther squad who should place high in sprint competition; Gale Anderson, Mason City, who is starting his third season as a State Teachers track man, and William Grimes, Shannon City, who looked good in fall track.

Sophomore Star in 880

The middle distance men will be led by Louis Lake, Cedar Falls, a sophomore who has run the half mile in two minutes. He is also capable of covering the 440 yard dash in less than 52 seconds. Other prominent candidates for the quarter and half mile are Burl Berry, Wellman, Phillip Sheffield, Story City, Merle Zepp, Hedrick, and Francis Flanagan, Marengo.

In the longer races, the mile and two mile, the Panthers should be fairly strong with James Dardis, Milford, and Delmar Risse, Grinnell, being the only letter men available. Dardis competes in the mile while Risse runs the two mile race. However, Francis Rummel and Frank Dutcher, Cedar Falls, did some fine running in cross-country last fall. Wayne Lawrence is another Cedar Falls boy who has possibilities of developing into a good distance man.

As usual, the Panthers will be strong in the field events. Besides Stapley in the vault, there is Harry Myers, Lewis, a sophomore, who came close to 12 feet last spring. Wendell Pierce, Cleghorn, Eckels Hutchison, Waterloo, and Ralph Turbett, Toledo, all won numerals two years ago and are making strong bids for varsity positions this year.

In the high jump Stapley is the only letter man, but Wilbert Brown, a sophomore, of Oelwein, has come close to six feet. Allen Shaw, Hedrick, is capable of doing 5 feet 9 inches consistently, as are Everett Sherman, Cedar Falls, and Richard Meech, Marshalltown.

Besides Grier in the broad jump, Coach Dickinson has Kenneth Spurling, Early, George Mohr, Estherville, and William Steinmetz, Sanborn. Mohr is a sophomore who has shown much promise in the event.

Willert Leads Weight Men

There are only three outstanding men in the weights this year. Roger Willert, Reinbeck, has a mark of 135 feet in the discus, and one of 42 feet in the shot put. Lloyd Moeller, Waterloo, is a sophomore candidate for the javelin, shot, and discus, who should develop into an outstanding weight man. Arthur Gerber, Kamrar, is a senior veteran who is capable of putting the shot well over forty feet.

The failure of J. B. Lake, Cedar Falls, to return to school this year has weakened the hurdle prospects materially, but Keith Kittrell, Waterloo, competing in his first year of varsity competition, has run the highs under 16 seconds. William Steinmetz is another man who is looking good in both the high and low hurdles. Other candidates for the hurdles are Herbert Jenkins, Waukon, Ralph Allen, Dumont, and Clarence Meewes, Reinbeck.
Prospects Bright For Coming Grid Season

WITH fourteen lettermen back, and a host of good reserves and sophomores to pick from, the prospects for a powerful football team at Cedar Falls are bright. Of the fourteen lettermen, eight are regulars from last fall.

The three men who will be graduated are Russell Hackler, veteran end for the last three years; Burl Berry, Wellman, winner of the Berg Trophy and three-year veteran at center, and Robert Burley, Harris, who also won his third letter as a blocking halfback.

The loss of these three men, especially Burley and his blocking, is going to be felt acutely, although there are good men coming up to fill their places. Martin Luther, Colfax, won a letter as a reserve end last fall and will be back for the 1932 season. The frosh squad last fall was abundantly supplied with good wing material. Most prominent among the ends are Marion Odekirk, Waterloo, and Lee Stribley, Correctionville. Dick Christiansen, Cedar Falls, is a reserve end who will return.

Tackles Strong

Three veterans will return to take care of the tackle berths. They are Clair Kraft, Oelwein; Merlin Westwick, Williams, and Alvin Stieger, Waverly. Joe Bognanno, Des Moines, was an outstanding tackle on the frosh team.

The fight for guard posts will be bitter next fall, since there are four lettermen and two good reserves back for these jobs. Don Cole, Ames, will begin his third year as a regular lineman, as will Donald Gooden, Bedford. The other two lettermen are Raburn Miller, Zearing, and Phillip Sheffield, Story City. Harlan Rigby, Mechanicsville, and Virgil Duea, Roland, are two reserves who should be heard from.

James O'Dea, Valley Junction, played a strong game at center for the yearlings last year and should make Frantz Rausenberger, Cedar Falls, reserve center, step to gain the regular berth.

The backfield should be one of the strongest in years, for there are five lettermen back as well as an unusually good crop of sophomore aspirants. Kenneth Kimberlin, Marshalltown; Max Boller, Nevada; Arthur Olsen, Cedar Falls; Gale Fisher, Washington, and Maynard Harmon, Sac City, are the letter-winners who will return. Olsen is a fullback who was converted from a quarterback after Al Miller, La Porte City, broke his leg early in the season last year. Kimberlin and Boller are two shifty ball carriers who also can kick and pass. They changed off at the left half post last fall but will be used together this year.

Fisher is being counted on strongly to fill Bob Burley's blocking half position. He is not as heavy as Burley, but is a rugged, aggressive type of blocker. Harmon has never been a regular back, but has played enough to earn a letter as a blocker.

Clarence Bain, Washington, who is a dashman on the track, will be eligible this year and will undoubtedly see a lot of action. Other reserve backs are Wilbur Wiegand, Spirit Lake, and Francis Flanagan, Marengo.

From the frosh squad come Walter Rivers, Riceville; Bill Kirscher, Valley Junction; George Mohr, Estherville, and Truman Manship, Le Grand.

Harman Is Olympic Prospect

Maynard Harmon, Sac City, has been the mainstay of the Panther mat team during the season just closed. Wrestling in the 145-pound division, he has participated in seven dual meets and won them all. Among his victims during the regular season were two of the highest rated welterweights in the Middle-west, Thomas, of Iowa State, and Dull, of Iowa. Following the schedule of dual meets, Harmon laid off competition for two weeks. He did not defend his Midwest A. A. U. title in the tournament sponsored by that association at Fort Dodge March 11 and 12, but came back strong after his rest in the quadrangular meet between Cornell, Iowa, Iowa State, and Teachers, at Ames, a week later to win the state 145-pound crown. As the Alumnus went to press Harmon was at Bloomington, Indiana, where he was competing in the National Intercollegiate Meet against the cream of the nation's college wrestlers.

Purple Matmen Down Four Big Ten Teams

LED by Maynard Harman, Sac City, in the 145 pound class, the Iowa Teachers mat men battled through a difficult season to take five victories out of seven matches. The wrestlers defeated four Big Ten teams, downed Cornell College, and won two Midwest A. A. U. titles.

James Luker, Cedar Falls, and Arthur Gerber, Kamrar, won the two Midwest titles for the Teachers in the 175 and heavyweight divisions. This is the second consecutive year for Luker to win a title, only last year it was in the 165 pound weight. John Brindley, Cedar Falls, is another member of the team who did some outstanding work this year. He went through the whole season until the last match without a defeat. However, Moffit, of Cornell, turned the trick.

Coach Dave McCuskey sent his men against Iowa State in the first meet of the season and lost the decision. After this match he took his team into Illinois to win matches from Northwestern University, 21-11, and Chicago University, 29-3, on successive nights. For three weeks the Panthers had no competition until the return bout with Ames. This time the Teachers battled the State College men until the last match, when Gerber lost a decision when a fall for State Teachers would have meant victory in the meet. A week later the University of Wisconsin octet came to Cedar Falls and was defeated in a 34 to 0 rout.

The University of Iowa followed them and won one decision and a tie for their only scores. The season closed with the Cornell match, which the Panthers won, 20-16, in a hard-fought contest.

A number of the men competed in the State meet at Ames late in March, and Maynard Harmon won the title in the 145 pound division, and Arthur Gerber won first in the heavyweight class.
CIRCLE LETTERS

Here is a suggestion for the various circle letter groups which are at present vying with each other for long-time and long-distance records. Why not make it a policy to send the editor copies of these letters when they have finally made the rounds? In perusing the letters telling of the various records established, the editor has felt that much very interesting and worth-while news of alumni could be gleaned from these circle letters. If such a plan would not be possible, members of the clubs could perhaps pass on information to the editor from time to time as the letters are going the rounds. Certainly there must be many alumni who would be interested to know of the lives and welfare of the various members of these groups.

Mrs. L. V. Cranston (Esther Ridley), B.Di. '04, of Lindsay, California, tells of a very interesting practice of sending packets of snapshots along with the Round Robin letters. This must be a very fascinating item for the various contributors to the circle letters. Here again, why not send the editor such of these snapshots as might be of interest to alumni generally?

Pictures of alumni who have achieved distinction in one field or another, or pictures of their children who have attained high honors or distinction, would be greatly appreciated. Especially would the editor like to secure photographs showing new and constructive projects of one sort or another being developed or carried on by graduates.

NEWS IS NEW-S

The editor of the Alumnus is always very happy to receive newsy items from graduates of the College, but when in the year of our Lord, 1932, he receives an item which reads, "Mr. So and So" did "such and such" on December 19, 1929, he feels just a bit perturbed. We are taking this opportunity, therefore, to deliver a little lecture upon the nature of news.

News is timely, interesting, and more or less significant information concerning the lives and welfare of human beings. We wish that alumni would pay special attention to the item of timeliness, since it is downright embarrassing to the editor to print items which are three years old.

Proof of the fact that bad news travels swiftly, whereas good news frequently travels slowly, is shown by the fact that notices of deaths come in with great promptness, whereas items concerning marriages come in with surprising slowness. The editor is sometimes tempted to believe that graduates are determined to prove the venture a success before announcing it to their classmates.

All attempted humor to the contrary notwithstanding, the editor is seriously anxious to have items come in as soon as the events take place, whether it be a promotion, an honor, award, or any other item of news interest.

SUGAR SNOWS

Slight traces of March "sugar snows" can be seen in the foreground of the cover picture of this issue. Alumni will remember how the furtive March snows melted away each spring to leave the Campus barren and just a bit bleak, as it appears in the picture mentioned above. The scene is one in front of the Administration Building erected in 1906 at a cost of $35,000.

At the present time, on the ground floor of this building are located the campus storerooms, while on the first floor are the offices of the President, and a new room for department and board meetings. The College Office and the Office of the Registrar are also located on this floor.

On the second floor are the enlarged offices of the Placement Bureau and classrooms and offices of the Department of Mathematics and Commercial Education. The third floor contains the typing room, which is undoubtedly without equal in the state, and the machine room and classrooms of the Commercial Education Department.
Alumni News

David W. Knepper, B.A. '23, Iowa State Teachers College, A.M., Ph.D. '27, University of Iowa, professor of political science at the Mississippi State College for Women, Columbus, Mississippi, has been appointed to the summer quarter faculty of the George Peabody College for Teachers at Nashville, Tennessee.

Mr. Knepper has been connected with the Mississippi institution for the past five years and has served as secretary of the Mississippi State Conference of Social Welfare, treasurer of the Southern Political Science Association, and provincial governor for Pi Gamma Mu, national social science honorary fraternity.

Reverend Don M. Gury, B.A. '29, Iowa State Teachers College; Nashotah Theological Seminary, '29, has been honored with the commission as spring semester guest lecturer at his theological alma mater, Nashotah House, Nashotah, Wisconsin. He will have as his subject for his series of twelve lectures, "The Technique of Teaching Religion."

Mr. Gury holds the position of rector of St. Paul's Episcopal Church at Watertown, Wisconsin, and his choice as guest lecturer was based on his Teachers College training, and unusual success of his church work with children.

Dorothy Schmidt, Pri. '28, of Battle Creek, Iowa, has been teaching first grade in Idaho Falls, Idaho, for the past two years.

George H. McManus, B.Di. '87, Iowa State Teachers College; Graduate U. S. Military Academy, '93, of the coast artillery corps, with headquarters at the army base, who was executive and troop movement officer during the World War at the port of embarkation, Hoboken, New Jersey, retired recently after 42 years of service, with the rank of brigadier-general.

Mr. McManus was assigned to the coast artillery corps after receiving his commission and served at Pensacola, Fort Monroe, Virginia, California, Alaska, the Philippines, and China. He was commanding officer of the army base at Norfolk when assigned to handle the movement of the troops to France.

Since the war he served in the Philippines on the general staff, also in the 4th corps area at Atlanta and in Panama as chief of staff.

During the war he was made brigadier-general. In recent years he has been attached to the 1st corps area as executive officer of organized reserves.

Lois Moritz, B.A. '30, has been taking graduate work at Northwestern University in the Department of Sociology since September, 1931. Until Christmas she lived in Hull House, Chicago, where she had been doing part of her field work. She had organized a girls' club there and a Play Group in another Settlement House.

Miss Moritz now lives at 1822 Sheridan Road, Evanston, Illinois.

Ira L. Craig, M.Di. '05, Iowa State Teachers College; M.D. '08, Cornell University, outlined the close relation between electric rates and the cost of supplying electric service in an address January 15, 1932, before the evening accounts and finance classes of the Wharton School of Commerce and Finance at Philadelphia, Pennsylvania.

Mr. Craig illustrated the economic factors which automatically enforce low electric rates.

Mr. Craig is head of the Rate and Standard Practice Department of the Philadelphia Electric Company.

Allen W. Read, B.A. '25, now instructor in English at the University of Missouri, Columbia, Missouri, is the subject of a feature article in the Columbia Missourian, daily newspaper at Columbia.

The article discusses the sketch "Rhodes Scholar" written by Mr. Read and published in the American Oxonian. This article also appeared recently in Edward J. O'Brien's Best Stores of 1931.

The feature article tells of Mr. Read's studies at Oxford and of his researches in literary history in England. It also tells of his trip through England by bicycle and through Germany by motorcycle.

Mr. Read has carried on research work in the United States as well as abroad and has made special study of Americanisms. His article on "The Word Blizzard" published in 1928 in the magazine American Speech traced the history of one of the most fascinating additions to the American vocabulary. He discovered that the word blizzard in its present day meaning goes back to 1870 when it was used in the frontier newspaper, "Northern Vindicator," at Estherville, Iowa. Mr. Head has also published an article "Observations on Iowa Place-names," and "Literary Place-names of Iowa." He is also the author of an article, "Liberty in Iowa," published in the American Speech magazine last June.

Clarence Paulson, B.S. '31, athletic coach at Bagley, Iowa, has established an unusual record during his first year as a high school athletic coach. His basketball team lost only two games last season, and won the Guthrie County tournament.

Mr. Paulson's proteges have not only been outstanding in basketball, but they have also displayed marked superiority on the gridiron last fall, when they lost only one game out of eight.

Mrs. L. A. Dunham (Ethel Morgan), B.A. '18, in a letter from Alabama dated January 30, tells of blooming hyacinths and Easter lilies poking up out of the ground. Iowans who are congratulating themselves upon the mild winter should be interested to read her statement that "a strong wind is blowing in from the Gulf tonight, but there is no need of a fire in the house."

Mrs. Dunham states "that the Gulf breezes make the summer cooler than in Iowa, but not so dry as California."

Cap E. Miller, M.D. '01, B.A. '13, Iowa State Teachers College; M.S. '17, Iowa State College, president of the Cosmopolitan Club of Fargo, North Dakota, was elected district head of the Federated Cosmopolitan Clubs of North Dakota at the first annual convention of the clubs on Monday, November 30, 1931.

Grace Sheehan, J.C. '25, is this year a member of the Faculty at Mount Saint Mary's school at Cherokee, Iowa.

C. J. Dwight Williams, B.A. '30, of Delta, Iowa, is employed as branch manager of the Real Silk Hosiery Company at Duluth, Minnesota.

Ruby W. Gillespie, J.C. '17, of 810 East Fourth Street, Vinton, Iowa, is teaching intermediate grades at Iowa City, Iowa.

Miss Gillespie received the B.A. Degree in 1931 from the University of Iowa.

Kathleen R. Lichty, H.E. '28, of 3908 Orleans Avenue, Sioux City, Iowa, is teaching home economics and English at Kinross, Iowa.

Miss Lichty received the B.A. Degree in 1931 from the University of Iowa.

Francis G. Miller, B.Di. '92, M.Di. '93, Iowa State Teachers College; Ph.B. '00, University of Iowa; B.S.A. '01, Iowa State College; M.F. '03, Yale University, dean of School of Forestry at the University of Idaho, Moscow, Idaho, is now acting president of that University during the absence of the president.

Mr. Miller's wife, (Evelyn Miller), M.Di. '98, Iowa State Teachers College; A.B. '08, University of Washington, is also connected with the University.

Margaret de Booy, H.E. '19, of Orange City, Iowa, now lives at 1230 Amsterdam Avenue, New York City. She expects to receive the M.A. Degree in the teaching of Mathematics from Columbia in June 1932.

Bess E. Horne, J.C. '22, B.A. '26, is this year teaching English at Des Moines, Iowa.

Miss Horne lives at Tusant Apartments, 672 19th Street, Des Moines.

Bertha Dahl, J.C. '22, of Rock Valley, Iowa, is teaching fourth grade at Seattle, Washington. She resides at 215 13th Avenue, North, Seattle.

Elma Lighter, B.A. '29, writes that she is now doing graduate work at Columbia University at New York City. She would like the Alumnus sent to 1230 Amsterdam Avenue, New York City.

Minnie M. Duffield, Pri. '24, B.A. '29, of 1149 Douglas Street, Salt Lake City, Utah, is teaching first and second grades at Ely, Nevada.

Mable M. Hartz, A. '19, of Durant, Iowa, is textile designer for dress silks at New York City. She attended Pratt Institute in Brooklyn in 1926.

Hilda E. Miller, El. '30, of Rock Valley, Iowa, is teaching fourth grade at Mitchell, South Dakota. She lives at 323 North Duff Street, Mitchell.

Wyntrice Earwood, B.A. '30, of Lohrville, Iowa, was visiting in the fall at Anaheim, California.

Miss Earwood received the M.A. Degree from the University of Iowa in 1931.

Kathryn Larrison, B.A. '30, of Killduff, Iowa, is teaching fifth grade at Newton, Iowa. Her address is Box 505, Newton.

Gladys E. Wissler, C. '30, is secretary to a minister in Sioux City, Iowa. Her address is 106 Swanson Apartments, Sioux City.

Mrs. E. W. Magee (Mary A. Boyle), B.Di. '97, of Dunkerton, Iowa, returned last fall from a motor trip to Atlanta, Georgia, where she attended the Ecumenical Conference of the Methodist Churches of the world.

While in Atlanta, Mrs. Magee visited her brother, John W. Boyle, B.Di. '94, M.Di. '85, who is engaged in governmental work at that place.

Mrs. Magee has resided at Dunkerton since her marriage, which came at the close of two years' teaching. During this time she has been actively engaged in P.T.A. and religious work.

James A. Boyle, B.Di. '99, M.Di. '00, of Seattle, Washington, was called to Dunkerton, Iowa, on account of the death of his father, J. W. Boyle, and while there, made a trip to the Teachers College and called on President-Emeritus Homer H. Scearley, and a number of his classmates, who are now on the College Faculty.
Mr. Boyle has been in the West for thirty-one years. For a number of years he was engaged in government weather bureau work, and later taught in the Washington schools for many years, but is at present interested in newspaper work.

Mr. Boyle has four children, two boys, and two girls, all of whom are attending the Washington State University this year. His oldest son, who is part time instructor in the University, accompanied his father on the auto trip to Iowa.

Mrs. Boyle will be remembered as Mae I. Watson, also a student of the Teachers College.

Mrs. Clyde L. Schwyhart (Beulah Taylor), Pri. '25, of Peoria, Illinois, is now living at 232 Avalon Place, Peoria.

Mrs. Claude F. Cox (Beatrice Shearer), Pri. '12, writes that she now lives at Fort Douglas, Utah. She formerly resided at Fort Hoyle, Maryland.
