ABOUT THE UNI ARTISTS

Sean Botkin, top prize winner in eight international piano competitions, including Busoni, Cleveland, and Gina Bachauer, has performed extensively throughout Europe, Russia, Korea, Japan, South America, and the United States. As a member of the prestigious Alexander Toradze Piano Studio, he was reviewed in The New York Times for his “vibrant...gripping, boldly expressive” solo playing with “beautiful effects of light on waves.” He has participated in Festivals including Ruhr Klavier (Germany), Ravenna (Italy), Stresa (Italy), and Gilmore (Michigan). Botkin has performed concerti with the Symphony Orchestras of the Juilliard School, Seattle, Spokane, Waterloo/Cedar Falls, Chicago Symphony, Santa Cecilia Orchestra, Klassika Symphony of St. Petersburg, Russia, and Tatarstan National Symphony Orchestra in Kazan. Upcoming performances include a solo recital at Weill Recital Hall at Carnegie Hall on March 8.

A graduate from Indiana University at South Bend, The Juilliard School, and Stanford University, Mr. Botkin is currently Associate Professor of Piano at the University of Northern Iowa.

Andrew Adamec is a sophomore at the University of Northern Iowa majoring in Biochemistry and Piano as a student of Professor Sean Botkin. He also studies viola with Dr. Julia Bullard and a member of the Northern Iowa Symphony Orchestra. Andrew hopes to pursue studies in Pharmacy after he graduates.

James Mick is a first year Graduate Assistant seeking a Master's in Piano Performance at the University of Northern Iowa, where he received his BA in Music in the fall of 2016. During his undergraduate studies, he placed third at UNI's Concerto Competition in 2014, played harpsichord for UNI's Cantorei for three semesters, and also piano for Wind Symphony. Now, he accompanies Concert Chorale under the direction of Dr. John Wiles, and is continuing his piano studies with Professor Sean Botkin.

Melody Kosobucki is active as a performer and instructor of piano. She received her Master's degree in Piano Performance and Pedagogy in 2016 and studied with Professor Sean Botkin. She frequently appears on stage as both a solo and collaborative performer and maintains a large studio of private students. Melody also recently spent time teaching in Cajamarca and Polloc, Peru. She is planning to continue her doctoral studies in the fall.
