Time Frame (Req.): 4 days	Goal (Req.): The goal of this lesson is to have the students create a postcard as if they were visiting the ancient civilization of Mesopotamia. They will describe the geography and it's importance to everyday life in Mesopotamia.
	Objective (Req.): Students will design a postcard using primary knowledge of previous classroom discussions of the geographical importance of Mesopotamia.
Materials Needed (Req.): <ul style="list-style-type: none"> ● Notes about geographical factors discussed in Mesopotamia chapter ● Ipads/technology ● 5x7 notecards ● Colored pencils ● ● ● 		New Vocabulary (Opt.): <ul style="list-style-type: none"> ● floodplain ● silt ● semiarid ● surplus ● irrigation
Anticipatory Set/Introduction [Inquiry Question is required] (Req.): How can you describe to a friend the geographical importance of Mesopotamia on a postcard. As an introduction we will discuss the major rivers in Iowa and their importance to our geography and the influence on our state in the past, present and future.
Instructional Sequence/Procedure (Req.): <ol style="list-style-type: none"> 1. Begin by discussing what the Mississippi river does for us in the past, present and future. Give students a few minutes to use google Earth to look up what the geography around the Mississippi actually looks like. Discuss aloud their thoughts. 2. Discuss the location of Mesopotamia using the maps located in our Social studies curriculum books. (Can use online resources here as well) Talk about what they see and make some inferences on what does it all mean. 3. Discuss and lecture about the land, climate, water sources and their vocabulary. 4. Have students analyze how people would have used these geographical features to improve their environment and create a civilization. 5. Discuss pros and cons of moving on or staying in Mesopotamia.

6. Have students create a postcard as if they were visiting Ancient Mesopotamia. Include what they “see” and how they live. Include a picture of Mesopotamia.
