Eclipses
intellectual skills that are basic to critical thinking, problem-solving, and decision-making.

Education is responsible for increasing student awareness, and comprehension of his/her environment. As that environment becomes more scientific and technological, education must develop methods for increasing cognizance of science and technology. (10) Science instruction must become so personally applicable to students, as members of a technological society, that they should demand more.

Citations

***

Iowa Springs

Largest Hailstone: Dubuque — June 16, 1882 — 17’’ circumference; weight 1.75 lb.

Barometric Pressure: Lowest: 28.66’’ — Sioux City — March 26, 1950

From Iowa's Weather by Paul Waite.

Eclipses

Eclipses, the latest publication in a series of observe manuals, is now in preparation by the Astronomical League and will be available at $2.00 per copy from the Astronomical League Book Service % Mrs. Sheran Brettman, 13 Meadowlark, Carpentersville, Illinois 60610.