The following eight objectives indicate the scope and direction of the convention:

1. To describe the nature of the data available in state data banks on science teachers employed in the state.
2. To describe the information available concerning the parameters of science teacher supply in the states.
3. To describe ways of using data in improving science education in the states.
4. To describe the elements needed for the creation of a data-collecting and sharing network embracing all states.
5. To describe the elements currently available for constructing a comprehensive supply and demand picture of the current science teacher market.
6. To provide a learning experience for participants in data based policy formulation.
7. To familiarize state science supervisors with new directions for educational programs of the National Science Foundation.
8. To provide opportunities for state science supervisors to react/respond to NSF educational program changes.

HAPPENING THIS SUMMER

The Interdisciplinary Approaches to Chemistry (IAC) Summer Happening is scheduled to begin again June 25th. The National Science Foundation has announced the funding of a Summer Institute at the University of Maryland's Chemistry Department. The six-week program based on the new IAC Modules will feature a variety of lecture, laboratory, and discussion opportunities and will be open to chemistry teachers and supervisors from all areas of the country. A tuition-based section of the IAC Summer Course will also be available for interested persons who cannot be accommodated in the Institute.

SET EASTERN IOWA SCIENCE FAIR

Robert Ernst, member of the Kirkwood Community College science faculty and chairman of the project, has announced the 1973 Eastern Iowa Science Fair will be held March 31 and April 1 in Washington High School in Cedar Rapids. The 13 previous fairs were held at Coe College.

The fair previously included 13 counties but Ernst said that eight other counties have been added to the Eastern Iowa Science Fair area by the International Science and Engineering Fair. The added counties are Grundy, Marshall, Jasper, Marion, Monroe, Wapello, Jefferson and Henry.
