A PRELIMINARY REPORT ON AN ATTEMPT TO OB-TAIN OBJECTIVE EVIDENCE OF THE TYPE OF THOUGHT EMPLOYED IN PROBLEM SOLVING

M. R. JONES

Part I. The relation of problem-solving thought to other types of thinking.

Part II. Statement and explanation of the problem of securing objective evidence that would indicate the type of thought employed by the individual.

Part III. Description and illustration of the material for, and method of securing data.

Part IV. Indications of the degree of success of the attempt, as shown by a preliminary survey of the first data taken.

Part V. A review of the various applications that may be made of the data thus taken.
