* - Missouri Valley Conference Game
- Game broadcast by KCFI Radio

Home games are in the UNI-Dome unless otherwise indicated; all times are Central and subject to change.
The upcoming season for Northern Iowa women's basketball has the potential to be one of the most exciting in years for the Panthers. Head coach Terri Lasswell returns four starters from last year's 10-17 team which made its first trip to the Missouri Valley Conference Tournament and recorded UNI's best record in a decade.

Entering her fifth year as head coach, Lasswell's four seniors are the combination of her first two recruiting classes at UNI after she was hired in April of 1989. Losing only one starter to graduation, the Panthers are looking to make even bigger strides up the MVC ladder.

The one starter graduating, however, was Ann Miller, the Panthers' leader in nearly every offensive category, including scoring. Lasswell believes the Panthers can replace Miller, not with one individual, but with teamwork and the confidence Miller left behind.

"To focus on replacing her would be wrong. I think what we do is appreciate the fact she was here, and we look at the things that she left behind...I don't think it's going to be a single person...The four seniors we have coming in are going to make up statistically what Ann did," Lasswell said.

Seniors Julie Street, Katie McFadden, Chris Robbins and Traci Amos have plenty of playing experience which, along with added depth on the bench, will be a key to the Panthers' success next season.

"Last year was a turning point for us...", Lasswell said. "We will take the floor with more confidence...I think people are starting to recognize that we are very competitive...and we are there to play." For the Panthers to improve on last year's record, they will also have to win the close games in the end. UNI lost seven games by an average of six points.

Returning Starters
Amos started 22 of 27 games last season at the guard position where she was a constant threat to opponents from the outside, knocking down 28 three-pointers. "She's a shooter, but she didn't come to us as a shooter. She came to us as kind of a defensive specialist -- somebody who's going to just dog the ball handler all the time," Lasswell said. Amos will also be the likely team-leader on the floor. "She does a good job in terms of a liaison between me and the people on the floor," Lasswell said.

Street is UNI's two-year starter at forward. Last season she started 24 games, shot .426 from the field, led the team in rebounds and ranked second in scoring. "She's a gutsy player," Lasswell said. "She likes to get in there and mix it up. She's the person a lot of people don't like, and she likes that."

Street's versatility is vital to the Panthers' offense, with her ability to shoot outside, as well as post up, although Lasswell noted that both Street and Robbins need to cut down on turnovers this year. Robbins and McFadden shared time at the post position, where both elevated their game throughout the season. McFadden had a team-leading 20 blocked shots last year, while Robbins was fourth on the team in rebounding. Lasswell said Robbins' percentage shooting (.529) ranked as one of the better in the Valley, but added that the senior will have to take more shots. McFadden increased her range and can shoot with either hand, but needs to run the floor better in transition.

Other Letterwinners
Juniors Nikki Dillard and Wendy McCoy will likely be fighting for a starting position at guard. Both saw some action as starters last year and will need to step in place of Miller. Dillard's quickness has been her greatest asset as a defensive specialist. Her athleticism also pays off for the Panther track team as a member of several winning relay teams last year.

Laura Volbrecht, another junior, gives the Panthers added depth at the post position after playing sparingly the last two years. Also able to shoot from the outside, Lasswell said that if she stays healthy, Volbrecht will be one to take some of the pressure off Street.

"Those three kids right there -- Dillard, McCoy and Volbrecht -- that's a pretty solid group. They give us the depth we need to have, and we can go on with all three of those kids at the same time, and I'm still really confident," Lasswell said.

Sophomores Carrie Jaspers, Melanie Willadsen and Becky Simmons also have a year's experience to build on and will most certainly see more action in the coming season.

Recruits
Lasswell signed Karen Fenske of Ellisworth, Wis., and Kelley Westhoff of Dubuque, Iowa, last fall. During the spring signing period, she added Katie Dillard of Rochester, Minn., and Briettney Davis of Spokane, Wash. Davis and Fenske both broke their high school scoring records, giving the Panthers new scoring threats after the loss of Miller. Lawler, whose sister now plays basketball for the University of Minnesota, led her team in scoring while guiding them to the Minnesota Class A state championship last season.

Schedule
UNI's schedule is a little easier this year, with four of its first eight games played at home before the start of the New Year. The Panthers will face new opponents this year in their first appearance at the Indiana University Tournament in early December and when they face Arizona State and Northern Arizona State on a semester-break trip to the Southwest.
"We want to play and we want to win. The first step of that is that we had to realize that, and I think we have. The second step is that the competitors are realizing that. The third part of that is that it's paying off in the win-loss column."

~Terri Lasswell

Terri Laswell is entering her fifth year at the helm of the Panther program with high hopes and a team that has the potential to open some eyes around the Missouri Valley Conference.

With her first two recruiting classes leading the way, the Panthers have the experience and new-found confidence necessary to improve.

Lasswell took over the reins of women's basketball at UNI on April 6, 1989, and faces the coming year with the combination of her first two recruiting classes leading the team.

A native of Emmett, Kan., Lasswell served three seasons as an assistant at Kansas State prior to taking her place at Northern Iowa.

During her stay at KSU, she was responsible for nationwide recruiting, daily practice sessions, scheduling, travel arrangements and academic counseling.

A recognized speaker on coaching and physical education, she earned a bachelor's degree in physical education at Washburn University in 1978 and a master's degree in administration and kinesiology at Kansas University in 1983.

The multi-sport athlete lettered two seasons in basketball and one season in volleyball at Washburn upon transferring from KSU, where she played one season.

While at WU, she earned all-conference honors in both basketball and volleyball and was selected basketball team captain her senior year.

In two seasons at WU, she averaged 12.2 points and 9.5 rebounds. Upon graduation, she was the school's eighth all-time leading rebouder.

Lasswell served at Washburn as assistant women's basketball coach, assistant women's volleyball coach and sports facilities coordinator.

Her coaching career began at Washburn Rural High School in Topeka, Kan., at the helm of the girls' basketball and volleyball teams.

In five seasons, she turned a 3-18 basketball team into a 23-2 state tournament contender. She compiled a 661-48 ledger in five seasons, gaining four straight state tournament berths. Her volleyball squads made three state tourney appearances.

Following the 1984 season at Washburn, Lasswell was named Centennial League Coach of the Year, Kansas Basketball Coaches Association Coach of the Year and coached in the Kansas All-Star Game. She was twice honored as a coach by the Topeka Capital Journal.

As an administrator, she has extensive tournament management experience, coordinating volleyball and basketball tourneys on the state level.

On a national level, she co-chairs the National Basketball Academy for the Affiliated National Coaches Counsel, serves on the National Committee of Coaches Advisory Round Table and was a featured speaker on strength and conditioning for the National Coaches Institute for NAGWS in San Francisco in 1988.

She was named Outstanding Young Woman in America (1986) and was initiated in Phi Kappa Alpha as a student at KU.

Lasswell holds memberships in the National Association of Girls' and Women's Sports; Women's Basketball Coaching Association; National Strength and Conditioning Association; Kansas Alliance of Health, Physical Education, Recreation and Dance; and the Zonta International Women's Service Organization.

A graduate of St. Mary's (Kan.) High School, she was born Dec. 17, 1955.

Assistant Coaches

Mark Ackerman

Mark Ackerman begins his third season as the top assistant coach. The women's basketball program is not his first experience with Northern Iowa athletics. During the UNI men's basketball 1989-90 "dream" season, Ackerman served as a graduate assistant under Coach Eldon Miller.

His athletic administration career began as an assistant basketball coach at Gonzaga Preparatory High School. He graduated from Gonzaga University in Spokane, Wash., in 1986 with a bachelor's degree in biology.

Prior to joining the UNI women's basketball staff, he was an assistant coach at the University of Colorado at Colorado Springs, a Division II school.

He has also served as an instructor with Philadelphia Textile, Denver Technical College in Colorado Springs and Pikes Peak Community College in Colorado Springs.

For the Panthers, he coordinates recruiting, scouting and conditioning, as well as coaching the post players and serving as the director of the summer women's basketball camps.

He has a wife, Laura, a daughter, Claire, and son, Brian.

Colleen Heimstead

Former Southern Illinois player Colleen Heimstead was promoted to full assistant last summer after serving one year as a graduate assistant for the Panthers. Heimstead was a four-year letterwinner and a two-year team captain for the Salukis, starting 81 of 124 games and averaging 3.3 points and 2.1 rebounds as a senior.

She also dished out 309 assists, the fourth-best total in SIU history.

While attending SIU, she served on several athletic and academic advisory committees, including the Intercollegiate Athletic Advisory Committee and the Sex Equity Committee. She was an honor student and was named to the Gateway Conference All-Academic Team.

Her job at Northern Iowa is her first coaching position, although from 1988 to 1991 she worked as a counselor at the Wisconsin Coaches Scouting Service Basketball Camps. Her primary duties at Northern Iowa include academics, team travel, assisting with facilities coordination, film exchange, scouting and coaching perimeter positions.

She earned a Bachelor of Arts degree in Biological Sciences from SIU in May 1992, finishing with a 3.6 GPA, and is working toward a Masters degree in Science Education at UNI.

She is a native of Elk Mound, Wis.

UNI Facilities: No Place Like Dome

The UNI-Dome, a unique, multi-purpose athletic facility built in 1976, has gained a reputation as one of the finest collegiate facilities in America. The Dome combines the features of a fieldhouse, football stadium and large auditorium. It contains accommodations for a variety of events such as concerts, exhibitions, trade shows and convocations, in addition to football, basketball, softball, wrestling and track events. It has been host to the NCAA football playoffs, gymnastics and wrestling championships, high school football and basketball, the Iowa high school football playoffs and many other non-athletic events.

The Dome’s versatility allows for football and basketball games or track meets to be held the same day. Underneath the artificial football turf, on a synthetic floor area, are basketball and tennis courts, and an eight-lane, 220-yard oval running track.

The turf was replaced last year with a new AstroTurf manufactured by the Balsam Corporation, the same material that lasted 16 years prior to the installation of the new. It’s a premier surface utilized by every Dome facility in North America with the exception of one and offers the best durability and playability of any material on the market.

Approximately 16,400 spectators can be seated for football games and track meets and, although normal capacity is 10,000 for basketball, seating can be expanded to over 20,000. For stage productions such as concerts, total capacity can reach 25,000.

Great Teaching Makes the Difference

For 115 years, the University of Northern Iowa has emphasized outstanding undergraduate education, with complementary graduate programs at the master’s, specialist’s and doctoral levels. Building on its historic strength in teacher education, the university has developed a number of outstanding programs in business, natural sciences, humanities and fine arts, and social and behavioral sciences. Enrollment stands at over 13,000 students from every county in Iowa, 36 states and 44 countries.

Considered a longtime leader in the field of teacher education, UNI has implemented several programs that continue this tradition of excellence. UNI’s Regents Center for Early Development Education is a leading setting for research and training in the education of young children. The center is the only educational resource of its kind in Iowa. The university’s mathematics and science education programs have been recognized among the best in the country.

The College of Business Administration has become the largest undergraduate business school in Iowa. The College’s department of accounting is ranked among the 10 best in the country by educators and accounting professionals. In a national survey of 400 accounting faculty, UNI ranked as one of their top programs. UNI’s accounting graduates continue the tradition of scoring well on the CPA exam. UNI has an average pass rate of 65 percent, compared to the national pass rate of 20 percent. All seven of Iowa’s national accountancy award winners in 1990 were graduates of UNI.

UNI was ranked seventh among the top 15 colleges and universities in the Midwest in U.S. News and World Report’s 1991 American’s Best Colleges Book. U.S. News also ranked UNI second among “Best Buys.”

Realizing the value of a liberal arts education, Northern Iowa has implemented a rigorous general education curriculum that equips students with a broad understanding and knowledge of how to apply and acquire new information throughout life.

Northern Iowa is a university that values teaching. That means faculty members, rather than teaching assistants, teach in the classroom. It also means the opportunity to work with faculty members in classes enables the university to foster one-to-one working relationships between faculty and students. Nearly 90 percent of UNI’s classes have 50 or fewer students.

Northern Iowa’s heritage and philosophy place great value on providing a student-centered educational experience. The university nurtures a premiere learning environment — it is small enough to offer its students individualized attention, yet large enough to provide a variety of resources and opportunities, as well as a distinguished faculty.

UNI is located in Cedar Falls, a pleasant and historic community of about 35,000 people. Together with the adjacent city of Waterloo, the metropolitan area has a culturally diverse population of 115,000, combining big city opportunities with small town friendliness. Cedar Falls/Waterloo is a center for industry, finance, commerce, recreation and cultural activities for northeast Iowa.

Northern Iowa was founded in 1876 and is one of three state-assisted universities administered by the Iowa State Board of Regents. Additional private support is provided by the UNI Foundation and Northern Iowa Alumni Association, representing more than 60,000 alumni in the United States and other countries.
In July, 1984, Student Support Services was established at UNI to provide academic supportive services for students who have a demonstrated academic need. Since its inception, SSS has evolved into a multi-faceted support program that provides quality learning assistance. The staff of SSS is devoted to helping students achieve their academic potential.

Student Support Services is responsible for providing a variety of continuous services which support the retention of program participants through graduation. Specifically, the following services are offered through SSS: academic advising and counseling, personal and career counseling, supplemental instruction, assistance with course selection and registration, monitoring of academic progress, educational long-range planning, minority student services, cultural and enrichment activities and student development.

What brings people to Northern Iowa?

"The friendly atmosphere and good education tradition is what brought me here."
~Julie Street,
Senior,
Physical Education major,
Norwalk, Iowa

"I liked the fact that it was far enough away from home that I could get away but close enough that I could stay in contact with home. And the education is good."
~Nikki Dillard,
Junior, Psychology major,
Fort Dodge, Iowa

"It's the perfect size. It's small enough to make a lot of good friends but big enough to have a lot of variety."
~Melanie Willadsen,
Sophomore,
Elementary Education major,
Bettendorf, Iowa

"I came from a really small school, so I like the size. I like my teachers because they help you to understand how to use (your education) in the real world, not just in class."
~Brittney Davis,
Freshman,
Science major,
Spokane, Washington
"I don't think it's going to be a single-person effort that's going to come in and make up for Ann Miller. I think it's going to be a cooperative effort between all our players."

The Northern Iowa women’s basketball team continued its trek to improve in the Missouri Valley Conference standings last season, finishing the year with its best record in a decade and its first trip to the MVC postseason tournament.

While a record of 10-17 (4-12 in the Valley) may not seem spectacular, it is the Panthers’ best record since the 1982-83 team recorded a 17-11 season. Crucial wins in the conference schedule secured last year’s team a tie for seventh place and a trip to the MVC tournament.

Even though the Panthers returned all five starters last year, they dropped their first three games of the season to Missouri-Kansas City, Kansas State and Wyoming. Against Wyoming, their first home game, they shot just .261 from the field and were outrebounded by more than 20. A three-game road trip lay ahead for Northern Iowa, but perhaps the loss to the Cowgirls was just what was needed to put the spark back into the Panther lineup.

UNI outlasted Western Illinois in a 65-62 win, snapping a streak of 19 straight road losses. Two more wins over Northeastern Illinois and Valparaiso pushed the record to 3-3 and only intrastate rival Iowa State lay between the Panthers and a winning record. UNI routed the Cyclones 68-50, who brought a new coach and seven-player roster to the Dome.

UNI had an 18-day layoff between the ISU win and the start of the conference campaign, and started the new semester off with consecutive losses to Illinois State and Bradley. UNI led both games until the final two minutes, stumbling down the stretch.

The Panthers then recorded their first Valley win of the season, defeating Wichita State 75-69. They won at St. Louis but lost to Southwest Missouri.

The following week proved to be the most difficult of the year. Starters Traci Amos and Chris Robbins were suspended from the Wichita State game for breaking team conduct rules. A mere seven days later, Amos was benched again when it was discovered that she was not registered for a required algebra class. Because she played in the St. Louis game, the Billikens were allowed a forfeit win in the game, but UNI was allowed to keep its 78-59 victory and all of the individual and team statistics from the game. Amos missed one more game before being reinstated.

That same week, the State of Iowa grieved the loss of Iowa basketball player Chris Street, who died in a car accident. Street was a first cousin to UNI’s top rebounder, junior forward Julie Street.

Street traveled home for the funeral, but made the comeback to competition just a day later as UNI played Drake, eventually losing a heartbreaking 112-106 four-overtime game.

Owning a 1-4 Valley record, 6-7 overall, the Panthers had to improve to gain a shot at the postseason tourney. After dropping games to Southern Illinois and Creighton at home, they won a crucial game against Indiana State that would later seal their success.

The Southern Illinois game was the final one for Panther Tiffany Sibley. After working her way into the starting lineup, off-court problems proved too much for player and team. An automatic suspension for missing practice prior to the Indiana State game lasted for the duration of the season and Sibley left UNI last spring.

Junior Wendy McCoy was called up to fill the void left by Sibley. A transfer who sat out the 1991-92 season, McCoy scored a career-high 18 points against the Sycamores, making her one of UNI’s top bench players, and played her way into the starting lineup for 11 games after that.

A slump hit the Panthers in six of their next seven games, which included another overtime loss to Drake and a two-point loss to future Big Eight champion Kansas. The one bright spot of the stretch was a 78-59 win at Indiana State, a win that clinched a spot for the Panthers in postseason play.

UNI finished the season with two wins and two losses and a tournament loss to Creighton in the first round.

Senior Ann Miller set or tied five individual records and leaves the team in the top 10 of eight different career categories after attending UNI for only two years. As a team, the Panthers erased records for three-pointers and three-point attempts, as well as a free-throw mark.

UNI President, Dr. Constantine W. Curris

Dr. Constantine W. Curris assumed the presidency of the University of Northern Iowa in August, 1983. He is only the seventh chief executive in the university's 113-year history.

Prior to assuming the UNI presidency, Curris served 10 years as president of Murray State University in Kentucky. The University's eight-million dollar student center is named the Curris Center.

Other professional experiences include serving as Dean of Students at Marshall University and Vice-President and Academic Dean of Students at Marshall University and Vice-President and Academic Dean of both Midway (KY) College and the West Virginia Institute of Technology.

Curris received a bachelor's degree magna cum laude in political science from Kentucky in 1962. He received a master's in political science and public administration from Illinois in 1965 and his Ed.D degree in higher education from Kentucky in 1967.

Curris serves as Trustee of Midway College, Director of American Humanics and as a member of the Center for the Study of the Presidency's National Advisory Council. He recently served as Chairman of the Iowa Task Force on Teacher Education and Certification and was a charter member of the National Small Business Development Center Advisory Board. He is a member of the Iowa Future Project; and is on the Board of Trustees of First in the Nation in Education/Iowa's Education Research Foundation and Junior Achievement Black Hawk Land, Inc.

Director of Athletics, Christopher Ritrievi

Christopher Ritrievi is in his second year as Northern Iowa Director of Athletics. Ritrievi had been associate athletic director at Stanford University since March of 1991 at the time of his selection. He had primary responsibilities of raising more than seven million dollars annually to support a very successful Division I-A program, and for planning and implementing strategies for departmental goals, including budget administration and marketing.

Prior to joining the Stanford staff, he was director of athletic development at the University of Pennsylvania where he coordinated all fundraising for a Division I-AA department where more than 1.25 million dollars was raised, in addition to more than five million dollars in capital commitments.

Ritrievi also was at Princeton, where he held positions of associate director for leadership gifts and assistant director for major gifts. From 1985-88, he was assistant wrestling coach at Princeton. He also served as acting director of athletic development at Bowling Green State.

The 35-year-old native of Levittown, Penn., is a 1979 graduate of Princeton with a degree in economics. He earned three letters in wrestling at Princeton and has been president of the Princeton Class of 1979 since 1989.

"This (job) was too good to pass up," he said. "I can't think of another job I would have left Stanford for at this time in my career. (UNI) is one of the outstanding positions in college athletics today. There is great tradition here and the program has the backing of the president and administration."

Ritrievi is married to the former Stephanie Homeyer, who grew up in Wellsburg, Iowa.

A commitment to excellence, both in the classroom and the athletic area, has been a trademark of the Missouri Valley Conference since its inception in the winter of 1907. Athletic accomplishments of Missouri Valley institutions throughout the years have included four national basketball championships, 17 trips to the NCAA Final Four, the 1989 college baseball championship by Wichita State, followed by another historic 1991 baseball season in which the MVC advanced two teams -- Wichita State and Creighton -- to the College World Series for the first time ever in the same season.

MVC athletes and coaches have become household names during the conference's illustrious history, both during their collegiate careers and, for some, professional careers which have followed. Wichita State's Xavier McDaniel and Bradley's Hersey Hawkins are still active on NBA rosters, while past stars, such as Larry Bird, Oscar Robertson, Chet Walker, Walt Frazier, Wes Unseld, Paul Silas and many others, still are to be found in the Valley's record books.

Seeds for the creation of the conference were planted by eight administrators representing five institutions. The five schools which formed the Missouri Valley Intercollegiate Athletic Association were Washington University of St. Louis, Iowa, Missouri, Kansas and Nebraska. Two months after the initial meeting, two more institutions -- Drake and Iowa State -- were admitted to the league.

Since those early years, some 31 institutions in 13 states have at one time or another been a part of what is now the Missouri Valley Conference. League membership has stabilized over the last dozen years, which has helped make the MVC one of the most respected intercollegiate conferences in the nation.

In recent years, the Valley has been growing and expanding. In 1990, Southwest Missouri State was admitted as the league's ninth member, and a 10th member -- Northern Iowa -- was admitted in July of 1919. They are the newest members of the Valley, which also includes Bradley, Creighton, Drake, Illinois State, Indiana State, Southern Illinois, Tulsa and Wichita State.

Another historic event took place during the summer of 1991. The Gateway Collegiate Athletic Conference, which has been administering women's athletics and I-AA football for many MVC institutions for the past 10 years, merged with the MVC. The Valley, for the first time in its long history, sponsors women's athletics, while football has remained under the Gateway banner.
