

Call for Abstracts
Undergraduate Research Conference on International Economics
Department of Economics
University of Northern Iowa
April 21, 2023

The Lawrence M. Jepson Endowment and the UNI Department of Economics invite submissions (abstracts or papers) to the Annual Undergraduate Research Conference on International Economics.

Eligibility: All undergraduates are eligible.

Deadline for Abstract submission: March 21, 2023. Abstract word limit: 200.

Topic: Any research on international/global issues including but not limited to international business, trade, finance, immigration, health, labor markets, gender, and development.

The research could include senior thesis, major academic papers completed or in-progress through coursework. Co-authored papers are permissible. If multiple authors of the same paper wish to apply, they may submit one paper.

Awards: All papers presented would receive a $50 award, a digital badge, and a certificate.

All papers presented at the conference will be considered for publication in the open-access BE Press journal The Proceedings of the Jepson Undergraduate Conference in International Economics [<https://scholarworks.uni.edu/jucie/>].

Submission: Please send your abstract/paper to Professor Shahina Amin, the Lawrence Jepson Professor of International Economics at shahina.amin@uni.edu by March 21, 2023. Please include your and your faculty advisor's full information and affiliation. Your submission must be approved by your faculty advisor.

Questions? Please email Professor Shahina Amin at shahina.amin@uni.edu.
